May Be Made at Chicago.

Factions Clash Over Purpose of Interstate Commerce Law Convention.

Executive Committee Has Prepared a New Set of Admission Cards.

Delegates Must Disclose Their Sentiments—Parry is Opposing It.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Police may be necessary to prevent a clash between the two factions of delegates to the Interstate Commerce Law Convention which will begin a two-days' session in Steinway Hall at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Officers of the organization assert that the railways have brought hundreds of delegates to Chicago from all parts of the country for the purpose of "packing" the convention and preventing an endorsement of President Roosevelt's plan of governmental regulation of freight rates by increasing the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Executive Committee of the Interstate Commerce Law Association met today to arrange the preliminaries for the meeting tomorrow. After much debate, it was decided that it would be unfair to the business interests of the country—who are unaware of the attempt which the members of the committee declare will be made to "pack" the convention—to allow any delegates to participate in the convention with the purpose of which they are manifestly at variance. Therefore it was decided to have blanks prepared by the secretary containing the following extract from the President's last message to Congress as the sole subject to be discussed at the convention:

"The Interstate Commerce Commission should be vested with the power, when a given rate has been challenged and after full hearing found to be unreasonable, to decide, subject to judicial review, what shall be a reasonable rate to take its place, the ruling of the commission to take effect at once and to remain in force until it is reversed by the court of review."

To all delegates claiming to be entitled to participation in the proceedings in the convention these blanks will be offered, and such as refuse to sign them will be declared ineligible. The Executive Committee declared: "It is not the intention to shut off or curtail free discussion of all questions as to the best method of securing legislation in accord with the President's recommendations, but those who are not in favor of such have, as a matter of course, the great American privilege of hiring a hall and holding a meeting of their own."

PARRY TAKES A HAND.

D. M. Parry, president of the National Manufacturers' Association, who is leading the opposition faction, said tonight:

"This convention will be composed of fair-minded and conservative business men from all parts of the country, who are regularly appointed under the invitation and the call for the convention. Many of them are opposed to the President's policy for the remedy for the rate evil, and they have a right to be heard. They will insist upon being admitted to the convention and expressing their views. They are opposed to the government going into the business of making railroad rates, and think complaints against a railroad should be made to the courts.

"We will demand admission on our credentials, and if this is denied, we will insist upon our rights. We want free speech and a fair discussion of the questions on the convention floor without the application of gag rule."

About two hundred delegates had arrived in the city this evening, and both factions had opened headquarters in the Auditorium Hotel. Feeling ran high, and both sides had numerous committees at work, button-holing and interviewing every delegate who appeared on the scene. Both sides were outspoken in their determination to control the convention tomorrow, and unless somebody's actions in the morning are weaker than his words of tonight there will be a warm time in Steinway Hall before noon tomorrow.

HOT WATER FOR POLICE.

Chicago Dental Students Have Their Annual Class Rush, Losing Clothes and Freedom.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two hundred students from the Chicago College of Dental Surgery in their annual class rush, today, precipitated a great riot, and fought the citizens and three wagonloads of policemen. Stones, decayed vegetables, clubs and hot water were freely used, and the melee finally became so menacing that the police fired at the mob to break its rush.

While officers were battling with students, others of the class men climbed to the upper stories of the colleges and poured scalding water upon the police.

Fifteen students were arrested, badly battered and almost denuded of clothing.

Windows in residences around the scene of the battle were smashed and citizens took part in the fight, which waged for almost an hour.

SHE'LL SEARCH FOR THE SOUL.

MRS. CHARLES F. JOY NEARING TASK OF HER LIFE.

Former Missouri Congressman's Wife Who Went to St. Louis from Los Angeles, Has Obtained Eastern Support for a Great Psycho-Physical University.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A million-dollar university, modeled on lines absolutely new in educational methods and a sociological colony where unique ideas may be put into living practice, is the work which has been undertaken by Mrs. Charles F. Joy, wife of the former St. Louis Congressman, who recently came here from Los Angeles. Mrs. Joy claims to have received much encouragement from leading educators of the country, and she feels confident that she will be able to raise the necessary endowment when the object of the institution becomes generally known. A site for the institution has been offered to her between San Francisco and Santa Barbara, overlooking the ocean, and a tract of 20,000 acres in Arizona for the colony has been placed at her disposal.

Mrs. Joy has just returned from the East, where she went to consult educators and scientists in the interest of the institution. She is highly elated at the success of her trip, and she hopes to go East again soon. At the Southern Hotel, where she is a guest, she talked at length concerning the aims of her university, saying:

"A university in which the great trinity, the mind, the soul and the body, shall receive the proper training has long been my aim. I have at last started on the road to a realization of my object. I have succeeded in interesting certain wealthy people whom I met in California, and I think I have laid the foundation for the building of the university.

"It will be the object to make of the school a twentieth century institution in every sense. It will be established for the discovery of every power in nature available for the benefit of man. A truly scientific investigation will be made of so-called psychic phenomena, and we will seek the invention of mechanical instruments which will register psycho-physical forces. A proper proof of the existence of the soul is lacking today. I believe that in time, with the progress which must be made, this proof will be forthcoming.

"There will also be a department in which the science of life will be taught. Not only the laws of being will be discussed, but the laws of parentage and the duties and responsibilities of motherhood and fatherhood.

"In the colony, each of the teachers in disciples will have unlimited opportunity in actual living to demonstrate the practical qualities of his theory."

FLOWERS FOR THE POPE.

Americans from the Navy Observatory and Sailors of the Minneapolis Received.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROME, Oct. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Pope today received Lieut. Frank E. Ridgely, Paymaster Hugh R. Insley, Prof. William Eichelberger and Prof. Frank B. Littell of the Navy Observatory at Washington and forty-eight Catholic sailors of the United States cruiser Minneapolis, now at Naples. To each he gave his hand to kiss, while he spoke kind words, especially to the officers.

The Pope was then presented with a basket of flowers, tied with ribbons from the caps of the sailors. This presentation greatly pleased His Holiness who expressed his pleasure at the thought which prompted it.

ARKANSAS FIRES UP.

Warmest Greeting to President.

When He Gives Hot Talk at Little Rock Cheers and Tableau Follow.

Gov. Jeff Davis Among the Foremost to Welcome the Nation's Chief.

Lynching Crime Denounced, and Guns are Not Once Drawn.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today, in the capital of the State, after Mississippi, supposedly the most unreconstructed of Southern States, the President received a welcome significant of the wonderful influence wielded by him on his sweep through the South.

Greeted at the train by a delegation of thirteen Union and thirteen Confederate veterans, he rode with a Southern Rough Rider as his intimate friend, former Lieut. John McIlhenny of Louisiana and with him another Southern Rough Rider, John Greenaway of Greenaway Court, Ark.

When the President first reached Arkansas, rain was falling, but before he was scheduled to speak in Little Rock, "Roosevelt luck" cleared the skies.

Thirty thousand persons greeted the President with a warmth and enthusiasm that has never been surpassed in any public greeting to any public official here. Gov. Jeff Davis and the Governor's bitterest personal enemy Powell Clayton, the Union General and Republican leader, were of the foremost in extending welcome. The cheering was the most enthusiastic for the Presidential party of any in the tour. Reports of trouble here are unfounded.

SEVEN CROWDED HOURS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 25.—The President spent seven crowded hours in and around Little Rock today, and his journey from Fort Logan H. Root, in Big Rock, on the north side of the Arkansas River, to the city park in Little Rock was marked by enthusiastic demonstrations of welcome on the part of thousands of people appearing on the streets for the occasion.

After the exercises and the President's address at Argentina City, the party was taken to the Albert Scott Pike Scottish rite consistory, where a luncheon was given. This function was concluded at 3:30 p.m., and the visitors then repaired to the special train in waiting at the Rock Island station to convey the party to Memphis.

The President's declaration in his speech that "if a President is worth his salt, he's the President of the whole country," was given so earnestly that it drew forth plaudits from the assembled thousands.

The President, headed by his escort of honor, and accompanied by the reception committee reached the city shortly before noon. When his train arrived at Argenta over the Rock Island, a reception committee headed by United States Senators Berry and Clark, Gov. Davis and Federal Judge Trimble had entered the car and warmly welcomed the President to Arkansas. At Fort Logan H. Root, the President and party alighted and a visit was made to the post. They inspected the barracks and grounds and the President expressed his satisfaction at the excellent arrangements for the comfort of the troops. When the start for the city was made, the mounted escort of honor took their places beside the President. This escort, which is known as the "Blue and Gray" consisted of twenty-four Civil War veterans, twelve Union soldiers and twelve former Confederates, and it particularly pleased the President. It was announced that this escort would precede the President's carriage throughout the entire day, and act as a bodyguard.

The streets of Little Rock were jammed with people, and every available housetop on the main streets had its occupants. The President was loudly cheered as he passed along toward the City Park. He repeatedly rose in his carriage and bowed his thanks to the people. At one point on Tenth street the way was cleared with difficulty, so great was the crush. The party traversed Tenth street to the park, where an immense throng had gathered about the speaker's stand. The President was welcomed to the city and State in appropriate addresses.

George V. Rogers, president of the Board of Trade, the master of ceremonies, first introduced Jefferson Davis, who spoke at some length on general lines. He was followed by Judge Jacob Treiber, who introduced the President. The applause given to the President was extremely enthusiastic, and it was several minutes before he was allowed to proceed.

REPLY TO JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Referring to the race problem, to which Gov. Davis had alluded, the President said:

"The worst enemy of the negro race is the negro criminal, and above all the criminal of the hideous type so often hideously avenged. Every reputable colored man owes the duty to himself and to his race to hunt down that criminal. Now, as to the white man's side:

"Now, to avenge one hideous crime by another is to reduce the avenger to the bestial level. Another thing which makes this lynch law abhorrent is that three-fourths of the crimes for which it is invoked are for others than that against the woman of the country. Governor, you and I and all others in authority owe it to our people to drive out the reproach and menace of lynch law in the United States."

TABLEAU.

The President was given a great ovation. As he sat down, the curtain back of where he was stationed ascended and a tableau was presented. Twenty-five boys ranging in age from 8 to 12, each attired in a sailor suit, formed a group at once attractive and impressive. The spectacle won the President's heart, and he gave unmistakable signs of his pleasure. He arose, and said that he guessed all his auditors knew how he felt about the navy of the United States.

The navy of our country, he said, was the United States's "big stick," which would never be used against the weak unless the weak put themselves in a position, when, like a bad child, chastisement was necessary. He added, that the "big stick" would be kept in such condition that the necessity for its use against the strong would never arise.

At 3:30 o'clock the Presidential party began the trip to the Rock Island railroad station along a route which was lined with people. The special train left for Memphis promptly at 4 o'clock.

ARRIVAL AT MEMPHIS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Oct. 25.—The President and his party arrived here tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The President's itinerary did not include a stop here longer than was necessary to switch his cars to the Illinois Central, the original programme being that he would proceed at once to New Orleans. These plans were somewhat modified when a large crowd of citizens appeared at the Calhoun-street depot and loudly cheered the President and called upon him for a speech. He acknowledged these greetings, and proceeded to a hastily-improvised stand from which he made a short address, dwelling upon what constitutes good citizenship.

An unexpected greeting to the President was the firing of a Presidential salute by Gen. Peter Tracey, who, upon the occasion of the President's former visit to Memphis, received him at the station with a salute of twenty-one guns.

The trip from Little Rock to Memphis was uneventful. The President entertained the departing newspapermen at dinner in his private car, and bade them a cordial goodby.

NEW ORLEANS SITTING UP. READY FOR GREAT EVENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tonight, for the first time in many, many years, New Orleans is awaiting with emotion that would have been unbelievable six months ago for the reception of the President of the United States.

At Hammond, 80 miles above the city, the two United States Senators and the two Congressmen are waiting for the President's special train that will arrive there soon after daylight.

On board the steamship Comus that is to take the President on board for a river parade at 9 o'clock, the chairman of the Reception Committee and many of the committeemen are sleeping, that they may be ready to receive the President.

All over the city, workmen are busy putting up the last decorations, putting finishing touches to the streets, platforms, etc. The city is fairly sitting up to welcome Theodore Roosevelt.

GOTHAM'S NEW FERRYBOATS.

Conspicuous Venture in Municipal Ownership is Inaugurated by Mayor McClellan.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—One of New York City's most conspicuous ventures in municipal ownership was inaugurated today, when the new ferry line between the Battery and Staten Island was put into operation. It is owned and operated by the city, and its five splendid ferryboats are the largest in New York Harbor, aggregating in value nearly two million dollars. They replace an antiquated private ferry line against which there was a great protest.

The service was started this afternoon, Mayor McClellan and 300 guests making the first trip.

UPRISING SINISTER.

Russia Faces Dangerous Crisis.

General Strike on Railroads is Practically Complete Throughout Land.

Populace Fights Behind Barricades and St. Petersburg is Beleaguered.

Specter of Famine Stalks in Cities, Which Infuriated Mobs Would Sack.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Thursday, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Facts as to the situation in Russia were brought vividly home to the minds of people in Berlin last evening by the announcement from the railway authorities that no bookings to St. Petersburg can be made, as through communications have been stopped, trains from the frontier having ceased running. Owing to this announcement a number of business men and other travellers are making an involuntary sojourn here, pending a resumption of traffic. Up to tonight, telegraphic communication was intact, but apprehension prevails that it may be interrupted at any moment.

Private letters received here from Russia paint the entire situation in most pessimistic tones. It is evident that the crisis is one of an exceptionally dangerous nature. Most sinister dispatches concerning the situation came in all day. Among many alarming reports received are the following: Sir Charles Hardinge, British Ambassador to Russia, has been prevented by the railway strike from leaving St. Petersburg by rail, today, as he intended. Prince Friedrich Leopold's train has been stopped at Moscow. An infuriated mob is threatening to sack the city of Ekaterinoslav. The populace is fighting behind barricades. A great strike is imminent at Warsaw.

In Berlin postoffice notices have been posted that the German postal authorities cannot undertake to transmit money to Russia or even guarantee the delivery of letters sent to that country.

IT'S THE WORST YET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—4 a.m.—Confronted by a situation more critical than any since the beginning of the political and social upheaval of Russia, and which, at the time this dispatch is filed, shows no signs of amelioration, the Emperor's Ministers, under the leadership of Count Witte, spent almost all of yesterday in conferences in the hope of finding some way out of the crisis into which the revolutionists and the socialists have cast the country.

The general strike on the railroads is complete except in a few border provinces, and St. Petersburg, Moscow and other large cities are almost as closely beleaguered as if they were invested by besieging armies. At the same time, the industrial strike has assumed large dimensions and the turbulent elements in several localities are offering open resistance to the troops.

The Ministers, who had been in session during the day, resumed their meeting after a short interval for dinner and continued their deliberations until long after midnight. The result of these deliberations is not known.

The Minsters were summoned to meet, not as the Committee of Ministers, of which Count Witte is president, but as the Council of Ministers, of which Count Solsky is president, and the selection of Count Witte to preside, which was done by direction of the Emperor, shows that a ministerial cabinet is actually, though not formally, an accomplished fact.

FINNISH ROADS ONLY EXIT.

The Finland railroads to Helsingfors and the steamers constitute St. Petersburg's only means of communication with the outer world this morning. The postal authorities are now refusing to accept ordinary mail and international correspondence is at a standstill.

The strike is complete in the great factory region on both banks of the Neva above the city and in several other industrial quarters. Forty thousand men are out, but they are conducting themselves in a most orderly manner. The Store Clerks Union tonight proclaimed a two weeks' sympathetic strike for politcal rights. Prudent inhabitants are laying in stocks of provisions, so as to prepare for emergencies. As a consequence, the prices of provisions have risen sharply.

Large meetings, mainly of workmen, were held last night in the university and the higher schools, at which the sentiment was unanimous for continuing the strike on the railroads to the bitter end. The proceedings at several of the meetings were of a strongly revolutionary character, the orators calling on their auditors to slay all Chinovniks and the police, and to meet the troops. This and the speeches were received with cheers. The police were powerless to interfere the precincts of the university being forbidden ground to them under the imperial ukase.

FATAL ENCOUNTER OCCURS.

An encounter took place this evening between strikers and engine drivers who were preparing to take out trains. Revolver shots were exchanged and a number of persons were killed or wounded.

All the cotton mills and other factories on the banks of the Neva struck this afternoon. Men and women are moving about the streets but are perfectly orderly, the leaders enjoining quiet.

The street cars in several districts have stopped, but only in the Narva district, where the roughest working element congregates, is the situation considered alarming.

A special meeting of the Committee of Ministers took place late this afternoon under the presidency of Count Witte to consider the strike situation. Manukhin, Minister of Justice, who went to Peterhof this morning to report to the Emperor, could not return by train and drove back in a carriage in a drenching rain, to be present at the meeting.

Over half of European Russia is in the grip of the striking railroad men and the strike continues to spread rapidly in all directions. The roads in the Volga region are at a standstill. Today, a general strike was proclaimed on the two remaining lines running out of St. Petersburg.

URGE PROFESSIONAL STRIKE.

The League of Leagues has seized the opportunity to come to the support of the railroad men and has adopted a resolution in favor of a general strike of all professions.

The telegraph operators are joining in the movement.

The situation is critical and pregnant of all sorts of dire possibilities.

The factories in the affected districts have been forced to shut down for lack of fuel; and Moscow especially, faces not only a food but a water famine. Fortunately, St. Petersburg will have communication open through Finland.

The British Ambassador, Sir Charles Hardinge, who bade farewell to Emperor Nicholas yesterday previous to leaving St. Petersburg on a mission in connection with the proposed Anglo-Russian understanding, was unable to start for England this morning because no trains were running.

Traffic communication between St. Petersburg and Kharkoff is broken.

The workmen of the Putiloff, Kolpino, Alexandrovia and Nevsky works struck this morning.

CAN'T TRANSPORT TROOPS.

The Social-Democrats believe they have the government at their mercy since, with the railroads stopped, the authorities are powerless to transport troops. This is all the more serious as bloody collisions already have been reported at various places and a dangerous agrarian movement has again broken out in the government of Samara.

The strength displayed by the Social-Democrats has amazed the authorities who are taken just as much by surprise as they were at the time of the Gapon rebellion.

The distress in the central provinces is greatly increased by the enforced suspension of the famine relief work. Prince Hilkoff, Minister of Railroads, whose appeals to the strikers at Moscow were so unavailing that he could not get an engineer to bring him to St. Petersburg with a fireman stoking, drove his own engine, arriving here black and dust-grimed.

Meetings were held last night which continued until dawn this morning. A dozen of the most enthusiastic character were held. The largest, which was held in the university, was attended by about ten thousand persons, including students, who are making common cause with the workmen and whose leaders are making speeches in favor of a resolution of students to strike until they are allowed to discuss political questions.

STUDENTS JOIN STRIKERS.

The students joined the railroad men in adopting a resolution in favor of the immediate convocation of a constituent assembly elected by direct, universal suffrage, determining that the law governing labor be sanctioned by representatives, immediate grant of political freedom and declaring that thus only can armed revolution be averted. These resolutions were adopted after a deputation which called on Count Witte had reported.

Count Witte received the deputation as a private individual. He spoke to them with his usual bluntness and told them plainly that some of their demands would be granted, while the granting of others was impossible. He informed his visitors that a law permitting greater freedom of meetings than allowed by the laws of Italy and Austria-Hungary and providing for the freedom of the press had already been elaborated. Martial law on the railroads, he said, was an anachronism which should be abolished.

The demand for a constituent assembly, the Count said, could not be realized, nor could universal suffrage be admitted, as all the people were not prepared to exercise the right of franchise. In this connection, the Count spoke of the power wielded by capital in America, where universal suffrage exists. He thought it possible to meet the demands for an eight-hour day, especially for outdoor workers, and warmly favored the general measure advocated with the view to improving the condition of workingmen, especially in the way of schools, hospitals, etc.

WITTE GIVES WARNING.

Count Witte warned the deputation that a continuation of the strike could only result in bloodshed, either by compelling the interference of the military or by the famine-stricken populace of the cities turning upon the strikers.

"Remember," he said, "the government may fall, but with it you will perish also by playing into the hands of the bourgeoise you are fighting."

In conclusion, Count Witte advised the men to return to work, but his advice was howled down and the resolution to strike was adopted.

There was considerable excitement today at all the railroad stations, which are in possession of troops. Not a train departed. The railroad battalions were called out and an attempt will be made to man a train to Moscow and the frontier tomorrow. Collisions are feared. Great crowds assembled at the Moscow station and gendarmes interfered twice to restore order, but there was no bloodshed.

The leaders of the strikers on the Moscow and Warsaw lines, after a consultation, have planned a big meeting for October 27. There are 400,000 railway employés in the empire and their average wage is $140 per annum.

This afternoon's reports show an enormous extension of the strike. All the Poland lines are tied up and a strike has begun on the great Southwestern system, covering the territory southward from Kieff toward Odessa.

The German Red Cross, which has arrived here from the front, is unable to leave St. Petersburg.

IN BALTIC PROVINCES.

Trains in the Baltic provinces are not running and the situation is reported very bad at Riga and Libau.

The railroad stations here are guarded by police and troops, the soldiers in barracks are kept under arms and squads of Cossacks are in evidence in the streets, which are filled with idle men.

In addition to the strike of the workmen of the Obukhoff, Putiloff, Nevsky, Alexandrovsky and Kolpino works, all the employés of the factories on the Schlusselburg Chaussee walked out today in sympathy with the railroad strikers.

The price of food is increasing. Meat in the market is one-third higher than yesterday. The people are becoming alarmed.

The postoffices refuse to accept registered letters, parcels or money for transmission abroad.

The radical papers are in open sympathy with the strikers. The Nashassin has been confiscated. The Slovo Liberal, condemns the strike as a colossal blunder.

Hospital trains having on board 500 sick and wounded soldiers from Manchuria are held up near Moscow. The condition of the men is said to be pitiable.

TWO BLOODY CONFLICTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

EKATERINOSLAV (Russia) Oct. 25.—Two bloody conflicts occurred here today between the troops and the demonstrators. The first took place about the municipal buildings and the second near the Pushkin monument. Numbers were killed or wounded in both instances by the volleys fired by the soldiers. The demonstrators near the municipal buildings refused to disperse when ordered and erected barricades.

A meeting of the students of the schools which are on strike was dispersed by the police, who made free use of their whips. Many students were injured.

Fifteen persons were killed and twenty-six injured yesterday in a conflict between troops and strikers at the Briansk works, where the strikers had erected wire entanglements.

It is reported that the strikers have taken possession of train which was approaching Ekaterinoslav and have destroyed the station buildings along the line.

The town is in darkness this evening, and the military is patrolling the streets.

The courts, banks and other public offices have been closed.

The telephone and telegraph wires are cut.

MOSCOW AS IF BESIEGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—This city today resembles a state of siege. The price of meat has trebled and there is great distress among the poor.

Many people living in neighboring provinces and who came to Moscow are camping in the streets.

Two thousand persons are living in cars.

The populace is becoming panicky.

COMMUNICATION CUT OFF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WARSAW (Russian Poland) Oct. 25.—Communication with St. Petersburg is interrupted.

Russian agitators are circulating petitions on the Vienna railroad calling on employés to join in the strike.

Strong patrols of infantry and cavalry occupy the streets and troops are guarding the railroad and government buildings.

ANARCHY REIGNS AT RIGA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 25.—Anarchy prevails at Riga, Russia, according to a dispatch received from there by the Politiken.

Conflicts are frequent, many persons have been killed or wounded and the government spirit shops have been looted and destroyed.

The polytechnic school has been closed.

GENERAL IN SOUTHWEST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ODESSA, Oct. 25.—A general strike on all the southwest railways is announced for tomorrow.

Trains are now running only between Odessa and Kieff.

BREAKS OUT AT POLTAVA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

POLTAVA, Oct. 25.—A general strike has broken out here. The schools are closed and no newspapers will appear tomorrow.

CZAR IS CUT OFF FROM HIS CAPITAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 24.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Emperor is cut off from railroad communication with the capital.

WARSAW COMPLETELY ISOLATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, Oct. 24.—The city is now completely isolated. The strike has spread to all the railroads. A meat, milk and coal famine is feared.

CHOLERA ALSO THREATENS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOMSK (Western Siberia) Oct. 25.—Samarkand, Fergana, Syrdaria and portions of Khiva and Bokhara are officially declared to be threatened with cholera.

TO PRISON IF THEY STRIKE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WINDAU (Russia) Oct. 25.—The Governor-General has published an order threatening the railway employes with three months' imprisonment and $500 fine each if they go on strike.

NO MAILS FOR ST. PETERSBURG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The State Department today received a cablegram from Mr. Eddy, the American Charge d'Affaires at St. Petersburg, stating that, owing to the railroad strike, mail communication was cut off from St. Petersburg.

RESPOND WITH "MARSEILLAISE."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Oct. 24.—A young girl employed at a railroad station fell on her knees before the strikers and pleaded with them not to surrender, declaring that they should continue the struggle, not for material reasons, but for the achieving of human liberty. The crowd responded with singing the "Marseillaise."

CZAR IS GOING TO DENMARK.

NICHOLAS TO SPEND CHRISTMAS AT COPENHAGEN.

During His Absence Witte Will Receive Full Powers as Head of the Entire Government—Gorky Satirizes Higher Classes in New Play Which is Madly Applauded.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Information from Peterhoff says that with a view of recuperating from continuous strain, the Emperor is about to pay a visit of two months to Denmark, and will spend Christmas at the Danish court.

Count Witte, during the Emperor's absence, will receive full powers as head of the entire government and will hold an office equivalent to that of regent.

The Russ says the reform commission, of which Count Solsky is president, which has been considering the establishment of a cabinet of ministers, has ceased its labors. All such questions will now be referred to Witte.

In view of this transformation at the head of the government it may be expected that electoral qualifications for the national assembly will be altered and its convocation postponed.

GORKY'S NEW DRAMA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 25.—A sensational drama by Maxim Gorky, entitled the "Children of the Sun," dealing with revolution in Russia, which four months ago would probably have landed its author in prison, was presented here for the first time last night, and seats for it were sold several weeks in advance.

The play satirizes the Russian higher classes and for the first time a scene is allowed to be presented on the Russian stage in which the people rise in revolt against the directors who are endeavoring to save them from cholera. This scene shows the superstition and brutality of the Russian Moujik when once aroused. The play, although finely presented, is brutal and hideously realistic in character. The audience madly applauded every allusion of a political character.

Maxim Gorky was not present. His health has again collapsed under the trying climate of St. Petersburg, and he has been forced to leave suddenly for the Crimea in order to save his life.

CRASH OF POWER.

Suit Against Hoadley, Leiter and Cyrus Field Judson Comes to a Head.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The suit of William B. Franklin and George I. Scott against Joseph H. Hoadley, Joseph Leiter of Chicago and Cyrus Field Judson to recover $65,800, with interest for losses sustained by the crash of International Power stock, April 30, 1902, reached the jury this afternoon.

As the jury had not agreed after two hours deliberation, Justice Amend directed a sealed verdict to be returned at the sitting of the court tomorrow morning.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although there was a remarkably wide range of temperature throughout the Northwest, today, Chicago experienced a variation of only 4 degrees. The extremes were 40 and 44 degs. The reason for this was the chilly 25-mile wind, which blew steadily from the northeast. Middle West temperatures:

MURDERERS FOR SCIENCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Obdurate murderers would immeasurably benefit the human race if their living bodies could be used for experimental purposes by scientists, biologists and physiologists. This was the theory by Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews of the State University in an address delivered to the delegates of the National Prison Congress at St. Paul's church tonight.

MRS. PURNELL DIVORCED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edith Terry Purnell, formerly a society belle of Kentucky, has filed suit for divorce. Dr. Purnell, her husband, is in the Philippines, working as a government contractor. Mrs. Purnell is well known in Chicago, New York, St. Louis and San Francisco. She was on the stage at one time, appearing as Marion Parker in "The Show Girl."

FAVORS GUARANTEE BANK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS ACTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting of the Commercial Club, today, called to instruct the delegates to the Interstate Commerce Law convention in Chicago, tomorrow, the plan of President Roosevelt to give the Interstate Commerce Commission more power was approved, and the plan of President Parry of the Manufacturers' National Association for an Interstate Bureau of Transportation was rejected.

HARRIMAN'S RUN SLOWED DOWN.

MAGNATE CHANGES HIS MIND AND TRAIN SCHEDULE.

Chicago Railroad Officials Nonplused—Arrangements Were Made With Lake Shore—Arrival at Omaha One Hour Behind the Time Set—No Further Attempt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispach.] Railroad officials are wondering today what made Harriman change his plans to make a record-breaking run across the continent and no rational explanation is presented. It is not credited that President Roosevelt called the run off, as he is believed to keenly delight in tests of speed.

That the purpose was to shatter records there can be no doubt. The Harriman line officials here first asked the Lake Shore people how fast they could take the train to Buffalo, and were told "as fast as the Twentieth Century Limited, or faster." The Harriman officials replied "all right," and arrangements were made to run to Buffalo in eight hours and thirty minutes. Later, these Harriman officeials informed the Lake Shore that Harriman had abandoned making a fast run and an 11-hour schedule was requested. The Northwestern had about the same experience.

The general impression in railroad circles is that Harriman was displeased with the notoriety he was obtaining, and determined that it might be unpleasant to the President. The disappointment at the abandonment of the attempt to set a new transcontinental record was general here.

A cordon of railroad employés held back the curious crowd that thronged about the Harriman special during its brief stop in Chicago tonight. Visitors were absolutely refused admission to the coaches, but an irrepressible photographer bolted through the line. Entering the car he planted himself before Miss Roosevelt.

"Don't you want to pose for a photograph?" he asked hurriedly.

Miss Roosevelt looked up from a letter she was writing, smiled at the man, and partly rose from her seat as if about to grant the request, then Congressman Nicholas Longworth spoke to her, and she dropped back into her seat.

"Really, I must be excused," she said.

WHAT MOHLER SAID.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 25.—The special train having on board E. H. Harriman and party arrived here from the West at 9:26 o'clock a. m., today, one hour behind scheduled time. After changing engines and switching to the tracks of the Northwestern road, the train left at 9:45 a. m. It was stated that no attempt would be made at fast running from here to Chicago. Forty hours were consumed in the run from San Francisco to Omaha.

General Manager Mohler of the Union Pacific, who accompanied the Harriman party east from Cheyenne, made this statement: "The Harriman special made the run from San Francisco to Omaha in 39 hours, 54 minutes, including all stops for water, coal and changing of engines, the distance covered being 1787 miles. There is nothing special about this run, except that we were simply expected to reach Omaha in order to adjust ourselves to the conditions east. The statement was made to the effect that President Roosevelt requested that the special be run at a lower rate of speed is absolutely incorrect."

TIME TO CHICAGO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The special train's time at Chicago, which it reached at 8:05 o'clock tonight, was 56 hours 44 minutes actual running time since starting from Oakland, Cal. The train pulled into the Northwestern yards something over an hour earlier than expected. It was at once transferred to the Belt Line and switched around the city to the tracks of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, at Forty-third street, and from this point was started on its journey at 9:07 o'clock, having been within the city limits of Chicago one hour and two minutes.

The crew of the train and the passenger officials of both the Northwestern and the Lake Shore railroads asserted that no effort whatever was being made to establish a record, but that the train was being pushed through at a swift and steady pace, with the idea of having as little delay as possible en route. Despite this, however, the train made the distance from Oakland to Chicago in just eighteen hours less than that required for the Overland Limited, which is the fastest train of the Chicago and Northwestern and the Union Pacific between Chicago and San Francisco.

The run from Omaha to Chicago, 492½ miles, was made in ten hours and fifty minutes. The time scheduled for the Overland Limited between Omaha and Chicago is twelve and one-half hours.

INSPECTS MOTOR CARS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The programme of the Harriman special on its flying trip across the continent was slightly changed, this morning, in order that the head of the system might inspect the latest of the gasoline motor cars turned out of his shops here. Harriman was still in his berth when Director of Maintenance Kruttschnitt rushed in with the news that Superintendent McKeen and his latest car were waiting. In seventy seconds by the watch, Harriman had sprung from the blankets, put his feet into shoes, threw on a long gray ulster over his back and reached the platform, cap in hand.

He showed great enthusiasm over the new car, which he fully believes is destined to revolutionize railroad branch line business. The car inspected this morning will go into service at once on the Southern Pacific between Galveston and Houston.

NEW SET OF EMPLOYEES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—A new force of employés was at work, today, with the books of the Enterprise National Bank. All of the old employés except the bank messengers were notified by Receiver Cunningham that their services were no longer needed. The receiver refused to assign his reasons for making the change.

Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely, who, it was said yesterday, was in Pittsburgh or coming to this city to take personal charge of the affairs of the bank, has not yet been located.

ITALY'S FOREIGN TRADE GROWS.

VENICE, Oct. 25.—Luigi Rava, Minister of Commerce, Industry and Agriculture, in opening the commercial and manufacturing congress here today, delivered a speech showing the progress of Italian commerce. Since 1890, he said, the value of Italy's foreign trade has risen from $440,000,000 to $700,000,000, and commercial exchanges with the United States from $32,000,000 to $76,000,000.

STEAMER TACOMA'S CARGO.

SUIT FOR THE INSURANCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Northwestern Steamship Company, owning the steamer Tacoma, seized by the Japanese during the Russo-Japanese war, has begun suit in the Superior Court against the Maritime Insurance Company to collect $13,363 insurance policy on the cargo, which the company refuses to settle, on the grounds that, at the time of the seizure, the vessel was violating the orders of the President by carrying contraband of war.

When she left here, the Japanese consul notified his government that the boat carried beef for the Russians, and it was predicted that she would never reach her destination. This is the first case growing out of the war, and it is said it will serve as a precedent.

STILL BONDING MINES.

CHARLES D. LANE KEEPS BUSY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despite the fact that he is totally blind, Charles D. Lane is yet bonding mining properties through the medium of his agents. Word was received today that Lane has taken a bond and lease on the Falls Creek group gold property, located last July on the Alaska Central Railway. Samples taken out in August went $16,000 per ton.

Lane is due to arrive with his wife on the last trip of the Oregon from [illegible]. Mrs. Lane will accompany her husband to Germany in search of an oculist who will hold out hope of ultimate restoration of the millionaire's

RICHMOND BADLY SCORCHED.

GASOLINE EXPLODES; LOSS, $30,000.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RICHMOND, Oct. 25.—Fire consumed $30,000 worth of property here today. The Brighton building and Schar's Opera House were totally destroyed. Both were frame buildings.

The loss on the Brighton building is [illegible], on the operahouse, $8000. The other losses are as follows: J. H. Meyer, department store, $3000, insured for [illegible]; Richmond Creamery, $1000, no insurance; H. W. Hunger, saloon, $1000; [illegible] & Elsie, dry goods, $1000; H. B. [illegible], household goods, $1200; H. C. [illegible], household goods, $8000; D. W. [illegible], household goods, $1000.

The fire was started by the explosion of a gasoline stove in the rear of Meyer's store. The Standard Oil Company sent 100 men to fight the fire and the railroad sent two switch engines. The absence of wind is all that saved the entire business center of the town.

[illegible] C. Mayer and wife were arrested this afternoon on a charge of arson preferred by H. B. Kinney, superintendent of the Richmond Electric Light and Power Company. Mayer and his wife conducted the store in which the fire started this morning. Kinney's apartments were above the store. The Mayers placed heavy insurance on their stock a few days ago.

CHARGES LAX DISCIPLINE.

YOUNG PROSECUTION CLOSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MARE ISLAND, Oct. 25.—For an hour and a half this morning Capt. E. [illegible] West addressed the naval court-martial trying Commander Lucien Young, his argument for the prosecution bringing the trial to a close shortly after noon. He pointed out that, inasmuch as Capt. Young knew the boilers were in a poor condition, and Ensign Wade had not had previous sea experience in the engineer department, there was a lax state of discipline. The captain should have had papers to show that he had made frequent inspections, he contended.

The court will meet in closed session later and when a finding shall have been reached the case of Ensign Charles G. Wade will be taken up.

RECEIVERSHIP THREATENED.

ULTIMATUM TO CLOSED BANK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The directors of the United Bank and Trust Company have been given until Monday to comply with the conditions laid down by the Attorney-General. If they have not done so by that time, a complaint will be filed in the Superior Court asking for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the affairs of the institution.

The conditions set forth by the Bank Commission and the Attorney-General are, briefly, as follows: The impaired capital of the bank must be reimbursed, the cash on hand must be made equal to the deposits and the reorganization of the board of directors and officers must be made complete.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Fear Tong War.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 25.—Chief of Police [illegible] has doubled the force of officers in Chinatown, in view of the possibility of another tong war, as a result of the arrest here yesterday of Chuk Num, of San Francisco, who was a leading witness in the late tong trouble and who is said to have been up in the present Suey Sing trouble. All peaceable Chinese kept off the streets last night.

Insane Patient Killed.

[illegible] (Wash.) Oct. 25.—Henry [illegible], a negro patient, was killed by another patient, John [illegible] at the Western Washington Hospital for the Insane, at Fort Stercolum. About thirty patients were exercising in a ward with heavy rollers like lawn mowers. Williams was suddenly seized with a mad frenzy and attacked the man who happened to be nearest to him. Schiriand dealt the negro a heavy blow on the head and killed him.

Collide in Dense Fog.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—In a fog this morning, the ferryboat Oakland and the steam schooner Phoenix collided on the bay near the Oakland mole. As they approached each other, both vessels sheered off, but the tide forced them together. The paddle-wheel box of the Oakland was damaged and a part of her rail carried away. No one was hurt. The Phoenix sustained slight injury. The fog was extremely thick.

First of Whaling Fleet Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The whaling bark Gayhead, first of the fleet to return from this season's cruise, arrived today after a stormy run home from the Bering Sea. She met with poor luck, but had to come home sooner than she otherwise would on account of having sprung a leak. She got three whales. August 20, the Alice Knowles was sighted in the Bering Sea. She had 600 barrels of oil and 2000 pounds of bones. Other whalers will be due shortly.

SHIVERING IGORROTES NOT COMING TO LOS ANGELES.

After Being Put Aboard Ship for Sunny South, Filipinos are Taken Off and Now They are Wondering Why as They Huddle in Their Deserted-looking Village at Portland.

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty-seven shivering Igorrotes are huddled together in the forlorn remnants of their village, occupied during the last two months of the exposition, wondering why they were last night taken from the steamer Roanoke after being put aboard with all their belongings en route to San Francisco, where they were to have been transferred and sent on to Los Angeles. Less than thirty minutes before the time for the Roanoke to leave, the contract with the steamship company was canceled and the islanders were taken ashore.

The managers assert that it was due to a change of plans to appear in San Francisco before beginning the Los Angeles engagement, but it is the impression of the steamship company people that differences between the managers is the cause and that the representatives of the Philippine archipelago will be returned thither without making the projected tour of the States.

Owing to differences between the managers prior to bringing the natives from their island homes there was at one time a strong probability that the government would withdraw its consent and cancel the contract, which may yet be done, and the return of the dog eaters required.

COLE BUYS COPPER.

Taylor Property of the Globe, Ariz., Camp is Acquired by Developers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas F. Cole and associates in the Calumet and Arizona and other Bonanza Circle properties of Bisbee, Ariz., and the North Butte Company of Butte, Mont., have acquired the Taylor property in the Globe, Ariz., camp, adjoining the Arizona Commerce Copper Company property. The Taylor property comprises eight claims, 160 acres, and it is understood that the Cole associates paid $250,000 in cash for the property.

A three-compartment shaft is being sunk, and the work of developing the property will be pushed. It is understood that the new company to be organized to develop this property will have 300,000 shares of par value of $10.

FRANCE IS GRATEFUL.

Her Officials Desire That the United States Secure Adjustment by Castro.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Oct. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The officials here are gratified at the action taken by the American government in instructing its Minister at Caracas to endeavor to arrange the Franco-Venezuela diplomatic incident, and are hopeful of the success of Minister Russell's efforts, which are similar to those of the French Minister at Morocco in behalf of Ion Perdicaris.

It is said that Minister Russell's representation will take the general form of showing President Castro that it is the desire of the United States to have the controversy over the withdrawal of the offensive action toward M. Taigny adjusted. Thereafter, the question of compensating the French Cable Company for its losses and redress for the expulsion from Venezuela of M. Brun, the manager of the company, remain to be adjusted. No difficulty is apprehended in arranging the commercial features of the case, if President Castro first corrects his discourtesy toward the representative of the French government.

"ROCKY'S" BROTHER WILLIAM.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Rockefeller is wanted as a witness by the plaintiff in the $3,000,000 equity suit brought by the Bay State Gas Company against Henry H. Rogers, and a motion has been filed, to be heard Wednesday, to extend the time for taking plaintiff's testimony in rebuttal for a reasonable time after Rockefeller's return from Europe, in order that the jurisdiction may be acquired of Rockefeller and his books of account.

CAUTION AGAINST FEVER.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A movement is gaining strong headway through the country districts of both Louisiana and Mississippi to have the Federal government maintain the Marine Hospital officers in New Orleans through the winter to keep watch on the health situation and to comb Louisiana for possible infection next summer. This matter will soon be brought to the attention of President Roosevelt.

M'CURDY HAS A COMMITTEE.

Mutual's Board of Trustees Starts an Investigation.

Interesting Developments in Insurance Business.

McClintock Finishes and the Inquisitors Adjourn.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—More startling than the testimony before the legislative committee investigating the methods of insurance companies, today, was the announcement by President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company that a committee of the Board of Trustees of his company had been appointed to investigate the company and its methods.

The members of the committee are: William H. Truesdale, Effingham B. Morris and John W. Auchincloss, all prominent in the financial and business world. This action was taken at a meeting of the board today, and was the result of insurance investigation. The matter was brought before the board by President McCurdy, and the committee will begin its work at once.

Still another interesting development in insurance matters was the statement issued today by President Morton of the Equitable Life, showing that the receipts of that company for the nine months of this year exceed the expenditures by $16,723,197, an increase of over $600,000 compared with the same period last year. Receipts from premiums on policies for the third quarter of this year, were over $1,000,000 less than 1904. The expenses of the third quarter were $839,913 less than last year, but for the first six months there was an increase over last year of $424,943.

After an entire day given over to the examination of Emory McClintock, actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and to the reading of column after column of figures, the legislative committee adjourned until November 8, the day after the municipal election.

McClintock, actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, was the first witness before the investigating committee, and was recalled to give further details of the technical phases of life insurance in addition to those he gave yesterday.

The subject of dividends was again taken up. Argument against deferred-dividend policies contained in the Frick report on the Equitable Life Assurance Society was read to the witness. The Frick report in substance declared that there was a potentiality of evil in the system which defers the distribution of dividends for a period of years; that the policy holder who survives benefits, but those whose policies lapse suffer disadvantage. McClintock said the use of the word "surplus" had been a great detriment to the Equitable because it was generally misunderstood. He said that it implied that the amount of surplus was available for immediate division. Other companies, he continued, had a reserve, and determined what amounts should be divided among the policy holders and what amount should be reserved.

McClintock said that the words "deferred dividend" were ambiguous, and led the policy holder to believe that there were dividends accruing that would be paid to him at the end of each year. The New York Life Insurance Company, he said, had stated its accumulation of deferred dividends for several years. This was sometimes regarded as a legal liability and sometimes not. When he became connected with the Mutual Life Insurance Company there was no calculation of this accumulation until the end of the distribution period, so that there is no recognition of legal liabilities except for purposes of book-keeping.

McClintock said the Mutual Life Insurance Company, in writing a policy, reserved to itself the right to say what amount shall be apportioned at the end of the dividend period. One reason for decreasing dividends was that policies that had been in force three years did not lapse on the failure of the policy holder to pay premiums, as formerly. The establishment of the surrender value system kept from the surplus the premiums on lapsed policies previously going into the surplus fund. The company, he said, made no profit out of the policy lapsing within the three year limit.

McKeen read a letter from a policy holder whose dividends had decreased from $304 in 1883 to $10 in 1904.

"From the apparent diminution of dividends," said McKeen, "it would seem that the companies are either spending too much or getting too little."

In reply, McClintock recited the efforts he made to secure an agreement between the New York Life Insurance Company, the Equitable Society and the Mutual Life to limit the amount of business each company should write, first to $1,000,000,000, and then to $1,500,000,000, but first, James H. Hyde declined to assent, and then George W. Perkins, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, objected. Hyde told him it was his ambition to make the Equitable the largest business concern in the world, and then to make it the best company.

The total gains of the Mutual Life Insurance Company in 1904 were $6,624,676, said McClintock, and it applied about $500,000 or $900,000 of that to dividends. The distribution of dividends out of the interest gained when it was more than 4 per cent. had been a custom for forty years. The company was adding constantly to interest earnings by occasional profits, which were calculated as a fair certainty. McClintock said this was not a mathematical calculation, but involved a large element of prophecy.

FRANCE FREEING CONSCIENCE.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The Senate Committee on the Separation of Church and State has considered the programme of the discussion of the bill at the opening of the Senate, October 6. The chairman has submitted a draft of the report setting forth the necessity for the abolition of the concordat and the resumption of the state's complete police powers over all civil and religious organizations. The report approves the bill, which has already passed the Chamber of Deputies, as insuring the liberty of conscience and the independence of the state.

HIGH PRICE OF MEAT.

SANTIAGO (Chile) via Galveston, Tex., Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The two days' rioting in the capital of Chile is primarily due to the high price of meat caused by the protective tariff on imported beef. A mass meeting was held in the San Diego quarter by laborers' associations to protest against the duty on Argentine cattle, which has put beef beyond the reach of the poor classes. The meeting degenerated into a violent anarchical demonstration, and the work of destruction began.

PENNYPACKER HOPES TO HELP.

HE ASKS THE PRESIDENT TO SEARCH ENTERPRISE BANK.

Over a Million of Pennsylvania's Money Was Among the Concern's Deposits and the Governor Wants to Know How the Failure Came About.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Oct. 25.—Gov. Pennypacker this evening made public the following copy of a letter which he sent today to the President, asking for a general investigation into the affairs of the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny:

"The Enterprise National Bank, doing business in Allegheny, has recently failed, having at the time among its deposits $1,030,000 of the moneys of this commonwealth. These moneys were deposited upon the faith of the stability of the institution arising through its organization as a national bank, and because of these deposits the commonwealth is much interested in the ascertainment of conditions of its financial affairs. Our commissioner of banking has no control over it, and no power to make any such investigation.

"Since it was organized under Federal laws and subject to your supervision, I write to ask that a full, complete and careful investigation may be made, so that everything connected with the condition of affairs and the causes which have led to such condition may be fully disclosed. I am ready to render all the assistance in my power to secure a thorough ascertainment of the facts."

SPECIAL EXAMINER GOING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Comptroller of the Currency has been called upon by the Department of Justice to send a special examiner to Pittsburgh to make an investigation of the affairs of the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny, Pa., recently closed by order of the Comptroller. The examiner will make his report directly to the United States District Attorney at Pittsburgh, whom he will assist in case legal proceedings are instituted.

EXPLOSIONS INJURE FIREMEN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Explosions of turpentine injured ten firemen and five spectators at a fire, early this morning, that destroyed the paint manufacturing establishment of Feigel & Co., West Forty-ninth street. On the way to the fire, an engine was overturned in a ditch and three firemen were seriously hurt. One will probably die. Of those injured by the explosions, none was sent to a hospital. Because of the inflammable material upon which it fed the blaze quickly became difficult to control. Three alarms were sent out. No one knew how the fire started. Glass was blown in all directions and every member of one fire company was thrown, stunned, to the ground.

TRIES TO GIVE COIN IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A. Mueller, a ranch owner from Nevada, attempted to give away $6351 in front of the Palmer House this morning. Policeman Peterson was attracted. When he neared Mueller the Nevadan threw the money on the sidewalk and called out, "Will no one take it?" "Yes, I will," said Peterson, as he picked up the money and seized Mueller, believing he had in custody one of the men who yesterday robbed a bank in Indiana. He took Mueller to the central police station, where the latter explained that he arrived in Chicago Tuesday and had sold several carloads of cattle. The prisoner was unable to tell the police where he had been subsequent to taking a drink. The money was placed in the treasury vault at the station and Mueller was turned over to the sergeant for safe keeping.

PROF. MITCHELL'S TRIAL.

College of Methodist Episcopal Bishops Disputes His Knowledge of "the Word."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, comprising the governing body of that denomination, met in semi-annual conference here today. Several matters of interest and importance to Methodists are to be dealt with during the sessions which are to be held daily, during the week.

The disposition of the case of Hinkley G. Mitchell, elected by the Board of Trustees of the Boston University to fill the chair of Hebrew, is perhaps the subject of most popular interest. Six months ago, the bishops refused to confirm the selection of Prof. Mitchell, on the ground that his interest in the "higher criticism" of the Bible unfitted him to teach the fundamentals of Methodism. The trustees of the University have refused to concur in this decision, and have reappointed the professor.

Five years ago, Prof. Mitchell was before the bishops and explained his beliefs to their satisfaction. Since that time he has published a book called "The Word Before Abraham," in which it is alleged by many churchmen that he has made critical statements concerning the Old Testament. It was this work which was the basis of the adverse action six months ago, at which time the bishops were nearly equally divided over the question. The sessions of the conference are all behind closed doors.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary; great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Private-Contract Announcement Calls Out Another Offer—Low Prices for Work are Expected Because of Competition—Albers Decision in Nicaragua is Confirmed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since Secretary Taft's intimation that the Panama Canal will be dug by private contract, evidence is multiplying that there will be plenty of competition. J. McMullen, vice-president of the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Co., called on the Secretary, today, and said that his firm would be prepared to submit bids. This company is constructing large dredges for improving harbors at Panama and Colon. Other large corporations will compete, which is expected to cause low prices.

The Canal Commission today let a contract for nineteen 70-ton steam shovels for use on the isthmus, at $10,000 each, to the Bucyrus Company, Milwaukee. A contract for 800 freight cars for the Panama Railroad has been let to the American Car and Foundry Company, Pittsburgh, at $990 each.

Chairman Shonts of the commission was ill at home today. Secretary Taft called upon him. It is believed his illness is severe.

ALBERS DECISION CONFIRMED.

HE WILL TAKE AN APPEAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Official information comes to the State Department from Nicaragua that the so-called Leon court has confirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of the American citizen, Albers, and has fixed his sentence at thirty-two months imprisonment. Albers will take an immediate appeal to the Supreme Court, it is said, at Managua.

The State Department has instructed Mr. Merry, the American Minister to Nicaragua, to send his secretary of legation, J. G. Bailey, to Managua to observe the progress of the case, so as to be in a position to inform the State Department regarding the treatment the Albers case receives.

ATTACK ON TAX COLLECTOR.

WOUNDED ON HAYTI FRONTIER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary Taft has received a cable from G. F. Colton, head of the customs service in Santo Domingo, stating that one of the American tax collectors, David F. Morris, was slightly wounded near Nayba, on the Hayti frontier. It is said that there is no political significance in the fact, and that Morris was probably wounded in a fight with smugglers.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Refunding of Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Bonds to the amount of $1,985,600 were refunded at the Treasury Department today, making the total to date under the Secretary's last call $30,584,600.

Ginning of Cotton.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Census Bureau issued a bulletin today, placing the cotton ginned in the United States up to October 18 at 4,940,728 bales, round bales being counted as half bales. The statement is based on reports made by the bureau's special agents in the field.

Chairman Shonts Confined.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Chairman Shonts of the Isthmian Canal Commission has been confined to his residence in this city several days, although yesterday he had been transacting the more important business concerning the canal. Secretary Taft called on Shonts this morning, but did not undertake to discuss canal affairs. Shonts has been working very hard, and his indisposition is due to the close attention he has been giving to business.

Elkins Calls Rate Committee.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Senator Elkins, chairman of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, called a meeting of that committee for November 21 for the purpose of considering the testimony taken early in the summer relative to the regulation of railroad rates, with the ultimate view of reporting a bill to the Senate.

Drops Its Lottery Lists.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—El Constitutional, the semi-official Venezuelan newspaper, which has been excluded from the United States mails on account of its publishing lists of lotteries, has, according to private advices received here, ceased publishing those lists, and accordingly will be permitted to circulate in the United States and Porto Rico.

FAILED TO REPORT WHISKY SOLD

GREENSBORO (N. C.) Oct. 25.—Interesting litigation has been begun in the Federal Court in the case of the United States against N. Glenn Williams, D. F. Kennedy and the old Nick Williams Distilling Company, indicted on fifteen counts for frauds against the government in conducting a big rectifying and wholesale whisky plant at Williams. There are seventy-five witnesses, some from California. The purpose of the trial is to show that the defendants transported and sold thousands of gallons of whisky more than sworn to in reports to the government.

EQUITABLE DIRECTORS MEET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—At the monthly meeting today of the directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, Sir William C. Van Horne of Montreal, J. D. Keran of Utica and William C. Redfield of Brooklyn, were nominated to fill vacancies. They will be elected to the board at the November meeting.

At the meeting today, President Morton and Comptroller Day submitted statements dealing with the company's business the first nine months of the current year. There also was a statement, covering the society's real estate loans from January 1, 1895, to October 1 of this year. Cash loans for this period aggregated $117,820,500. Of this amount, five cases were foreclosed, leaving a net profit of not quite $12,000. Of the money mortgages on property sold by the society from January 1, 1895, the comptroller's statement showed one foreclosure, with a loss of $1227.

Receipts of the Equitable society for the third quarter of this year for premiums, interest, rent, etc., amount to $16,973,087, as compared with $17,806,214 in the same quarter of last year. Disbursements for the third quarter of this year amount to $11,909,482, against $11,904,535 last year. Receipts for the first nine months of this year amount to $55,772,176 compared with $53,718,642 for the first nine months of 1904. Disbursements thus far this year are somewhat in excess of those for 1904, amounting to $39,048,979, as against $37,551,504.

Thus the statement shows that the Equitable's receipts for the nine months of this year exceeded the expenditures by $16,722,147, an increase of $556,060, as compared with last year. Receipts from premiums on policies for the third quarter of 1905, however, show a falling-off of $1,007,413, as compared with 1904. The statement shows that during the third quarter of this year, current expenses were reduced $839,913, but during the first six months there was an increase in this amount of $424,943, leaving a net reduction for nine months of $414,470.

The reduction of $839,913, in current expenses for the third quarter was said at the society's office, today, to be due to the fact that less business was written during the period this year than last, and therefore fewer commissions were paid, and also to the fact that salaries had been reduced and other economies effected. A credit of $881,519 to the profit-and-loss account for nine months represented profits on securities sold. The amount of the falling-off in new business is not given in the report.

TAKING TAFT OUT OF RACE.

BIG SECRETARY NOT "RUNNING" FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

He Will Continue to "Sit on the Lid" as Long as the President Desires, According to the Washington "Post"—He Declares He Has No Intention of Campaigning.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Post tomorrow will say that Secretary Taft has announced: "I have no intention of resigning from the Cabinet to make a campaign for the Presidency, and furthermore, I have no intention whatever of making a campaign for the office of the nation's Chief Executive."

The Post says: "Secretary of War Taft is not planning to enter a campaign for the Presidency, has no intention of doing so, is content with his seat in the Cabinet, and means to stay there as long as the President desires it. Such is the substance of an announcement made by him yesterday, and which will tend to put at rest, temporarily, at least, the talk of his being a Presidential candidate."

FLAMMER WITHDRAWS.

HOPES JEROME WILL WIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Charles A. Flammer tonight announced his resignation as Republican candidate for District Attorney, and appealed to the members of the party to support the candidacy of Jerome. Flammer's resignation was announced in the following statement by him, given out by Chairman William Halpin of the Republican County Committee:

"When I accepted the Republican nomination for District Attorney I did so in good faith and full expectation, if elected, of being able to serve the people of this community honorably and well.

"As a member of the Republican party, I desire to put myself on record with the best traditions of that party in leading sound public sentiment by not continuing my candidacy for District Attorney against William Travers Jerome, and in response to what I recognize today as the sense of the majority of the best citizenship in this community, I retire as a candidate for District Attorney.

"Though the thought is apart from the principle which occasions retirement, I am hopeful and confident that my action must assist in the unification of those citizens opposed to the continuance of the administration to this city by McClelland, Murphy and Tammany in the support of Mr. Ivins for Mayor, in which, with all other good citizens, I am vitally interested.

"I beg to acknowledge my gratitude to those friends whose expressions of good will and loyalty have come to me in this campaign, and I urge them as well as all Republicans and all other citizens to support and vote for William Travers Jerome for District Attorney, as I shall do."

EDDY DISMISSES SUIT.

Organist's Mysterious Action in Regard to Divorce Case Puzzles His Attorney.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clarence Eddy, the organist, has dismissed the suit for divorce against Sarah Hershey Eddy. Some mystery surrounds the affair. No reason can be learned for his action, and it is not known whether Mrs. Eddy is in the United States or whether a reconciliation has been effected.

Two weeks ago, A. D. Eddy, the attorney who filed the suit and on whose motion it was dismissed, received a letter from the organist asking him to have the case dismissed. According to the attorney, there were no reasons for the action set forth in the letter, and he declared he did not know where the letter was mailed, but believed the organist was in California when he wrote.

Eddy is believed now to be in New York, but it is known that he stopped off in Chicago on his way East from California, two weeks ago.

INDIANS GOT MUCHUP.

And Then He Was Cast Down—The Story of a Man Hunt in Montana.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA (Mont.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A special from Dillon, Mont., tells of the unusual experience of a white man hunted and captured by the Indian police. Sheriff Dart has a warrant for Frank Muchup, and learning that he had departed for the Lemhi agency, notified the Indian police to capture him.

The Indians came upon Muchup, surrounded him, and with brandished knives demanded his surrender. He was accused of being the murderer of W. J. Oliver, near Helena, and was told that if he spoke he would be killed.

In a twinkling he was bound hand and foot, and was allowed to lie on the prairie for sixteen hours in that condition, until rescued by the Sheriff's posse and taken to Dillon.

AMERICANS PLAN OBSERVATORY.

MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prof. David Todd, an American astronomer, has written a letter saying that several Americans are disposed to build an observatory in Montevideo, believing the position favorable for the study of several astronomical phenomena.

TAKES DEEP PLUNGE TO DEATH.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Plunging down eleven stories, in a ventilating shaft in the First National Bank Building, yesterday, Bruno A. Baehr met a tragic death. The boy opened a door leading from a lavatory to the elevator shaft. He took a step in the darkness and then, realizing his peril, grasped frantically upward and caught the key in the lock of the door. To this he clung desperately and deferred for a brief instant the fatal plunge. Half an hour afterward, his body was picked up at the bottom. In the course of his fall, the boy's body struck a water pipe, breaking the connection and allowing the water to flood the shaft. This leakage started an investigation and it resulted in the finding of the body.

WORK A PLEASURE

It Is One of the Real Joys Given Us.

"Postum Food Coffee has done more for me in two years," writes a Wisconsin young lady student, "than all the medicines and treatments I had employed to overcome the effects of the coffee poisoning that was killing me by degrees.

"I had all the familiar symptoms and suffered all the well-known tortures. My stomach was wrecked and I could not eat, my head ached almost continually, I became the nervous victim of insomnia, and the capacity for study deserted me. Of course this came on gradually, and without suspicion, for a long time, as to the cause.

"Two years ago a friend enthusiastically urged me to quit using the old kind of coffee and to drink Postum Food Coffee. I have never regretted acting upon the advice. As soon as the coffee poison was eliminated, the strengthening and nourishing properties of Postum began to build me up.

"Each day I gained a little, the color crept back to my cheeks, my limbs rounded out with new flesh, my complexion grew fair and clear again, my digestion improved, and now I can eat anything at any time, the nervous insomnia has left me and I sleep soundly at night and wake up refreshed. I have no more headaches, and mental work has become a pleasure to me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PLAN TO BAN GREEK "FRATS."

STUDENT LEADERS AT OCCIDENTAL SOUND KNELL.

Trustees and Faculty of College Back of Movement to Squelch the Small Societies That are Termed Inimical in Many Ways—Members of Organizations Protest.

"Frats must go," is the dictum of the Executive Committee of the student body of Occidental College.

This decision was emphasized yesterday morning by the approval of the trustees and faculty of the Presbyterian school of the plan to oust the Greek letter societies.

The students are divided on the question and there is a prospect of a stiff fight.

Tradition dictates that the "frats" with the hard-sounding names shall remain and continue to influence college life. Those who argue for the continuance of "frat" life declare that college spirit will become dead with the fraternities squelched.

There is determination in the faces of several "frat" men who persist in wearing their pins and other insignia in college halls and on the campus.

Dean Stevenson is lined up with those who will endeavor to rid hte school of the "Greeks." He has declared himself as heartily in favor of the stand taken by trustees, faculty and the Executive Committee. At a recent chapel meeting the dean said: "If faculty regulation is needed in this matter it will be promptly enforced."

Prof. Archibald of the Greek department said: "Greek letters should not be used for such small societies as exist in Occidental College." Dr. Gordon, another faculty member, strongly opposed the "frat" idea.

Those who are most bitter against the "frats" openly declare the Greek letter societies responsible for many disagreements arising between faculty and students. They brand the "frats" as a menace to college spirit. They accuse the "Greeks" of "butting into athletics."

The charge is made that positions on the football team have often been given to "frat" men because of influence gained in the societies rather than for merit as athletes. They declare that membership on a track team has oftentimes depended on the standing of a man in his "frat." Baseball teams that have represented the college in past seasons, they declare, have been largely of fraternity members.

Arrayed in opposition to the anti-frat sentiment, are the fraternity men and their friends. The Kappa [illegible] Mu members are all men. They are leaders in academic life and several are athletes of prominence in the school. They are Walter Thatcher, [illegible] Irwin, John Spenser, Scott [illegible], Will Dickey, Ben Smith, Ernest Wieman, William Pugh and Clark [illegible].

Shoulder to shoulder with their brothers, the fair Greek maidens have taken up the cudgels in defense of their societies. The Lambda Sigma Nu is incensed over the action of the Executive Committee, and will appeal to the student body for redress. The matter probably will be thrashed out at a meeting before the assembled students. Members of the sorority who feel their personal liberty is being abused are [illegible] Shepherd, Etta Lee, Lolis Mc[illegible], Jessie Mordy, Ella Lee, Eliza[illegible]terson, Fern Gordon and Eloise [illegible]ridge.

The Executive Committee stands pat in its opinion and as far as its members are concerned the death knell of "frats" and sororities is already sounded. Undergraduate Burt, president of the student body, said: "The only course for the students is to call a special meeting."

MASONS READY TO OPEN HOME.

EAST SAN GABRIEL CHARITY TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK.

Simplicity Will Mark Inauguration of Work at Refuge, Into Which a Score or More of Persons Will be Received at Outset—Buildings in Fine Trim for the Purpose.

One of the most beautiful homes ever devoted to charity will open its doors next Wednesday, when the Southern California Masonic Home at East San Gabriel will receive its first inmates. Given to charity only its 100 rooms, airy hallways and beautiful grounds will always be devoted, for it is against the rule that any refugees shall be received for pay, since it might some day have the effect of keeping out the worthy poor of Masonic affiliations.

There will be no ceremonies of any character to mark the day when the charges begin to arrive. Between twenty and twenty-five persons whose applications have been approved will be received during the next week or ten days. The management for the present will be under Mrs. Ora E. Akin, formerly matron of the Dakota Masonic Home. The institution will be under the immediate supervision of the executive committee of the Masonic Home Association.

Since the East San Gabriel Hotel was purchased by the Masonic Home Association, last April, over $6500 has been expended in repairing the buildings, painting it, tinting exteriors and refinishing some of the rooms. Recently the home received two gifts that added to its endowment. W. B. Scarborough of Monrovia presented the deed of the home to the Grand Lodge of California, which met recently in San Francisco, and the sum of $5000 was donated. The Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star, which just closed its session here, gave the home $500. The cost of running the home will be met by a membership fund which with an endowment of $5000 a year. The completed work of the Masonic Home Association comes as a result of many years of agitation, beginning with the organization of the Masonic Home Association in 1899. The endowment and the funds for the purchase of the home have been accumulated since then, and the work has become continually better organized and gained strength among the Masonic lodges of Southern California. It is open to members from the organized bodies of Masons, Chapters of the Eastern Star, and the Masonic boards of relief.

The aged and those unable to help themselves are primarily the objects of the home. There will be one section given to hospital uses, with complete furnishings and equipment, and the [illegible] of the unfortunate pre[illegible] those suffering from contagious diseases, and the mentally un[illegible]. Yet the care of such persons at the expense of the home is within its [illegible].

The officers of the Masonic Home Association are: R. H. Herron, president; [illegible], vice-president, Robert [illegible]; W. B. Scarborough, secretary. The directors are John F. Hughes, Niles Pease, R. H. Herron, F. J. Cornes, J. W. Calvert, R. D. Scriver, M. H. Newmark, George N. Black, Mrs. Minnie E. Brown, Mrs. Caroline M. Musans and Mrs. C. B. Fowler.

DAIRYMAN DIES.

William F. Thorne, a wealthy dairyman of Vincennes, Ind., brother of Mrs. Matt Taffe of Los Angeles, died yesterday at his home. He was paralyzed two weeks ago as the result of a runaway accident.

INTERESTING LAND CASE.

Tomorrow morning before the local United States Land Office will be continued the hearing of the case which involves the right of owners of the Rancho la Bolsa Chico to claim the sand spit in front of Alamitos Bay, as theirs by right of accretion from the ocean washes. The contention of the Anaheim Mining, Milling and Development Company is that this sand spit is really mineral land and subject to filing of mineral claims, as it is alleged sands have been found which show values of from $90 to $100 per ton. A third party seeks to obtain clear title through possession of government scrip. Taking of testimony will probably require several days.

FIGHT WITH THE MOROS.

Manila Expects to Hear of One When Gen. Wood Arrives at Zamboanga.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MANILA (P. I.) Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is probable there will be a fight with the Moros when Gen. Wood reaches Zamboanga. There is considerable unrest among the natives, and the recent attempt to ambush Maj. Scott is regarded as showing the need of a punitive expedition.

It is reported here that another than Gen. Smith will be appointed Governor of the Philippines when Gov. Wright resigns.

RAJAH OF BONI IS HARD HIT.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 25.—A column of Dutch troops on the Island of Celebes, Dutch East Indies, has captured an important position occupied by the followers of the Rajah of Boni. Thirty-nine of the defenders were killed. The casualties of the Dutch were twelve men killed or wounded. The pursuit of the Rajah of Boni continues.

THE DIANA HOISTS HER ENSIGN.

SAIGON (French Cochin China) Oct. 25.—The Russian cruiser Diana, long interned here, hoisted her ensign today, apparently preparatory to her departure. The Russian battleship Czarevitch, interned at Kiao Chou and the cruisers Oleg, Aurora and Jemtchug, interned at Manila, will rendezvous here.

TO GIVE CRACKER TRUST A RUN.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A story was told in local trade circles yesterday that the North American Biscuit Company intends to invade Chicago. It was with a view of extending its operations that the company recently increased its capital stock from $4,500,000 to $9,000,000. The concern has plants in Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Dallas, Texas, and is a growing competitor of the National Biscuit Company. A move has been made in the East among a number of independent cracker bakeries to obtain the products that enter into the manufacture of crackers, etc., at a reduced cost. To this end, the Independent Cracker Bakers' Association, claimed to be composed of upward of fifty members, has appointed Louis Fuller purchasing agent, covering the territory this side of the Mississippi River.

Chicago Street Railway Clash.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The first clash between the street-railway companies and the city in the quo-warranto proceedings brought against the Chicago City Railway Company and the Union Traction Company and their subsidiary companies resulted today in a victory for the street railways, when Judge Dupuy of the Superior Court upheld the right of the railway companies to contest the validity of the filing of the quo-warranto proceeding.

FALL RIVER (Mass.) Oct. 25.—At the very moment when a strike of more than 25,000 textile operatives employed in seventy-five mills in this city seemed a certainty the situation was suddenly cleared by the action of the Manufacturers' Association and the outlook tonight is brighter than at any time since the wage question has come to the front. A conference between committees representing the manufacturers and the operatives will be held at 2:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon. The manufacturers have shown a desire to effect a compromise.

MAY ESCAPE TRIAL FOR FRAUD.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Oct. [illegible] the land fraud cases at Moscow, Idaho, today, United States Attorney Ruick stated that the government is not satisfied with the evidence at hand in the cases of Kettenbaugh and Kesler, the bankers, and O'Keefe and Dywer, and that there is a possibility that unless additional evidence is secured they may never be tried. He asked for continuance until the spring term, which was agreed to by the defendants. The grand jury is at work.

THE MASONS BURY SIMPSON.

WICHITA (Kan.) Oct. 25.—With solemn Masonic writes, the body of former Congressman Jerry Simpson was laid at rest this afternoon in Maple Grove Cemetery. Services were held in Scottish Rite Temple, the full Masonic ritual being used. There was no clergyman and the address was delivered by Congressman Victor Murdock, whose words were an eloquent tribute to the speaker's predecessor in Congress.

Norfolk and Western Dividend.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—The board of directors of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company today increased the semi-annual dividend on common stock to 2 per cent.

Car Trust Certificates.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—The Pennsylvania Railroad today authorized the issuance of car-trust certificates to the amount of about $13,000,000, to be used in the payment for equipment.

Directors Elected in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 25.—At the annual meeting of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad today, the following directors were reelected: W. P. Bliss, H. McK. Twombly, J. D. Layng and F. W. Vanderbilt. A total of 238,434 votes were cast, proxies being used, as none of the eastern stockholders were present.

"SMUDGE" PROTEST.

A mass meeting of men and women of the Second Ward will be held at the church building, Temple and Metcalf streets, at 7:30 o'clock this evening, to renew the protests against unsightly derricks and the smudge attending the conduct of the oil business in that section of the city.

Side Talks
BY THE OFFICE BOY

The old man says: "Wayward boys grow up to be the men who fall by the wayside." He accidentally ran into me the other night while I was smoking a cigarette. It was the first one I had smoked for ever so long, but I knew there would be a little heart-to-heart talk next morning in his private office, and sure enough, he began to give me the nervous look-over as soon as I answered roll call. "Willie," said he, with a breath of winter in his tones, after he'd looked me over for a couple of minutes, "ambition is the only disease which laziness can cure, and cigarette smoking is a sure cure for ambition. While all cigarette smokers are not dope fiends, all dope fiends are cigarette smokers. Cut them out. If you want to be a successful business man, you've got to have a clear head, and there's no doubt cigarette smoke steals boys' brains away and makes them dull and logey." No more cigarettes for me. I'm going to cancel my subscription to the Dream Book and get down to business, for we're getting awfully busy in all four of the stores. Fall hats are just melting away. Shirts are going awfully fast, and the crowds are just beginning to go to underwear. Our Tailoring Department (Spring street store,) is doing a rushing business. In fact, fall trade has started in full blast in every department.

MORE DRUNKS IN AUTO ORGY.

Fill Air With Filthy Yells in Wild Revel.

Four of Party Arrested, but Jump Their Bail.

Line of Motors and Roadhouses Work Together.

Another disgraceful story of booze and Bohemia, as seen by the glare of an automobile lamp, belonged with the names of "Phillip Thompson," "Robert H. Smith" and "Fred B. Mento" in the Police Court yesterday.

Their names were called and they did not answer, forfeiting their bail rather than appear and tell the story of their adventures.

They were arrested at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by Patrolman Walsh, while they were carousing on Spring street at a crazy pace in an automobile.

They had been the rounds of the notorious downtown resorts. They were all drunk.

When Walsh saw them they were tearing up and down Spring street, howling filthy songs at the tops of their voices and making a general disturbance. He held them up and told them they were under arrest, except the chauffeur.

Mento begged to be allowed to go; he said he was a business man and feared newspaper publicity. They were all well-dressed men and were adorned with a quantity of jewelry and had money. It is believed that the names they gave were assumed.

They were all charged at the Police Station with drunkenness and were allowed to go on bail. Their cases were called in the Police Court at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and they failed to respond. This morning their bail will be declared forfeit.

This has come again to be an incident of nightly occurrence.

FILTH "ON THE QUIET."

A regular system of scientific dissipation exists in this city for a certain class of automobilists. Thus can gilded youths soak in filth "on the quiet."

One of the most notorious roadhouses, Ward's, is said to be the owner of one of the lines of automobiles which stand in front of the Bohemia restaurants waiting to be hired.

Some of these city restaurants are little else than stations for the start on the round of carousal. One of them is run with a house of disrepute in connection, and the management of the café maintains an automobile line to wait at the door when they get too hilarious to be kept in town.

The customary route of these is round the circuit of four or five tough roadhouses which are combinations of booseries and worse.

The chauffeurs have a regular list of subsidized "lady friends" who are of a sociable and friendly disposition and willing to overlook the formalities. Men come reeling out of some of these dives half drunk and climb into the autos. Then for "girls" and the roadhouses, where the carousing goes on into the night, varied with hilarious and drunken trips to the other houses of like ilk; trips made howling, with drunken shrieks and a fearful and death-dealing speed.

DRUNKEN MEN AT WHEELS.

These trackless, murderous express trains are often intrusted in the hands of men hardly sober enough to sit up.

This arrested crew of yesterday morning is but one of a number who have landed in trouble and disaster during the past week.

There were the women nearly killed with the Terminal Island saloon man and a number of others, in similar accidents.

Without these roadhouses, there would be no Bohemian automobile lines.

The excuse of the Supervisors for allowing the houses to run their diabolical course of ruining girls and providing out-of-the-way and semi-aristocratic places of debauchery and sin, is that they are in districts that voted "wet," or in favor of liquor selling.

Because the district expresses its mild approval of allowing the sale of liquor, it seems to be taken to follow that the same district is in favor of deadfalls, dives and haunts of every form of unrestrained vice.

And if the district approves of this sort of thing, is it any reason why the remainder of the community should suffer this blot and this danger to please the district?

Of late several more roadhouses of character just as unsavory as the old have been added to the list where the devil can be courted.

JONES'S THIRD JOLT.

Collides With Policeman, Then Smashes an Auto, and Now Speed Maniac is Arrested.

George A. Jones, speed maniac and the chauffeur of the automobile which was overturned and smashed at Main and Forty-seventh streets on the 17th inst., injuring four persons, was arrested in San Diego yesterday afternoon.

Acting Chief Auble will leave for the seaside city this morning and personally take charge of the man. Jones will be brought to this city and locked up on a charge of violating the speed ordinance.

The arrest of Jones is the termination of several day's incessant watchfulness on the part of the Los Angeles police, and his location is due to investigations made by Capt. Auble. Jones, with a party of three persons, suddenly turned a large touring car which he was driving to avoid colliding with a milk wagon. All the occupants were spilled, and Jones and another man were removed to the Emergency Hospital. On release from the hospital he disappeared from Los Angeles, and has been at San Diego since that time.

A few days previous to the Main-street accident, Jones ran into Patrolman Baumont, knocking him down and dragging him several yards. The number which adorned Jones's automobile was "Cal. 269," and upon inquiry proved to belong to George Lent of San Francisco, Jones having no authorized license tag attached to his machine. More than one charge may be pressed against Jones.

HEARTLESS HUSBAND.

Deserts His Little Family Just at Time When His Wife Needs Every Comfort.

John Reader, accused of deserting his wife and family, was arrested on Central avenue last night and lodged in the City Jail. A few days ago the man is alleged to have left his home at No. 1010 East Forty-third street, leaving his wife penniless. He first disposed of the live stock and the major portion of the furniture in the little home.

The family was left in destitute circumstances. The wife was left with a little one, and owing to her condition she was sent to the County Hospital, where she is about to be confined. Neighbors being informed of the woman's pitiable plight, have furnished the family with provisions since the husband's departure. When arrested last evening, Reader was in the company of women of the underworld, and expressed apparent unconcern over the welfare of his family.

KILLING ANGERED INDIANS.

TROOPS ARRIVED JUST IN TIME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE, Oct. 25.—Report was received here today of a killing at the village of Myton Saturday last, which came near resulting in trouble between the villagers and Indians camping in the region.

A drunken Indian going about the village with a cocked revolved, threatening the villagers, menaced a white man, W. T. Muse, and was shot and killed. Other Indians came into town, threatening vengeance, and were making an ugly demonstration when a troop of cavalry came upon the scene from Fort Duchesne. Citizens had telephoned to the fort that "the postoffice was in danger."

The cavalry took charge of Muse and turned him over to the Sheriff. He is in jail at Heber.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Arizona Lawyers in Trouble.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 25.—Late last night, A. J. Daggs and R. E. Daggs, brothers, were arrested on a charge of aggravated battery, the victims being two girls, Marie and Esther Power, sisters. The alleged battery consisted of ejecting the girls from the Daggs's office and shoving them down stairs after a scuffle. The grand jury, in session today, indicted both for aggravated assault. The men are out on a bond of $1500 each, and say in defense that they are victims of a blackmailing scheme. They are lawyers by profession, well known all over Arizona, and are engaged more than otherwise in the conduct of business for promoting incorporation enterprises.

Wreck Safe, but Get No Money.

ANGELS, Oct. 25.—The big safe in Stephens Brothers General store, Murphy's, was blown open by cracksmen last night but the robbers got nothing. The explosion blew off the large doors and the surroundings were damaged in the crash. The safe, which weighs 2000 pounds, is a kreck. Nitro-glycerine was used. The cracksmen are unknown and got out of town before the crime was discovered. That they are experts is evident from the job they did on the safe, which was used as a fire proof place in which to keep books.

Boy Bandits Gathered In.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Armed, bandit-like, with two revolvers each, smoking cigarettes, and living in a cave, three boys were arrested yesterday near La Grange by detectives of the Burlington Railway. The boys are Jacob Machtemus, eighteen; Lewis Sherwood, fifteen; and Charles Colberts, fourteen years old. In the cave the officers found what was left of 25,000 cigarettes, several boxes of cigars and several revolvers which, the detectives allege, were taken in recent robberies. The boys are accused of being members of a gang that has operated about La Grange for weeks.

Are They Burglars?

R. D. Robinson, residing at No. 324 West Fifteenth street, last night captured an unknown negro and a white man, whom he charges with attempting to break into his house. Robinson marched the captives to the home of Captain of Detectives Bradish, who sent them to police headquarters.

Comes Back in Irons.

Patrolman Glen arrived at the City Jail at 11 o'clock last night with Fred Phillips, the negro captured in Oakland and wanted for an assault upon Mrs. Louise Smiler.

CRACK CROOKS ARE FOILED.

Gang is Nabbed on Eve of Pulling Off Job.

Ordered Set of Burglar Tools from Mechanic.

Plans Evidently Laid for Big Bank Robbery.

The police department has frustrated the efforts of at least four experienced cracksmen who are thought to have been preparing to pull off a series of big robberies, and a set of burglars' tools designed for "bank" work will never be made.

The four men have been arrested; they are known to have a long and checkered career. Andrew McBride, Richard Henry, William Shay and William Kelley are the names given by the gang.

The entire crowd has been under strict surveillance for the past few days. The men have worked singly in securing the "lay" of various Los Angeles banks. On various pretexts they have visited banking institutions, remaining several minutes in each place, carefully noting the arrangement of the interior of the buildings. At night the men have carefully examined the exterior of the structures, and their arrest was quietly made Tuesday night. Since that time the records of the quartette have been carefully examined and information tending to prove the importance of the capture has been given out.

A fifth arrest was made last evening when H. T. Smith, another supposed yeggman, was taken in and closeted with the detectives for nearly an hour. In the lining of his coat and trousers a varied assortment of skeleton keys, lockpicks, and other suspicious articles was found. He was afterward made to remove all of his clothing, when additional tools used by burglars were discovered.

Information leading to the apprehension of the first four named suspects was secured from a Long Beach mechanical engineer. He was approached by the quartette and negotiations for the manufacture of a complete set of burglar tools entered into. The prospective purchasers desired only the finest picks, jimmies, etc., and a description of the tools showed the men to be familiar with work on bank safes and the most difficult "jobs." Before making the tools the Long Beach locksmith immediately communicated with the local officers. The tools were never made.

The operations of the four men were conducted by the most stealthy methods, and their arrest came as a complete surprise.

In addition to the arrest of the five above named, instructions have been handed out at police headquarters to keep close watch on an unoccupied residence at No. 217 Sotello street. The place, it is believed, is used as a rendezvous for a gang of thugs and crooks, and a determined effort to break up the outfit will be made.

The arrests of the past two days of these well-known criminals is of great importance in view of the influx of yeggmen from the East. There is every indication that an unusually large number of such characters have migrated to Los Angeles and Southern California within the past few weeks.

Lady Baltimore

By OWEN WISTER
Author of The Virginian

IT WAS at King's Port—not its map name, of course—that Mr. Wister found Lady Baltimore and laid the scene of his love-story of the Carolinas. Imagine the most charming of Southern cities; old and shabby, hushed and gray—but peopled with a high-bred society more exclusive and self-sufficient than that of any court in Europe; a town where the atmosphere and the small talk of the forties are still preserved. In this rarified atmosphere rear a native lover, and at last confront him with a fiancee who spends her summers with the Newport "smart set" playing bridge, drinking high-balls and smoking cigarettes.

¶ A bull in a china-shop would be a more welcome guest than was this young woman when she descended on King's Port. Was it any wonder that the old town was set by the ears, that the young man wondered if he hadn't made a mistake, and as many social tangles presented themselves as a dozen chapters would scarce unravel?

FLUTTER OF ANTICIPATION.

Crush of Woman Delegates Swamp Entertainers.

First Conference Work to Begin by Y's Today.

The Programme of the White Ribbon Convention.

Yesterday added fifty delegates and a large number of visitors from afar in attendance at the W.C.T.U. National Convention, while still more are expected today and tomorrow. The day was one of intense activity on the part of the Entertainment Committee, which arranges for placing the guests in congenial quarters. At the headquarters of this committee in the anteroom of the First Congregational Church, there was a loud hum and flutter all day, with the coming and going of countrywomen, some in search of hotels and boarding-houses; others seeking friends from various States.

The visitors who arrived Tuesday spent the time yesterday in independent sight-seeing trips about the city. It was a day of wonders for many of them, the points of greatest interest apparently being the parks and the residence sections.

Closed sessions were held yesterday at the church, the official board meeting in the morning and the Executive Committee meeting in the afternoon.

TEMPERANCE TEMPLE EVENT.

This is Y day, all the Y's convening at the Temperance Temple this morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Cora Seberry, National Y secretary, will preside, assisted by Miss Mary Emma Yeo, State secretary.

The full programme for the Y's is as follows: Conference at Temperance Temple Thursday morning at 9; roll call of States and introduction of State secretaries; greeting by Miss Yeo, State secretary; response by Mrs. Cora E. Seberry; paper, "A Girl in Japan," telling of Miss Kara Smart's work in that country; discussion, "Shall the Y Include Tobacco in Its Pledge?" opened by Miss Kathryn Sawyer, Y secretary for Illinois; paper, "Work to be Done by Y Secretaries," Miss Rose A. Davidson of Colorado; discussion, "The Future of the Y," opened by Miss A. E. Thomas, secretary, of Pennsylvania; "The Most Encouraging Thing Last Year," by the State Y secretaries; lunch at the Young Women's Christian Association rooms at 11:30 o'clock.

Afternoon session will begin with Bible reading by Miss Olivia Annette [illegible], secretary for Ohio; paper, "Essentials of Success in the Local," Miss Elizabeth Goodwin, secretary for New Jersey; general suggestions, "What Literature do We Need Not Now in Our Possession?" paper, "How to Unite Forces in the Church, School and Young Peoples' Societies," by Miss [illegible] Hammon, secretary for Maryland; "Special Need of Y Work in the West," by Miss Annie Chase, secretary for North Carolina; sale of literature; "College Work," by Miss [illegible] Mather, college lecturer of New York; question box; adjournment.

A reception given by the Y's for Mrs. Seberry will be held this evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. [illegible], No. 880 Beacon street.

THE CONVENTION.
PROGRAMME IN FULL.

The convention formally opens Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock and the full programme is as follows:

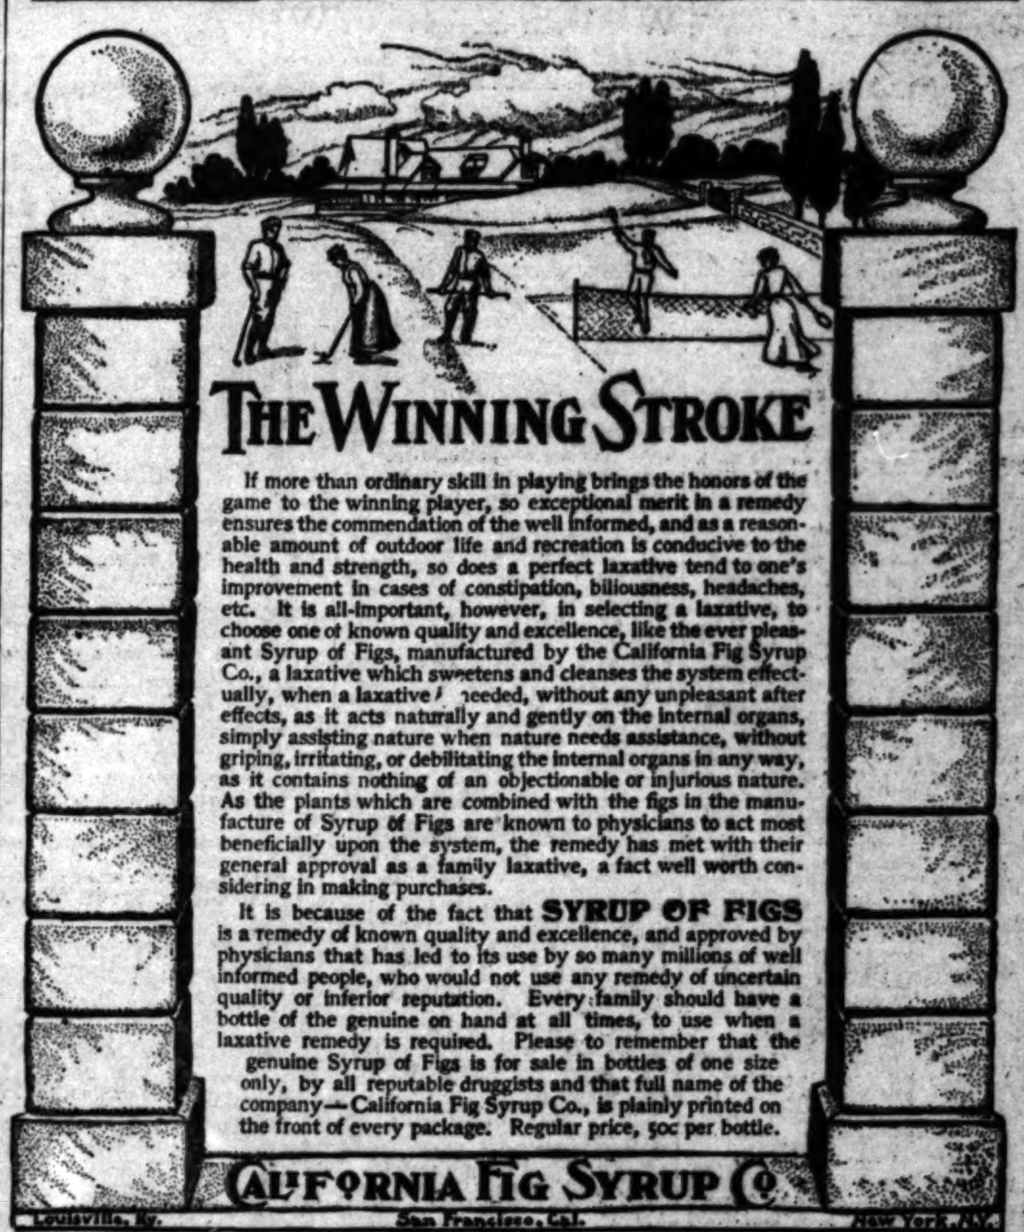
Everybody Should Save For a Rainy Day.

How many families suffer untold hardships, due to their neglect to save money when given the opportunity? It is the duty of everyone to make preparation to stave off an attack of sickness or the helplessness of old age. Not five persons in a hundred but have at some time or other had the chance to place some money in a savings bank, but may have neglected to make use of their opportunity. Savings banks are safe, but the rate of interest is so small that many a man hesitates about making his first deposit.

The solution of the problem is the Investment Department of the Continental Building & Loan Association of San Francisco, an institution that is the largest of its kind on the Pacific Coast. The six per cent. interest-bearing stock issued by this association is as reliable as United States government bonds.

If you have any money, no matter how small the sum may be, that you desire to safely invest where it will be earning you a handsome dividend, commencing from the date of deposit, don't procrastinate, but call on or write to Mr. I. C. Terry, Field Manager Investment Department, for Southern California, Suite 136 Rindge Bldg., 254 S. Broadway, Los Angeles.



THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all-important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating, or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.

The Sunset Trail

"When Alfred Henry Lewis takes up the thread of his story in the West he easily becomes the star entertainer of the country. In 'The Sunset Trail' he revives the halcyon days of Dodge, Hays, Abilene, and Cimarron, repeopling them with the men of prowess and renown who gave them fame in the days of chivalry and shotguns, when to be dead game was a man's best passport to good society. Mr. Masterson—the only Bat—is his hero, and to him he dedicates his book."—

Classified Liners.

Times' "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, the rate for Sunday "Liners" was raised to 1¼ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 60,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention. Rates one cent a word each insertion in the Daily; 1¼ cents per word in the Sunday edition; minimum charge, 25c.

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading of "Too Late to Classify." Errors in telephoned advertisements at the risk of the sender.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Rate, 1¼ cents per word.

FOR SALE—

RESIDENCE IN WESTLAKE.

LOT 60x[illegible] FEET.

This is an east front, nine-room residence, in one of the most beautiful parts of the Westlake section; a home with every possible modern convenience.

DESCRIPTION OF LIVING-ROOM.

The living-room and den are almost like one large room, being connected by a large archway; ceilings are beamed, floors hardwood; there is a very fine old-gold brick mantle with open fireplace; walls are paneled, five feet high and finish is weathered oak; several windows including two large plate glass windows; built-in seats and book-cases; center lights and side lights in newest pattern; the den is a very comfortable spot with side lights in convenient places; the effect of these two rooms together is most pleasing.

There is a fine reception hall as you enter; the dining-room is a front room, paneled and beamed; built-in buffet and plate rail; large kitchen, pantries and cupboards; basement and furnace room; there are four bedrooms, each having stationary bowl, hot and cold water; plenty of large closets; good bath, three porches; lighting fixtures were specially designed, attic is finished; there is an auto barn on the place, also carriage room and box stall; the cement work alone around this property cost $850. This is a mighty fine place, and worth every cent of the price asked.

WESTLAKE RESIDENCES.

CLOSE FIGURES.

We offer today six of the most attractive residences in the Westlake district at astonishingly low prices. The conservative home-seeker and the wide-awake investor will do well to investigate these properties at once. These residences are particularly well located; every house carefully built by master workmen—not a detail has been overlooked. They contain 8 rooms large and commodious; beamed ceilings, paneled walls, oak entrances, with plate and art glass windows; well built hardwood and rock maple floors; window seats, cosy corners, and built-in buffets; lots are large and well improved; locations are as follows: 1635 Alvarado, 1642 Alvarado, 454 Bonnie Brae, 1143 Magnolia, 1144 Magnolia. Keys may be secured at our office.

THE LIVING-ROOM IS A STRONG FEATURE OF THESE HOUSES.

The living-room in each of these houses has a large circular bay window; walls paneled up 5 feet; fine wooden frieze; large old-gold brick mantle and all woodwork ornamented with bugnt designs. Painting of Santa Barbara Mission on panel of mantel. Mission style fixtures; general woodwork finished in antique oak. In view of the extremely low prices being quoted on these fine residences, nothing more desirable can be secured in Los Angeles from an investment standpoint.

"Standpats" for right.

Stand by your Mayor when he is trying to do right by the city. Small inconveniences will be adjusted and overcome more quickly if you do. Corporations try to do the best they can for their interests, which is right. Why should a city not do the same if it has a good executive? Criticism is unwarranted in either case, if everybody does his duty. Buy real estate at our special bargain prices, and you will have done yours. For an investment or a home, benefit yourself by looking over our list before buying elsewhere. A few snaps.

THE "PACKARD" HOUSES.
Best brand on the market.
Are built only in
HIGHLAND PARK.
THE MATCHLESS SUBURB OF THE CITY.

We have one you ought to see. A number of people have said it was the prettiest house they ever saw.

The appearance, however, is the least of its charms.

It was built to live in, not to sell. Built for comfort, convenience and durability.

The only objection the owner has is, that it is too large for a small family.

There are eight splendid rooms, cellar and storeroom, fitted with all modern conveniences; lot 50x150; nicely improved; the situation is exceptional; close to school, churches and fine car service; the view is rare, and the location the healthiest in the city.

Bring your money with you, for you will buy it on sight.

FOR SALE—
THE NEW CAR LINE
ON WESTERN AVENUE
IS BUILDING.

COME OUT AND SEE FOR YOURSELF.
This is the last call on present prices in this locality; the tide of higher values is rising and now is the time to act. Acreage is selling at prices that makes our lots cheaper proportionately than acreage. For instance, we can sell you lots in our Melrose Avenue tract, with street improvements, for only $400. The adjoining acreage has sold for $1200 per acre. We could only get 4½ lots to the acre, which at $1200 per acre is a ground cost of $290 per lot. The street improvements will increase the wholesale cost to $350 per lot at least. Do you think the owners of that acreage will ever sell a lot for $400 on easy terms? NOT MUCH. But we will right now, if you hurry. Remember our war cry, "Buy in the Western-ave. section between Hollywood and Wilshire blvd." Take the Colegrove car to Western ave., where our branch office is located and we will show you the place where your dollars will be safer and more active than in any other section of Los Angeles; and it only requires a few of them to make a deal.
COME OUT TODAY.

FOR SALE—WE SELL THE HILLS.
4 LARGE LOTS FOR $800 CASH.
These lots are not on Spring st., on Adams st. or on Sunset blvd.; street work is NOT done and paid for; and just at present they are NOT immediately surrounded by magnificent homes. They are about ½ mile from Hollywood car line in the northwest part of the city; they are sloping, but not steep, and sightly, commanding grand views of San Fernando Valley, the mountains, the western and northwestern part of the city, and are reached by a very easy grade. There is clean 100 per cent. profit in these lots in a short time. If you have the price and are satisfied to make 100 per cent. in a year or two, we'd like to show you this property. Call up the RANNELLS LAND CO., phone 7781, Sunset Main 2254, and let us make a date, then take Hollywood cars to the corner Sunset blvd. and Alvarado st. and we'll "show you."

How would it suit you to have a home, an east front lot 50x150 to a[illegible] within a few hundred feet from Sunset boulevard and Alvarado street, from which you have an unobstructed view of the country, mountains, Echo Park, the city and as far as the eye can reach, in every direction? The lots to which we call your attention are as close to the Courthouse, Westlake Park, and as fine as any lots in Westlake region. Convenient to the Hollywood and the Glendale Electric lines, they are lots to which you can "point with pride" in comparison with any other lot in any part of Los Angeles. We can sell them at $1500 each, part cash. If interested in this class of property call up the "RANNELLS LAND CO." Follow the history of Hill street and it will be a story of dollars made on every piece of property. And the future history will be a story of more dollars made for more investors. Hill street now is to be widened and paved from Pico to Washington streets. It's to be a finer street than ever as a profit bringer.

The $285 property is in the same block with property that sold for $325 recently. Can you see the way values are tending? Why shouldn't you plant some of your dollars in this fertile soil that multiplies the seed so rapidly. Here are three opportunities—three corners—will you make the most of the opportunity?

"Opportunity, Master of Human Destinies, Am I."

I am continually getting in touch with new opportunities—propositions which I could turn in a day if they could be brought to the attention of the right men. If you're seeking a business investment of the right sort—one that will pay dividends—a thoroughly legitimate and above-board investment, come in and tell me what you want. The chances are I have it on my lists already. If not, I'll find you what you want. Here are two excellent chances—the kind that will stand the fullest investigation. If you're interested, see me today.

SPLENDID GROCERY BUSINESS.
SICKNESS FORCES ITS SALE.

This grocery store is extra well located, rent is low, business is well established with good trade and making money. Sickness in family of present owner makes it necessary to sell. This business will be sold for $2500 in a lump sum—or will inventory stock and fixtures. But for the sickness that necessitates the sale, $5000 would not induce owner to part with this business. Come to my office for full particulars.

$6000 BUYS CONFECTIONERY
BUSINESS WORTH CONSIDERABLY MORE.

This confectionery, ice cream and catering business is splendidly located and has been long established. It can be purchased for $6000, which, at a most conservative estimate, is fully $2000 less than its actual value. There is merit in this opening, which should prove a golden opportunity to parties understanding this line of business. Every facility afforded for making complete investigation. Details at my office.

STOCKS AND BONDS—
And Mortgages.

INVESTORS, ATTENTION—

We have for sale $75,000, par value first mortgage gold bonds of an industrial corporation; they are in denominations of $500 each, bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, net, payable semi-annually, mature in about nine years, and are amply secured.

We are authorized to sell them at 85 per cent. of their par value.

On each $1000 invested, the investors will receive at maturity, $1000; interest for 9 years, ... $540

Total, ... $1540

At 85 per cent. of par value, present cost of $1000 bond is $850

Total profit in 9 years is $690

Which is equal to interest at the rate of 9 per cent. per annum.

Opportunity for fullest investigation afforded. Bonds will be sold in quantities to suit purchasers. However, it is preferred to borrow on them as collateral, ½ their par value, in amounts to suit, for a term of 2 years, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum.

We are handling these bonds only after a personal investigation and indorsement of the enterprise; $50,000 of these bonds were taken at par by interested parties, and $75,000 of the remainder of a total issue of $200,000 are now offered to the public.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

BENEATH a shining arch of gold lightly touched with clinging ferns, from whose center a floral bell of white chrysanthemums swung lightly, and with lover's knots of tulle waving softly above, Miss Bessie May Rowntree and Willard Arnott plighted their troth last evening. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Rowntree of Loma Drive, before 300 friends, the spacious home having been hospitably thrown open. Rev. Robert J. Burdette officiated, using the beautiful double-ring service.

MR. AND MRS. WILLARD ARNOTT, who were married last evening.

Gorgeous flowers and potted plants and greenery had been lavishly used in the decorative effect, carried out by Miss Forman. In the drawing-room, where the ceremony took place, an arch of gold was erected, lightly covered with ferns, and lover's knots of pink tulle were on either side of the great chrysanthemum floral bell in the center, whose light, covered with a pink chrysanthemum, cast a soft glow. Tiny pink hearts of Cecil Bruner roses hung from the lover's knots. Above the arch of gold a canopy spread over the entire room, covering the beamed ceiling and behind it a background of potted palms and plants in which mingled snowy white chrysanthemums, was most attractive. Over the fireplace a mass of pink chrysanthemums rioted and in the window seat the huge chrysanthemums were also used, and all through the room fancy baskets of the pale pink chrysanthemums were effectively placed. In the hall a bower of asparagus ferns was over the ceiling, and yellow chrysanthemums in great clusters were artistically arranged. Huge yellow bows of tulle added to the graceful tout ensemble. In the library, which is rich in oriental hangings, yellow chrysanthemums fell over the brown of the wall with gorgeous effect, and the entire fireplace glowed with the golden blossoms. Yellow tulle shaded the lights and great baskets of brake ferns heightened the beautiful effect. The dining-room, where was served the bridal supper, was in red. Over the deep red walls smilax was garlanded and red carnations were banked in the buffet, while above swung small white wedding bells, over which red ribbons fluttered brightly and huge red bows were on the chandelier. The table, covered with silken cloth, glowed with a centerpiece of scarlet carnations, set on a mirror surrounded by delicate ferns and from the chandelier to the corners of the table red satin ribbons were stretched, ending in silver candelabra shaded with red silk shades. A bridal cake and red ices and candles further adorned the table.

The bridal party was particularly pretty. The matron of honor came first, followed by two maids and the little flower girl and ringbearer. The bride was given away by her father and was a radiant picture of girlish beauty, attired in an imported gown of real lace, with hand-embroidered panels of mousseline de soie adown the length of the skirt. The waist was made with a bolero of lace and fan sleeves of the lace, beneath which fluted mousseline de soie made a pretty effect. A long tulle veil fell over her face, and was fastened with a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom, while a spray of lilies of the valley fell over her hair. A shower cluster of the same fragrant flowers formed a dainty arm bouquet.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Frank L. Wishon of Denver, sister of the bride, wore a dainty gown of pink and white chiffon over white silk, and trimmed with lace insertion and ruching of pink silk. She wore a pink ostrich tip in her hair and carried a gorgeous cluster of pink chrysanthemums. The two bridesmaids, Misses Helen Wachter and Alice Gump, wore gowns of white net over pink silk, and carried pink chrysanthemums tied with fluffy bows of pink tulle. Fastened in their hair were cloudy maid-of-honor veils of pink tulle, the colored veils being an innovation. Dainty little Miss Neisine Freeman was a lovely flower girl, attired in pink silk mousseline de soie, and carrying over her arm a basket of green from which pink chrysanthemums fell. A pink wreath of tiny Cecil Bruner roses nestled against her brown hair. Master Frank Rowntree Wishon, small nephew of the bride, was a fetching ring-bearer, attired in suit of white velvet and carrying the rings in a white chrysanthemum.

Roy B. Sumner stood with the groom. As the party approached the altar the orchestra played the "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin," and during the ceremony, "Angel's Serenade" was sounded, while after the reading of the benediction, Mendelssohn's march rang forth trimphantly. After the wedding a reception was held, members of the bridal party assisting and standing with the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree and Mr. and Mrs. George Arnott, parents of the bride and groom. Mrs. Rowntree was attired in an elegant lace robe of cream with inserts of black velvet passementerie. Mrs. Arnott wore an imported gown of pale-green silk with elaborate trimmings of lace. Later a supper was served by Christopher.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnott were the recipients of many beautiful gifts as tokens of the esteem in which they are held, and left for a three weeks' wedding tour, after which they will reside at No. 748 Burlington avenue, the home of the groom's parents, who are expecting to travel through the winter. Later Mr. and Mrs. Arnott will occupy the handsome new home which the groom is building at Sixth and Coronado streets. Mrs. Arnott's going-away gown was a handsome creation of wine-colored broadcloth with hat of wine color and plumes to match.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree entertained members of the bridal party at dinner and a pretty feature of the evening was the presentation of gifts from bride and groom. The bride gave the girl attendants dainty silver card cases lined with gold and to the flower girl a ring set with pearls, while her gift to the ring-bearer was a small diamond ring, while the groom-to-be presented his attendants with stick pins set with whole pearls.

Dr. and Mrs. E. Ellsworth Bartram, whose marriage was celebrated before a large company of friends at Christ Church last evening.

Elaborate Affair.

A large company of society folk witnessed the beautiful nuptial ceremony last evening which took place at Christ's Church, Miss Georgia Suber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Suber, becoming the bride of Dr. E. Ellsworth Bartram, with Rev. Baker P. Lee officiating. The church was converted into a bower of loveliness with greenery and pink flowers under the direction of Miss Waite. In the arches of the grill snowy doves were suspended holding in their beaks streamers of pink tulle forming a filmy canopy of roseate hue from which hung a great bell of pink flowers in which a shining light of pink glowed. Over the rood screen smilax was garlanded in great loops and at the base masses of woodwardia ferns were banked.

Over the central bar hung a great basket of sprengeri and floral bells of pink carnations added much to the gloriously dainty effect. Starred over the greenery were pink carnations and bows of pale pink tulle added much to the loveliness of the effect. Pews were marked with tulle bows caught with garlands of smilax. Archibald Sessions had charge of the music for the ceremony which was particularly beautiful including the wedding marches and special music by Miss Maude Reese Davies and John Douglas Walker, who rendered sweet vocal music before the service.

The bride, a beautiful brunette, was lovely in an imported robe of pearl white chiffon cloth and Duchesse lace, made en traine.

She wore orange blossoms catching the filmy veil and carried a bouquet of brides roses with a shower of fragrant orange blossoms and lilies of the valley.

Her matron of honor was Mrs. Fred McHenry, sister of the bride, and was a fair picture attired in white Brussels net over white silk made in fluffy 1830 style, and carrying a cluster of pink bridesmaid roses with a shower of Cecil Bruner roses and cloudy pink tulle. Four college frinds of the bride also attended her, attired in fetching gowns of pink Brussels net over pink silk, and carrying pink bridesmaid roses. They included, Mrs. Claire W. Murphy, Mrs. C. W. West, and Misses Gertrude Crissey and Lillian McLaughlin. Four dear little children attired in pink net held the ribbons forming the aisle, making a pretty effect. They wore fluffy frocks of pink net and were Gladys Pollard, Josephine Lacey, Aileen Canfield and Mary Brodbeck. Master Howard Johnson was an imposing little ring-bearer clad in white and carying the rings on a satin pillow. George I. Kyte acted as best man and the following young men acted as ushers: Messrs. C. M. Gair, J. Kingsley Macomber, and Drs. Claire W. Murphy and F. F. Langdon.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a bridal supper was served at the home for relatives and members of the bridal party only, and here a particularly pretty scheme was carried out in the decoration. In the drawing-room and library red carnations were placed here and there against banks of greenery and asparagus ferns and smilax formed attractive canopies. The hall contained great masses of potted plants and ferns, and touches of red here and there in the shape of baskets filled with red carnations. In the dining-room the ceiling was covered with ferns and the bridal table was spread with a lace cloth, having as centerpiece a great cluster of pink Maman Couchet roses set on a mirror, while pink shaded candelabra cast a soft glow. Pink candles and ices added to the pretty effect. Clever conceits were the tiny brides, hand-painted and adorned with real tulle veils, which stood at each place. The other tables were adorned with baskets of roses and crystal candelabra and mantel and buffet were massed with ferns from which peeped forth dewy roses.

Dr. Bartram and his bride left last evening for a prolonged trip including the North and points of interest in the East, after which they will make their home in this city. The popular couple were the recipients of many handsome gifts as tokens from their many friends.

Randolph-Carruthers.

Miss Vida Randolph and Walter W. Carruthers were married at 8:30 o'clock last evening in the Grand View Presbyterian Church, Rev. A. G. Fessenden officiating. The pretty little church was a bower of green and white, chrysanthemums and ferns being gracefully arranged throughout. In all the arches about the altar, great fancy baskets filled with glorious white chrysanthemums swung, and ferns were banked about the altar rail, while airy lover's knots of tulle carried out the dainty effect. Pews for the family were marked with tulle bows and soft ferns. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white embroidered net over liberty satin made en traine, and the misty veil fell over her face, caught with orange blooms. Her bouquet was a shower cluster of white carnations. Byron Randolph, brother of the pretty young bride, gave her away, and Mrs. Henrietta Martin acted as matron of honor and wore a dainty gown of chiffon viole over white silk, and carried a cluster of chrysanthemums, and the maids of honor carried white carnations. They included Misses Beth Coulter and Beatrice Duff, and were gowned in white chiffon over silk, made with short, puffy sleeves and trimmed with ruffles edged with fine lace. Little Ethel Barnhart was a pretty flower girl, attired in white and carrying a basket filled with flower petals, which she strewed before the couple. Edwin De Long was a dear little ring-bearer, and Fred Carruthers, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Messrs. Warren J. Miller and Sydney Rousenfeld had charge of seating the guests, who were present to the number of about two hundred. Music for the ceremony was under the direction of Mrs. Molire, and Miss Jennie Winston's sweet contralto was heard in a number of selections, including "Call Me Thine Own."

After the wedding a reception was held at the future home of the couple, No. 1228 West Twenty-fifth street, and here chrysanthemums and greenery were also effectively utilized in the decorative scheme, great baskets being placed here and there and tied with fetching bows of white satin ribbons. After a wedding trip to Portland and San Francisco, the young couple will at home to their friends here. The bride's going-away gown was of maroon-colored broadcloth, with hat of panne velvet and feathers to match.

Wed at Home.

Yesterday at high noon a pretty little wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Marcy of No. 1604 Orange street, with Rev. J. J. Wilkins officiating, Mrs. Alice G. Calkins of Chicago becoming the bride of John Snyder of Lamanda Park. As the couple have only been here a short time and know but few people, the wedding was very quiet. The room in which the service took place was prettily decorated with smilax and pink roses, and they stood before a mantel banked with ferns and fair roses. All through the house the same color scheme was carried out. The dining-room contained red carnations and ferns, and Christopher served the wedding luncheon. The bride wore a dainty gown of French gray broadcloth, with point lace bertha, and carried a cluster of pink carnations. Mrs. Marcy, who stood with her, was attired in champagne-colored silk and lace. Just before the ceremony, Dr. Henshell, accompanied by Mrs. George Carter on the piano, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Rosary." After the service Mr. and Mrs. Snyder left for Lamanda Park, where they will make their future home.

Musicale for Mother.

Mrs. Lucille Wyatt entertained a party of friends at a charming musicale at the house of her uncle, J. L. Field, No. 2690 North Griffin avenue, Monday evening, October 23, in honor of her mother, Mrs. P. J. Fiebach of Oberlin, O., who is visiting relatives in the city. The house was beautifully decorated with smilax and chrysanthemums, shaded from deep to palest yellow.

Following the opening overture by Mrs. Wyatt and Mr. Davis, a delightful song programme was rendered by Mrs. R. C. Roseberry, Bert Pierce, Homer Kennedy and Mr. Trevor, the tenor soloist for the Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church, interspersed with readings by Miss Jessie Sheppard and Mrs. G. H. Thayer.

Fruit punch was served during the evening, and dainty refreshments at the close of the programme. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Roseberry, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Jacobus, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Thayer; the Misses Riggins, Wadsworth, Sheppard, Barton and Hatton and the Messrs. Kennedy, Pierce, Trevor, Davis and Barton.

THE sale started yesterday morning and all through the day the store was filled with buyers, eager to take advantage of the wonderfully low prices and it's safe to say that not one went away disappointed.

We are more than pleased with the opening of the sale and great inroads were made on the stock. If the present impetus continues every cent's worth of goods will be closed out before Nov. 8th, the time we have agreed to vacate the store.

Beginning today the DOORS WILL BE OPEN FROM 9 TO 12 IN THE MORNING AND 1 TO 5 IN THE AFTERNOON.

We are compelled to adopt this plan to enable salespeople to prepare stock and rearrange the goods.

Don't think that just the items we describe here are for sale—This is not half nor quarter of the bargains. Come to this sale today. You'll find something you want and at a price far below what you would reasonably expect to pay.

Prices will be hammered relentlessly until every piece of goods is sold.

BRENT'S

Free Souvenirs? Why, of Course

And Better Things than That at the Opening

Naturally there is something to inspire interest when the biggest stores of a city make way for a NEW store, biggest of all.

There's also a feeling of fellowship existing between Brent's and the public that makes the opening of this new store an event of mutual satisfaction.

Every housekeeper who has ever purchased an article from Brent's has helped us defeat the Trust and equip this mammoth new store.

The opening will be a gala event—things to see, things to carry away free, and things to buy at bargain prices.

Think of the joy in walking through a vast store where the light glitters from splendid furniture of the newest style and in all the expanse of stock not one old thing, not one price that isn't lower than Trust stores ask.

Here are things, oceans of things, that were never before brought to Los Angeles.

And of course everybody will be welcome to look, and not until you signify the desire will a salesman bother you with his attentions.

Brent's will be your store as much as anyone's.

We take no special credit in having the latest fixtures, the best facilities, the most artistic arrangement of stock.

It's our business to study out these things and the public has a right to expect the best of such things that ready cash can buy.

There's one great, central point, however, that we emphasize; one principle that will direct the movement of this store, one truth that must be imprinted on every brain in Southern California, and that is:

Brent's prices shall be perpetually lower than the Trust.

We've taken this store for the definite purpose of waging a fierce, relentless warfare against the Trust, without truce or breathing place.

We shall expose the silly attempts of Trust stores to deny their association with the Trust. We shall prove so conclusively that the Trust exists for the purpose of getting bigger profits that no individual in the community will doubt it.

We recognize that the Trust is financially weak and that it has come to a point where big profits are more necessary than ever. However, we shall press the battle more hotly than ever until this combination is dissolved and the stores forming it become once more independent concerns.

If you have any doubts concerning the absurd profits demanded by Trust stores, get their prices and compare them with Brent's.

We haven't told a hundredth part as yet—watch tomorrow's papers.

And wait for the "opening."

Meanwhile, the goods in our old store are being fairly tossed away. Some lines are badly broken. Some things are missing altogether. But it's a chance one seldom has, and you'd better look at the stock and see what fits your needs.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER
Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash, and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 57 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut-ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." For sale by all druggists and Fancy-Goods Dealers in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Second Anniversary Sale

Mackie-Fredericks Co.
FURNITURE
1903
DRAPERIES
MACKIE-FREDERICKS CO.

Each day adds interest to our great Anniversary Sale. Each day hundreds of customers visit our store to take advantage of the sweeping reductions we are now making. Remember every article in our entire establishment has been reduced and many pieces are now priced at a mere fraction of their real worth.

We intend to make this the greatest furniture sale ever conducted in Southern California. How well we are doing our part can best be judged after you have considered carefully a few of the prices we quote. We illustrate as many items as space will permit and thousands of others equally as important must go unmentioned.

As we have so often been referred to as a Furniture Trust, we feel that a word of correction here is not out of place. There is not and never has been a furniture trust in Los Angeles. A trust is formed to control all of the trade. We would like to be a trust in that way, but a trust here is absolutely impossible. Do not miss this great furniture buying opportunity.

COOKS' DISPLAY.

Annual Exhibit and Ball of the Southern California Association Attracts Large Crowd.

The cooks had their innings last night. The affair was "well done," and it was "rare," as well, as it was the annual exhibit and ball of the Southern California Cooks' Association.

The exhibit made a very attractive spread in one of the banquet rooms at Turner Hall. Two long tables were loaded with the choicest viands, ready for the hungry dancers, and the third table, which occupied the center of the hall, held marvelous exhibits of the cook's art.

There were great fishes, baked and dressed with garlands and daintily colored sauces; salads, which would make one's mouth water, cakes and confections in combinations unique and appetite-tempting, and novelties which were of great interest to the cooks in attendance.

A ball was given in the main hall, which was handsomely decorated. This was attended by 125 couples. The judges of exhibits were Messrs. William Engel of the Westminster Hotel, Fitch of the Lawrence restaurant, Taskey of the Hotel Hollenbeck, Louis of the Angelus, McGettrick of Martin's restaurant; Matterne of the Jonathan Club and Koster of Del Monte Tavern.

From the Hollenbeck Café, Knewt Thorsen brought a large centerpiece —a fish surrounded with dainty figures in colored jellies; a boar's head, dressed with delicate greenery and hard sauces was the work of Daniel Tachet of the California Club; from Thomas Magliano of the Jonathan Club came a pyramid of lobsters; this was also the design sent by William Speicher of Martin's restaurant; a mammoth frog, illuminated with electric lights and facing what was termed a "frog's paradise," a mirror pool, surrounded by crisp, brown frogs' legs, came from Albert Acosta of Del Monte Tavern; John Stein of the Westminster Hotel had a beautiful salad and turkey display, and William Fieck of the Lankershim showed his architectural ability in an elaborate cake log cabin. Clark Kress of the Superior took a plebeian ham and dressed it up fit for a king's table; and the Café Bristol had a large salmon and jelly. Joseph Pensa of Christopher Bros. made an elegant fruit display; Fred Jones of the Santa Monica Pavilion had an immense pyramidal cake, and Frank Lehn showed a stuffed tuna, surrounded by salads.

This is the fourth annual exhibit of the cooks' products, and it was visited last night by several hundred people. It is said that never before in Southern California has there been such a tempting and unique display of viands as was shown at Turner Hall.

AH, AH, AH, LEE!

Ah Sing, Ah Wong, Lee See and Ah Sem were arrested at 11:30 last night by Patrolman Willetts at No. 328 Apablasa street for running a fan tan game. At the station each of the Chinese furnished $50 cash bail. They will be arraigned in Police Court this morning.

WANT TO FIND RILEY.

Acting Chief of Police Auble yesterday received a telegram from Kansas City, asking him to attempt to find G. B. Riley, who must have just arived here, and tell him that Guy Riley is at the point of death at St. Joseph's Hospital, in that city, and wants him to come.

It isn't the name that makes the Cubanola a good cigar—it's the genuine Cuban-grown tobacco in the filler and the scientific way it's blended, the select Sumatra wrapper, and the perfect workmanship.

CUBANOLA
CIGAR—5c.

It would have to be 10c. instead of 5c., if the same grade of Havana and Sumatra leaf were bought from tobacco brokers in the usual way. All the leaf is grown especially for the Cubanola Cigar under the American Cigar Company's control. Every operation that tobacco undergoes in the American Cigar Company's new two-year maturing process is planned with one definite object. That object is to bring this special tobacco to the Cubanola factories in perfect condition and to make Cubanola Cigars of absolute uniformity.

Cubanola Cigars are delivered to the dealer in perfect condition, direct from the humidors,—every box separately cased in a dust-tight, weather-proof, paraffine wrapper. The Triangle A on the Cubanola box stands for perfect cigars. It is a merit-mark that means science, system and cleanliness in every process, and better cigars for less money.

Letter Number Two

In Which the Brother Touches on the Hysterical Adulation of Public Idols by Women

My Dear Kittens: You will be interested, I think, if not altogether pleased, at an experience I had, apropos of your last letter.

You told me in that letter about the "time of your lives" that you girls had at Music Hall the other afternoon at a recital given by ——; how his playing simply "carried you off your feet"; how it "enthralled" you and made you all feel that this pianist was "simply divine." All the girls had "creeps down their spines"; they were "hot and cold all over," etc. In short, you had one of those hysterical flings that seem to appeal to girls and women at these recitals.

You must read the brother's letter in full, in the

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Bogus Five-Dollar Bills.

A good many bogus $5 bills raised from $2 are in circulation here. They are very clever counterfeits and must be narrowly inspected to be detected.

More Members.

The directorate of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday elected to membership Edwin A. Meserve, C. M. Myers, Behannesey Oriental Co., Lucius K. Chase, and George A. Heath.

Run Down by Butcher.

W. F. Trible, a miner who has been a guest at the Hollenbeck Hotel, was yesterday run down by a meat-wagon driven by T. Thomas. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital for sundry cuts, scratches and bruises, but is not seriously injured. He exonerates the driver of the wagon.

"Dustless" Case.

The case of the Dustless Roads Company of Camden, N. J., against the city of Redlands was continued all day yesterday in the United States Circuit Court. Taking of testimony will probably require two days longer. The Redlands city government, as defendant, is backed by the league of municipalities of Southern California.

Father Has Disappeared.

E. C. Blocher notified the police yesterday that he had just come from the East in search of his father, whom he has not seen for a year or more. He learned that the latter was at Dolgeville, but upon going there was told that his father, E. F. Blocher, had left there October 20 and has not been seen since. He is a dark complexioned man, fifty-one years of age.

A Death Trap.

There is going to be an awful "roar" about a five-foot cellar entrance that somebody has permitted to be cut in the sidewalk at the corner of Fifth and Broadway. There is a rail around the east end and along the side, but the west end stands open like a death-trap, and a lady came within an ace of walking right into it last night. There is no warning as one turns the corner from Broadway, and the danger is too great to be overlooked.

Tree-planting at Occidental.

In memory of Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth, now president of Bellevue College, Nebraska, but who for thirteen years was identified with Occidental College, the students planted a beautiful evergreen tree on the college campus. The ceremonies were carried out by the seniors in cap and gown, and were attended by the student body. Dr. William S. Young, representing the trustees of Occidental College, dedicated the ground with a short address, a poem by E. J. Cummings was read; Miss Grace Webster spoke in behalf of the young ladies, and Mr. Crabtree represented the boys of his class; J. P. Hagerman, president of the senior class, presented the tree to the Alumni Association, and Mr. Goodell responded for the alumni. A class song, dedicated to Dr. Wadsworth, and written by C. Wallace Petty, was sung.

Heir to Fortune.

Mrs. S. E. Dowdell, who lives at the Hotel Argyle in this city, is a widow who has for years been earning her living by means of her needle. A day or two ago she received a letter from her sister in Denver to the effect that she had fallen heir to an eighth share in a fortune of $25,000,000, left by a bachelor uncle, named L. Hilton, who died recently in Colorado. The sister added the injunction to Mrs. Dowdell that she must not get excited, just as if anybody could wake up from nothing to $3,000,000 and keep cool. No legal notice of any sort has come to Mrs. Dowdell, and it is to be hoped that the fortune is a sure enough fact. She has two sons, one in college, through the interest of relatives, and the other a newspaper man in North Dakota. A daughter, Lillian, is the wife of John Callender, who has been a fruit dealer in this city, but who now lives on a little ranch near Fresno.

BREVITIES.

Times' "Liner" Advertisers—Important change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, and thereafter, the rate for Sunday "Liners" will be 1½ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 80,000 copies. (When the 1-cent per-word rate was established in 1892, Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Evening Coats and Costumes
This famous department has never been so thoroughly equipped with such magnificent garments for evening wear. There is a charm about these garments that fascinates you—and there is such diversity of styles, you scarcely see two alike. Values are better and prices lower than we ever offered you for such artistic creations.

Evening Coats From $26.50 to $
Broadcloth is the popular fabric employed in making these coats. The stylish model is the 3-4 length, loose fitting Empire. Shown in modes, Alice blue, pearl gray, vieux rose, lavender, chalk white, greens and delicate blue.

Charming Evening Costumes $35.00 to $150.00
This exquisite collection of evening gowns are developed in crepe de chine, silk poplinettes and radium silks, in the most delicate shades. The skirts are the latest model, adapted for soft, clinging materials. The waists are elaborately trimmed with beautiful lace, in many unique ideas.

Imported Lace Coats From $40.00 to $275.00
Our showing of such a variety of these high novelties in evening wraps has established "The Ville" as leaders in style for discriminating dressers.

"VELL MAYBE DEY ELECT ME."
SAYS JOE MARGOLIS, THE BUTCHER.
WALTER HORGAN SEEKS REWARD FOR HAVING PREVENTED SPANKING.
TOM SAVAGE, THE BOSS OF THE BLOODY ATE.
AND BARNEY.
"EL HUTCH."
PUZZLE: FIND BEN GROVE.

Already training for the distant race from the Eighth Ward to the City Council—Some of these hear the bee wildly buzzing.

POLITICAL.

"BLOODY ATE" CHOPS WATER.

Many-cornered Campaign is Already on There.

Professionals Get Started in Funniest Race.

"El Hutch" Et Als. Would Go Into Council.

Chops are watering in the Bloody Ate; they are beginning to circle hungrily round and round Buttermilk Healey's job as Councilman; but Barney isn't worrying; his popularity is undiminished.

The campaign is already on.

In the Ate there is no monkey business about the dead "recall" or other foolishness; they are all professionals and they "get down to cases."

Candidates, hopeful round the eyes and gabby in the vicinity of the front portion of the face, are springing up on every hand as thick as nettles on a new front lawn.

The latest one to be heard from is Joe Margolis, a Yiddish butcher on East First street.

Joseph made a hit at the Barney Healy "recall" meeting in a speech that sounded like a Webber & Fields sketch and was decorated with knowing winks and leers and shrugs of the shoulders and a walk like Barney Bernard.

"Vell," says Joe yesterday, flourishing a shoulder of lamb, "maybe dey vill elect me, no? ches?

"All right. Pretty good. I don't say me sometinks much."

Joe gave a very sly look and grinned.

"Maybe 'El Hutch,' he talk too mooch with his mouth and dose odder fellers dey don' make er goot one campaigning.

"Maybe dey say 'Dese fellers is no goot; who ve vill elect?' Den I say 'vich is de metter wit Joe?'"

The man never lived who could really satisfy de Ate. The Ate doesn't want to be satisfied. The Ate wouldn't be satisfied if it were satisfied.

The thing is to catch it on the fly. One of the candidates has a new, an unanswerable claim on the affections of de Ate.

HE SAVED SPANKINGS.

He has saved its bad youngsters from being spanked in school.

This is Walter Horgan, a young lawyer who lives in the Eighth, and who used to be a member of the School Board.

Every morn while he was in office they didn't bring him violets, like the song, but he found some grouchy member of the Ate Ward "push" waiting at his chamber door with a face like a late spring.

"Say," the man would growl out of a remote corner of his face, "there's a school teacher down at the dopey house going to lick me kids this morning; me old women is sore. She says she'll git that henhouse club she trains wit, to put the kibosh and the grand resolute on you if you don't give th' main squeeze at the learnery some kind of a nix sign."

Brother Horgan learned to gather from this that some of the second generation of his constituency were about to be corrected.

"What did the children do to merit this threatened punishment," he asked, in his best collegiate voice.

"Do?" was the answering growl. "Do? Why you fresh mug, who do you suppose trun you the votes of my gang? I don't care a damn what they did."

And by the ethics of the ward, Brother Horgan would have to trot down to the superintendent and weep real tears to stay the iron hand of discipline.

Now he is coming forward to claim his reward in the name of the unlarruped pantaloons of the juvenile Ate.

PERENNIAL "EL HUTCH."

"El Hutch," a perennial candidate, is again in the limelight, or rather trying to keep dodging round the stage after its rays. But this time he is different; this is a different "Hutch."

He now exudes a sort of atmosphere of chaste elegance. He used to howl and whoop. Now he smiles down with a benign, superior smile and tells them the sad, sweet story of how he used to live in Virginia.

It has so impressed them in the labor unions that Tom Fennessy regards him with a scared eye and speaks in a hushed whisper of the grand gentleman who will next condescend to address the banquet.

But down in de Ate they are not so easily impressed by "El Hutch's" new manner of extreme elegance. The general opinion is that something may be the matter with his liver.

In some men they would regard it as a symptom he had taken to drink; but they know "Hutch" doesn't drink, because he wrote a letter to the papers during the anti-saloon campaign telling them temperance was hot stuff.

But they view "El Hutch" with uneasy suspicion on account of it. He doesn't say, yet, he is a candidate; but they know better.

BREAK WITH BOSS TOM.

"El Hutch" is said to have broken with the old faithful geyser, Tom Savage.

Tom now bosses his precinct at long range, living in Santa Monica on the fruits of a dive here, the receipts of which are said to be $1000 a month.

This signifies that he has his precinct trained to the point where it will stand without a weight.

Tom runs the Ate on the Tammany plan. When he was Councilman he was forever inventing the grand jobs for some old duffer who had broken his leg and who never could remember the name of the job he got, but who has sworn by this bright, quick-witted little Irishman ever since.

He has won more votes by sending a four-wheeled carriage for old muckers who drive wheelbarrows on ordinary occasions, than other men do by storming and howling and argifying.

Tom has quit the saloon business, because his partner, Nick Oswald, decided he was too much of a luxury to have around, and thought he could stand off the police, anyhow. Nick is a cautious Dutchman. He might mingle in politics himself if it didn't cost so much money, but his nerves can't stand it as it is.

GROVES "QUEERED."

Ben Groves,' who for some years has been running and never gets anything but out of breath, has "queered" himself by being a bad loser which, in the eyes of the Ate, is worse than burning your grandmother to death.

Ben summoned his wife and children to see him nominated by the last convention; and then Tom Savage was nominated. Groves, when the votes were counted, leaped up and made a speech roasting his victor and avowing his intention of running independent, which he did, and neither he nor Savage got there, Barney Healy being elected.

Benjamin, during that fight, fed alcoholic stimulants to the voters of his genial acquaintance; then, to the horror of de Ate, became ward manager for the anti-saloon campaign. The saloon people are all "het up" waiting for a chance to "show Ben Groves."

At the Barney Healy "recall" meeting, where the "recall" died abornin', Ben made a naive and innocent speech. He said the "recall" is a great business. "If you don't want to retain Councilman Healy as your representative," he said, "you can elect—er—someone else in his place."

Riddle—who is "someone else?"

Bernard Healy will probably be a candidate to succeed himself.

LITTLE GOD "MAKES GOOD."

Chinese Who Stole Mascot at Feast of the Dead Makes Big Lottery Catch.

The Little White God, who was stolen from the Feast of the Dead in Chinatown, has "made good" as a mascot.

In the foolish heathen superstition he is supposed to bring good luck to the man who steals him; of course there's nothing in it; couldn't possibly happen.

Yesterday, however, the man who stole the Little White God cashed a lottery ticket for $1000 in one of the Chink lottery games.

Three years ago the same little Chink stole the same Little White God, or the prototype of his Godship; that time he won hundreds of dollars in the lottery.

The present event has given the blind staggers to the lottery dealers of the Quarter. At the bare sight of this man who owns the Little White God, they are panic-stricken; close the game and postpone the drawing.

They are willing to take any reasonable chances, but when it comes to going against the gods of Chink heaven, that is too much.

Little White God him too much heap sabe.

What's to be done about it, they don't know. The worst is that it is recognized, under the rules of the hoodoo, useless to attempt to steal the Little White God back again; it is his'n for life now.

Although the owner of the Little God is naturally the object of some envious malice, at the same time it might have been worse. Suppose, for instance, that one of the lottery companies had made away with his Godliness! What chance would a poor Chink have to spot tickets against such a combination?

RECEPTION TONIGHT.

A reception to the National W.C.T.U. under the auspices of the State Executive Board and the City Federation, will take place this evening at the Temperance Temple, when the following programme will be given: Music, Woman's Orchestra; prayer, Mrs. C. H. Fitzgerald; music, duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd" (Smart,) Mrs. Emily P. Boller and Miss Mabel Whitce; greeting, Mrs. Emma Cash, State president; greeting, Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, president City Federation; music, duet, "Greeting" (Franz Abt,) Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Wheat; responses, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, national president; Miss Anna M. Gordon, national vice-president; music, quartette, "Love's Old Sweet Song" (Parks,) Prior Brothers; social, with refreshments.

FINE HOSPITAL OPEN IN WEEK.

Most Complete of Railroad Homes for Sick.

Commands Fine View from Boyle Heights.

With the opening next Wednesday of the handsome hospital in this city of the Santa Fé Coast lines there will come into active use what is declared to be the finest institution in the entire Southwest for the care of the sick and injured.

The beautiful mission style building crowns an elevation at the intersection of East Sixth and St. Louis streets, one of the most commanding in the city, and the imposing structure adds another sightly attraction to Boyle Heights. It overlooks Hollenbeck Park.

The building is three stories in height, and is ornamented with a belfry. The entrance is on St. Louis street, and the grounds are being arranged in terraces to be ornamented with lawns and shrubbery.

There is a commodious basement which contains a ward, nurses' rooms, lavatory and other conveniences. Everything is scrupulously clean, and the ventilating arrangements approach perfection. Through the use of electric fans in the basement, the air throughout the hospital can be changed within ten minutes.

Most convenient is the arrangement of the kitchen, on the first floor. The large range gives promise of many dainty dishes to be provided for the invalid trainmen. There is a bakery complete, and an icehouse with cooling closets. Two dining-rooms open from the kitchen, one for the hospital staff, and one for the help. Beyond these on the same floor are two larger dining-rooms for convalescent patients.

The officials explain the great care that has been taken to provide ample facilities for kitchen and dining-room, by saying that patients who are sent to the hospital will get well so rapidly that every facility will be needed to supply them with good food.

MODERN OPERATING ROOM.

Separated from the dining-rooms with a spacious hall is the operating room, arranged conveniently near the main entrance. The room is circular in form and is equipped with the latest appliances. Opening from the operating room is the dressing room, where soothing lotions and bandages will be applied. Beyond the dressing-room are a sterilizing room, a pathological room and an X-ray department. There is a dark room for optical work. A room near the main entrance is set apart for morgue purposes. An arcade intersected by hallways connects the various rooms and the two wards on the first floor.

The two wards on the first floor have exact counterparts just above them on the second floor. Each of the five wards of the hospital will be quipped with twelve single cots, and at the side of each of these beds will stand a glass-topped table and a chair. For each ward is provided a porcelain bath tub on rollers, for fever patients. The wards are decorated in light and restful colors, while the furniture is simple but sanitary. On the second floor, also, are a spacious reception hall and the offices of the physicians and surgeons.

The eleven rooms on the third floor are connected with an open corridor, and also on this floor is the diet kitchen, where will be prepared the food for the most delicate of the invalids. In the tower that caps the building is an observatory, from which magnificent views may be had of mountain, sea and valley.

SPIRAL FIRE ESCAPE.

Guarding well against danger from flames, the builders of the hospital have installed three spiral fire escapes. These are of steel and are so arranged that the most feeble patient may be placed in the chute at any floor and sent with safety to the ground. The building has been constructed in as nearly a fireproof manner as possible. It is steam heated throughout.

The hospital, which cost about $80,000, is declared to be the most perfect of its kind in Southern California. It is the finest and most capacious of those of the Santa Fé system, the parent institution at Topeka even taking second place, while the new hospital at Albuquerque, complete as it is, is much smaller than this one about to be occupied.

By virtue of his position, Dr. Morrison is surgeon in chief of the new hospital. His assistants are Drs. Horace Wing, A. Tyroler and McGee.

Miss Gertrude Montfort, a nurse of wide experience, will be superintendent of the hospital staff. She is a graduate of Bellevue Hospital, New York City, and already has had part in organizing four hospital staffs. Associated with her is Miss Olive Arnold, a graduate nurse of the Pasadena General Hospital, who will act as home matron.

Dr. Morrison states with pride that none but trained nurses will be employed at the hospital, the staff starting out with a roster of ten of the most skilfull of these gentle ministers to the sick. In addition to the staff of physicians and nurses, there will be a corps of trained cooks and waitresses, as well as the usual help employed around such an institution.

NEW DREAM OF SCHEMERS.

Want the City to Buy Site Near Central Park.

Fiesta Park Project as Dead as a Door Nail.

Owners Themselves Favor the Only Free Site.

"The Fiesta Park property absolutely is not for sale. I intend to hold the property intact. I have not the slightest desire to sell it, and have given no one any authority whatsoever to say that it could be secured for $200,000.

"More than a year ago I refused an offer of $275,000 for this property from persons wanting it for a hotel syndicate. I have held it for thirty years, and I have no other idea than to continue to hold it. I have in view a series of extensive improvements for the property. We have improved our other holdings in this city, and we plan to improve this tract with buildings which will be suitable to the neighborhood.

"Positively, I have never offered the property for sale, and I do not intend to do so. These men who are so eager to have this land taken for City Hall purposes have never approached either my husband or myself on the proposition. The idea would have been promptly rejected, if they had. We have no desire, whatever, to sell.

"I want to see the City Hall built on the free site offered to the city, and I think it will be a very foolish move if the offer is not definitely closed at once."

The above is a statement made by Mrs. N. J. Ponet, wife of Victor Ponet, the Belgian Vice-Consul. She has owned the Fiesta Park property since Los Angeles was a small town, and she declares that she has a personal pride in keeping the body of land intact and in her own name.

She purchased the land from the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank. At that time it was an unsettled district, and she donated the land for the opening of Grand avenue, Twelfth street and Hope street past this property, besides paying for the improvement of the streets.

Victor Ponet also expressed himself, yesterday, in no uncertain terms regarding the proposition to secure the land for a City Hall site. "We have never offered the land for sale, nor have we considered an offer except to turn it down. We have no intention of selling it. The property has stood in my wife's name all these years, and her desires certainly shall control the plans for the property. She promptly discarded the offer of $275,000 made for the land.

"These schemers who have arbitrarily placed a valuation of $200,000 on her property have never come to us to discuss the matter. It is true that Mr. Spiers came to me yesterday, and tried in a roundabout way to bring the subject up, by pretending that he wanted to purchase other property. I saw what he was driving at, and came out squarely and told him the Fiesta Park land was not for sale."

But, even though the owners of the old ball grounds were willing to take the price which the free-site obstructionists have placed on the land, the scheme would still be a fiasco. It has fallen with a sickening thud; and the idea of the city voting bonds to acquire the property, when there is a free site of equal value only awaiting acceptance, has struck the voters and taxpayers as an absurdity.

ANOTHER WILD SCHEME.

And now it's off with the old love, and on with the new. Scarcely have these wild promoters realized the absurdity and hopelessness of their Fiesta Park scheme than a new plan is broached.

It is the same old story—the people are to pay the bill. This stumbling block of a free site is not met squarely, but fanciful plots are concocted with the hope of getting the voters to saddle themselves with a bond issue so that private interests may profit thereby.

The very latest plan—which The Times, as usual, publishes while it is news—is to secure the entire west side of Olive street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, and fronting on Central Park; to use the southwest corner of Fifth and Olive streets for a public library site, with a frontage of about 100 feet on the park, and to use the balance of the frontage, clear down to Sixth street, for a City Hall.

This is a great scheme on paper. For it is already on paper—probably as far as it will ever get. These projectors have secured the services of a well-known architect to picture out its greatness, and he has prepared a magnificent vista, showing the great Temple Auditorium in the background, flanked by the handsome California

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

A compromise lease was yesterday afternoon signed by the city and the Los Angeles Railway Company giving to the company the right to operate street cars on South Park avenue for two years at a nominal rental of $10 a month.

The Library Board last night asked the Council to advertise for temporary quarters for the library outside the municipal building.

The District Court of Appeals now makes it possible for litigants to have their cases decided before they die of old age.

The last will of S. H. Lucas, admitted to probate yesterday, is one of the most extraordinary ever filed in this county. It will have to be interrupted in a larger sense than the testator intended.

The racing trial in Judge Bordwell's court is exposing rottenness of the track, and shows the reason why it is that the multitude has no chance to make a winning.

In the Police Court yesterday Fay Jones, a negro, was held to stand trial for highway robbery committed nearly two years ago.

Private detectives filed suit to recover from the Los Angeles Examiner a bill for services upon which payment was refused.

AT THE CITY HALL.

SOUTH PARK STRIFE ENDED.

RAILWAY LEASES TRACK AND CARS ARE RUNNING.

Contract Formally Approved at a Special Session of the Council. Recommended by City Attorney. Hard Lines for Spook Howten and the Agitators.

Street-car service has been reëstablished on South Park avenue.

Late yesterday afternoon the Council at a special session executed a lease of the city's rights on the street to the Los Angeles Railway Company for a period of two years at the nominal rental of $10 per month.

This lease, which was recommended to the Council by Assistant City Attorney Goudge, is so hedged about by "whereases" and "wherefores" that, in the opinion of the attorneys on both sides it can have no prejudicial effect on the franchise litigation now pending in the Supreme Court.

Will A. Harris.

Only a few Vernonites responded to the hurry-up call for a Council session. Most of them had heard the cry of compromise too often and not more than half a dozen were in at the finish.

The rout of the Sixth-ward agitators who have been crying for the recall of the Mayor, because he obeyed the instructions of the former Council, is complete.

Last night repair crews of the Los Angeles Railway Company were busy replacing the rails torn up last week by the Street Superintendent. The cordon of police which has been on guard for ten days was withdrawn early in the evening at the direction of Mayor McAleer.

Herbert J. Goudge.

To Attorney Will A. Harris, who has been working overtime during the last week in the interests of the property owners on South Park avenue, is due much of the credit that attaches to the successful conclusion of the at times decidedly squally controversy which followed the tearing up of the tracks on the street and the consequent suspension of electric car service.

Assistant City Attorney Goudge, who has conducted the negotiations in behalf of the city, also came in for a full share of congratulations.

Both the city's legal department and the property owners are warm in their commendation of the willingness of the railway company to consent to any compromise measure within the bounds of reason in order that the blockade on South Park avenue might be raised.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Harris and Mr. Goudge together drafted the main stipulations of the lease between the city and the railway company. It was a difficult legal task to perform; the city is maintaining in court that the railway company is a trespasser on the street, that it has no rights there; and the railway company is maintaining just as vigorously that it has bought a franchise and paid for it, and that the city is illegally restraining it from the operation of its cars.

Early yesterday morning Mr. Harris presented the compromise lease to the attorneys of the railway company and shortly after noon the welcome information was conveyed to the City Attorney's office by telephone that the terms of the lease were satisfactory to the railway.

City Clerk Lelande and Council Committee Clerk Goodwin sent out emergency calls for six Councilmen and shortly after 5 o'clock in the evening a quorum was announced.

"It gives me pleasure," said the Assistant City Attorney, in presenting the lease, "to report to you that a form of lease has been agreed upon between the City Attorney's office and the attorneys for the Los Angeles Railway Company which, if acceptable to the Council, will at once reëstablish street car service on South Park avenue."

"Good!" called the relieved legislators.

"Hooray!" shouted the electrified lobby.

Attorney Harris beamed. Standing at the western cusp of the Council crescent his attitude was that of "bless you, my children. Be happy."

Followed the reading of the lease, providing that, for the consideration of $10 a month to be paid monthly for the next two years, "it is hereby agreed by said city that the Los Angeles Railway Company may take and have possession of said street railroad tracks on San Pedro street south of Thirtieth street and on South Park avenue north of Slauson avenue, and make, maintain and operate its cars over said track during said period."

The stipulations which are expected to keep the lease from the serious consideration of the Supreme Court while listening to the franchise litigation are as follows:

> It is expressly understood and agreed by and between the city of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Railway Company that by entering into this agreement the said company does not recognize any title in said street railroad in the city of Los Angeles, but that said company claims a franchise for the operation and maintenance of a street railroad upon San Pedro street and South Park avenue between Thirtieth street and Slauson avenue and the right, by reason of such franchise, to operate and maintain a street railroad between said points upon said streets. And it is also understood and agreed that the city of Los Angeles does not admit the ownership or possession of any franchise or right of way by said company for a street railroad on said streets between said points or waive the right to claim and assert by suit that the street railroad upon said streets between said points was constructed without a franchise, and it is further understood and agreed that by reason of this agreement neither party waives or shall lose any right or rights it may have under the law or by virtue of any franchise heretofore granted, and both parties agree that the controversy appealed to the Supreme Court in the case of Los Angeles Railway Company vs. the City of Los Angeles, before mentioned, shall be passed upon and determined by that court without regard to this agreement.

The lease was ratified by a unanimous vote of the Council.

"The interests of both the city and the railway company are fully protected," said Attorney Harris after adjournment. "While considerable feeling has been manifested at times during the controversy that followed the interruption of car service, the final settlement is a fair and amicable one. Street car service is reëstablished and no one is a loser thereby.

"I have found the City Attorney's office at all times willing to consent to a compromise, provided they were certain that it would have no prejudicial affect on the litigation in the Supreme Court. And the officials of the railway company have been willing to do anything within reason to relieve the blockade on South Park avenue. It is a diplomatic victory that established good precedent for the settlement of possible future controversies."

The Vernonites said little but hiked back to South Park avenue to convey the welcome news that the street car blockade is broken.

Only Spook Howton and the agitators were disconsolate. Neither had been consulted in the final settlement of the controversy.

WOULD MOVE LIBRARY.

BOARD IS DISAPPOINTED.

Adopting a recommendation from Librarian Lummis, the Board of Library Directors last night sent a request to the Council that the City Clerk be instructed to advertise for temporary quarters for housing the library until such time as a library building shall be erected.

Mr. Lummis, in his monthly report to the board, said that the present quarters in the municipal building are inadequate for library purposes, and that for probably $500 a month the city should be able to secure rooms in some of the new buildings now in the process of construction.

In its communication to the Council the board will be careful to inform the legislators that the city has always furnished quarters for the library without cost to the library, and that the money for the proposed rental should come out of the general fund, not the library appropriation. It will also suggest that the two floors vacated by the library could be occupied by other departments and that the city can save the greater portion of the $500 a month now paid for rooms outside the municipal building.

All applicants for places in the library training class will be required in the future to undergo a physical examination by City Bacteriologist Leonard. These examinations will cost the applicants $2 each.

Director Wright last night suggested that the applicants should be permitted to present certificates from their family physicians in lieu of an examination by the City Bacteriologist.

To this Librarian Lummis objected. "I have always regarded a certificate from a family physician in the light of a letter of recommendation," he said; "they are generally to be had on application."

To this sentiment the other directors subscribed, with the result that only certificates from the bacteriologist will be accepted.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

CHOSE OCEAN AS HIS TOMB.

COL. LUCAS WANTED ASHES SET ADRIFT IN GLOBE.

Last Will of Veteran Army Officer, Probated Yesterday, Directed That Dust be Placed in Copper Sphere Which Was to be Carried Far to Sea and Floated.

That his body be cremated, the ashes placed in a copper globe and the sphere set adrift in mid ocean—this was the peculiar request of the late Col. S. H. Lucas, who died on June 10 last and whose olographic will was admitted to probate yesterday by Judge Conrey.

The request has not yet been carried out, and it may be that the wish so graphically and earnestly set forth will come to naught. The will was not found tuntil two months after the death of Col. Lucas.

Accidentally struck in the face by the elbow of a stranger, Col. Lucas suffered an attack of erysipelas, which, with other complications, accused his death. The will was offered for probate by the widow, Mrs. Clara Lucas. It is written on letter paper of the Cuyamaca Ranch and Mining Company, dated Los Angeles, February 2, 1893, and reads as follows:

"I leave and bequeath to my 'Little Sweetheart' wife, Clara E. Lucas, all property I may have at the time of my death and it is my wish that she be made administrator of the estate and shall not be required to give any bonds. I would further request that my body be cremated and the ashes be placed inside of a copper globe with my name and age engraved thereon and under this the following:

"'Rocked in the cradle of the deep, I lay me down in peace to sleep.'

and that this globe be given to the officers in charge of some United States man-of-war with the request that it be thrown overboard in the Pacific Ocean, midway between San Francisco and Honolulu.

[Signed] "S. H. LUCAS."

Apart from the latter curious provisions of the will the date caused a good deal of discussion, for it was testified to that in the year 1893 the Cuyamaca Ranch and Mining Company was not in existence, and that the deceased could not, and did not, indite the document in that year. From a variety of circumstances the court was satisfied that Col. Lucas had made a not altogether uncommon mistake and had put down 1893 when he really meant 1903.

Col. Lucas was highly regarded by his friends as a clever man and a most loyal and honorable friend. He had the inventive faculty, but never was able to protect his device, whatever it might be. He invented an agitator for use in concentrators and it was such a good thing that his patent was used and so twisted up that he received little benefit.

Several years ago he purchased the old Waterman claim at Cuyamaca, San Diego county, and the company was organized that has been working the property ever since. Col. Lucas left about 10,000 shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The deceased left two sons, Elton W. Lucas, a resident of Fresno, and Dewit B. Lucas, a resident of Philadelphia, by a first wife, and neither of these is mentioned in the will. Under the laws of this State the will must be so extended in scope as to embrace them in the distribution of the estate.

DEFRAUDING THE PUBLIC.

HOW RACES WERE "FIXED."

The series of four suits arising out of differences between "Diamond Joe" Costen and P. J. Gorman, the racing man, have occupied Judge Bordwell's attention for several days, and will keep him busy for a day or two longer. In the mass of details of the tangled finances of the two men, there has at intervals cropped out many damaging statements regarding the manner in which races are run at Ascot Park, and it has been made plan that the public very often is steered up against a "sure thing," merely to be parted from its money.

Judge Bordwell.

All of the present litigation arose out of the barring of "Diamond Joe" and Gorman from the Ascot track by Judge Hamilton, and that ruling carries with it exclusion from every other racing track. As Gorman testified in his testimony, the Colorado Club, consisting of himself, Costen and Evans, made a specialty of playing against the "dead uns," and it was while playing one of these specialties that "Diamond Joe" and Gorman were trapped.

Sinner Simon is said to be one of the best horses in the country today in a mile race, and at the last meeting was entered for a race here where a good deal of money was up. It was claimed that Lynch, the jockey, was bribed to pull the horse and get $100 for his trouble. Whether it was that Lynch was indignant at being offered only $100 when he knew perfectly well the game was being played, and that the "Colorado Club" would stand to win thousands, or that he was disgusted with the trickery, but he went to Judge Hamilton and told him that he had been approached. The judge told him to ride the horse the best he knew how and that he would be protected, and the jockey did. Meantime, a detective was dispatched to watch "Diamond Joe" in the betting ring, and after the race was over with Sinner Simon a winner, his racing sheets were taken into the possession of the judge. They showed the story of the supposedly "pulled" horse, and in the investigation which followed the "Colorado Club," which was composed of "Diamond Joe" and Gorman, was ruled off the track.

Other methods of beating the public out of its money were adverted to yesterday in the suit of Costen against Gorman and Isaac Bauer, to recover on several promissory notes. "Diamond Joe" denied every question that contained in any way an insinuation against him as a conservative business man. He said that he was in the diamond business, and attended all the race tracks in the country but never bet anything. He qualified that latter remark by saying that occasionally he might bet to the extent of $50 and, perhaps, on exceptional occasions, to the extent of $100, but that was all.

Costen said that he had seen Gorman with as much as $18,000 to $20,000 and in two days he would be broke. As for himself, he swore that he had never been interested in any racing book, nor had he ever "been on the block" at any race meeting.

Two minutes later "Diamond Joe" conceded that he had been the silent partner with Gerald Evans at the last meet when he and Gorman were ruled off the track. He said that Gorman owed more money than any three men he ever knew.

Questioned as to the shady practices common on the turf, "Diamond Joe" denied that he had ever been concerned in anything of the kind, and said that he had merely loaned Gorman money and that beyond that he was not in partnership with him.

"What," exclaimed Attorney Warner, in a raucous voice, "did you not go to the stables and offer $200 to give a horse the reverse?"

The eyes of "Diamond Joe" blinked as if he knew a thing or two but he denied the insinuation.

Some testimony was offered regarding $200 charged up against Gorman by "Diamond Joe," that had been given to a stable boy for "doping" Briarthorpe, one of the horses entered.

But Costen stated that he had a good business in selling diamonds, and didn't need to go into shady business.

SMELTER MUST CLOSE.

NUISANCE IN VERNON DISTRICT.

Judge Wilbur yesterday handed down an opinion in which he holds that the Raymond Stove Manufacturing Company, having premises near the race track, must close down its smelter unless it can be run without causing smoke to annoy the complainant in the action.

W. B. Akey applied to the court for an injunction to abate what had proven to be an insufferable nuisance, and the court holds that the company shall be enjoined from using a rumbler and the elevator while in their present location, and also from operating the smelter save under the condition named. An alternative is presented, however. If the company within sixty days elects to pay Akey $1000, judgment to that effect will be entered against the Raymond Stove Manufacturing Company and in favor of Akey in lieu of an abatement of the nuisance. Payment of that amount will wipe out all objections from Akey.

MRS. OVERTON'S WILL.

TWO CHILDREN GET ESTATE.

The will of the late Mrs. Jennie Overton was filed for probate yesterday by Eugene Overton, a son. The deceased died on October 19 last in this city, and left an olographic will which bears date six days before. The estate is valued at about $20,000, and is divided between the two children, Eugene Overton, aged 25, and Miss Gwendoline Overton, aged 31, the former being also appointed executor.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

M'GUIRE GOES UP. John McGuire pleaded guilty before Judge Smith yesterday to having stolen four pairs of shoes from Rappart Bros., their value being about $6. There was a prior conviction of petty larceny against the defendant, so the second offense became a felony. He was sentenced to one year at Folsom.

CRUELTY AND DESERTION. Agnes Walker was granted a divorce from Edward Walker by Judge Trask yesterday on the grounds of cruelty and desertion. The parties were married in November, 1900, at Kosse City, Tex., and in September, 1903, the husband deserted his wife.

TOOTH SEPARATED THEM. Lela Tait left her husband on account of a rebellious tooth. The girl wife was married to Lewis Tait two years ago, and the first Sunday after marriage he began to swear at her because his hat fell off. The crucial point was reached when the husband was dancing around the room with a bad case of toothache. He refused to allow anyone to minister to him but his wife. When she tried to apply a piece of cotton saturated with some medicine on the point of a pin, to the cavity in the aching tooth, something happened. The nerve was touched and Mr. Tait struck his wife in the face twice and continued his fandango around the room while he blasphemed. Judge Monroe granted her a divorce.

BIG CATTLE VENTURE. The Neji Cattle Ranch Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000, of which $515,000 has been subscribed. The directors are: H. C. Gottleibson, F. E. Peters, Van K. Drouillard, C. Elton and J. W. Craig, all of this city.

LAND COMPANY. The Fairlie Water Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, fully subscribed. The directors are: J. A. and E. H. Parker and M. Haig, all of Garvalia.

CRUELTY PROVED. Margaret H. Cameron was granted a divorce from W. D. Cameron by Judge Conrey on the ground of cruelty. The parties were married at Chicago in May, 1882.

DISTRICT COURT OF APPEALS.

CASES DECIDED BEFORE DEATH.

NEW COURT GIVES LITIGANTS CHANCE TO FINISH.

Clog of Business Relieved and Final Results Attainable Within Six Months Before the District Court of Appeals—Grievous Suffering Often Caused by Waiting.

It has now become possible to have a case decided finally in our courts without all the litigants dying of old age waiting.

After being clogged for years with cases groaning to be heard, the channels of justice in Southern California have at last been cleared by the strenuous efforts of the three Justices of the District Court of Appeals.

Justice Gray.

The session now in progress is cleaning up the last of the cases left as a legacy from the Supreme Court when the Court of Appeals was established.

With the exception of the few cases submitted yesterday and the day before, there is but one case heard and waiting decision.

After the cases to be heard today and tomorrow, there are but a few cases waiting for a hearing.

Three cases have been lately transferred to the Court of Appeals by the Supreme Court. One criminal case is also waiting for a hearing, having been appealed too late to get on the October calendar.

Several cases, appealed from the Superior Court since the installation of the Court of Appeals, have been filed, heard, submitted and decided.

Whereas it took two, three or even four years to have a case decided when appealed to the Supreme Court owing to the enormous mass of litigation brought before it, a case can now be appealed and decided within six months. Criminal cases sometimes even in less time.

The first civil action to be filed in the Court of Appeals and decided was the decision that San Diego's Mayor, Sehon, was legally in office.

The former delays in appeal often caused the most grevious suffering of business interests and, in criminal cases, meant the confinement of a man in jail for more than a year waiting for his appeal to be heard.

The members of the District Court of Appeals are: Wheaton A. Gray, presiding Justice; George A. Smith, Justice; M. T. Allen, Justice.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

JONES'S GUILT FINDS HIM OUT.

NEGRO ARRESTED AFTER MANY MONTHS FOR THEFT.

Jag Acquired on Proceeds of Robbing Man on Street Lands Him on Chain Gang Where He Escapes Detection by Keen Sleuths—Hearst is Sued by Detectives.

Fay Jones, colored, no doubt has had all kinds of luck in his time—most of it probably bad. Along about February 2, 1904, he had two good streaks, one streak that looked bad, but proved good, and lastly he struck a mighty bad one.

According to the evidence of Edward Olson, the complaining witness, before Justice Austin yesterday, he was met in the intense darkness at 2 o'clock in the morning of the date named by a miscreant who took advantage of his condition of being half-seas-over. Olson's watch was snatched from his vest pocket as he passed along under the trees on South Main street, between Eleventh and Twelfth. The watch and chain were worth about $60. That was luck for Jones.

The next day the robbery was reported to the police and the pawnshops were placed under surveillance, but Jones had the good luck to find a purchaser for the watch in the person of his friend, John Risher, and thus he was saved from the pawnshop.

He agreed to sell the watch to Risher for $10 and take his pay in dollar installments, but got $2 as a starter for the drunk that landed him in the tanks, on February 6, 1904. As he was an old acquaintance of the police, they had him sent up for vagrancy for forty days.

At first that looked bad to Mistah Jones, but it was really the best streak of luck that had yet come to him, for the town was being scoured for a hold-up man to meet the description given by Olson, and in his hiding on the chain gang Jones was absolutely free from molestation. In addition to this, he received during this time payments on the watch from Risher, which kept him in tobacco. What better luck for a vagrant contraband?

For nearly two years Jones slipped along after he got out of jail and he had possibly forgotten the little matter of how that watch got out of Olson's pocket into his own.

But of all the bad luck that might have happened to Jones, the very worst chunk dropped into his pathway and he went sprawling into the hands of the police.

Risher got hard up; it wasn't much for Risher, but it was a calamity for Jones.

In Risher's own language, he "soaked" the watch with "your uncle," and it was hardly warm in the case until Detectives McNamara and Jones spied it, and then it was up to Mistah Risher. The detectives were on him in a minute.

"What happened then?" he was asked on the witness stand yesterday.

"I told dem dey could hev de watch, but dey said: 'All right, we jist take you, too.'"

He could not protect Jones any longer, even though he may have thought he had stolen the watch, so he gave up the whole deal to the detectives and Jones was run in and railroaded to the County Jail to await trial in the Superior Court. Jones claimed he had owned the watch for ten years, but the date on the works show that it has been in existence little more than half that long.

DETECTIVES WANT PAY.

SAY HEARST WON'T DIG UP.

Edward Ingram, John J. Shields and D. J. Shields swore out a complaint yesterday in Justice Austin's court against W. R. Hearst, proprietor of the Los Angeles Examiner, alleging that on or about September 10 the plaintiffs entered into a contract with the defendant to perform certain detective services, on which contract there was due and unpaid the sum of $40, which had been repeatedly demanded, but payment refused.

The contract was that the defendant would pay $10 for each conviction secured against persons detected in stealing copies of the yellow journal from the doorsteps of subscribers. The detectives allege that they arrested and convicted in the Police Court the following four persons, caught in the act of stealing the papers: Harry Tull, Miguel Pearlis, Walter Moore and Dolph Rivera.

They complain that they have demanded the contract price of $10 each for these convictions, but have been unable to collect the money, for which they now ask judgment. The summons will be served on Hearst's representative today.

ADMIRAL HERE.

Distinguished Officer of British Navy Entertained—Is Visiting Pasadena.

Admiral Langley of the British navy is spending a few weeks in Pasadena. He was entertained at luncheon at the California Club in this city yesterday by Dr. J. H. McBride, who invited a few friends to meet the distinguished officer now off active duty for a short period. The admiral will go to Vermont to visit a brother after finishing his stay in Southern California.

For Value Received

When you pay $5 for a pair of shoes you don't pay the difference "for value received" but for four extra and unnecessary profits. Your extra dollars help to maintain the same old piece-meal system of middlemen that has doubled up prices ever since folks have been wearing shoes.

When you buy a Regal you pay a fair price for material and labor, but not one red cent in commissions and profits to tanner, leather merchant, jobber and retailer.

This direct Regal system of "tannery-to-consumer" means more than a saving in price. It makes us directly responsible to you. We make our claims pretty strong—and we make our shoes good enough to back them up. That is why we are so willing to guarantee the Regal Shoe to wear as long as any shoe made, regardless of name or price.

LOCALS HAVE SWATFEST.

Use up Two More of Russ Hall's Pitchers.

Nagle Holds Siwashes Safe in Every Inning.

Los Angeles, 6; Seattle, 2.

Russ Hall might as well can some of his boy wonders and engage the services of about ten more pitchers, for he will need them by the end of the week.

Ball players are good things and are very necessary in ball games, but when they have to run their legs off trying to keep the other team from scoring and then can't do it, the time has arrived to get acquainted with things. Hall used two pitchers in Tuesday's game and was badly beaten, and yesterday tried out two more and got almost the same thing. Shields and Vickers were the ones yesterday, and after the Looloos had become accustomed to Shields they hammered him around the lot for five runs and ten hits, and he was thrown out of the game for Rube Vickers, who was hit for five swats and one run. The Rube lasted out the game because we were too far ahead for the Siwashes to do anything but watch our smoke.

It was to the timbers for the ball when the locals got started, but it took them three innings to find out just whether Shields meant it or not, for none of us ever saw the first base in those three spasms. The fourth opened up beautifully, for Bernard started it with a pass, and then Flood bunted safely down toward third base. Smith flew to center and Brashear scored Berny and Flood with a drive to right field. Cravath sent Brash to third on a hit to right field, and when Cravath started to steal second base Bennett muffed the throw-down and Brash scored before Cravath could be run down at first base. The fifth brought us two more runs on Ross's single, Eager's double and Bernard's single, and the last one was made on singles by Brashear and Dillon and Cravath's fly to left.

The Siwashes scored after two were out in the third on Kane's hit by pitcher, his steal, Walters's smash to right and Cravath's overthrow to the plate to catch Kane. Their last run was due to Bennett's double, and outs by Kane and Walters.

The score shows four errors by the locals, but Cravath's overthrow was the only one that figured in a run. The fielding of Flood, Smith, Brashear and Hall was worthy of more than ordinary mention, for they snared some difficult chances.

There was one athletic ground and lofty tumbling feat that amused the crowd and figured in the run that the umpire Perrine gave the Siwashes. In the eighth Bennett was on third when Walters flew to right field and Cravath shot the ball in to Eager at the plate. It landed in his hands to the left of the base, and just as Eager turned Bennett collided with him and turned a somersault. Bennett landed beyond the base. Eager ran and touched Bennett, but Perrine called him safe. Bennett has not touched the plate yet, but will today when he comes to bat the first time, so the run will surely count.

The score:

PORTLAND POOR AT BAT.

HITS HITT FOR THREE SAFES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Portland put up a very poor game, today, in the field and at bat. Schlafly made half of the eight errors on his side. The best the team could do against Hitt was three safe shots. San Francisco was not much better with the stick, but did not need much batting when errors by the other team were plentiful. Score:

OCCIDENTAL TO THE FRONT.

WORKING HARD FOR TRACK AND FIELD HONORS.

Many New Athletic Adjuncts Just Put In—Large Squads of Huskies Getting Busy—Fine New Field to be Completed Before End of Week. Team Going North.

Commensurate with the growth of the city in other ways, college athletics in this end of the State promise to take on a greater boom than ever before, and with all the colleges showing an increased attendance, much attention will be given it the coming winter. U.S.C., St. Vincent, Pomona and Occidental, which make up the big four, are straining every effort to win honors on track and field this year, and if there is a young athlete yearning for fame it is his own fault if he doesn't get it, for there will be opportunities for him to show his best form

Just which college will carry off the palm is a hard thing to even guess at now, for the season is still young, but U.S.C. and Occidental seem to have the best foundations for future developments. Both of these colleges have added several new buildings to their equipment in the athletic line, and both show an increased enrollment as a result. U.S.C. started the work with a big football field, new bleachers and gym, and now Occidental comes to the front with new equipment just as desirable in every way.

As a matter of fact, Occidental, with her new buildings, is ambitious to show all the other colleges that she is the whole show, and the college spirit that is back of these ambitions will do much to bring some of the honors, if not the most of them, to Occidental. That college has always been noted for its track team, and proposes now to prove that it will be up with the leaders in baseball and football.

This week sees the completion of the new athletic a fine piece of level ground, 400 feet square, surrounded by a substantial fence. In the enclosure is a fine football and baseball field, a quarter-mile track and a 100-yard straightaway. A new gym has just been finished, with six shower baths, dressing-rooms and all the necessary apparatus for athletic work. In addition, six new tennis courts are being put in and it might be stated that all of these improvements are in addition to those made last year for the use of the girl students.

With all this "new business," the students and the coaches are very enthusiastic about their chances in the athletic line. There are thirty-five men on the football squad, and they are sent out for hard practice almost every evening. The enrollment of students this year is 310, and there is plenty of good material for several football teams. In the track line there are said to be no less than thirty-seven men now doing daily work on the track, and some of the youngsters are showing great ability in the different events, the pole vault, the runs and the weights getting particular attention. Hagerman is very enthusiastic about the chances of the boys, and promises to furnish a surprise to both U.S.C. and Pomona when they meet. There are but five of last year's football players back, but the new ones, which are said to be the pick of the various high schools, are being developed in a satisfactory manner. The beating given Co. F and St. Vincent shows very conclusively that Occidental is not to be sneezed at.

The 'varsity football schedule provides for a game with U.S.C. at Occidental on November 11 and Pomona and Occidental will meet at Pomona November 18. Another match will be played with High School on November 4, and it is possible that a game will be arranged with the Orange Athletic Club for next Saturday. It is the intention to play two games each week, if possible, during the remainder of the season.

When the Berkeley team was here last week arrangements were made to have the Occidental track team go north and be at Stanford one week and Berkeley one week next spring, and the local boys will take plenty of time to prepare for this trip.

O'BRIEN LOOKS UP TO "KAUF."

Jack Not as Tall as His California Opponent.

The Price is on the Latter, and Sports on Alert.

Portland Bats Three Safes. Oakland a Loser.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is great interest in the battle between Kaufmann and O'Brien which takes place Friday night. The betting, though still light, favors Kaufmann, about 10 to 9 being the price. Both men look in perfect trim. They have quit work, and will do little more than take light exercise until the fight. Although Kaufmann will probably outweigh O'Brien twenty-five pounds, his measurements are not as much larger than O'Brien's as one would suppose. This is the way the two men compare:

O'Brien—Age, 28 years; weight, 168 pounds; height, 5 ft. 10 1-2 in.; reach, 73 1-2 in.; biceps, 14 in.; forearm, 12 in.; chest (normal,) 39 ins.; chest (expanded,) 43 ins.; waist, 31 ins.; thigh, 22 ins.; calf, 16 ins.; neck, 16 ins.

Kaufmann—Age, 19 years; weight 190 pounds; height, 6 ft. 1 in.; reach, 75 ins.; biceps, 15 ins.; forearm, 12 3-4 ins.; chest (normal,) 39 3-4 ins.; chest (expanded,) 42 ins.; waist, 31 1-2 ins.; thigh 23 ins.; calf, 15 1-2 ins.; neck, 17 ins.

Here are a few opinions of the forthcoming fight:

Jack Cordell: It looks an even fight, but O'Brien's cleverness will be hard for Kaufmann to overcome.

Frankie Neil: I can't help but like Kaufmann's punch. He may win in a round, and then again, O'Brien may outpoint him.

Eddie Hanlon: I favor Kaufmann a little, but he has a tough job.

Harry Tenny: I think O'Brien is so clever he will win on points.

Aurelio Herrera: Give me the chap with a wallop. I think Kaufmann will win before the limit is reached.

Fred Landers: I would not attempt to name the winner. It is a very even match.

Willie Fitzgerald: Kaufmann is in great shape. O'Brien's cleverness may offset Al's hard blows. I like O'Brien.

Jimmy Gardner: It looks like O'Brien to me.

Joe Angeli: If Kaufmann can hit O'Brien he will win, but O'Brien is a hard one to hit.

DAVE BARRY EXPOSED.

HE'S NOW KICKING BALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a sensation in college circles, today, when it was learned that Barry, star fullback on the Northwestern University football team, was no other than Dave Barry, the former lightweight pugilist and one-time champion of Canada.

Barry has taken part in all the Northwestern games this season, and unless protested, will be in the line-up against the University of Chicago Saturday. In one of his ring battles Barry defeated Rufe Turner, the colored lightweight. Barry entered the Northwestern team last spring.

BOSTON'S BLUE RIBBONERS.

CRAVEN BUYS FOUR HORSES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today was a Jordan day at the horse show. In a number of classes notable for quality and performance, the Boston stables were easy winners, carrying off three firsts and three seconds, which brought the total of blue ribbons for the easterner up to nine.

During the afternoon, it was announced that John Craven of Pasadena had purchased Show Girl and Sporting Duchess and Prince and Princess Royal of James Murray of Toronto. The consideration was $8500.

PAIR OF "YOUNG 'UNS."

ERNE BESTS CORBETT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—"Young Erne" of this city had a trifle the better of "Young Corbett" tonight in their six-round fight at the Washington Sporting Club. His advantage was so slight that some of the spectators were inclined to call it a draw. Both men put up a fast fight. Corbett was the aggressor, but was not quite fast enough, as the local man usually landed first. In the opening round Corbett sent Erne to the floor, and after that the Philadelphian fought very cautiously. Erne landed the greater number of blows. He frequently jabbed Corbett and then went into a clinch before the latter could retaliate.

FOOTBALL.

BIG GAME SATURDAY.

The defeat of the Indians Saturday by Berkeley has detracted but little from the interest in the Stanford-Indian game at Fiesta Park on Saturday, and the indications are that there will be just as large a crowd at the game as the one that attended last Saturday's contest.

Coach Hempel of the Indians was naturally not pleased with the showing his team made, and promises there will be a vast change in the play next Saturday. He will shift some of his men and hopes to get better play out of them. Neafus will go into the game at his old place as quarterback. Magee will be shifted from fullback to Neafus's position at right half, and Galt will be put in at fullback.

Charles and Henry Coleman will be on the side lines, but Henry will go into the game if necessary. A number of the men are still suffering from the bruises received in last Saturday's game, but Hempel states that these minor wounds will not interfere with the play to a great extent.

BASKETBALL.

OCCIDENTAL SPORT.

Men's basketball has claimed so much attention for so many months in the Y.M.C.A. associations of Southern California that it is fitting the sport should be introduced in the colleges. With this end in view Occidental College has taken the initiative and in addition to the necessary courts has two full teams in practice at present.

GAS FOR FUEL.

Once use Gas for Fuel and you will not get along without it. That's because it's superior to any other fuel.

SCHEMER'S DREAM.

Club; while on the west stands a noble Grecian library structure, and a stunning five-story City Hall takes all the rest of the block. On the opposite corner is shown Judge Silent's eight-story block, and there are other six, eight and ten-story structures thrown in around the square wherever they would do the most good.

In order that the beauties of the buildings may be seen the more clearly, the architect has obligingly chopped down the beautiful trees of Central Park, and replaced them with flower beds and small shrubs.

And now the objectors to the city acquiring a free City Hall site in the same group with the Courthouse and the $1,000,000 Federal building, plan to spring this imposing picture and a proposition that the city be asked to vote bonds to secure the Olive-street lands.

This is supposed to be another one of Earl's plans to increase the valuations of his various properties in that neighborhood at the expense of the taxpayers of the city. To carry out the idea would cost the city more than half a million dollars.

If these people are really anxious to do something handsome, why don't they secure the site they have proposed for the public library, and offer it free to the city, even as the enterprising business men of the upper section have offered a free City Hall site? But that they can ever bring the city to seriously consider the purchase of such expensive lands when a free site simply awaits its taking, is too preposterous to believe.

HEARTS IN UNISON.

Mrs. Dolph Green Goes Back to the Husband, Who Sued His Mother-in-Law.

Hearts in the Dolph Green family once more palpitate in unison—with the exception of the mother-in-law; her's continues to beat out of tune.

Moved and melted by his desperation in bringing suit for $10,000 on account of having lost her wifely affections, Dolph's young wife has gone back to him again.

The damage suit against the young wife's mother will never be tried now.

At the time of the bringing of the damage suit, Dolph himself predicted this.

"It's this way," he said. "You see Helen; well, she's still stuck on me. I know she will come back inside of two weeks. I brought this suit on account of the old lady, her mother.

"She kept coming round the house there all the time and I got tired of it. I just thought I'd stir up a little something so she wouldn't be taking Helen away downtown and meeting other men."

OIL-IRON EXPERIMENTS.

Successful Outcome of Important Trials in Progress Here Would Make Great Industry.

Down at the Industrial Rolling Mills on Palmetto street a series of interesting experiments is being carried on under the direction of John A. Potter, many years foreman of the Carnegie Homestead Works.

These experiments are for the purpose of testing Southern California fuel oil for smelting iron ores. Within the ensuing week the experimental work will have been completed, and it is expected to be followed by extensive development of a new industry on this Coast.

John A. Potter is president and general manager of the new company, and it is said the Union Oil Company is a large shareholder.

Hitherto coast manufacturers have been compelled to import iron in all its forms from the East, and on that account have been handicapped in their efforts to compete with eastern and foreign manufacturers. It is the hope of the new company that by using fuel oil it will be enabled to put its productions on the market at a price which will enable local manufacturers not only to compete with eastern companies, but to reach out for a share of the oriental trade.

If the experiments turn out, as there is bright prospect of their doing, then the company will establish a plant at Port Harford, adequate to furnish half the total iron used on the Coast. It will have a capacity of 100 tons a day. No competition is looked for from the steel trust, as the trust itself has been a large buyer of pig iron. The new plant will be a large consumer of fuel oil.

Enormous Crowds on Broadway Below Fifth

Mammoth Shoe House, 519 South Broadway

To Day the Greatest of All.

The selling of the Waterman Shoe stock by the Mammoth has occasioned intense interest and immense crowds. Broadway, between Fifth and Sixth, has never witnessed such enthusiasm in a shoe event. Today and the balance of this week will be perhaps your last opportunity of buying Waterman's Shoes, and the prices are to be cut correspondingly low to accomplish the closing of every pair that is left. To indicate the phenomenal price-slashing let us mention a few of the scores of bargain prices. Women's Oxfords, Swellest sort of tans, new shapes. Pretty Linen Oxfords. Elegant Slippers, high or low heels, and there's a host of them, worth up to $3.50 at 98 cents.

The same 98-cent prices buys "Dolge" Mode Felt Juliets, selling up street at $1.50 to $2. Today the sale price is as we say, 98 cents. Look at our south window. See the Women's Elegant Shoes. Patent Leather, Vici Kid, a variety of late styles. High heels, low heels, military or Cuban heels. $3.50 to $5 kinds today $2.45, will fit you, and save you from one to three dollars. Have a look at our $1.49 lot of Women's Shoes, regular $2.50 and $3 sorts. All the new and natty shapes. Dull tops and other up-to-date styles.

Children's, Girls' and Boys' Shoes are in for their share. 25c, 50c, 98c, $1.45, and they show a sure saving of as much as a dollar and a half per pair. Men's lines are also on sale today. For instance, one lot contains Oxfords, Dancing Pumps, Home Slippers, worth up to $2.50; a few $3 kinds, without reserve at 98c, and this indicates the whole range of prices in Men's wear. Today should witness large crowds, so we would advise going early.

You have every advantage the best tailoring affords, when we make your clothes. Here is every satisfaction that quality, style and comfort can furnish—all at the fairest prices. Select your suit pattern from the best stock in the city.

Reo

ALWAYS TO BE RELIED UPON

Reo Motor Cars have many times demonstrated their superiority in all things that make for value received. The man who is forced to pay excessive repair bills does not receive full value for his money. The purchaser of the first Reo automobile sold in Los Angeles sends the following letter.

L. T. Shettler, LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21, 1905.
Western Sales Manager.

Dear Sir—Before buying my 16-h.p. Reo light touring car last May, I had already owned four automobiles, and naturally knew about what I was getting. I can conscientiously state that I have been agreeably surprised that my Reo car has given me so little trouble.

It has cost me less than $10 for repairs on same in the 4200 miles I have run it. With best wishes for your success, I am,

Yours truly, H. A. BINGHAM, 501 East Seventh St.

HAVE WE MADE GOOD?

Pen Points

Those insurance fellows were having such a good time of it that it seems almost a pity they were found out.

Perhaps the reason France got cold feet is that she heard the rumor that the Panama navy is in sympathy with Gen. Castro.

The way that train was running it was no easy matter to answer the question: "Alice where art thou?" She was no sooner in one place than she was in another.

And Gov. Jeff Davis also got his.

Men are dying all the time, but no men are being born. Still, there are babies—occasionally.

Although, happily, now for awhile we shall hear nothing of the warriors, yet our attention during the interim will be consumed by the statesmen. There's always something.

To the real lover of peace there is at least one consolation in the spectacle of the launching of a new battleship. In seven short years the beastly thing will be out of date.

All this talk about tariff reduction recalls the days when the late Prof. Wilson was running things in Congress, and your Uncle Grover was at the other end of the street in the White House signing the bills.

It is not related whether the President met the far-famed "Arkansaw traveler" when he was down there in the fever and ague country, but he sure met the Arkansaw people. We can prove it by Gov. Jeff Davis.

In some ways Mr. McCurdy is not to be blamed for not knowing much about the affairs of the Mutual Life, of which he is the President. It must keep a man pretty busy just drawing a salary of $150,000 a year without bothering himself over details.

If it be true that Tsi An's boy, the Emperor of China, had anything to do with that bomb business, we don't blame her for throwing him into the calaboose. A diet of bread and water, and a plank for a bed, will soon take the deviltment out of him.

When Admiral Togo makes his next report to the spirits he doubtless will not fail to mention that among the undeserved honors which have been heaped on his unworthy head was the honorable presence of William J. Bryan at the recent reception in Tokio.

France is calling on us, her ancient ally, to help her in her struggle against Venezuela. And that makes it bad again. On the one hand is an old friend, and on the other is our little sister of the South. Dang it, that's a bad fix for us to be in, now isn't it?

In their efforts to beg, borrow or steal cars enough to carry all the people who are clamoring to come to Southern California, this year, the transcontinental railroads have the consolation of knowing that few, if any of the journeyers will ever want to go back.

Los Angeles is "up against it" at last. The onslaught of tourists this year will exceed our housing capacity. But if they will only bring their blankets with them they can sleep in the open for awhile, and we'll soon stick up some new roofs. As far as feeding them is concerned we have no fears. Ventura county alone has a bean crop aggregating 600,000 sacks.

When "Mammy" Rogers, who died in Los Angeles at the age of 133 years, knocked at the Golden Gates, St. Peter said: "Welcome, Sister Rogers, and aren't you glad you're here?" Then the dear old Mammy said: "Oh, yes, St. Peter, I'se certainly glad to see you all, but that was a nice place down yonder, too, and I was powerful sorry to leave."

Mme. Emma Eames, sweet with her gracious womanhood, and opulent with the gifts of the gods, has come and gone. Yet, let us hope she goes but to return. While she was here she added radiance to a radiant land, and set to new harmonies our atmosphere of song. Queenly among singers, she leaves behind her the lingering memory of music's magic spell, and the fragrance of a divinely-favored personality.

The railroads of the country are able to show that they succeeded in killing 117 more passengers this year than last. Upon the strength of this the railroads will probably claim a vast superiority over automobiles, but we should remember that the railroad is a much older institution than the automobile. Besides, the buzz wagon is handicapped by the fact that it is compelled to chase its victims sometimes for miles before it can run them down, while all the railroad has to do is to bump two trains together or run into an open switch.

BUSINESS.

Foreign news and strength at domestic grain centers affected wheat at Chicago, firmness prevailing. The close was at 87¾. The final hour there was an abrupt fall of prices at New York in stocks. Minor securities were weak throughout the session. Heavy selling of Rock Island and the special weakness of the Metropolitan stocks caused the break. Money was relatively easy.

THE PACE THAT KILLS.

An article published in a recent issue of the Horseless Age contains some pointed arguments against automobile racing in general and on the public highways in particular. It cannot truthfully be denied that racing is dangerous, whether on the road or track; that it is dangerous, both for those who participate in it, and for those who happen to be near the course while it is in progress. "It is this phase of it," declares the Horseless Age, "that constitutes the stronger argument against it from the danger point of view. Hardly a race has been held upon the roads of this or any other country which has not been attended with death or serious injury, and the long list of casualties which occurred during the track-racing season just past is appalling." The majority of persons will agree that automobile racing, as it has heretofore been practiced, "is both suicidal and murderous—a spectacular and peculiarly offensive way in which to commit suicide, and a horrible way in which to take the lives of others."

The automobile, as such, is not in any way condemned. It is a vastly useful machine, which will never fall into disuse while civilization lasts, and which will probably be brought to greater perfection as time goes by. The great majority of those who own and operate automobiles are sane, sensible and discreet in their management of the machines. It is the few who have acquired the "speed microbe" who make all the trouble.

Because of the excesses of the unthinking and reckless few, the useful automobile has fallen into a certain disrepute in every country where it has come into use—and abuse. In some places they throw stones at it, in others they shoot at it, and in many ways the people express their disapproval of the reckless speed at which reckless chauffeurs send it along the public highways. The machine itself does not merit this disrepute; only the fast drivers, and they are the ones who must be reached and held in check before the popular prejudice that has sprung up can be obliterated.

When the motor car first came into use, a few years ago, it was supposed that it would be a potent factor in aiding the movement for good roads—a movement calculated to be of so much benefit to the country at large. The result has proved to be reverse of what was expected. Without a doubt, the automobile has checked the movement for good roads. The dangerous speed at which it has been driven over the public highways has caused rural communities to refrain from joining the movement for better roads, through fear that the improved roads would be used for speedways, to the detriment of other forms of traffic. The farmer naturally objects to assisting in the construction of a highway from the use of which he is to be in some degree excluded.

There should be no necessity for reminding anybody that the public highways are for the use of the public, and that everybody (including automobilists) is entitled to use them freely for purposes of legitimate traffic. Everybody who uses them has a right to such reasonable exemption from danger as is compatible with their legitimate use. It becomes an abuse of the public highways when vehicles of any kind are driven through them at a rate of speed which is a menace to life and limb. The highways can never be rightfully subjected to such an abuse of the privilege to use them properly.

These questions will all be "thrashed out" in course of time. The rights of automobilists in the public highways, and the rights of all others, will be fully defined, so that justice will be done to all. The automobile is in a transition stage, at the present time, but it will reach a permanent basis in the end. In the meantime, it is wrong to condemn that which is good in itself, because some thoughtless and reckless persons abuse its capabilities

THE PENALTY OF PROGRESS.

The report just made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission, giving the statistics of railroad accidents in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1905, is an appalling record:

"Total number of passengers killed in train accidents 350; passengers injured in train accidents 6498; total number of employés killed in train accidents was 798; injured, 7052. There were 187 passengers killed in other than train accidents and 3563 injured and 2464 employés killed in other than train accidents and 38,347 injured; a grand total of all classes of 537 passengers killed and 10,040 injured, and 3261 employés killed and 45,426 injured. There were 6244 collisions during the year, with a money loss of $4,849,054 and 5371 derailments, with a loss of $4,862,602, a total of 11,595 collisions and derailments, and a total money loss of $9,711,656."

Some of the facts are astounding. There were more than twice as many employés killed as passengers, and 17 per cent. more trainmen injured than passengers.

The explanation is that, while there are so many less trainmen than there are passengers who ride on trains, the former are on the trains half the time, while the public only travel occasionally for the most part. But that is not all, the passenger-miles traveled are many times greater than the employé-miles traveled. The trainmen are always in the way of accident and in the thick of the casualty. The passengers are in danger as a rule only when there is a train accident.

The extra exposure explains why the trainmen suffer death so much more frequently than the passengers. There were almost as many trainmen killed otherwise than in train wrecks as in wrecks.

The figures of train accidents are also enormously large. There were 6244 actual collisions and 5371 derailments, a total of 11,595 train accidents in which property worth almost $10,000,000 was destroyed.

What a loss of life and money!

Such figures naturally amaze railroad men, and indeed, the public abroad. They do not consider the great railroad mileage of the United States, the number of trains operated, trainmen employed and passengers carried, which greatly reduce the ratio against us as compared with other countries.

But when we have made all such reductions, and the showing is as little adverse as possible, there still remains a great destruction of life, or maining of those who survive, giving a ratio far above the record of any country in Europe.

This is by no means the fault of our railroad managers and operators. No doubt more precaution is taken to preserve life and limb in Europe than in America. But no care here could result in reducing our casualties to as low a ratio as there. In the first place we run our trains at a much higher speed, and that is not the fault of those who manage railroads, but of the public who demand rapid transit. Then in the great development of our vast territory railroads have had to be pushed into the wilderness, where double and quadruple tracks have been impossible for the reason that the traffic would not justify the expense. It is easy enough to operate trains over four-track systems, as compared with a single track for all trains running in all directions. Again, in Europe there is hardly a grade-crossing found. Trains run under or over roadways and streets. If there is a grade-crossing anywhere, even out in the country, there are gates on the road and a guard who closes the gates before the arrival of every train and prevents all attempts to cross until there is no danger of encountering a train.

Another thing—bridges and such structures on all European roads are much more substantial than in this country in far western and other sparsely populated parts of the country.

Perhaps the most practical point at which to attack the problem of redressing railroad accidents would be to provide against grade-crossings. It would not be a very costly undertaking, as things go in railroading, to put the roads under or over the public highways, and where this is not possible to set gates on the roads and station guards over them. Fast trains will still be run and they will be faster and still faster. Roadbeds will be better and better and so will train equipment. Double track systems will be extended more slowly, and four-track systems still more slowly. It will be many years before the attempt to run two trains in opposite directions upon the same track at the same time will be a thing of the past because trains going in opposite directions always go on separate tracks. It will be longer before a fast passenger train colliding with a slow freight is impossible because the freight goes on a track of its own. But grade-crossings could and should be sent into the "limbo of things lost on earth" as soon as possible.

REPUDIATING HEARST.

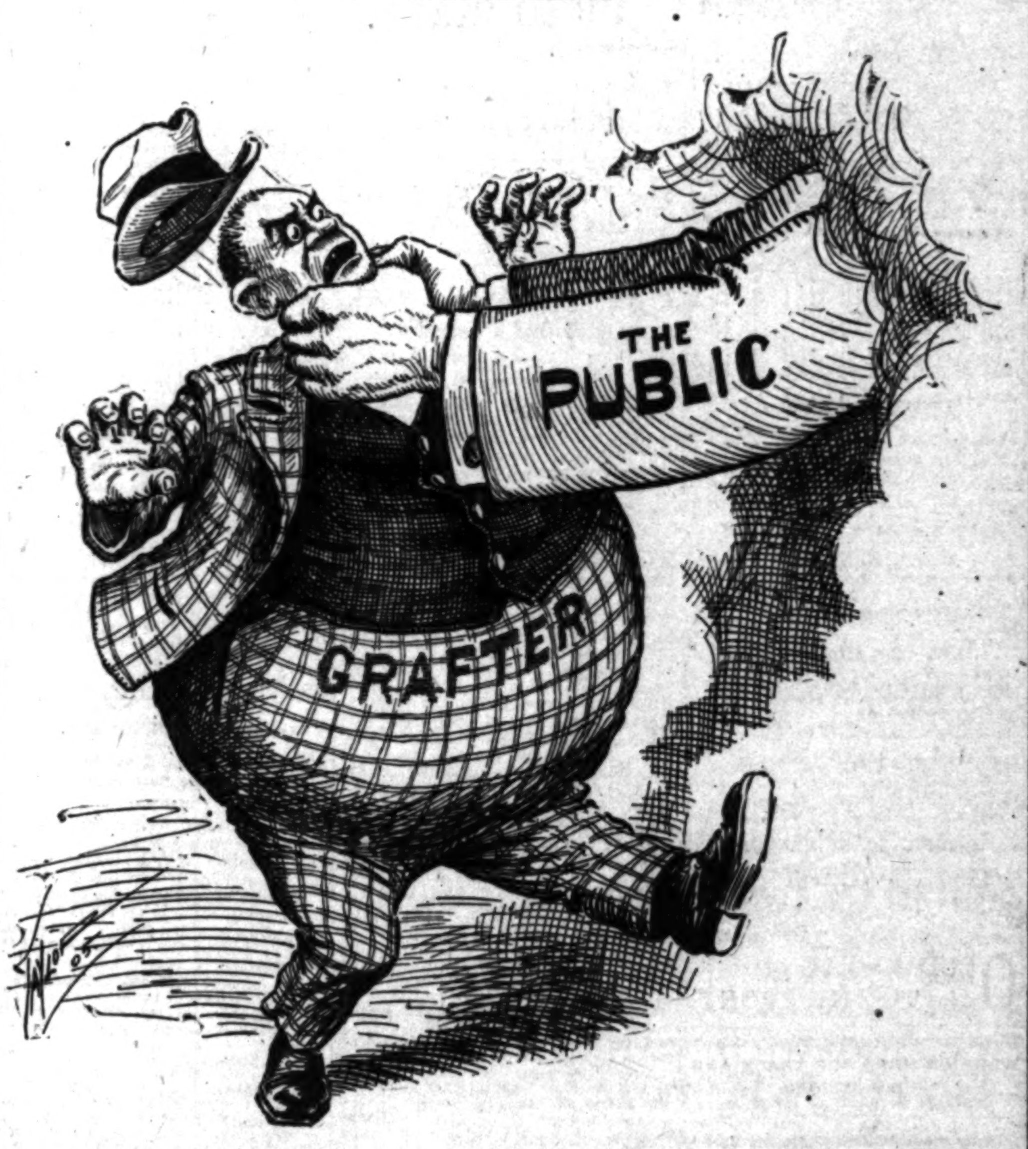
Bricklayers' Union No. 7, of New York, consisting of a thousand members, has adopted resolutions declaring that W. R. Hearst is trying his utmost to fool the workingmen of that city with the municipal ownership muddle, and pledging its members not to vote for Hearst for Mayor. This is but one instance, among many, in which the candidacy of Hearst for the mayoralty of New York, on the municipal ownership issue, has been repudiated by labor organizations.

It is rather hard on Mr. Hearst to be turned down so unceremoniously by the very class of men before whom he has been kow-towing, palavering salaaming and prostrating himself for lo! these many years; but such is the fate of the politician—and particularly of the pothouse politician and poltroon.

The foisting of Hearst into the office of Congressman from a district in the slums of New York was a great mistake, for he is not such a man as ought to sit in the halls of Congress to assist in making laws for a great nation. His attempt to buy the nomination for the Presidency of the United States was a piece of unspeakable impudence and audacity, of which only Hearst would have been guilty. His candidacy for the mayoralty of New York is equally a farce, for the man is not equipped, politically, mentally nor morally, to discharge the duties or carry the responsibilities of a position of so great importance.

There is not the least danger, however, that Hearst will be called upon to act as Mayor of New York. When even his own henchmen requdiate him, what hope can he have of receiving the help of outsiders?

AN AWAKENING.



"Sentiment against grafting is growing stronger and stronger."—[Newspaper paragraph.

CANAL IN TEN YEARS.

The President has already assured us, with considerable emphasis, that the Panama Canal will surely be built. This assurance is comforting, in view of the great amount of "knocking," past, present and prospective. But even more definite is the expressed expectation of a member of the Board of Consulting Engineers that the canal will be completed before 1915.

Many false reports have been circulated regarding the Panama Canal and the prospects for its completion within a reasonable time limit, since it passed into the hands of the United States. Most of the disquieting rumors have been set at rest by official reports which have authoritatively contradicted them. In some cases these rumors have been manufactured "out of whole cloth," while in others they have been based upon a modicum of fact with a large quantity of unwarranted inference and a larger quantity of highly colored imagination.

Soon we shall have the official report of the consulting engineers. This will no doubt be illuminating. The best of the world's engineering experts, after examining into the subject, ought to be able to state some valuable facts and draw some definite conclusions.

Meanwhile, the opinion of one of these experts, that the canal can be completed within ten years, is something worth knowing. It is from an excellent authority, and it is worth tons and tons of wildcat opinion.

OCTOBER—A RHAPSODY, BY MRS. OTIS.

[From the Sunday Magazine, October, 1902.]

October comes golden-shod to our shores; the air is full of warm, mellow sunshine and delicious calm. There is no whisper anywhere of approaching winter. The touch of frost is not laid upon the trees. The flowers still bloom and fill the air with fragrance. Butterfly and bee are winging their paths through the sunny air. Bird-song is not hushed. The trees yet stand leaf-clad, many of them filled with luscious fruits. We say it is October, but it might well be June, for the spirit of June is in all things, and Nature is full of beauty.

And here all the day may be spent out of doors, hand-in-hand with comfort and delight. The little ones may tumble on the grass in our parks, or on the green lawns in front of their homes, watching the butterflies on the wing; listening to the song of the cricket in the grass, or the merry notes of the frog in the pool. The fragrance of flowers is wafted to them on every breeze, the sunlight plays hide-and-seek amid the million emerald leaves over their heads; the green vines clamber over roof and wall; the skies are without a cloud, and October sits in the lap of summer and smiles as if the year were young, and flowering June were here to crown the year with golden light and beauty. There is no rush of angry tempest or fierce gale, no touch of frost, no whisper of waiting cold. The eyelids of day are fringed with golden sunbeams, and Night silvers the air with her starry rays. Beauty, calm, sweetness and growth are everywhere. Oh, who would not live in a land like this!

CALIFORNIA SUNSHINE.

BY ROBERTUS LOVE.

"When My Ship Comes in."

Admiring Reader: We regret that the poem, "When My Ship Comes In," as originally written by Mrs. Elizabeth Akers Allen of Strong, Me., is too long to reproduce here. However, there are others. The ship coming in is almost as popular, in poetry, as the firelight's fitful glow. All of us are prone to imagine that we have ships coming in, and most of us have written tender lyrics on the topic. In fact, most verifiers keep on hand an assorted line of coming-in poems, for use in emergencies like this. Here is one from the stock, guaranteed not to be shelf-worn, which we trust will satisfy your longing:

When my ship comes in I'll be down upon the docks,
And I'll take my key and open every chest and every box;
For I've waited long and patiently—a brother to the ox—
For my ship to come cavorting over leagues and leagues of blue
Just to yield me up its treasures; and my clutch to them I'll glue Till the cows
come home.
Now, say,
wouldn't you?

When my ship comes in I'll be waiting on the beach,
And I'll grab its golden cargo—everything within my reach;
For the creed of opportunity is just the creed I preach.
Oh, I'll go aboard the vessel with a twenty-mule-team dray
And I'll haul the golden ducats and the diamonds away,
Which I'll keep till kingdom come.
Wouldn't you,
now, say?

When my ship comes in I'll be standing on the shore
With a gunnysack to gobble all the precious, priceless ore;
Yes, and after gobbling all of it I'll want to gobble more.
So I'll simply settle down there, and I'll loiter on the strand,
For my other ships are sailing, and I long for them to land.
It is merely human nature.
Don't you all understand?

An Up-to-Date Theory.

Student: What is the significance, professor, of that enormous group of spots recently discovered on the sun?

Professor: Oh, I suppose the sun is getting tainted, like everything else

Scarcely Credible.

"Remarkable — most remarkable!" ejaculated the Constant Reader. "I can hardly believe it."

"What's so remarkable?"

"Why, here's a story of a colored woman 133 years old who has just died in Los Angeles, and she never claimed to have seen George Washington."

Where Kicking Pays.

Miggs: It doesn't pay to kick. I never yet knew a kick to do any good.

Wiggs: I have seen one win a football game.

His Brother's Success.

Yesterday a man entered the lobby of a Los Angeles hotel and flung himself wearily into the depths of a big leather chair.

"What's the matter, old man?" inquired the chief clerk, who knew him.

"I'm a failure; that's what's the matter. When I left New York five years ago my brother told me I was making a big mistake. 'Stay here,' he said, 'and you'll soon be in the millionaire class; just watch me.' Well, I refused to stay, and now what do you think?"

"Well, what?"

"Why, I see in a New York paper that my brother has bought an automobile."

ARMY AND NAVY MEN.

Gen. Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has ordered the construction of the first wireless telgraph system in the Philippines. It will operate between Zamboango and Jolo.

Capt. James N. Hawley, U. S. N., late in command of the battleship Brooklyn, has been granted a sick leave for three months. Capt. Hawley will spend the winter at his residence in Washington.

Capt. T. Bentley Mott, of the Artillery Corps, the retiring military attaché at St. Petersburg, will be succeeded by Maj. W. W. Gibson of the Ordnance Department. Capt. Mott was received in farewell audience a few days ago by Emperor Nicholas.

Among the vice-presidents of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee, elected at the annual meeting in Cincinnati, are Brig.-Gen. Frederick D. Grant and Gen. James Grant Wilson, the well known author. The next session of the society will be held at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Concerning the recent visit of Gen. Adna R. Chaffee and the other members of the American military party to England, a correspondent writes: "Gen. Chaffee and his companions have made a fine impression by their soldierly qualities wherever they have been seen."

Capt. Frank H. Holmes, retired, has been detached from command of the cruiser Marblehead and ordered to the Mare Island Navy Yard, for court-martial duty and such other duties as may be assigned. Commander T. R. Mulligan will take command of the Marblehead, the transfer being made about the last of October.

The London Daily Express says of Lieut. Marshall O. Roberts of New York that he is "noted as being the only American who is in the Guards; he is immensely wealthy, and owns a large amount of valuable property in New York. According to the Army and Navy Journal, Lieut. Marshall is the only American who has recived a commission in a regiment of the Guards. Before an original commission in the Guards is granted, an officer's name, family, antecedents and character are submitted to the King and the heir apparent for approval.

TWELVE MILES OF MANUSCRIPT.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 11.—To a London woman has fallen the prize of $500 offered a year ago by T. Fisher Unwin, the English publisher for the best "first novel" submitted to him. The lucky writer is Mrs. Baillie-Saunders, the wife of a clergyman in the Marylebone district, and the novel which won the competition, and which is to see the light shortly is called "Saints in Society."

The object of this competition was to discover unknown story-tellers, and only those were eligible who never had a novel published. The result was a deluge. Manuscripts poured in from the four corners of the earth, completely swamping Unwin's professional reader.

only those were eligible who never had a novel published. The result was a deluge. Manuscripts poured in from the four corners of the earth, completely swamping Unwin's professional reader. Inside of eight months this long-suffering individual read something like 20,000,000 words which, he calculates, is equivalent to twelve and three-quarter miles of typewritten pages, measured lengthwise. Of these manuscripts about five per cent. were "publishable." From the names appended it would appear that the sexes were fairly evenly balanced among the competitors, but it is suspected that many feminine contestants elected to use masculine appellations, so the fair aspirants were probably in a majority.

In the winner, Mrs. Baillie-Saunders, Fisher Unwin believes he has discovered a new novelist of unusual promise. Before her marriage she was a newspaper woman, and although "Saints in Society" is her first novel, a monograph of hers on Dickens and a small volume on Marylebone celebrities have already been published.

"I wrote 'Saints in Society' last winter in about two months," she said in talking about the matter. "I was very busy with other things at the time, but I felt compelled to write that book. The characters in it—by the way, they do not exist in real life—quite haunted me. They seemed, as it were, to be constantly at my door. So mainly, I think, in order to get rid of them I wrote the book. They have gone now, and I miss them much, as one misses a troublesome tooth that has been extracted."

The principal characters in the prize novel are Mark Hading and his wife. The former begins life as a small printer and a Christian Socialist. He rises to wealth, power, and title, and a flattering world robs him of his former sincerity of purpose. His wife, on the other hand, grows in nobility of character as they grow in riches. The novel, in fact, illustrates the contrasting influences which wealth exercises over different temperaments.

In his "There and Back," the late Dr. George Macdonald wrote this dedication "In the sure hope of everlasting brotherhood, I offer this book to Ronald Macdonald, my son and friend, my pupil, fellow-student and fellow-workman."

The Ronald Macdonald here referred to gives promise of continuing honorably the traditions of his name. His novel, "The Sword of the King," had a considerable success in England and America, and the play of the same name dramatized by the author from his own novel went well in America, although it had trouble here. Just before his father's death, Ronald Macdonald completed a novel to be called "The Seamaid," which is to be published on both sides of the ocean in January. The author was for a time a schoolmaster in the United States, and knows and loves the country well. He has been much interested in the dramatic possibilities of Anna Katherine Green's "Millionaire-Baby," and the result may be a play based on that story of mystery.

Jules Verne's reputation as a prophet—already greater than that of any modern writer—has been increased by the recent happenings in the Caucasus. Practically everything that has occurred in that troubled part of the Czar's domain is anticipated in the pages of "Michael Strogoff." Yet the probability of the incidents in that exciting novel was severely questioned by the French playwright, D'Ennery, when Verne brought it to him to be dramatized.

"My friend," D'Ennery replied, "your story is very interesting, but I can do nothing with it for the theater. Its improbabilities are such as the public would not accept. I draw your attention to one improbability in particular—the burning of the petroleum reservoirs. Do you see this river of fire rolling its waves of flame for miles? I do not deny that it would have a spectacular effect. But it is too improbable. It is more than improbable. It is impossible." "Improbable, perhaps," Jules Verne replied. "But impossible? No. In the coming years we shall have to strike the word 'impossible' out of our dictionaries, as Napoleon advised, and we shall see strange things that my romances will read like prophecies."

So D'Ennery gave way. The play was constructed on the author's lines, was enthusiastically received, and ran for a long time at the Chatelet.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Mrs. Housh, president of the Ruskin Art Club, made a clever little repartee yesterday that is thoroughly characteristic of her finesse in meeting every situation. The most enjoyable morning of the season had been spent with George Alliott's talk on "American Wood Engraving." The speaker was telling the members how necessary and altogether desirable is the knowledge to distinguish the best in art. One of the members took up the cudgels for the club and said: "But, Mr. Alliott, the club was formed for the study of black and white, and they do know a great deal of what is good in that line."

The moment was slightly tense, but the president remarked: "As one of the ladies has spoken for the club, there is no need for me to say anything except that we do know how to distinguish the best in many things, and that is what has brought Mr. Alliott to us this morning."

Seldom has any club been shown the real facts that count in such a branch as wood engraving, which is known so little by the general public, but Mr. Alliott not only made the history and the actual process familiar in his brief address, but he invested it with an absorbing interest that concerned the men of today engaged in the work who are friends and acquaintances of the speaker.

A number of prominent visitors were present for this first special morning of the year.

Club Evening.

Mrs. Grace Tower of Pasadena conducted an evening for the Women's Club last night, devoted to the experiences of reporters, herself speaking upon the subject selected.

Many dire and amusing stories were contributed by divers of the local woman reportorial contingent, and several visitors who are in the city at present. Miss Ellis Meredith of Colorado read one of the cleverest bits heard at the club for many a day, an original Irish story with a worthy and witty explanation thereof. Mrs. Jewett of the Union Signal, Evanston, Ill., the official organ of the W.C.T.U., told her experience. Mrs. Mary Coman of Pasadena related an amusing story of her struggles, as modestly put in the capacity of an understudy. Miss Goodwin of Pasadena gave one of the best bits of all in her paper, and Miss [illegible]'s recital was probably the most dramatic of all, and very funny. Miss [illegible] herself afforded a large part of the evening's enjoyment.

MISSOURI EDITOR.

of St. Joseph Tells of a Five-Dollar Man at the Portland Exposition.

E. E. McJimsey, editor of the Gazette at St. Joseph, Mo., is at the Hollenbeck on his way home from the Lewis and Clark Exposition, where he was vice-president of the Missouri Commission. McJimsey was the working member of the commission. He is noted as a political "stander," being much in demand in campaigns. His paper, the Gazette, is known to literature through the fame of Eugene Field, with the saying, "When I used to do the local on the St. Jo Gazette." Field was on the Gazette staff in his early manhood, and married a St. Joseph girl.

In speaking of the burning of the Missouri State building at Portland the day before the exposition closed, McJimsey said: "We had sold the building for $250, a very fair price for an exposition building, as experience shows. It cost $12,000. Of course the State of Missouri will lose the $250. During the excitement of the fire a man who had bought a show case from us for $5 came running up to me, excitedly asking about his property. I informed him that the great State of Missouri was not small enough to keep his $5, but that I could not stop to pay him at that moment. He seemed to think that his $5 was the most important thing, while perhaps $50,000 worth of oil paintings and statuary by our Missouri artists was burning up. From a sentimental viewpoint the loss of those art works is not to be estimated."

Mr. McJimsey is seeing Los Angeles for the first time.

FEARFUL BLAST RIDDLES HIM.

POWDER MAN HURT IN THE SAN BERNARDINO MOUNTAINS.

Delayed Discharge Hurls Victim from the Road and Over a Precipice. Clothing Torn to Shreds and Body Frightfully Mangled—His Recovery is Considered Doubtful.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James Dunn, a powder man for R. H. Swinney, cement and road contractor, who is employed in building fourteen miles of mountain road way for the Arrowhead Reservoir Company, beyond Smithson's ranch, was terribly injured this morning by the explosion of a heavy blast, which had been put in to blow out rocks along the right-of-way of the road.

The fuse had failed to burn and Dum left his place of safety and bending over the fuse, was about to withdraw it, when the explosion occurred. He was thrown fifty feet into the air, and, lighting on the edge of the precipice, rolled for nearly 200 feet down the declivity.

When rescued he was unconscious. His clothing was blown into threads, and he was bleeding from innumerable gashes, his hands, face, body being literally riddled with particles of mineral. Dr. Wesley Thompson met the party bringing the injured man down from the mountains at the switchback, and found that he suffered a double fracture of the right shoulder, severe scalp lacerations and probably internal injuries. His recovery is doubtful.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS.

Joe Brazil has filed on 250 inches of water in Cable Creek, the diversion point being 200 feet above the intake of the Meyer pipe line. The water is intended for use in the Copper King mining claim, and for irrigation and domestic purposes at North San Bernardino, Rialto and Colton.

C. E. Murray this morning reported to the Sheriff that his home at Highland was burglarized last night, the thieves breaking down a rear door, and securing a quantity of valuable jewelry.

It is announced that the "premium" system, which is said to be proving a success at the Santa Fé shops at Topeka, will be introduced in the local shops immediately. The "premium" system is claimed to be an improvement over the piece-work system. By the "premium" system the mechanics are allotted a certain time for doing a certain amount of work. If it is a two hours' job and they finish it in thirty minutes less they are credited with two hours' pay.

Constable George Utman and Deputy Constable George Frost returned last evening from Folsom, where they took Fred Eldridge, sentenced to life for the murder of Fred Romo, on the mountains last month. From the time of his arrest until his arrival at the prison the accused maintained the most amazing coolness, but once the stripes were on him he broke down, and sobbed like a child, being completely unnerved.

Attorney Walter D. Cole, a member of one of the prominent families in this section, was given a rousing send-off today on the event of his departure for San Francisco to enter a law office there.

The new well being sunk by the city on the Antill tract, east of town, is now to a depth of 850 feet, and is in heaving sand. The sand is coming up in the pipes to a height of fifty feet, which is a sign that below the point of the drill there is an immense pressure, which the drillers believe is caused by a heavy volume of artesian water. The contract calls for a depth of 900 feet, but this will be exceeded if necessary.

James Blake, an employé of a local gas company, had a narrow escape from drowning this morning, by tapping a water main in mistake for a gas pipe. The water gushed forth in a powerful stream, throwing the workman in a heap in the trench, and he was struggling in a swiftly increasing flood when rescued in a dazed and choking condition by bystanders.

HIGHLAND.

HOTEL TO GO UP SOON.

HIGHLAND, Oct. 25.—Ground is being prepared for a new hotel to be built upon the site of the former one destroyed by fire several months ago. The structure will be three stories high and will contain thirty rooms. Mrs. Gleason, owner of the former hostelry, will be the proprietor.

At the request of an orange grower who felt certain that his neighbor's orchard was infested with scale, S. A Pease, County Horticultural Commissioner, was summoned here on Monday. He made a thorough search and was unable to find any of the dreaded pests.

Miss Edith Wickersham of Iowa has been chosen to fill the vacancy among the teachers of the Highland school caused by Mrs. Fisher's resignation. Mrs. Fisher will teach in Los Angeles.

Work will begin at once upon the new packing-house to be built at Del Rosa by the Independent Packing Company. The building will be 60x90 feet, and will be equipped with the latest machinery.

Robert Yarnell and Marion Bagwell, the young men who were accidentally shot by a companion recently while duck hunting in Bear Valley, returned on Wednesday from the mountains and will soon recover from their injuries. George Parsons and Charles Longmire have also returned, bringing a fine string of ducks.

REDLANDS.

SOUTHERN METHODISTS MEET.

REDLANDS, Oct. 25.—The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, will be held in Redlands this week. Delegates to the number of about sixty arrived yesterday and today, among them Bishop Morrison of New Orleans, who will preside at the meetings to be commenced tomorrow morning. Today the hours were devoted to examining young ministers by the various committees. The conference takes in the Los Angeles district and a part of Arizona. It is expected that a general change will be made in the appointment of ministers over this section of the State, although this will not be announced until the close of the sessions, Sunday night or Monday morning.

RIVERSIDE.

"DIXIE" STIRS THEIR HEARTS.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 25.—Delegates from the California division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met this morning in the fifth annual convention of the State at the Glenwood. About fifty were present. The convention was called to order at 10 a.m., and after appropriate music, an invocation was rendered by Rev. Edward F. Goff. An address of welcome followed, by Mayer C. L. McFarland, after which there were welcomes from the chapter hostesses, Mrs. Victor S. Montgomery of Santa Ana, Mrs. Annie S. Pratt of San Bernardino, Mrs. C. P. Wimberley of Redlands and Mrs. George Neblett of Riverside. The response was by Mrs. Albert M. Stephens, a candidate for the presidency.

A report of the committee on credentials was read by Mrs. W. L. Graves. At the close of the morning proceedings H. M. Swing sang "Dixie." At the first notes the convention rose and cheered so heartily that the singer could barely be heard.

In the afternoon, the "Daughters of the Confederacy March," composed by Mrs. E. Hendricks, president of the Longstreet chapter, was rendered. The president's address was delivered by Mrs. Victor Montgomery. Master Tracey Cheatham rendered a vocal solo, and Mrs. Emma Whitney read an original poem. The social side of the Daughters of the Confederacy was discussed by Mrs. Fannie P. McGehee, and the afternoon closed with a piano solo.

This evening there was a reception at the Glenwood which was attended by many of the fashionable people of Riverside and the neighboring towns.

COACHELLA.

PRESBYTERIANS INCORPORATE.

COACHELLA, Oct. 25.—Articles of incorporation of the Presbyterian Church have been filed with the County Clerk. This is the first step toward building a church edifice which is much needed, as services have long been held in the schoolhouse. In 1903 when the organization was completed, the following trustees were elected: Charles McDonald, L. W. Dillman, George C. Huntington, Irving H. Fay and A. J. Hoskin.

C. O. Barker of Banning, has recorded two claims of 4000 inches each, to water flowing in the White Water River. The water is to be used in generating electric power in the Whitewater Cañon.

CORONA.

COLONISTS COMING.

CORONA, Oct. 25.—It is stated that an Iowa man named Scoles who has recently purchased 937 acres in the East Vale school district is to bring out 100 families from the East to colonize his new lands. The tract is to be seeded to alfalfa, wells are to be sunk and the land divided into ranches of varying sizes, with nothing smaller than twenty-acre tracts.

Miss Mirian Foss and Harold Hull have been selected as the Corona High School team to debate with Colton.

The Santa Fé is to extend a spur to the Corona Pressed Brick Company's plant.

It has been decided to remove the present brick wall of the Carnegie Library down to the window sills, the expense to be borne equally by the brick plant, the library board and the contractor. This section of the wall contains the off-color bricks.

OXNARD.

SUGAR CAMPAIGN CLOSES.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

OXNARD, Oct. 25.—The factory closes today, after the most successful run in its history. The first beets were hauled on July 11, the first beets ground on July 17, and the first sugar two days later. This season's run is one hundred and one days. The last beets were received Monday from Leesdale and from A. F. Maulhardt of Oxnard.

Many of the men are being laid off, but the company will retain about two hundred. Many others will be sent to the new factory at Lamar, Colo., which is about to begin its campaign.

The warehouse is full of sugar and the sweet stuff has been sent out as fast as was possible. The campaign has not only been successful in the quantity of sugar produced, but in the lack of breakdowns in the factory.

NEW LIGHTS.

The Oxnard Light and Water Company has begun construction on the street lights for the city, which will cost approximately $3000. The city will pay 90 cents per kilowatt hour, which will amount to $125 a month.

COL. FINLEY ISSUES ORDERS FROM SANTA ANA.

Directs Particular Attention to Regular Target Practice and Instructs Company Commanders to See That Every Member Participates.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 25.—Col. S. H. Finley, commanding the Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., has issued general orders to the twelve Southern California companies serving under him, directing particular attention to the matter of regular target practice. It is the expressed desire of Col. Finley that the regiment make a creditable showing in this regard, and to this end company commanders are instructed to see that every member participates in the practice. Staff and non-commissioned staff officers are to practice with the most convenient company.

Special orders are also issued for company commanders to remedy deficiencies, disclosed by the report upon the recent annual inspection. As an aid in this the lieutenant-colonel will visit each company in the near future and give instruction in extended order, fire discipline and kindred subjects. Similar visits are also to be made by Adjt. Roper of this city, who will give instruction in guard duty, correspondence and clerical duties. Officers of the regiment are making a concentrated effort to bring the discipline and efficiency of the regiment to a higher grade than ever before attained.

VETERANS MEET.

The annual convention of Grand Army veterans of Orange county, held today at Orange, resulted in the choice of the following officers for the coming year: President, Dr. William Freeman of Fullerton; first vice-president, D. M. Robinson of Tustin; second, S. Armor of Orange; third, G. M. Stanton of Santa Ana; treasurer, Capt. J. H. Hall of Santa Ana; adjutant, A. B. Paul of Santa Ana; chaplain, Rev. Mr. Markel of Anaheim. The day was largely given over to social pleasures and festivities, in which the big dinner at noon played an important part. New and retiring officers and visitors from outside the county made short speeches. The incidental entertainment of the day was provided by Gordon Granger Post of Orange.

ST. JOHN SPEAKS.

Ex.-Gov. St. John of Kansas spoke to a good-sized audience at Spurgeon's Hall last night, under the auspices of the Prohibition County Central Committee. The speaker introduced his prohibition argument with a general discussion on "graft" and corruption in business and political administration, recognizing an awakening public conscience in the prevalent sentiment against dishonesty and jobbery. Prohibition was treated as a popular movement rather than in its relation to a political party. The case of Kansas was cited as an instance where prohibition has proved effective, Mr. St. John illustrating this part of his talk with many an anecdote of his own personal experience in his home State.

SANTA ANA BRIEFS.

Miss Addie M. West, aged 34, died here today. Miss West was a daughter of C. E. West and a sister of Mrs. Fred Moesser of this city.

A license to wed was granted today to Samuel L. Fetterman, aged 23, of Long Beach and Irmgard Gentzer, aged 24, of Los Angeles.

A gathering of Congregationalists was held yesterday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wetherbee on North West street, members of the Ladies' Aid Society acting as hostesses for the evening.

Funeral services for Joseph H. Phillips, "Father of Covina," who died yesterday at Westminster while driving in his buggy, will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock at No. 1937 Norwood street, Los Angeles.

"Temperance Cooking" was discussed in papers before the local W.C.T.U. yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. F. Lutz. A mass meeting under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. will be held Sunday evening at the Grand Operahouse, to be addressed by speakers from the national convention in Los Angeles.

VENTURA.

FIREBUG IN ACTION.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, Oct. 25.—The firebug is again operating in this city. Last night an attempt was made to burn the new house at Fir and Poli streets which T. H. Daly is building there and which is to be occupied by School Superintendent Sackett. The cottage is almost completed and has been turned over to the painters. This morning when the workmen reported on duty it was found that a great hole had been burned through the hardwood floor of one of the rooms, but had evidently burne ditself out and got no farther. The fire had been started right in the middle of the floor among the paints and brushes of the workmen, but luckily made no farther headway than to burn a hole in the floor.

JUSTIFIABLE, SAYS JURY.

The Coroner's jury has declared the shooting of Anton John Bury, the tailor, by James Morris Lotta, also a tailor, in Santa Paula a week ago, was justifiable. Bury made a mad attack upon Lotta while intoxicated, and shot him in the back. He was attempting to continue shooting when Lotta stopped him with a charge of shot from a shotgun which he gathered up in the scuffle. Bury died of his wounds. Just before his death the man became delirious and shouted, "Where are my cartridges! I'll shoot the ——!"

THIS SON FINDS HE HAS A FATHER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 25.—W. M. Hoagland, manager for the Union Ice Company, has returned from an eventful trip with his young wife, in the East, accompanied by his father, Alexander Brown, of Worthington, Ind., who until last week was not aware that he had a son. Hoagland returns as W. M. Brown, having come into his right name after being known for thirty-seven years as Hoagland. Back of the affair lies a strange story.

In the years before the Civil War, Alexander Brown, a prosperous young business man of Worthington, was secretly wedded to Vesta Hoagland, daughter of a prosperous farmer. The couple lived together but a short time, when the girl's parents disappeared from the vicinity, taking the girl-wife with them.

A son was born to the union, but the father never knew it, and the young mother was informed that her boy-husband had been killed. Several years later she married again, and, in course of time, the family removed to California. The mother died a short time ago.

On her deathbed she told her eldest son, now the manager of the Union Ice Company, the real story of his life. Believing that his father, whom he had never seen, and who never even knew of his existence, was still alive, Hoagland started East immediately to institute a search for the parent.

This search terminated at Worthington, Ind., where father and son met for the first time in their lives. The father, being old and feeble, readily consented to return here with his son and remain for the rest of his days under his son's care. The son has taken his father's name. The latter is wealthy.

Chronic and Special Diseases That Are Curable Are Cured For Life by Original And Time-Tested Methods. : : : :

We are Specialists for Varicocele, Hydrocele, Stricture, Piles, Fistula, Blood Diseases, Contracted Diseases, Private Diseases, Loss of Vital Power, Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

We have no free propositions, trial or sample treatments to offer the afflicted. Our education, experience, conscience and reputation condemn such quackery. We have always found that an honest man is always willing to pay an honest price for honest treatment. If you are losing your vitality and strength and can see evidence from time to time that your physical system is going to decay, you should, in common justice to your future happiness, take steps to check it. Don't deceive yourself in believing that it is natural for any person to exhaust his power. Nature is appealing to you. The slight pains that you feel, the momentary spells of weakness, the periodical loss of memory, dullness of the brain, drowsiness and irritability, all point to the necessity of prompt treatment.

Cures Effected in Curable Cases

We have been successfully treating maladies of men for many years. Nothing that science has devised or money can buy is lacking in our equipment. We will use you honestly, treat you successfully and restore your health in the shortest possible time, with the least medicine, discomfort and expense possible. Our consultation and advice are free. I Accomplish More in One Week Than Can Ever Be Accomplished by Guessing Through the Mail

A Treatment With Merit in Every Application
Not as Others Treat—not Secret Methods.

Varicocele
4 to 6 Days

My treatment effects a permanent cure. Normal circulation is quickly restored, and the parts involved rendered strong and healthy. It is effective and certain.

FUNCTIONAL DECLINE
Called Weakness By Some

My method of treating this condition is an effective means whereby functional activity may be restored without resorting to drastic stimulants which derange the functions of the stomach. I remove the cause responsible for the disorder.

I have restored hundreds to health. I have cured them when they had given up hope. I have cured them when others had pronounced them incurable. My examinations bring you face to face with the exact condition. I will carefully diagnose your trouble and give you my opinion free. You can use your own judgment about the treatment and you are under no obligations whatever.

Stricture
10 to 15 Days

I have devoted years of special attention to the formation and eradication of urethral obstruction. Experience of the right kind is absolutely necessary to cure. My treatment softens and relaxes the membrane, and the formation is completely destroyed.

Contracted Diseases

To but partially cure this condition is worse than no treatment at all. Chronic complications are sure to follow. Insist upon a thorough and complete eradication of every particle of infection, and be sure your cure is complete, that no evil after effects will occur, as an inflammation or prostatic disorder. Fully one-half of all bladder troubles, prostatic irritation, functional decline, are due to badly treated and partially cured disorders.

LONG BEACH.

WIRES HOT TO CAPITAL.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 25.—Following the lead of the City Trustees the Board of Trade last night authorized the sending of a dispatch bearing on the harbor question to Gen. McKenzie, chief of engineers of the War Department. The dispatch states that the notice of a rehearing of the harbor plans at Washington October 26, had been brought to the attention of the Board of Trade too late for representation which the Board felt was essential inasmuch as a large part of the land covered by the engineer's lines is within the city limits of Long Beach.

The Long Beach City Trustees and Board of Trade are in favor of the government's plans and the telegram requests of the War Department, that if any change or alteration is to be made in the plans that Long Beach be permitted to present its views at an early date and that a time be fixed therefor. W. E. Hinshaw, a member of the local Board of Trade who is visiting in Indiana and has devoted much time to examining plans, maps and data of the harbor improvements has gone to Washington and today was wired copies of both telegrams to the engineer's department and requested not to represent the city in any way, but to watch proceedings closely.

RECEIVED NEW PASTOR.

The First Presbyterian Church was crowded to the doors last night to witness the installation of the new pastor Rev. Josiah Sibley, late of Azusa. The church interior was a mass of smilax, vines and white roses which were wrapped about posts and festooned from chandelier to ceiling, while banks of white and green back of the pulpit made an appropriate setting for the choir and speakers. Rev. M. J. McLeod of Pasadena, delivered the installation sermon, Rev. Cleland installed the new pastor, Rev. Frank DeWitt Talmadge gave the charge to the pastor and Dr. Hugh K. Walker, the charge to the people.

PLANING MILL ATTACHED.

George H. Walker, a builder of ready made houses, is alleged to have developed a new way of canceling a debt which has gotten him into trouble and resulted in the attachment of his planing mill by Deputy Constable Cason. The attachment is on a complaint filed by W. F. Carpenter, who avers that he held Walker's note for $150. Walker says he called to pay the note and gave in exchange a check for the amount, and while conversing with his late creditor, calmly tore the obligation to pay, into strips. Later, when Carpenter went to cash his check, he says he discovered that Walker had stopped payment on it. Now Carpenter is angry and wanting his money, has attached Walker's business.

WOMAN UNREPENTANT.

Mrs. Josie Sims, the woman blind piggist of Norwalk, was brought down from the County Jail this morning for sentence. Deputy Dist.-Atty. Fleming attempted to secure a promise from the woman that she would quit the business and leave Norwalk, where she is not wanted, he agreeing to intercede for her. Mrs. Sims would only say she was going to quit as soon as she could and the deputy gave it up. He told the court that because she was a woman he wanted to be lenient, but as Mrs. Sims seemed determined to break the law, he would ask for no mercy, especially as the woman's children were in charge of the Humane Society, and in better hands. Justice Brayton fixed the fine at $150 or 150 days and, as Mrs. Sims refused to pay, a commitment was issued and she was taken back to the County Jail to keep company with her husband, who is serving sentence for a similar offense.

SEASHORE RUMBLINGS.

Dr. W. Hammon Jones has been elected and installed as exalted ruler of the Elks, vice M. H. Davenport, resigned.

Abraham Lincoln Circle No. 43, Ladies of the G. A. R., was instituted yesterday with a charter list of forty. Officers elected are: President, Martha Kiger; senior vice, Lillian M. Harris; junior vice, Addie Haskins; chaplain, Mary R. Brown; secretary, Carrie Brown; treasurer, Addie M. Darron; conductor, Mary W. Gilbert.

J. J. Hart and Wm. R. Hughes, two workmen digging a ditch for a water main on Signal Hill this morning, broke into a cave habited by bees, which were dislodged after a lively fight. One hundred pounds of pure white honey were taken from the cave.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the new hotel company, the plans of Architect Horace Austin were adopted. Bids will be asked for at once. The executive committee expects that building will commence by December 1.

OCEAN PARK.

OPPOSE POSTOFFICE REMOVAL.

OCEAN PARK, Oct. 25.—The property owners and business people of Pier avenue will vigorously resist all attempts to have the Ocean Park postoffice removed from Pier avenue in Santa Monica a couple of hundred feet south to Marine street in Ocean Park.

The City Trustees have held a couple of special meetings at which the sewage and garbage questions were again discussed. It was decided to suspend judgment in the case against Santa Monica and defer the sending of a communication to the sister city inviting her to desist from discharging her sewage into the septic tank. Action looking to the rapid construction of an ocean outfall for the septic tank's afflux was also held in abeyance until next Monday evening. At that time the Trustees will meet. It is thought they will then order the rushing of the building of an ocean outfall, which will prove of sufficient capacity to accommodate the sewage of the entire beach. Such being the case Santa Monica will continue to be permitted to enjoy the privileges of the septic tank.

SANTA MONICA.

REALTY'S UPWARD TREND.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 25.—Third-street business property continues to change hands at increasing prices. H. W. Lemcke has purchased from Joseph Burkhard 150x150 feet at the corner of Third and Utah. The stated consideration is $42,500. The improvements include two two-story brick buildings occupied by the stores of A. Mooser, C. D. Middlekauff and three others and two one-story frame structures. The latter will be wrecked and in their stead will be erected a brick building. There may also be built a new storeroom with a frontage on Utah, but the new owner has not positively decided upon his plans.

BUILDING MALIBU WAY.

The first ships bearing ties for the Hueneme, Malibu and Port Los Angeles Railway are due to arrive from the northern ports at Santa Monica by the middle of November. The ties are now being loaded on Puget Sound. They are for a standard-gauge road and will be laid immediately upon their arrival on the grade now being constructed. The order for the sixty-pound steel rails has been placed with the Lackawanna Steel Company in the East, but as the rolling mills are crowded with orders, the delivery could not be guaranteed before June 1. In the meantime, the work of making the grade continues unabated. The grade is for a standard-gauge road and all ties and track that have already been put down will accommodate cars of that width.

SEASIDE JOTTINGS.

The body of Mrs. Charlotte Spear, who died at her home on South Third street a few days ago, is to be sent tomorrow to Colorado Springs for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gooding have come to this beach from Redlands and will make their home here.

Peter Linberg is spending the week with friends at San Pedro.

Emil Navarrino of Santa Monica Cañon was tried yesterday evening before a jury in the court of the justice of the peace on a charge of conducting a "blind pig." On motion of a deputy from the District Attorney's office, the complaint was dismissed before all of the witnesses called to testify on the part of the people had been heard.

Announcement is received here of the appointment of T. R. Gabel to the superintendency of the electric lines of the Los Angeles-Pacific, succeeding W. D. Larrabee, resigned. It is understood Mr. Larrabee will go into the northern part of the State to accept a more remunerative situation with a new steam road.

BURBANK.

LOCOMOTIVES IN SMASH.

BURBANK, Oct. 25.—Last night, between 10 and 11 o'clock, a light engine, sent out as a helper for the "Owl" train, was wrecked near here in a collision with a freight train southbound.

A brakeman, C. Hardenberg, and the engineer, William Stevenson, are victims of the accident, but neither is seriously injured. Hardenberg is now at the Sisters' Hospital in Los Angeles, where he is suffering from a broken clavicle and contusions over the right eye.

The engineer of the southbound freight train had orders to sidetrack at Roscoe, so that the light engine might pass, but he mistook his orders, and the collision occurred near that station.

WHITTIER.

QUAKER CITY NOTES.

WHITTIER, Oct. 25.—Contracts are being let for laying about 29,500 feet of cement gutter and about the same amount of sidewalk on Painter, Bright, and Comstock avenues and Penn, Bailey, Hadley and Luella streets.

Miss Helena Dunlap of Whittier, who has been studying in Europe for four months, landed in Philadelphia October 16, after an exceedingly stormy voyage.

A large number of people gathered at the M. E. Church last evening to welcome the new pastor, Rev. Carroll, and his wife. A musical programme was rendered and addresses of welcome were delivered by Revs. Sackett, Edwards, Perry, and Burroughs.

POMONA.

PILGRIMS' STAG DINNER.

POMONA, Oct. 25.—The stag banquet of the Men's Sunday Evening Club of Pilgrim Congregational Church held in the church parlors last night was attended by about 100 men. The club has been organized ten years. The affair took the form of a decennial celebration. H. E. Kile, president of the club, presided and introduced H. J. Nichols, L. T. Bishop and Rev. G. E. Soper, who spoke upon the work of the organization and its relation to the community. Dean Norton of Pomona College delivered the principal address. Francis L. Pratt sang three patriotic flag songs.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Buffington have returned from an extended visit with their son in Denver.

The funeral of Frank L. DuShane, who dropped dead from heart failure here yesterday will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m., at the Catholic Church, and will be attended in a body by the local order Knights of Columbus. The deceased was the father of Mrs. Louis Streicher.

S. M. Andrews and family are home from a trip to the Grand Cañon.

W. H. Schureman's new house near North Pomona is about completed.

GLENDORA.

TWO TRADES IN REALTY.

GLENDORA, Oct. 25.—F. H. Davis has traded his ranch property here to Rev. F. M. Kirkham of Los Angeles for a flat building in Des Moines, Iowa, at a stated consideration of $16,000. The ranch is beautifully situated overlooking the town, one mile northeast of Glendora, and comprises twenty acres set to 1300 lemon trees and 600 orange trees in full bearing. There is also a comfortable residence on the property. Mr. Kirkham will eventually make the ranch his home.

J. L. Preston has purchased from Robert N. Martin blocks 20, 22 and 27 of the J. F. Washburn subdivision, lying one mile east from the center of Glendora, at a consideration of $1650. The land comprises thirteen acres and is unimproved, but Mr. Preston will improve the property and make the place his home.

BROADWAY NEAR SEVENTH. 639 TO 645

The growth of a business must depend upon the worthiness of the enterprise. If the foundation is character—if the aim is to be true to the public—if the business is conducted by those who love the work for the work's sake you can look for big things. We hope you are beginning to feel that we are on the right track.

ON THE main floor to the left as you enter you will find one of the most attractive exhibits of Mission and Arts and Crafts Furniture to be seen west of Chicago. Each piece has been carefully selected, is of such construction, design and finish as to be beyond criticism. For the den, dining room, hall and library these pieces are practical, harmonious and effective. In this collection are many pieces in the way of easy chairs, tables, taborettes which are especially suited to wedding, birthday and other presentation. The completeness and attractiveness of this display is only a fair example of what may be expected of us all through the establishment. We have set a somewhat higher standard than usual in the Furniture business and every effort is now bended to overeach that standard.

In regard to the matter of price this establishment is not connected with any other stores and all prices are based at the lowest margin of profit.

Yesterday's Report and Forecast.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—[Reported by George E. Franklin, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.09; at 5 p.m., 30.00. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 51 deg. and 71 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 87 per cent.; 5 p.m., 50 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., west, velocity 6 miles. Maximum temperature, 83 deg.; minimum, 50 deg. Barometer reduced to sea level.

Weather Conditions.—Rain is reported from Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Montana, in which vicinity a storm is passing east along the British border. Elsewhere on the Pacific Slope, generally clear weather prevails, though there is some fog in certain localities on the coast. The storm noted Tuesday in Texas appears to be central this morning in Southern Illinois, having given rain along its track, and the rain area extending to the eastern lake region. Temperature changes have been comparatively slight on the Pacific Coast as a rule, but it is somewhat warmer to the northward.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair tonight; Thursday, fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Weather conditions and general forecast. The pressure has risen over the northern half of the Coast. Rain has fallen in Oregon and Southern Idaho. Cloudy weather prevails in California north of San Francisco. It is much warmer along the coast from Point Concepcion south, and somewhat warmer in the great valley of California. Forecast:

Sacramento Valley: Fair Thursday; light north wind.

San Joaquin Valley: Fair Thursday; light north wind.

Coast: Fair Thursday; fresh west winds.

Nevada: Fair Thursday.

Arizona: Fair Thursday and Friday.

Bidding was confined to narrow limits on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, but trading was more active and widely distributed.

For once in a long time no Associated changed hands and the stock declined, closing at 56½. Most of the other active oil securities improved their position; Union being notably strong. Ten shares were sold at 129½; 1000 Fullerton at 32½; 1000 of Central at 88, and 15 of United Petroleum at 215.

Hecla Mining advanced under active bidding, 3000 shares selling at 26.

The bonds were weak from apparent lack of interest, but one of Corona Power and Water was sold at 90.

Edison Electric common gained 5 points, and United States Long Distance Telephone went up a point, 30 shares being sold at 60½.

FLORIDA ORANGE CROP SHORT. J. P. Bishop, who has just returned from a four-weeks' visit to the Florida orange belt, stated yesterday as a result of his observation that the crop will fall considerably short of that of last year.

"The total crop," he said, "will be something like one and a quarter million boxes of oranges and 200,000 boxes or less of grapefruit."—[New York Journal of Commerce.

SEATTLE COPPER. The incorporation of the Seattle-Boston Copper Company is a move forward in copper mining which bids fair to bring Seattle to the front as a mining center. It is proposed to open up and furnish railway facilities for copper properties in the eastern part of King county, of which Seattle is the county seat.

At the head of this company is Charles E. Crane, formerly manager and principal owner of the Diamond Ice & Storage Company, and the Mutual Light & Heat Company, with which he was connected for the past 10 years. Interested in it also are A. M. Brooks, manager of the Pacific Coast Biscuit Co., Seattle branch, and who was formerly the cashier of the Seattle National Bank; Dr. F. A. Churchill, a prominent physician of some 17 years' practice in Seattle; F. A. Sutphen and M. B. Crane, both of M. B. Crane & Co., Inc.

The company will at once begin the surveying and construction of a railway and provide such aerial tram facilities as will be necessary to bring out the ore at a minimum cost. The first properties to be benefited will be those of the Seattle-Boston Copper Company, and the Dutch Miller Mining & Smelting Company.—[New York Commercial.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The produce market was active yesterday in nearly all lines; receipts were fairly liberal in staples and prices were well maintained, with one or two advances.

Fresh ranch eggs were scarce and firm at 38 cents and higher prices are looked for in the near future, unless there is an early rain. Fresh ranch eggs are becoming so scarce that eastern are being drawn upon daily to meet the demand, at least 40 per cent. of the eggs sold as ranch being eastern.

Butter was in active demand at steady prices, and with receipts only sufficient to meet the demand, the market was well cleaned up.

Grapes were a little scarce and stocks firm and active, Muscats jobbing at 1.00; Tokays 1.35; Trabellas 2.00; Cornichous 5 to 6 cents a pound.

Strawberries were in light supply and continued strong, Gardenas jobbing at 8 to 10 cents and Tropicos 10 to 18 cents for extra fancy.

Apples were in good demand and steady, and pears were scarce, though unchanged in price.

Potatoes met a good buying interest at about steady prices, Burbanks jobbing at 1.00 to 1.20.

Cucumbers were scarce and higher, stocks moving freely at 60 cents. Tomatoes continued firm at 40 to 50 cents, but other lines in the vegetable market were dull and featureless.

Fish and lobsters were in moderate supply, and wild ducks and rabbits were scarce.

Poultry was firm at prices quoted.

Prices Current.

EGGS—Candled, ranch, 38; eastern, 29@31; seconds, 23.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Today's active market was irregular and uneven up to the abrupt general fall in prices in the final hour of trading, and the conflicting currents in the market were so striking at times as to give it a decidedly feverish tone. Speculative interest centered on the group of coalers in which there was some degree of excitement, and an advance to record price in important members of the group, including Reading, Delaware and Hudson and Central Railroad of New Jersey. A conspicuous leadership in the operation was held by operators on the floor of the Exchange, who have figured prominently in the transactions in Reading for many months past. No actual news was forthcoming to explain the movement beyond the general considerations bearing upon the trade, but many surmises were afloat as a result of the large demand for Lehigh Valley in Philadelphia. That company's recent purchase of the Coxe Brothers Company and the accompanying movement in the other coalers gave rise to the conjecture that more effective combinations are working out in this group of properties. The specialties received further attention, but there was a marked disposition to discriminate among the members of this group, which was a result of the uneasiness caused by the low grade of some of the stocks which have been stirred up into prominence lately. Some of these were influenced by special considerations. A temporary advance in sugar was due to a suggestion of a possible coming distribution of surplus earnings. The rise in Pacific Mail was explained by the return from an oriental trip of the head of the company. The advance in the coalers had some sympathetic effect in the railroad list, but it did not extend far and did not persist. There were points of weakness among minor stocks throughout, some of the low-priced issues suffering sharply from movements to take profits. Money continued relatively easy, but as a result of this condition, foreign exchange made a further advance to within the immediate neighborhood of the gold export point. A decline in sterling exchange at Paris and a further rise in the discount rate at Berlin were additional factors making toward gold exports. New York exchange at Chicago also fell to a discount. The special weakness of the Metropolitan stocks was commented upon. The fall in those stocks and the heavy selling of Rock Island were the principal factors in breaking the market, and in causing the decline of the last hour, which carried prices comprehensively below last night's level. Hasty coverings of shorts by the bears induced a sharp rally, and the irregular closing left price changes very irregular and not important, except in a less number of stocks. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,170,000. United States 2s declined ¼ per cent. on call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The wheat market was strong from the start to the finish. At the opening, the December option was up ⅛@¼ to ¼@⅜, at 87½@87⅝. Higher prices for wheat at the leading European grain centers gave impetus to the market here. The advance at foreign markets was reported as mainly due to news of increasing disorders in connection with the railway strike in Russia. Cable advices today indicate that, as a result of the stoppage of railway operations, all shipments of grain from Russia might be shut off in the near future. The situation was given a dark aspect by a private cablegram, which stated that Russian offerings of wheat had ceased altogether. In the pit here, demand for wheat was active and general throughout the greater part of the session. Offerings were chiefly from longs. Strength of cash wheat at all the principal grain centers of the United States helped to stimulate bullish sentiment. At 88¼, the December delivery touched the highest point of the day. During the last half hour the market reacted slightly on profit-taking. The close, however, was firm, with December ⅝@¾ up, at 87¾. May sold between 88¾ and 89¼, and closed at a gain of ⅝, at 88⅞. Urgent export demand caused strength in the corn market. December closed ¼ up, at 45¾. A strong tone prevailed in the oats market. December closed ¼ higher, at 29⅜. Strength of grain had a steadying effect on the provisions market. The volume of trading was small. January pork, lard and ribs each closed a shade higher.

The leading futures closed as follows:

California Dried Fruits.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The market for evaporated apples is firm, and it is reported that prime fruit for late October delivery has sold at 8½. Common to good are quoted at 5@6½; nearly prime at 7½@8, and prime 8½. Prunes are quiet, with comparatively little demand for forward shipment from the coast reported. Spot quotations range from 4½@7½. Apricots are unchanged. Choice fruit is quoted at 8½@9; extra choice 9½@9¾; fancy 10@11½. Peaches remain nominal, with very little fruit available on spot. Raisins are somewhat unsettled. It is reported that the combination has offered a limited quantity of seeded raisins, slightly under the opening prices. The offerings are tentative, however, and subject to further consideration. Loose muscatels are quoted at 6¾@7½; seeded raisins 5¼@8¾; London layers 1.15@1.20.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The report of the Census Bureau, issued today, giving the amount of cotton ginned to October 18 as 4,940,728 bales, against 6,417,881 bales to the same date last year, caused sensational fluctuations in the late session of the cotton market today. Inside of ten minutes after the figures were published, January option, which had been selling as low as 10.32, shot up 37 points to 10.70. The market was feverishly excited. On the bulge, leading bears became very aggressive, however, and the market reacted almost as rapidly as it had advanced. Before the report was published, a rumor was in circulation saying the report would show fully 6,000,000 bales ginned. The closing was steady at a net advance of 18 to 20 points. The sales of the day were estimated at 1,500,000 bales.

New York Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The London tin market was somewhat irregular, with spot closing at £148, 12s, 6d and futures at £148. Locally, the market was dull and lower, with spot quotations at 32.35@32.65. Copper was lower in London, closing at £71, 15s, for spot, and £70, 5s for futures. Locally, the market was quiet, with Lake quoted at 16.37½@16.75; electrolytic at 16.25@16.62½ and casting at 16.00@16.37½. Lead was unchanged, at £14, 17s, 6d in London market. Locally, the market is reported firm, with spot supplies quoted at 5.20@5.40. Spelter was steady at 6.15@6.25, locally, but was easier abroad at £28, 12s, 6d. Iron locally was firm.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Cattle, Receipts 22,000; market, best strong, others steady. Beeves, 3.70@6.30; cows and heifers, 1.15@4.50; stockers and feeders, 2.10@4.30; Texans, 3.00@4.00; westerns, 3.25@4.75. Hogs, receipts 26,000; tomorrow, 22,000; market 10 cents lower; mixed and butchers, 4.85@5.40; good heavy, 5.15@5.40; rough heavy, 4.70@4.90; light, 5.25; pigs, 4.75@5.30; bulk 4.90@5.30. Sheep, receipts 30,000; market weak, Sheep 4.00@5.60; lambs 4.75@7.65.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25.—When the report of the Census Bureau was received, prices in cotton spot went up 44 to 63 points higher than the lowest of the day, or as much as 3.15 per bale. December, at 1:10 p.m. was 10.35; January 10.74, 44 points higher, and March, 10.92, 63 points higher. The report effectually controverted the false reports sent out earlier in the day.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Cotton—Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 10.65; middling gulf, 10.90. Sales 108 bales.

New York Orange Market.

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There were five cars offered at today's auction of citrus fruits. The market continues strong on all fruit of good quality. Fancy Valencias ranged from 4.10 to 6.25 per box. A few half boxes of extra fancy were offered and brought 3.25 per box. Choice grades realized from 5.00 to 6.40; and standards from 3.70 to 5.30; extra choice California lemons brought an average of 5.85; and standards, 5.40 per box.

Liverpool Grain.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 25.—Close—Wheat, December, 7s; March, 6s, 11 ⅛d.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

FRUIT, GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today's market for deciduous fruits was unsatisfactory for the trade generally, late arrivals of freight boats and trains causing unsettled tone and irregular prices. There were no fresh offerings of table grapes for early trade, and belated arrivals depressed the market. The day closed with heavy surplus. The market for cantaloupes and nutmeg melons also was top-heavy, and late arrivals dragged at sharply reduced prices. Figs in limited supply and fancy sold at higher rates. Pomegranates were more plentiful and cheaper, and persimmons were easy under free supplies. In citrus fruits, Valencias closely cleaned up and purely nominal. Intermediate-crop navels attracted good buying interest, and the best-desired size sold quickly at top quotations. Grapefruit was scarce and higher. Lemons and limes are unchanged, fancy lots of the former holding steady at maximum rate. The feature in the market for vegetables was the limited supplies of most descriptions of miscellaneous varieties. Under keen demand, there was a general hardening of values. Fine-quality tomatoes sold briskly at maximum quotations. Summer squash and cucumbers were sparingly offered and improved rates obtained. Peppers also were higher and eggplant and beans commanded advanced rates. There was little change in the market for potatoes.

Notice and Petition.

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

Gentlemen: Now comes the undersigned, your petitioners, and respectfully represent that they, and each of them, are bona fide residents within the TERRITORY hereinafter described and proposed, and that they, and each of them, are qualified electors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

And further, your petitioners represent, allege and set forth as follows, to wit:

First—That within the boundaries of the proposed municipal corporation, hereinafter set forth and more particularly described, there is now living and residing five hundred inhabitants and that the said proposed municipal corporation is not now incorporated as a municipal corporation.

Second—That the undersigned petitioners are at least fifty (50) of the qualified electors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and are each and all of them bona fide residents within the limits and boundaries of the proposed municipal corporation.

Third—That the following is a particular description of the boundaries of the said proposed muncipal corporation:

Beginning at the intersection of the center line of the right of way of the San Pedro branch of the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad Company with the center line of the Wilmington and San Pedro road; a map of said road being filed in the office of the County Surveyor, and numbered 1024, said intersection now referred to being the most northern of the two or more intersections of the said roads which occur in this vicinity, and being a point in or near the curve shown on said map No. 1024, between stations 82x72.5 and 90x29; thence easterly in a straight line to a point on the center line of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad from San Pedro to Wilmington, said point being 1920 feet northerly, measured along the center line of the said Southern Pacific Railroad from its intersection with the present northerly boundary line of the City of San Pedro; thence continuing easterly in a straight line upon a prolongation of the line from said point of beginning 2100 feet to a point; said last described line passing 340 feet southerly from the southerly end of Mormon Island; thence northeasterly in a straight line to a point in the westerly line of lot two (2) of Terminal Island, as said lot is shown on a map of Terminal Island, filed in the office of the County Recorder, and numbered 132, which is distant southwesterly 175 feet from the northwest corner of said lot two (2;) thence northeasterly, in a straight line to a point in the westerly line of lot three (3) as the same is shown on said map of Terminal Island, which is distant northwesterly, measured along the westerly line of said lot three (3,) 300 feet from the northeast corner of said lot two (2;) thence northeasterly in a straight line to a point in the southerly line of the Wilmington and Anaheim road, said point being distant 1000 feet easterly of the northeast corner of block 26, of New San Pedro or Wilmington, as the same is shown in a map recorded in Book 6, pages 66 and 67 of Deeds, in the office of the County Recorder; thence along the southerly line of the said Wilmington and Anaheim road to the westerly line of the City of Long Beach; thence northwesterly in a straight line to a point in the east line of the right of way of the San Pedro branch of the Southern Pacific Railroad, said point being the intersection point of the east line of the said railroad right of way with the production easterly of the northerly line of New San Pedro or Wilmington, as the same is shown on map before mentioned.

Thence westerly along the production easterly of and the northerly line of New San Pedro or Wilmington and along the northerly line of Wilmington and the production westerly of the said northerly line to the easterly line of the Rancho Los Palos Verdes; thence southerly along the easterly line of said rancho to the southerly line of the Wilmington and Salt Works road, as the same is shown on a map of "Peck's" subdivision of lot "J" and a portion of "H," of the partition of Rancho Los Palos Verdes, filed in the office of the County Recorder, and numbered 141; thence westerly along the southerly line of the said Wilmington and Salt Works road to the intersection of the said southerly line with the westerly line of the right of way of the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad; thence southerly along the said westerly line of the said right of way of the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad, following its various courses and curves to a point, said point being due west of the place of beginning; thence due east to place of beginning.

Fourth—That your petitioners believe that the interests of the inhabitants residing within the boundaries of the proposed municipal corporation, above described, and the interests of all owners of property within said boundaries above mentioned, will be subserved and promoted by its incorporation as a city of the sixth (6th) class.

Fifth—That there is attached to said petition an affidavit of three (3) qualified electors verifying that the said petition has, and bears the required number of signatures of qualified electors.

Sixth—That notice is hereby given that said petition will be presented to, and filed with the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County, State of California, on Monday, November 6, 1905.

Wherefore, your petitioners pray this Honorable Board that that portion of Los Angeles County, State of California, lying within the boundaries hereinbefore described, may be incorporated as a municipal corporation of the sixth (6th) class under the name and style of the City of Wilmington, under and by virtue of the provisions of an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of Municipal Corporation." Approved March 13, 1883, and the acts amendatory and supplemental thereto.

In witness whereof, the undersigned qualified electors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, have affixed their names and signatures hereto.

Erie's Notable Merger—Great Northern Opens Fields in Canada.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The conclusion of the present year will witness the consummation of some of the greatest deals ever recorded in the railroad properties of the Middle West and the construction of a greater mileage in tracks than has ever been known.

The most important event observed has been the merger of the interests of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, the Pere Marquette and the Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville with the Erie system. By the collection of these systems under one management, a total mileage of 6046 miles has been attained, with outlets to the Atlantic Coast and entrances into the West and Southwest, via Chicago and St. Louis. The three systems merged with the Erie carry to that road stock representing $48,206,000 and bonds to the amount of $49,535,000.

Probably nothing of more vital concern to Chicago in the way of extensions under construction has been inaugurated than the extending of the Indiana Harbor line from Indiana Harbor, Ind., to Danville, Ill. The completion of this hundred miles of track offers the Big Four road an entrance into Chicago over its own tracks, and will open up great coal fields in Central Illinois.

The Burlington has under construction 250 miles of new road between Bridgeport, Neb., and Guernsey, Wyo., with the intention of building into Salt Lake the coming year, a total mileage, when completed, of 550 miles.

The Northwestern is building from Pierre, S. D., to Rapid City, 165 miles.

To open up the grain fields along the northern boundaries the Great Northern has built feeders into Canada from the main line, representing 122 miles in the aggregate.

The Soo has under construction 300 miles of road from Thief River Falls, Minn., to Kenmare, N. D., acquiring by this extension entrance into some of the most valuable producing territories of the country.

Of 300 miles of road to be added to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, extending to Deadwood, S. D., from Chamberlain, in the same State, 70 miles are ready for operation and the remainder will be completed before spring.

ST. PAUL TO SEATTLE.

The most extensive project now under consideration is the establishment by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul of a direct connection with the Pacific Coast at Seattle, from its present western terminal to the Pacific Coast. Declarations have been made by President Williams of the Pacific Railway, under construction from Wallula, Wash., to Seattle, that the objective of that road is the connection at the former point, within the next two years, with the extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul to that place from Deadwood, S. D.

Williams, until within the last year, was identified with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul as general manager, which position he resigned suddenly to become president of the Pacific road, a short line covering, only a distance, when completed, of 350 miles. With him, equally suddenly, went W. L. Dowling, chief engineer of the Rock Island, considered one of the best-informed and most capable constructing engineers in the country.

For years, it is claimed, the Burlington, which has been handling much of extreme western business for the St. Paul, has been cutting down the prestige of the latter as a carrier, and the situation has become so keen that the Rockefellers have at last begun the construction of a system with coast outlet that could handle the business of its own organization.

The Northwestern, anticipating the very move that is being made by the St. Paul, is also constructing lines from its present terminal at Pierre, S. D., to Rapid City, a distance of 165 miles.

IN THE SOUTHWEST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Advance sheets of "Poor's Manual of Railroads," which will be issued November 1, gives the length of steam railroads in the United States in December 31, 1904, as 212,349 miles, a net increase of 5014 miles in the year. The heaviest construction of the year was in the southwestern group of States, in which no less than 1716 miles were built, Missouri having to its credit 418 miles, Arkansas 265 miles, Texas 318 miles, Kansas 31 miles, Colorado 147 miles, New Mexico less than one mile, Indian Territory 260 miles and Oklahoma Territory 279 miles.

Gross earnings increased $68,780,387 in 1904 over the earnings of 1903, or about 3.06 per cent.

UNION PACIFIC'S INJUNCTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On the application of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, Judge Munger in the United States District Court today issued a temporary injunction restraining the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Nebraska, Wyoming and Western Railroad Companies from interfering with the construction of the line now being constructed by the Union Pacific from Ofallan up the Platte Valley to Bridgeport, Neb. The object of securing this injunction is to prevent the construction of the Burlington's proposed line from North Platte to Bridgeport, and thus to keep it out of what hitherto has been conceded by both roads to be Union Pacific territory.

It is related in the petition that the Burlington, in order to delay the construction of the Union Pacific's line, has undertaken to locate a right-of-way which frequently crosses that of the Union Pacific; that it has done this in bad faith, and that it has no intention of building a line up the Platte Valley. The court is asked to make the injunction permanent.

BRONZE STATUE OF M'KINLEY.

MAGNIFICENT POPULAR TRIBUTE UNVEILED IN BAY STATE.

Springfield's Citizens Gave of Their Means to Testify Their Love for the Late Chief Magistrate. Lieut.-Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., Delivers the Oration.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A magnificent bronze memorial to the late President McKinley paid for by the contributions of Springfield citizens, rich and poor, was unveiled here today in the presence of thousands of people of this city and surrounding towns. Miss Sallie Leeds, daughter of Alfred Leeds, unveiled the monument, and the orator of the day was Lieut.-Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., whose speech was a glowing eulogy of the martyred President.

The memorial was designed and executed by Philip Martiny, the famous New York sculptor, and consists of a granite base 14 feet high, upon which is poised a fine bronze bust of William McKinley, while a female figure in bronze, 14 feet tall, is reaching up to place upon the President's head a bronze palm wreath. On the pedestal in front of the figure is the seal of the city, also in bronze, 4½ feet in diameter. The inscription is the one word—"McKinley." The main shaft weighs ten tons.

The memorial is located on Pecousic Hill, overlooking the Connecticut River and facing Mount Tom. The site is imposing, and entirely in keeping with the spirit of the memorial.

The movement for the fund was begun immediately after President McKinley's death, James T. Abee, chairman of the commission, presented the monument to the city, and Mayor Dickinson accepted in behalf of Springfield.

HE LOOKED LIKE SMITH.

So American Consuls Thought When They Ordered Arrest of Capitalist McCormick.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Arrested at Pyrea, Greece, because he resembled defaulting Tax Collector Smith of San Francisco, turned down by the American Consul at Athens, to whom he showed his passport, and ordered under arrest again by the American Consul at Dresden, is the experience of Capt. R. C. McCormick, a well-known Seattle capitalist, who returned today from Europe.

At Athens, he first observed that he was being shadowed, and reported to Consul Horton, who promised to straighten the matter out with the police, but failed. At Dresden, the American Consul ordered him held. When released, he proceeded to Pyrea, and was arrested for Smith.

The News is Given to the World That Nicholas Has Granted Constitution—The Government Moves a Few Trains, but There is Practically No Improvement in Strike Situation—Bloody Encounters Taking Place.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to semi-private communications, a grand duel is taking place in the palace at Peterhof between the court and the reactionary party. One side is headed by Trepoff and Pobiedonostzeff, who are violently opposing Witte, the champion of liberty, a constitution, freedom of the press and of public meetings.

WITTE DOMINATES SITUATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—The Emperor asked Count Witte to speak frankly. After listening to the statesman's exposition of the situation, he appeared utterly unnerved by the deplorable state of affairs and cried out that he was weary of the struggle and felt like leaving all and fleeing to Darmstadt; hence, probably, the origin of the report that the Emperor was going abroad.

Count Witte, however, told the Emperor that, in his opinion, not even a republic could now save Russia from anarchy. It was the Emperor's duty to the people and to the country to face the situation by meeting the classes—namely, to abrogate the autocratic power and grant a constitution by creating a ministry responsible alike to the Crown and to the representatives of the nation.

The Emperor finally accepted, requesting Count Witte to draft a project, which in skeleton form he approved last Sunday, when the Count agreed to accept the premiership on condition that he could name the ministers, and that they should report to His Majesty only through himself, as the head of the cabinet.

The above interesting details have been learned by the Associated Press regarding Count Witte's interview with Emperor Nicholas last week at which it was agreed that the time had come to limit the autocratic power and to give the people a real share in the government of the Empire.

Count Witte, in advance of the formal promulgation of his appointment as premier, completely dominates the situation.

DRAGOONS FIRE ON WORKMEN.

At Pabyianic, in the government of Piotrakoff, dragoons today fired on a demonstration of 4000 workmen, killing two and wounding fourteen.

A military patrol today refused to mount guard on the streets.

Many policemen are leaving the service.

Foreign mails have arrived over the Nord Express, from Paris, which stopped six miles from the capital.

Workmen at the Admiralty works and other naval yards have joined the strike.

Several officials connected with the state railroads, which are under the direction of the ministry of railroads, also have gone on strike.

The Socialist leaders are organizing a movement for the sale of arms to the strikers.

St. Petersburg was in a panic today. The most alarming rumors were in circulation and the shopkeepers on all of the principal streets closed their stores and boarded up the doors and windows, while peaceful-minded inhabitants kept within doors. Anxiety was evidenced in the whole atmosphere of the city, but, so far, nothing has occurred to justify these fears. There were no disorders.

Gen. Trepoff, who has been placed in command of the St. Petersburg garrison and given an additional division of reinforcements, declares that he is amply able to maintain order. The police are allowing the strikers to vent their enthusiasm, so as to avoid a demonstration. Gen. Trepoff instructed the police not to interfere with the parades so long as they were orderly, but he gave notice tonight that he was prepared to cope firmly with any disorder. He had printed in all the evening papers a notification that the troops will tomorrow be ordered to use cartridges entirely in case there should be any outbreak.

GOVERNMENT MOVES TRAINS.

By the greatest exertions, the government today succeeded in moving trains manned by military operatives on a few railroads. Traffic was resumed irregularly on the Moscow and St. Petersburg Railroad and on lines from Moscow to Brest and Kazan. The first efforts were directed to the moving of cattle trains so as to meet the pinch of approaching famine in the two capitals and one train load of cattle arrived at St. Petersburg and another at Moscow. A scanty supply of milk, butter and eggs is arriving in St. Petersburg over the Finland Railroad, the employés of which refuse to strike. The situation, however, cannot be regarded as much improved.

The strikers, at their meetings today, were as determined as ever to continue the strike and the full force of the government railroad battalions is almost helpless in the face of the general strike on the railroads. The most encouraging features of the situation is the absence of any wide-spread disorder.

Picturesque details have been received of the uprising at Kharkoff, where students and strikers took possession of the locality in the center of the city containing the university, the cathedral and other buildings, threw up barricades, constructed a regular fortress and elected a provisional government, but cool heads effected a rearrangement of matters.

FREE PRESS AND SPEECH GIVEN.

As the result of a series of special ministerial counsels under the presidency of Count Witte, held to adopt measures to deal with the internal situation, new national assembly laws and laws granting practical freedom of the press and of speech were adopted. A meeting will be promulgated forthwith.

KAISER PALE OVER RUSSIAN SITUATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a great rush for midday papers today owing to the intense anxiety aroused by the situation in Russia. Since the stirring times of the recent war there has not been such a good sale of newspapers. Those living up to the desire of the public for sensations are published with startling headlines, one of which indicates that the Czar is preparing "immediate flight." Another says Russia is in "full revolution." A third proffers "bloodshed and barricades in St. Petersburg." One truth is evident, namely, that Moscow is completely cut off from the outer world.

Prince Friedrich Leopold, looking thin and worn after his experience as the German Emperor's representative in Manchuria, appeared at a quarter before noon at the Friedrich Strasse Station in Berlin, where he was met by the Emperor with full military honors. When he arrived at Warsaw, he could have got no further had not a special German train carrying sixty fusiliers been sent ready to meet force by force to rescue him from his unpleasant position, for Warsaw is bubbling over with revolutionary sentiments.

Emperor William, as he drove down Unter den Linden to unveil the Moltke monument, looked ashen gray, as is his wont when troubled. His features were set with grim seriousness. It was told that he is deeply affected by the troubles of Emperor Nicholas, for whom he feels a sincere sympathy and affection. It is whispered that should matters become desperate the German Emperor would not hesitate to come to the aid of his brother Emperor.

People anxiously desirous of reaching Warsaw, Moscow and St. Petersburg are besieging the railway ticket offices fruitlessly for there are no trains. The only route now possible is by ship from Stettin, a sixty-five-hours' voyage, with no steamship starting till Sunday. Even then, night will prevent the ship reaching St. Petersburg.

Berlin's Stock Exchange today took a pessimistic view of the situation. Russian consols fell 1 1-2 points.

Inquiries made late this evening at the ticket offices by would-be travelers met with uncompromising reply: "There is no communication with Russia and the railroad authorities cannot say when there will be."

"PURE DRAMA" FOR CHICAGO.

Woman's Club Puts a Ban on the Ballet and the "Problem Play."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chicago Woman's Club is to have a downtown theater, where "pure drama" will take up the fight against what the club women term the "indecencies of the stage."

The ballet will be unknown on the club women's stage. Short gowns and French heels will be eliminated. The "problem play" will also be on the blacklist. Every suggestion of the present-day drama will be barred.

BAD TEMPER OF VILLANEUVA.

SPAIN'S NAVAL MINISTER LIKELY TO SMASH CABINET.

Because Weyler Got a Grand Cross from the French President the "Supreme Head of the Navy" Can Accept Nothing Less, Not Even the "Double Cross."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MADRID, Oct. 26.—[By Atlantic Cable.] President Loubet's visit to Madrid was concluded this evening without special incident. He was accompanied to the station by King Alfonso, and left for Lisbon at 6:15 o'clock. He will reach the Portuguese frontier early tomorrow morning.

The ministerial crisis augments daily, owing to the peculiar attitude of the friends of Minister of Marine Villaneuva, who objected to President Loubet bestowing the grand cross of the Legion of Honor on him, after conferring a higher order on Gen. Weyler, the Minister of War.

Villaneuva maintains that, as supreme head of the navy, he should not receive a lower decoration than the head of the army. French circles hold that Villaneuva's action is the result of his unsympathetic sentiments toward France, and it is said that the incident will result in his retirement from the Cabinet.

The Premier is seeking to prevent the disruption going beyond the Minister of Marine, but other retirements, including that of the Minister of Finance, are considered to be imminent.

WANTED, A FORAGE PLANT.

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prof. E. A. Freed, who is conducting agricultural experiments on the Isle of Pines for the twelve hundred Americans now there, is seeking a hardy forage plant which will grow there. He left today for California to investigate the forage plants grown there. Millet grown on the plains near Denver may be tried.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WOOLS.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is a noticeable improved demand for Southern California wools on the Boston market during the past week, lots being picked up at 20 to 21 cents, with some big transfers under way. Middle county is selling at 24@25 cents; the scoured cost being 70@72 cents, and scoured cost of Southern 68@70 cents.

MISSING BONDS FOUND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bankers and brokers were notified today that $40,000 of Union Pacific bonds were missing, and the detective agency which sent out the notice over the tickers added that the securities might have been stolen or lost. Wall street had just begun to get excited when it was announced that the securities had been found.

AMALGAMATED EARNINGS.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator William A. Clark is telling his friends that he figures that the Amalgamated Copper Company is earning at the rate of between $15,000,000 and $18,000,000 per annum on its $163,000,000 stock at the present time.

DO THEY PEER IN?

Touched-Up Bank Examiners.

Allegheny Scandal Presents a New Feature of the Utmost Importance.

Enterprise Concern Insolvent Several Years and No Disclosure Made.

The Department of Justice is Now Pursuing the Investigation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A new interest has been given the Enterprise National Bank scandal by the action of the United States Department of Justice investigating the National Bank Department's work at the Allegheny institution.

F. F. Oldham, who represents the Department of Justice, is here, and said tonight: "The examination of the Enterprise National Bank has been taken out of the hands of the National Bank Examiner, and is now in charge of the Department of Justice. Whatever is criminal in the bank's affairs will be laid before United States District Attorney J. W. Dunkle without fear or favor."

When asked what means would be taken to protect the depositors, Judge Oldham said: "We'll try to make as much of the shortage good as possible from the Clark estate. We will put in a claim against the estate for the amount of the shortage, and receive our share in the distribution."

"But has he any estate?" was asked.

"I have been unable to discover any of his holdings. If he had any, it is not apparent. I'm told he was worth $500,000. Anyone who knows of any of Clark's holdings will confer a favor upon the depositors of the bank and the Department of Justice by informing us of such holdings. There is no desire to keep the amount of the shortage a secret," he concluded.

From what has been gathered up to date, the Enterprise Bank has been insolvent for several years, and it is asked: How did this fact escape the Comptroller of the Currency?

Do bank examiners examine? Is the question asked here on every side, since the new phase of the bank's failure has been made clear.

H. R. Mattern of Franklin made the last examination of the Enterprise National Bank. He was seen at his home in Franklin, Pa., and refused to say anything on the subject. The first intimation the public had of the present state of affairs was when John Marren was visited by a client, who wanted him to recover 145 shares of Crucible Steel stock held by a Pittsburgh bank. He had borrowed $8500 from the Enterprise National Bank, and someone in the Enterprise bank had taken his stock and hypothecated it. The Pittsburgh bank holding the shares at first offered to give them up unconditionally to the Enterprise bank receiver.

Nearly all of the banks in the country holding securities under the same conditions, having secured them from the Enterprise bank, offered to put up a stiff fight against giving up the shares.

BUSINESS MEN FETE TOGO.

TOKIO, Oct. 26, 7 p.m.—The Business Men's Association today gave a grand reception to Admiral Togo. The people of Tokio continue feting the officers and men of the navy. Vice-Admiral Kamimura's squadron sailed today for Shinagawa.

ROPE OR THE KNIFE FOR MURDERERS?

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Shall condemned murderers be vivisected?"

This question, raised by Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska, in a lecture-address, was put to three condemned murderers here today. Andrews said the murderers owed it to society to offer their bodies in interest of medical science, and that there was hope they might survive the operation and live good lives afterward.

John Mueller, slayer of his wife and two babies, said he would take a chance on vivisection, if given freedom providing he survived.

"Jocko" Briggs, a former prize fighter, said he would rather take the rope, if all hope were gone.

Johann Hoch, the Bluebeard with thirty-two wives, believed to have slain eleven of them, said: "I would be willing, for the sake of humanity, to let the doctors chloroform me and go to work upon my body, but I would stipulate that they should make the dose so strong that I never would awaken."

Hoch is sentenced to hang December 15, and the other two have temporary respites.

ENTHUSIASM INTENSE IN NEW ORLEANS.

The President Receives Greatest Ovation of His Entire Tour.

Gratitude for His Sympathetic Efforts in the Yellow Fever Fight Inspires Loyal Southrons to Give Him a Frenzied Welcome—Lafayette Square Speech Broken up by Multitude's Demonstration.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26.—Gratitude for the immeasurable service he rendered here in the successful struggle against the yellow-fever epidemic was the dominant note in the splendid welcome that New Orleans extended the President today. Political differences were effaced and past antagonisms forgotten in a spontaneous demonstration of popular appreciation of the President's unfailing sympathy and practical help throughout the period of the fever's visitation.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today one hundred and fifty thousand Louisianans greeted Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, with a warmth of sentiment and an affectionate interest surpassing anything ever before known in the history of New Orleans.

The crescendo of welcome, the first note of whose scale sounded with the bells and guns and whistles at Stuyvesant docks, found final chord in the wild enthusiasm at the St. Charles Hotel this afternoon, where the guest of the city declared anew his heartfelt sympathy with the fever fight waged last summer and announced that, in response to requests from Gov. Blanchard and Mayor Behrman, he would detail Surgeon J. H. White of the Marine Hospital service to remain here as long as should be desired.

Besides the declaration there were pronouncements by the President for the Panama canal, that it should be built; built well, as speedily as possible, and it will absolutely and surely be done well." There was also a declaration for greater Federal government share in the great task of maintaining the vast levee system of the Mississippi River.

MAN OF SQUARE DEALING.

But more than the central features of the speech, the man himself caught his hosts. There was wit and pathos and straight hard hits from the shoulder in the President's speech, in fact, he didn't make a speech. He talked to the men of Louisiana, told them what his emotions were on coming here and what he felt about the things that interested them—taking for granted all the time that they knew he was the President for them, as well as for everybody else, and further taking it for granted that he would be understood, and that his sincerity and purpose and intention would be taken for the full measure of its worth.

TOUR OF THE RIVER.

The President's entertainment began with his arirval at Stuyvesant docks, where he was taken on board the Morgan liner Comus, tendered by the Southern Pacific, and to a tornado of tumult from the river crafts, was taken on a 20-mile tour of the river front.

ITS LARGEST PARADE.

At noon he was landed at the foot of Canal street, where the longest and largest military and civic parade in the history of the city met him and escorted him over the three-mile route of the parade. All the way, the streets were thronged; everywhere the greeting had the same warmth, the same human interest in the man himself. It had been cloudy when the first move in the programme was made, but when the President arrived, after his tour past the decorated customhouse, the gathered negroes, the assembled school children at Lee Monument and had arrived before the City Hall, the sun broke through the clouds.

CROWD UNMANAGEABLE.

There, the vast throng that had filled Lafayette Square to overflowing became absolutely unmanageable, and the President spoke only a few brief words, saying how glad he was to see New Orleans, and advising the audience, then reaching near forty thousand, to disperse to its home, that women and children might not be hurt. At the hotel there was an eager, cheering, welcoming throng.

THE VETERANS.

Before luncheon the President was waited on by a delegation of Confederate veterans, by a committee of G.A.R., by representatives of the women's organizations. Then he conferred with Gov. Blanchard, Mayor Behrman, Charles Janvier and Dr. Warner on quarantine, and finally announced at the lucheon that he would detail Dr. White to the duty here, the understanding being that the detail would last past the danger point next summer.

Even the night farewell in the river was dramatic, and the whistles and guns and bells boomed good-by as the lighthouse tender Magnolia put out into the stream.

NINE STRENUOUS HOURS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26.—At the end of nine strenuous hours of varied entertainment in New Orleans, which brought his exceptionally pleasant trip through the South to a close, the President at 6:30 o'clock tonight boarded the lighthouse tender Magnolia and began the first stage of his return journey to the national capital. No newspaper reporters accompanied him, and he will be out of touch with the world throughout the night, but daylight tomorrow is expected to bring news of his successful transfer to the armored cruiser West Virginia, which lies at anchor off the mouth of the river to receive him, and of the beginning of the scond stage of the journey.

For four days he will be absent from American soil, which has never heretofore happened to a President during his incumbency, but through the means of wireless telegraphy, it is promised that he will be seldom out of communication with the shore.

The President's New Orleans reception was a signal testimonial of popular esteem. New Orleans today remembered not only that the President had acted with characteristic promptness when asked to send Federal surgeons to take charge of the fever struggle, but throughout the fight here sustained the people of the stricken city with expressions of unfailing sympathy, and when a large share of the public opinion of the country opposed his venturing into New Orleans with the fever still prevailing, he refused to consider the element of personal danger and declared his purpose to keep the promise he made when he accepted the original invitation to come.

The densely-crowded streets, the elaborate decorations, the wild applause that greeted him along the whole route of the parade, the enthusiasm with which his address to the multitude in Lafayette Square was received and the remarkable demonstration in his honor at the luncheon, were outward manifestations of the spirit in which the people welcomed him.

STOPPED HIS SPEECH.

Probably for the first time in his public career, the President was compelled to abandon a public address before he had got well started on it. It was contemplated that the military and civic parade should pass in review before the President at the City Hall, but the crowd which gathered at this point was so tremendous that neither the police nor the troops were able to move it, and the President, foreseeing a possible catastrophe in the event of a panic, finally gave up the attempt to speak and left the platform.

In the Mayor's parlors, well-nigh exhausted, he expressed himself as immensely pleased with the demonstration in his honor, which was far beyond his expectations or the expectations of the members of his party, and said that the reception was the greatest that he had had since he had started on his trip.

AT THE BANQUET.

The demonstration at the luncheon was scarcely less exuberant. When the President entered the superbly-decorated dining-hall the 625 banqueters rose as one man and gave way to frantic cheers. Every thought he uttered was the signal for an extraordinary exhibition of enthusiasm, and as his speech dealt almost entirely with local subjects, and had special reference to the fight against yellow fever the banquet developed into an increasing ovation.

An immense crowd packed Gravier and St. Charles streets as the dinner ended, and the appearance of the President on his way to the river provoked thunderous applause. As the Magnolia left her landing a Presidential salute was fired, and the indescribable din of the whistles of the factories and river craft mingled with the lusty cheering throng of people which had collected on the wharf.

Nowhere did the President see the slightest evidence of the existence of any remnants of the fever. He saw on every hand immense gatherings of apparently happy and contented people, and it may reasonably be believed that he carried away with him the impression that, however serious the visitation of disease may have been, it is now little more than a memory.

COLORED CITIZENS.

The only opportunity which the colored citizens of New Orleans had to meet the President was while the parade was passing the Iroquois Club, and the President stopped there to receive an engrossed address expressing the sentiments of the colored people toward him. He made a short speech in response.

SERIES OF RECEPTIONS.

After a short rest in his hotel the President held a series of receptions. The first was for a group of Confederate Veterans, who presented to him a watch chain of crossed Union and Confederate flags as a souvenir of the trip. The second of the receptions was to a group of Grand Army Veterans.

Representatives of various women's associations had five minutes with the President, during which Mrs. Bahen, president of the Women's League, which was active in the fever fight, pinned a badge of the association used during the campaign on the lapel of his coat.

DAY'S CLIMAX.

The climax of the day's entertainment was the luncheon which started shortly after 3 o'clock and was prolonged fifteen minutes beyond the time set for it, as a result of the continuous ovation given to the President. The President sat beneath the pelican flag, with Mayor Behrman on one side of him and Gov. Blanchard on the other. Senators Foster and McEnery and Congressmen Davey and Meyer, and a large number of representative citizens were present.

Gov. Blanchard extended the welcome on behalf of the State. When the applause that followed the toastmaster's remarks introducing him had subsided, the President said, in part:

"One thing that as President of this country I won't do is to make a bluff that I can't make good. I don't intend, on behalf of the nation, to take any position until I have carefully thought out whether that position will be advantageous to the nation, but if I like it I am going to keep it. And I am sure that you gentlemen know it has been a mistake to think of me as a man desirous of seeing this nation quarrelsome. I have no respect either for the nation or for the individual that brawls.

"I want to see this nation do as the individual men in the nation who would respect themselves should do, scrupulously regardful of the rights of others and honestly endeavoring to avoid all cause of difficulty. But I want, on behalf of this nation, the peace that comes not to the coward who cringes for it, but the peace of the just man armed, who asks it as a right.

"The Governor spoke on the Panama Canal. It's a big work, and it is a very big nation only that can do that kind of work. I expect soon to have a report from the engineers as to the exact shape that the work will take. I will then be able to make more definite forecasts as to the time, but of this I can assure you, the work will be done well; it will be done as speedily as possible, and it will absolutely be done."

At the ladies' entrance to the hotel, the First Troop of Cavalry and a mounted escort of Rough Riders were drawn up.

When the President appeared he was once more wildly cheered. From his open carriage he gracefully acknowledged the greeting. With his escort he was driven down Canal street to the river. The brilliant street was crowded with men, women and children, and the President was enthusiastically applauded all the way to Canal street. He was quickly received on board the Magnolia and the boat put off from her landing and started down the river amid the pandemonium of the cheering multitude.

HIS VOYAGE B WATER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The armored cruiser, West Virginia, the vessel which carries the President from New Orleans to Hampton Roads, on his return from the Southland, is the flagship of the armored cruiser division of the North Atlantic fleet, which consists of the Colorado, Pennsylvania and Maryland, in addition to the West Virginia. These vessels are practically identical in every way, and are the largest warships of the American navy now in commission. They represent the highest type and all that is modern in naval architecture.

This formidable division will take its place for the first time in the North Atlantic fleet, in time to participate in the reception to the British squadron commanded by Prince Louis of Battenberg, about to visit United States waters. The West Virginia is commanded by Capt. C. H. Arnold, while Rear-Admiral Brownson, commanding the division of which the West Virginia is the flagship, accompanies it on the Presidential trip.

The Colorado is commanded by Capt. Duncan Kennedy and the Pennsylvania by Capt. Thomas C. McLean. The Maryland, the fourth vessel of Rear-Admiral Brownson's division, which was undergoing repairs, could not be made ready in time to accompany the command on the southern trip, but will join it in Hampton Roads.

"TOURIST TRUST" ON FOR THE NEW YEAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The "tourist trust" will be organized January 18, 1906, at Salt Lake City. Former Governor Heber M. Wells of Utah has chosen that date for a conference for representatives of all Western States interested in advertising the West, so that thousands of Americans who have been in the habit of going to Europe annually will spend money hereafter in the West.

Governors, mayors, officers of all commercial associations, railroad agents, hotel men and others who are interested will be invited to the meeting in Salt Lake City. An informal meeting that afternoon will be followed by a public reception at 8:00 p.m., January 18, and a conference at 10 a.m., January 19, on definite plans of organization.

The meeting will be continued Saturday, January 20, if necessary, to complete an organization. The plan is to spend $500,000 annually for advertising.

SHEPARD GETS JAIL SENTENCE.

New Yorker Finds That He Can't Run 'Mobs Over French Peasants as if They Were Chickens.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Oct. 26.—The Ninth Correctional Tribunal of the Seine today sentenced Elliott Fitch Shepard, son of the late Col. Elliott F. Shepard of New York and grandson of the late W. H. Vanderbilt, to three months' imprisonment and $120 fine and to pay $4000 damages to the parents of Madeline Mardul, killed by Shepard's automobile, at St. Ouen, April 24. The imprisonment part of the sentence will not be carried out while awaiting the further course of procedure on the part of Shepard.

Friends of Shepard said later that he had intended to appeal from the fine and imprisonment part of the sentence but that the company insuring the automobile would not appeal from the award of $4000 damages to the parents. The appeal wil postpone the imprisonment until a final decision is given.

Shepard says he deeply regrets the affair, but feels that the prosecution assumed undue proportions owing to the recent popular agitation against fast automobiling.

Maitre Perncare, counsel for the prosecution, emphasized the need of making an example of Shepard, declaring that American millionaires had the habit of coming to France and running over peasants like chickens.

RECORD OF DE SOTO IS FOUND.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 26.—After more than three centuries, a record of the De Soto expedition has been found on the shore of Lake Itasca, under a huge boulder, where it has lain undisturbed. The record, written on the skin of an antelope, was found by Chester Gray, a farmer living on the shore of Lake Itasca, the source of the Mississippi. He will send the record to the Smithsonian Institution. The record, which is barely legible, is dated August 9, 1547, and signed by Ferdinand Villena and Sancho Cueva, members of the De Soto exploring party, who in the letter say they have named the lake whence rises the great river in which De Soto had been buried six years be-

WEDDING AT 3 A.M.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. JOSEPH (Mich.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This place furnished an innovation in the marriage at 3 o'clock this morning, of Andrew H. Crawford, millionaire and member of the Chicago Yacht Club, to Miss Evelyn Wright, also a yachting enthusiast and prominent in Chicago society. Miss Wright, accompanied by her mother, missed the early evening train from Chicago, and were obliged to take a night train. Crawford urged that the ceremony should be performed immediately they arrived, and Miss Wright acceded.

CHICAGO'S NEW ROSE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Mrs. Marshall Field rose is a newcomer in the floral world, originated by Peter Reinberg, a Chicago florist, by following the hybridization methods of Luther Burbank. The bloom is named in honor of the Chicago multi-millionaire's wife, who has just returned from a honeymoon trip in Europe, and is a cross between the Mme. Testout and Mme. Chatenay varieties. It is unusually beautiful and has a delightful fragrance. The color is pink, deep at the center and lighter at the edges.

AUTOS AND RACE SUICIDE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result of the revelations of the St. Louis mortuary clerk's office here, exponents of the strenuous life may be induced to place their official ban on the automobile, which has become a factor in race suicide. Three of the eighty-four still-born children reported to the Health Department in the last month died, according to the report of the attending physicians, on account of the mothers riding in automobiles. Eighty-four still born children in one month established the highwater mark of premature and defective births in St. Louis.

JUDGE FINES BROTHER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOREHOUD (Ky.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For contempt of court, Circuit Judge A. W. Young fined his brother, W. A. Young, Democratic nominee for Representative $25 and twenty-four hours in jail. The last part of the sentence was suspended on the strong appeal of friends. The trouble arose over the selection of a jury in a murder trial.

LACK OF ENTERPRISE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—It is not probable that the Enterprise National Bank will ever reopen its doors. Such is the opinion of many of the directors, of whom it is said that their main hope now is to save the depositors as much as possible.

In regard to the reimbursement of the State of Pennsylvania for $1,032,000 deposited, ex-Gov. William Stone of counsel for one of the sureties, said: "Arrangements are being made now to pay the State Treasurer the amount of the deposit in the Enterprise Bank, $1,032,000, and it was stated that the money would be paid within one week."

HIS BIBLE CLASS FRANTICALLY CHEERS FOLK, ALSO.

Supreme Court at San Francisco Hears Arguments on Alternative Writ of Mandate to Prohibit Election Commissioners from Placing Misleading Headings on Tickets.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s, Bible class took a plunge into politics last night, declaring for Jerome and cheering the candidate's name to the echo. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in person led the cheering. It was his first appearance before the class in nearly a year, and the big auditorium of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church was comfortably filled.

Rev. Dr. Rufus P. Johnstone, pastor of the church, addressed the class on "Our Young Men." The speaker outlined the career of a certain young man of Missouri who had done his duty and won a Governorship. "Hooray for Folk," yelled the Bible class.

Switching to Philadelphia, the orator drew a second picture which the audience identified with cheers as that of Mayor Weaver.

Gov. Montague of Virginia, Rockefeller's guest, spoke on "Higher Citizenship." In a voice of rare oratorical effect, he dwelt for nearly an hour on the duties of citizenship and patriotism.

MACHINE BREAKS, JEROME WINS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—With only one dissenting voice, and acting under a legal opinion rendered by Joseph H. Choate, the Executive Committee of the Republican County Committee late today decided to reconvene the New York County Convention tomorrow night in Murray Hill Lyceum. The call for the convention carries with it the recommendation that William Travers Jerome be nominated for District Attorney to fill the vacancy created yesterday by the resignation of Charles A. Flammer, who, in retiring from the ticket, advised his followers to vote for Mr. Jerome. The committee which almost unanimously voted for Jerome today opposed his nomination by 27 votes to 8 when his name was suggested for the Republican ticket a few weeks ago. The conditions created by the campaign caused a change in sentiment among the Republican leaders.

The only voice raised in opposition to the course determined upon by the Executive Committee was that of Abraham Gruber, an Assembly-district leader, who declared his constituents would not vote for Jerome.

DECLARES PLAN MISLEADING.

PARTRIDGE'S MAN ON PREFIXES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The Supreme Court today heard arguments on the alternative writ of mandate to prohibit the election commissioners of this city from placing the headings "Independent Republican" and "Independent Democratic" on the municipal tickets for the coming election. Attorney E. F. Treadwell, representing the petitioner, John S. Partridge, declared that the term "Independent," used as a prefix to a regular party name, was misleading and without warrant. Several decisions were cited to maintain the position that the headings referred to should not be used over the names of the Union Labor party nominees.

On behalf of the election commissioners, Thomas V. Cator, opposed the contentions of the petitioner and argued that if the decision should be against them then the name of the fusion nominees could appear only once on the ticket—either as Democrats, or Republicans—as they might prefer.

After Chief Justice Beatty had asked for references to the authorities quoted, the case was taken under advisement.

Thousands of Names Illegally on Lists.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26—Announcement was made by the police department last night that a recanvass of twenty-two of the forty-two wards of the city showed that 15,861 names were illegally on he latest voting lists of these wards. The Director of Public Safety said that his department would make every effort to prevent the voting of the alleged fraudulent names and that the whole power of the police would be directed toward securing an honest election.

WILL RESTORE RAISIN PRICES.

FRESNO, Oct. 26.—At a meeting of the directors of the Raisin Growers' Company tonight the action taken last Saturday cutting the prices of raisins was rescinded. The prices were cut for the purpose of seeing if the eastern market would loosen up. Orders during the period of probation have not been what was expected and the directors came to the concusion that the high prices should prevail.

President of University Puts Teachers in Flutter.

Mirage of San Francisco is Seen in Far North.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PACIFIC GROVE, Oct. 26.—Quite a flutter in the teachers' institute was caused this morning by President Wheeler of the University of California.

After a morning chiefly devoted to the study of arithmetic, Dr. Wheeler appeared and derided the whole grammar school curriculum, espcially selecting arithmetic for reprobation. In strong words, he expressed his views that the things taught in the grammar schools should be religion, in its Arnoldian sense of conduct, not creed; morals, manners, manual training, agriculture, music and Latin and some foreign language at the age of 9 to 14. He also anathemized the teaching of physics, now obtaining in the high schools.

SEE WONDERFUL MIRAGE.

SAN FRANCISCO IN FAR NORTH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—On the night of August 15, when the whaling bark Gayhead was cruising about seventy-five miles west of Pribyloff Island, in Bering Sea, Mate Pease and the men on deck were thunderstruck by the appearance of a great city immediately ahead. There was the shore line; rising above it were thousands of electric lights twinkling along a hundred streets. Here and there, apparently at prominent corners, were larger lights, and along the shore were the myriad of lights showing at wharves.

The mate and his men knew that this must be an imaginary city, and that for hundreds of miles beyond where these lights flared out was only a desolate expanse of water. The mate called Capt. Fisher and he looked upon the scene and was bewildered. There was no accounting for the wonderful sight. This city seemed as real as San Francisco seems to a vessel anchored in the channel near Goat Island.

When daylight came, the spectacle faded away, and in all directions was only the heaving bosom of the cold sea with no land in sight and no great city within thousands of miles.

SOLAR DISTURBANCE GREATER.

REV. RICARD'S OBSERVATIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 26.—Rev. Father Jerome Ricard, the Santa Clara College astronomer, announces that the group of sun spots under observation for the past few weeks has disappeared. He predicts its reappearance on the western rim of the sun two weeks from today.

Meanwhile, the solar disturbance which began on the 20th has increased and has traversed one-third of the solar hemisphere. It differs from previous appearances in that it is a single spot, not a group. It affects the elliptical form. Father Ricard infers the dimensions of the penumbra at 52,379.88 miles in width and 36,284.91 miles in length. The umbra is calculated to be 24,183.94 miles long and 12,094 miles wide. These figures, it is said, will be greatly increased during the next few days.

REVOLT.

Prince Hilkoff, the Minister of Railroads, the budget covering the remuneration of railroad employés will be revised to meet the promises of last spring. Unless this was done, the Prince announced he would resign.

The fact that the strike may jeopardize the success of the proposed new loan is one of the most potent levers behind the government and makes the foreign bankers the unconscious allies of the advocates of the far-reaching reforms which are about to be promulgated.

GEN. TREPOFF.
Military protector of St. Petersburg.

On the Bourse, prices were very weak today, imperial fours dropping to 88.

RUSSIA PRACTICALLY ISOLATED

1:15 p.m.—Russia is practically isolated from the rest of the continent of Europe, as the international train service on all the lines has virtually ceased. The tie-up in the interior is more complete than yesterday. The only trains running are operated by railroad battalions.

The strike contagion is spreading. All classes of workmen are organizing sympathetic strikes, and industrial life in the country is coming to a standstill. The situation cannot long continue. Either the workmen will soon be starved into submission or they will pillage, with military interference, and bloodshed on a large scale is bound to follow.

At Moscow, 600 cabmen have already fought the strikers, whom they charge with taking bread out of their mouths. In many cities, especially at Moscow, the question of bread is becoming extremely serious.

Collisions between troops and strikers are reported to have occurred at several places, but as a rule the revolutionary leaders are keeping their men in hand.

Communication by telegraph with many interior points is interrupted.

WHOLE COUNTRY ALARMED.

The whole country is becoming alarmed. The boats and the Finnish trains, now the only means of egress, are crowded with people fleeing abroad.

The situation here has grown much worse over night. The ranks of the 40,000 workmen from the mills and factories who joined the strikers yesterday were increased by 20,000 more this morning. All the employés of the port, 4000 in number, walked out, and 12,000 other men from the steel works left work in a body.

The inhabitants of St. Petersburg awoke to find the capital resembling a beleaguered city. All shops in the Vasiliostrov district and in all the suburbs are closed, windows are boarded and barred, and mounted patrols are to be seen everywhere in the streets. Except in the heart of the city, women and children are afraid to venture out. Workmen are gathering at all the places frequented in the days of Father Gapon, but they are quiet and the Cossacks have had no provocation to interfere. The general appearance of the town is menacing.

FOOD PRICES GO UP.

The prices of food have gone up and the supplies of beef are only sufficient for three days, but there are ample supplies of wheat and rye for two months. The Emperor and the court, at Peterhof, are supplied by a warship from St. Petersburg. All families who can afford it have hastened to lay in supplies and stand a siege. The suffering falls the heaviest upon the poor who live from hand to mouth. All the bakers sold out their bread before noon. The meat dealers have been ordered by the revolutionists not to deliver meat to the troops under pain of death, and consequently the soldiers are living on canned food. The butchers have notified their patrons that the meat markets will probably be closed tomorrow, because of lack of meat.

All the St. Petersburg schools were closed today and the children were sent home with instructions not to return until their parents think it is safe to do so.

The great strike promises to delay and possibly interrupt the negotiations for the new Russian loan. The international bankers here do not seem greatly disturbed by the situation, although they are constantly in receipt of threatening letters from the revolutionists, warning them that if they contract a loan without the consent of the national assembly it will be repudiated.

Nevertheless, the bankers are not disposed to close with the government until the situation has cleared up.

TREPOFF ON THE LID.

3:20 p.m.—By imperial order, the garrison of St. Petersburg has been placed under the command of Gen. Trepoff, Assistant Minister of the Interior, who is held responsible for the safety and order of the capital, and the troops distributed in various parts of the city, but martial law, with its accompanying hardships to the people, has not been proclaimed.

The garrison of St. Petersburg has hitherto been included in the military district of St. Petersburg, of which Grand Duke Vladimir is chief.

All the Ministers today were in conference with Gen. Trepoff. They are deliberating on an enlarged law of assembly.

5:25 p.m.—During the afternoon the alarm in St. Petersburg increased. The meat markets were raided by mobs and all the oil and candles were sold out. The people feared the city would be plunged in darkness but Gen. Trepoff acted energentically. The troops took possession of the water, gas and electric-light works and a strong guard was placed around the treasury.

JEWELS HURRIEDLY SECRETED.

Jewelers hurriedy sent their stock to places of safe keeping and the shopkeepers continue the work of boarding up their windows this afternoon.

During the afternoon, striking workmen began marching into the outlying districts and inviting their comrades to join them. The police and troops did not interfere, but by Gen. Trepoff's orders the spirit shops were closed.

During the day the pharmacists formally struck.

The police are becoming frightened, many of them offering their resignations.

Reports from the interior say that the troops are moving a few trains but with great difficulty. The strikers are tearing up the tracks in some places entirely.

A state of siege exists in Moscow. The street cars are stopped and the Cossacks have several times dispersed crowds of people.

Martial law has been declared at Elizabethpol.

Prince Louis Napoleon has resigned the Governor-Generalship of Erivan, Caucasia.

The Admiralty has no news of any mutiny on board ships of the Black Sea fleet, which is cruising under Vice-Admiral Birileff.

SHOWING THEIR FITNESS.

Minor tumults are reported from several other cities, but in general the strikers are adhering to their determination to make the protest in orderly fashion that they may show themselves fit for self-government.

The strike has proved most effective in forcing the government to speedy action on measures which have been slumbering in commission for many weeks. Wednesday night, the Ministers, after a five-hours' session, finished the final draft of a law creating a responsible Council of Ministers and today completed the revision of the statute granting freedom of assembly, both of which will be taken to Emperor Nicholas tomorrow for signature.

Tonight, the Ministers held another session, meeting formally as the Solsky Commission, but in reality as Count Witte's cabinet, to discuss the election regulations for the Douma. It was a short session and mainly concerned the elections in Siberia.

WHENCE COME FUNDS.

It is reported that Witte, simultaneously with the promulgation of the cabinet's statute, will issue a proclamation defining his policy and asking the nation to give a fair trial to the new governmental system and resist the efforts of revolutionaries to throw the entire country into a state of anarchy.

The source of the funds which are apparently at command of the revolutionists is a mystery. In Moscow, the revolutionary committee is paying the strikers 15 cents daily and has invested large sums in arms and ammunition. The rifles and cartridges taken in Finland and Poland were part of those purchased by the committee. It is conjectured that financial aid is being received from Socialists and revolutionists abroad, and some of it may come from America, in response to an appeal published recently in New York newspapers on behalf of the Jewish bund.

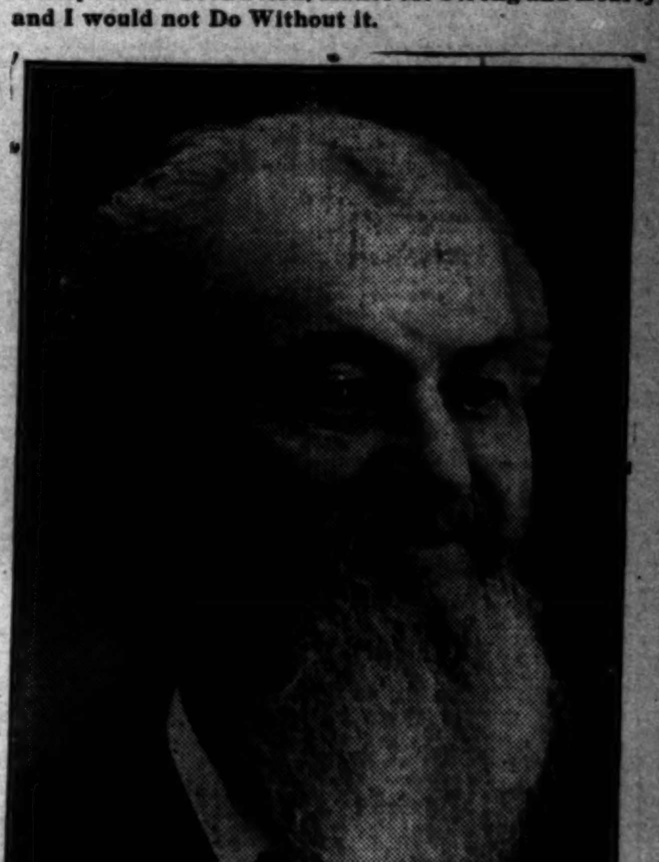
80 Years Old--Active as a Man of Thirty

Mr. J. C. Prentiss, of Ravenna, Ohio, Cured of Indigestion, and Enabled to Take Long Walks, Says that His Vigorous, Robust Health is Due Entirely to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"It Keeps Me in Good Flesh, Makes Me Strong and Hearty, and I would not Do Without it.



MR. J. C. PRENTISS.

Mr. Prentiss writes: "I am over eighty years old and feel as active and spry as I did fifty years ago. I take long walks, go up town every day, and I am in good health and spirits, better than I used to be. I tell all the neighbors that there is only one medicine in our family and that is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It has cured my indigestion, and keeps me in good flesh, strong and hearty, and I would not know what to do without it."—J. C. PRENTISS, Ravenna, Ohio.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

The sincere and earnest tribute of Mr. Prentiss to the invigorating, health-giving, life-prolonging powers of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is similar to the testimonials of thousands of grateful men and women who have passed the century mark, and who owe their advanced years and splendid mental and physical vitality to the nourishing and strengthening qualities of this wonderful safeguard against the infirmities and weaknesses of the aged.

In order to enjoy the blessing of health, in either youth or old age, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach—the great fortress and bulwark of the body—be kept in a strong and healthy condition so as to resist and repel the attacks of disease. For over fifty years Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been prescribed by doctors and used in hospitals in the treatment of dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and all forms of stomach troubles. It quickens the circulation, purifies and enriches the blood, builds new nerves, muscle and brain tissue, and gives fresh life and vitality to every part of the body.

It is the only whiskey recognized by the government as a medicine, and is a positive cure and preventive of pneumonia, consumption, bronchitis, grip and all bowel, throat and lung troubles.

Sold by all druggists and grocers, or direct, in sealed bottles only. Price $1. Refuse all substitutes as they are positively harmful and are sold by unreliable dealers for profit only. Insist on the genuine and see that the "Old Chemist" trade-mark is on the label. Pictorial booklet and medical advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

WASHINGTON.

TRADE MOVED IN SEPTEMBER.

NINE MONTHS OF GOOD BUSINESS TAKEN ALTOGETHER.

Department of Commerce and Labor Shows That the Grain Exports of the Country More Than Doubled Over Those of the Same Period Last Year—Great Arrival of Live Stock.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Decided increases in trade movements are shown during September, as well as in the total for the nine months of this year, compared with periods of last year, by summaries issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor. The grain exports for the nine months of this year amounted to 105,219,693 bushels, as compared with 48,573,793 for the same months last year. These reports for this year are preliminary, and estimated to include 97 per cent. of the actual shipments. This year the corn exports have been 82,752,212 bushels, as compared with 34,441,771 bushels for the corresponding months last year. The September exports of grain this year amounted to more than ten million bushels over September of 1904.

The domestic movements of trade during September show the same increases. Nearly two million head of live stock arrived at five of the largest distributing centers in excess of September a year ago, while the increase in the receipts of grain in twelve important interior centers aggregated over twenty-seven million bushels more than for the corresponding months last year.

The total increase in lake shipments this year to and including September 30, as compared with 1904, aggregated 14,796,365 net tons, a gain on the flour outgoing movement of 211,255 tons grain; flaxseed, 22,394,215 bushels; coal, 531,316 tons; ore and mineral, 11,743,751 tons; lumber, 76,801,000 feet; unclassified freight, 468,660 tons.

At New York, receipts of grain during September totaled 9,518,490 bushels, as against 4,122,651 a year ago. New York's grand total receipts of grain and flour and cornmeal the first nine months of this year aggregated 80,742,696 bushels, against 63,117,941 in 1904.

Philadelphia's grain receipts during September reached 2,779,050 bushels, being over a million and a half bushels in excess of a corresponding movement in 1904.

At Baltimore, receipts of grain for the nine months' period were 16,891,325 bushels, over three and a half million bushels in excess of a like movement in 1903.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—John D. Rockefeller has taken such a great interest in automobiling, says the Tribune, that it was reported in Tarrytown, yesterday, that he will learn to run a machine himself. Since his return from Cleveland, Rockefeller is out in his big steamer every day, sitting beside his French chauffeur.

Until a short time ago, Rockefeller was opposed to automobiles, and had large signs bearing the words "No motor cars allowed" put up at all entrances to his estate at Pocantico Hills. Now he owns two big machines.

William Rockefeller is an expert chauffeur, and owns nine cars of various makes.

PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY.

Will be Celebrated This Evening in the House Where He Was Born.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President's birthday will be celebrated by a dinner, tomorrow evening, at the Roosevelt Home Club, No. 28 East Twentieth street, where the President was born. An equestrian bronze statue of the President, by James Kelly, who was commissioned to execute the work by friends and admirers of the President, will be on exhibition at the dinner.

The arrangements for the affair have been made by a reception committee composed of Gen. Henry T. Tremain, Representative William H. Douglas, Senator N. A. Elsberg, Assemblyman Ezra P. Prentice, John A. Weekes, Samuel S. Blood, Charles R. Huntington and others.

The conditions of settlement are suspension of the closure decree against the officers of the French Cable Company pending the arrival of a delegate from France, the withdrawal of the protest, and of the counter protest.

FOUR KILLED ON ROCK ISLAND.

Passenger Trains Collide Head-on and Resulting Loss of Life and Damage is Large.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—Westbound passenger train No. 11 on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, which left Chicago at 8:30 last night, today collided, head-on, with east-bound passenger train No. 12, on the same road, which left Kansas City at 6:30 last evening, one mile north of Fairfield, Iowa.

According to the reports received at the local offices of the Rock Island railway, four persons were killed outright, and several were injured.

The dead:

F. J. MILKS, Muscatine, Iowa; engineer of No. 11.

GLEN CANFIELD, Murray, Iowa; mail clerk.

DETECTIVE GRIFFITH, Lucas, Iowa.

A tramp, name unknown.

Both trains at the time of the accident were running at the rate of about thirty-nine miles an hour.

The cause of the collision has not been determined.

BOTH ENGINES DEMOLISHED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—According to a statement issued at the general offices of the Rock Island railroad on wreck near Fairfield, Iowa, both locomotives were demolished, four cars of No. 12 were derailed and seven damaged. The damage to No. 11 has not been reported, but the killed were on this train. The injured were nearly all on No. 12. Trainmaster Kenneily was among the injured.

FOOTBALL'S FATE WITH ELIOT.

Game Will be Abolished at Harvard if There's Any Brutality in Play With Yale Next Month.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 26.—President Eliot of Harvard has determined that brutality and unnecessary roughness shall cease in football played by Harvard teams, or that football itself shall me eliminated from the athletic curriculum of the University.

At the Yale-Harvard game in the stadium next month President Eliot will sit near the side line as a critic of the play. If there is any slugging he will recommend to the corporation that Harvard cease playing intercollegiate football. The corporation would undoubtedly so vote, and football, with Harvard left out, would receive a stunning if not a knockout blow.

President Eliot is no warm friend of football as played today. His reports have frequently been hostile, but he has yielded to public opinion. In his recent resolve he was backed up by President Roosevelt and influential members of the faculty and corporation.

Jacob Weaver, who crossed the plains to Fresno in 1849 with his bride, died yesterday. Weaver has been ranching in this county for twenty-five years.

OLD AGE.

Our Local Druggists Tell People of Los Angeles How to Ward It Off.

Some people at fifty call themselves old, and really appear so, while others at seventy seem active, vigorous and young.

A reporter happened in the store of The Owl Drug Company the other evening, and this subject was brought up. Said a member of the above firm, "It is a fact, and we see it illustrated every day right here in Los Angeles. It is not years; old age does not begin at any set time, but it is loss of vital force that makes a person old. A severe sickness, weakened digestion, thin blood, or poor circulation soon starts vitality on the wane, and then a person rapidly ages.

"On the other hand," continued he, "if the people of Los Angeles only knew how our cod liver preparation, Vinol, wards off old age, we would not have clerks enough in our store to supply the demand.

"You see, Vinol contains all the vitality making, body-building principles of cod liver oil, but without a drop of the system-clogging oil. It strengthens digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength.

"One good customer of Vinol, who is seventy-eight years of age, says he would not take $1000 for the good it has done him, and we wish every aged person in Los Angeles would try Vinol on our guarantee to return money if it fails." The Owl Drug Co., 320 South Spring street.

Odd Wool Waists 95c Friday
Worth $2 to $5 - - - - -

Here's another sale that points out Hale's as the real market for real bargains in Los Angeles. They're just the prettiest waists you could imagine and actually worth up to $5. This doesn't mean a few nice ones and all the rest ordinary values, but plenty of waists that would sell at $5, $4 and $3. We think there is but one in the whole assortment worth below $2.00.

They comprise a sample line to which we have added all single odd waists from our regular stock. With cold weather here, you'll want a few snug waists and just think of getting expensive qualities at 95c.

Among them are waists made of fine French flannel, full tucked fronts and back, trimmed with buttons. Some are made of nuns' veilings and albatross, trimmed with lace, and some are appliqued. They come in blue, black, tan, pink and green, in light and dark shades.

Children's Hose, Odd Lines, Friday 15c

Tomorrow will be a good opportunity to try Hale's for Children's Hosiery. We've taken every broken line of our regular 25c hosiery, both fine and heavy ribbed, and put them in one lot to close out at 15c. They come with spliced heel and toe and double knee. Mind, extra good 25c hosiery at 15c.

Hale's for Underwear

Surely you have become convinced by this time that Hale's is the Underwear Store. We are showing more than a hundred different styles in Underwear. Just see how busy this department is every minute of the day. Here are just a few special items for Friday:

ONLY A SUGGESTION

But it Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food should be albuminous or flesh-forming food, like eggs, beefsteak, and cereals; in other words, the kinds of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bills of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beefsteak, eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to reach its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every kind of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredients.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because they are the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

HOLDING TWO CONVENTIONS.

Rate Problem Too Much for the Delegates.

"Railroad" Faction Bolts and Then Offers Terms.

"Regulars" Go It Alone. Call Talks Out.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The Steinway Hall convention ("Regulars") perfected organization by the election of the following officers: Chairman, W. E. Hughes, Colorado; vice-president John W. Kern, Indiana; secretary, P. E. Goodrich, Indiana. Among those on the Committee on Resolutions are J. H. Call, California, and H. A. Holmes, Kansas.

At the Studebaker Hall ("Railroad") convention, 435 delegates were placed on the roll-call. N. W. McCloud of Pennsylvania, was chosen chairman and G. X. Wendeling of California, one of the vice-presidents. D. M. Parry is leader of the delegates.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The advocates of the President's plan of government regulation of railroad rates and the opponents of this idea who were assembled in Chicago to attend the Interstate Commerce Law Convention came to the parting of the ways today. Amid stormy scenes, a constant flow of stirring incidents and dramatic situations which, in spite of the determined seriousness of all concerned, took on the tinge of comedy at times, the champions of conflicting ideas clashed with the determination of armed forces, and developed into two bodies, holding rival conventions within half a block of each other.

Determined to the last to stand by the call of E. P. Bacon of Milwaukee, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Interstate Commerce Law Association, that the Chicago convention indorse the position of the President in the matter of rate regulation, the so-called railroad faction, headed by Judge Samuel H. Cowan of Texas, assumed control of the convention machinery and precipitated the conflict by demanding that no delegate be admitted to Steinway Hall unless he first signed the pledge of support to the Roosevelt idea.

Hundreds of manufacturers, producers and shippers from all parts of the country opposed to the Roosevelt method, under the leadership of David M. Parry of Indianapolis, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, raising the cry of "gag rule," "denial of free speech," and "Czarism, instead of the 'square deal,'" made a concerted effort to gain admission to the Steinway Hall convention. Repulsed by uniformed policemen and a score of "regular" delegates, unless they signed the pledge and accepted the white badge as a sign of their sincerity, the Parry men, more than four hundred of them, marched in a body to Music Hall in the Studebaker Building, where they organized another convention.

BOTH CONVENTIONS OPEN.

Both conventions were opened in the morning with unrestrained denunciation upon the heads of the opposing leaders, and after temporary organization, much time was taken up, both in Steinway Hall and Music Hall, with fiery speeches, the "regulars" charging that the Parry followers were agents of the railroads; that many of them were sent to Chicago on free transportation, and that for weeks the railroad companies had been preparing to "pack" the convention with their partisans. In Music Hall the "Cowanites" and "Baconites" were charged with unfair dealing; tyranny and throttling of "free speech."

After both conventions had settled down to business, the Bacon adherents proceeded immediately to express their approval of the President's recommendation that power should be invested in the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate railroad rates.

The Parry convention, taking less radical action in the advocacy of rate regulation, an effort was made to unite the warring factions, this effort emanating from the Parry convention, leading up to an armistice, during which committees from each side held a conference in an ante-room of Steinway Hall. The result was that the last vestiges of coöperation and unity were dissolved.

While the "regulars," with W. E. Hughes of Colorado as their permanent chairman, were discussing the object of their mission to Chicago, the "rump" convention, presided over by N. W. McLeod of Pennsylvania, adopted a resolution declaring itself the regular constitutional convention, with a majority of accredited delegates, and authorizing the appointment of a committee of five to extend to the delegates of the opposition convention an invitation to join with it in a free and impartial discussion of the issue at stake. On this committee were John Kirby, Jr., of Ohio, D. C. Ripley of Pennsylvania, J. W. Van Cleave of Missouri, Arthur R. Briggs and G. W. Scott of California. About 4 o'clock this committee was dispatched with the message to the "regulars." The committee left the hall amid cheers of the delegates and a recess was taken.

RECEIVED WITH JEERS.

In Steinway Hall, the "regulars" had just disposed of the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions, and was about to listen to an address, when there came a rap at the stage door. Judge Cowan answered the call, and was met by a messenger, who handed him a communication. He read it, and then, interrupting an announcement by the chair, read the contents of the message to the convention. It was met by a chorus of cheers and jeers. The message requested that the committee from the Parry convention be permitted to address the convention and submit a proposition.

CALL TALKS OUT.

John H. Call of California, a member of the Executive Committee, was first on his feet, and was recognized by the chairman.

"Before this convention," he said, "the Executive Committee received definite information of an effort that was being exerted to 'pack' this convention, contrary to the spirit of the call. We learned that large numbers of men were being sent to Chicago on free transportation with credentials from various associations throughout the country.

"The committee, on learning of this attempt, immediately endeavored to protect the interests of the convention and to prevent the destruction of its purposes. We did so by demanding that every delegate admitted to the convention show his loyalty and sincerity by signing the Roosevelt pledge. Many of the men whom we suspected refused to sign that pledge. They were refused seats in this convention, and organized a 'rump' convention of their own.

"These gentlemen now send a communication to us asking to be heard, and I wish to move that the visiting committee be requested to submit any communication they have in writing, and that it be submitted to our Committee on Credentials."

This was followed by pandemonium among the delegates seeking recognition. One delegate in the back of the hall created a stir by declaring: "If we haven't got a cause that we can trust to impartial discussion and are not willing to hear the opposition, our clause is a weak one."

"A man," declared Capt. John Farley of Texas, "who will deliberately speak against the adopted rule of this convention has no right here. The gentleman is not displaying loyalty to his pledge by such a remark, and he ought to get out."

After the uproar had subsided, a committee of five was appointed to meet the "rump" committee, which was waiting in the ante-room, and ask them to submit their statement in writing for the convention to consider, which was done.

When Judge Cowan read the message, the "regulars" jeered, and after considerable discussion in which further denunciation of the "crowd of corporation boomers and pay-roll patriots" was indulged in, the "regulars" adopted resolutions denouncing the antis' claim as absurd and false, and declaring that the letter represented the corporation interests under whose direction they were alleged to have assembled, and wound up by denouncing them as enemies of the people.

David M. Parry made the principal address in the "rump" convention, denouncing governmental control of railroads as a socialistic move that would lead the country into terrific dangers.

"RAILROAD" FACTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The so-called "railroad" faction of the delegates to the rate convention met at the Green Room of the Auditorium Annex, this morning, to prepare for a conflict with the "regulars" at Convention Hall. Prior to the meeting at the Auditorium Annex, coal dealers who are identified with the "railroad" element met at the Great Northern Hall, and after satisfying themselves that their credentials were satisfactory, proceeded in a body to the Annex, where D. M. Parry, president of the National Manufacturers' Association, and other so-called "railroad" delegates were assembled.

As soon as the coal delegates arrived, the question of the mode of procedure to be adopted was raised. Parry mounted upon a table and acted as chairman of the meeting, with a cane as a gavel.

"We are advocates of free speech," said Parry, "and we demand our right to be heard. I understand that we are to be deprived of our right to be heard in the convention unless we sign a certain pledge. What is your pleasure?"

M. A. Meese of Michigan moved that the delegates go to the convention in a body, and if refused admittance, retire to Studebaker Hall, where a second convention could be held. This motion was met with some opposition, and was tabled. A motion that the delegates go as individuals was made and carried.

Badges reading "Interstate Law Convention, Supervision, Not Commercial Revolution" were then distributed. Wearing the badges conspicuously, all the delegates at the Auditorium Annex meeting, headed by Parry and Robert Lake of Michigan, marched in a body to Steinway Hall, where the so-called "Bacon" or "Regular" delegates were assembled.

Following the plan decided upon by an Executive Committee to avoid a clash with the dissenting or Parry faction, no delegates had been admitted to the convention except those who indorsed President Roosevelt's message, asking enabling legislation by Congress enlarging the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, so that it may regulate the freight rates subject to judicial review. In addition to police, half a dozen "regular" delegates guarded every door leading to the hall, and all who had not signed the indorsement of President Roosevelt's message were denied admission.

Mayor Dunne was an early arrival, and he congratulated the officers on their decision to bar delegates charged with being in sympathy with the railroads. Among the later arrivals were Gov. Cummins of Iowa and Former Governor Larrabee of Iowa.

CHANDLER HEARD FROM.

Judge S. H. Cowan received the following telegram from Washington, just before the convention was called to order:

"Judge S. H. Cowan: I hope that the convention will resist to the utmost the admittance of any delegate who will not sign the proposed pledge. Let the railroad hired men exhibit their free passes and go home. If they outnumber you by violence, go elsewhere, and hold a Roosevelt convention.

UTAH ON DECK.

The first disturbance was created by F. J. Kiesel from Utah, said to be a representative of the "railroad" faction. He entered the ante-room of the hotel, and demanded that the statement which delegates were asked to sign be read aloud. The clerk in charge of the registration declined, and Delegate Kiesel shouted "All in favor of my suggestion, say aye." Three voices responded. Then somebody asked for "those opposed," and there was a lusty shout of "no" from a score or more of delegates.

"I will never surrender my rights as an American citizen by putting my name in that book," shouted Delegate Kiesel. "I will not sign away my birthright."

JUDGE COWAN PRESIDES.

Followed by several friends, the delegate then left the room. In the absence of E. C. Bacon, chairman of the Executive Committee, who is ill, Judge S. H. Cowan of Texas called the convention to order.

"I know that the delegates who are here will abide by the action of the Executive Committee and indorse the railroad rate regulation, advocated by our great President, Theodore Roosevelt," said Judge Cowan. "We might have had more delegates had we the means to bring them here. We paid our expenses, and we have a thoroughly representative body present. I hope the convention will be peaceful, and that its deliberations will result in much good."

The mention of the President's name was greeted with long-continued applause.

PARRY'S PROCESSION.

Meanwhile the Parry procession of delegates had reached Steinway Hall. The doorkeeper offered F. H. Mason, secretary of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce, a pledge already prepared, which he refused to sign.

H. C. Elwood, chairman of the Buffalo delegation, was refused admittance. Then, one by one, the other Parry delegates went to the door and were refused. When the last man had been refused admittance, the Parry party went in a body to Studebaker Hall where nearly 300 delegates assembled for a so-called "rump" convention. F. J. Bradley of Haverhill, Mass., was elected temporary chairman of the Studebaker Hall convention, and made a brief speech advocating calm and dispassionate discussion of the matters under consideration. T. B. Aldrich of Colorado was elected secretary.

Delegate Meese offered a resolution to appoint a committee to present the debarred delegates' grievances to the Bacon meeting in session at Steinway Hall. Motions and amendments followed thick and fast. The main point of conflict was the right of the delegates to vote as State representatives. It was finally decided, after the Meese motion had been defeated, to have a roll-call of States for the appointment of the delegate from each State as a member of a Committee on Credentials.

As the roll-call of States was called, several contests were encountered. When Pennsylvania was reached, some surprise was caused among the delegates when it was learned that A. P. Birksfield, one of the nominees, was in attendance at the rival convention.

After the appointment of the Credential Committee a recess until 2 o'clock was taken.

MAYOR DUNNE WELCOMES.

At Steinway Hall, meanwhile, Mayor Dunne who was elected to office as a Democrat, warmly welcomed the delegates who signed the Roosevelt pledge. E. T. Campbell of Ohio responded to Mayor Dunne's address of welcome.

John W. Kern, representing the Indianapolis Commercial Association, explained that D. M. Parry is a member of the Indiana organization, and that, after a sharp contest, Parry's efforts to instruct the delegates against the Roosevelt rate regulation plan were defeated by a vote of 10 to 1.

VAN SANT SPEAKS.

Former Gov. S. R. Van Sant of Minnesota, said: "There is no ambiguity in the call of this convention. No one has been deceived, or brought here under false pretenses. Our fight is an open one, and our platform proclaimed to the world. We stand squarely upon that platform, and will fight it out upon that line. We are not the enemies of the railroads. Time will demonstrate that we are their best friends. In my opinion, they are making a mistake to oppose such a conservative measure as the proposed amendment to the Interstate Commerce law.

"This proposed regulation by Congress will result in no injustice to either shipper or carrier. All that is desired is that, after complaint is made and after a thorough investigation, both shipper and carrier having been heard, if the rate is then found to be unreasonable, the commission shall name one, said rate to go into effect immediately and remain in force until the question is finally passed upon by the courts.

THE PRESIDENT IS RIGHT.

"Either give the power required and essential to make the decisions of the commission effective, or abolish it altogether. The President is right. A free people will not long submit to the tyranny of its creatures. The time has come to call a halt. We should take courage. We have a fearless leader to follow."

After the secretary had read the call for the convention, the chairman appointed Committee on Credentials and Permanent Organization, and the convention took a recess.

About 500 delegates signed the pledge which made them eligible to enter the Steinway Hall convention.

In his speech, Parry said:

"I refuse to believe that the government rate-making proposition reflects the real sentiment of the great majority of the shippers of this country, for, to my mind, to believe such a thing is to assert that the shippers have combined their forces for the purpose of tyrannizing over the railroads and depriving railroad capital from reaping the profits to which, under the free institutions of this country, it is entitled. Rather do I prefer to believe that this crusade to endow a political commission with a socialistic and czar-like power to fix the transportation prices is what is popularly and very aptly termed a 'hot-air' movement, fathered in the main by professional political agitators and men who have private reasons of their own for fighting the railroads. I believe that as the shippers come to consider this question, they are more and more inclined to take the view that rate-making is an impracticable and dangerous scheme, and that, at least, it must be given very earnest consideration before extending it their support.

"I am here to reflect the opinion of those shippers who believe in carefully-considered action, and who also believe that every industry, including even the railroad industry, is entitled to fair treatment and the enjoyment of those rights of property which are accorded to other industries. Mark you, this is not saying that the railroad should not be made to deal justly with the public and with our business interests, but it is saying that, as the manufacturers, the stock raisers and other business interests expect to be dealt justly with, so should they be ready to deal justly with the railroad industry.

"It is saying that to adopt the socialistic principle of government interference with the return on railroad capital is but paving the way for the enlargement of the rate principle to cover prices on the products of the farmer and manufacturer. This idea has been pooh-poohed, but, as a matter of fact, there is no argument that can be asserted in favor of government rate-making that cannot be made to apply with equal force to the fixing of prices by the government on all commodities."

After the speech an adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

FORAKER TO TAFT.

SENATOR PROPOSES REMEDY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—Although confined to his home under the orders of his physician and compelled to cancel several speaking engagements during the last few days, United States Senator Foraker has been following closely the agitation over railroad freight rates, and today gave to the press a statement answering particularly the arguments advanced by Secretary of War Taft in his speech at Akron, O., last Saturday night.

In the course of his statement, Senator Foraker says: "No question has arisen in American politics in recent years of anything like such importance, excepting the free-silver question." He then takes issue with the assumption that those who do not agree with the remedy proposed by Secretary Taft are opposed to any remedy whatever.

"So far as I am aware," says Senator Foraker, "it is universally admitted that in the past many evil practices have obtained; that some of them still obtain; that none of them should be allowed to continue; that any efficient and expeditious remedy should be provided against all of them so far as legislation can provide. The sole difference is as to whether conferring the rate-making power on the Interstate Commerce Commission is the only, or even a necessary remedy. My contention is that it is not necessary, and that of all remedies that have been suggested it is unqualifiedly the worst."

Senator Foraker outlines the nature of the change which he would make in the present law in the following words:

"The proceeding would, in fact, be in behalf of the public and should be in the name of the government, and at the expense of the government or the railroads, as the courts may deem just and equitable, and in no case at the expense of the shipper.

"These proceedings should be commenced by complaint filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, which should conduct only preliminary investigations to the extent of determining whether or not there is a probable ground, and when that point is reached, the whole matter should be turned over to the Department of Justice, to be prosecuted, not before a special court, which I think, unwise to create, but before the Circuit Court of the United States, having jurisdiction in the particular case.

"In this way, these cases would be distributed throughout the whole country, and be confined to a judicial system with which we are familiar, and the working strength of which we can increase as found necessary by the appointment of new judges. Thus we would leave the making of rates in the hands of skilled men, but subject to review upon complaint made by courts skilled in the weighing of testimonies, the analysis of facts, and the application of the law and the same courts to which, by the proposed legislation or any other legislation that may be suggested, the controversy will have to be submitted anyhow at some stage of the proceedings; for we could not, if we so desired, take away from the parties to the controversy the right to submit their contentions to the court for final adjudication."

HARRIMAN'S RIDE ENDS IN YORK STATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The E. H. Harriman special train, with Miss Alice Roosevelt on board, arrived in Jersey City, over the Erie Railroad, tonight at 7:45 o'clock. Harriman and the members of his family left the train at Arden, N. Y., where Harriman's country place is located.

Miss Roosevelt was driven direct to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, No. 109 East Thirty-first street, New York, where she will spend the night, leaving for Washington at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Members of the party denied that Miss Roosevelt had been sick during the trip.

STOP AT ELMIRA.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SANTA FE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 26.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad was held in this city today. President E. P. Ripley, Vice-President J. W. Kendrick, General Manager J. E. Hurley, Traffic Manager William J. Black, Victor Morawitz, chairman of the Executive Committee; Benjamin P. Cheney of Boston and Charles S. Gleed of Topeka, directors; W. C. Nixon, general manager of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fé Railway, and others were present.

The annual report of the company was formally received. It covers the fiscal year ending June 30, and shows remarkable prosperity, in view of the fact that there was a decrease in freight, mail and express and miscellaneous earnings over the business of the previous year.

The Phoenix and Eastern Railroad has been completed to Dudleyville. The Oakdale Western line was built from Riverbank, Cal., to Oakdale, the terminus of the Sierra line. The Arizona and Utah Railway, extending from McConnico Station, Ariz., northward twenty-two miles to Chloride, was acquired. The Owasso-Tulsa extension was built eleven and three-tenths miles south of Owasso.

Ripley says of the work upon the Belen cut-off: "Work on this line is progressing at three points, and it is expected that the entire line from Texico, N. M., to Belen, N. M., will be completed before the close of the present fiscal year. It will avoid the two mountain ranges between Trinidad and Albuquerque, and will be less exposed to interruption by freshets."

The Arizona and California Railway is projected from Wickenburg, Ariz., west and across the Colorado River to Bengol. This line affords a cut-off from the Salt River country to all points in California. Work is progressing rapidly. Ripley reviews the damage by floods, and says: "On at least three occasions our main lines in Arizona and New Mexico were totally disabled from four to eight days, besides innumerable smaller breaks. For weeks, it was necessary to advise intending patrons to ship or travel over other roads. Nine thousand, five hundred and fifty-one feet of bridges, thirty-five and one-half miles of track and 1,600,000 cubic yards of embankment were carried away. It is impossible to estimate the amount of business lost and its effect on gross earnings. The cost of repairing the damages caused by the floods will amount to $2,000,000."

Henry H. Rogers, Benjamin P. Cheney of Boston and George G. Haven of New York, the directors whose terms expire this year, were reëlected without contest.

The purchase of the Oakdale Railroad, a branch line between Riverbank and Oakdale, Cal., and the Jasper and Southern California Railroad was approved. Preliminary action was taken regarding the construction of the proposed Galveston cut-off. Later, President Ripley said the line would not be built for two or three years yet.

The total number of shares voted was 1,701,659, being 60,000 votes in excess of two-thirds of the stock outstanding.

President Ripley and his party left this afternoon for Nebraska City to attend the unveiling of the monument of the late J. Sterling Morton.

Wabash Directors Report.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—The sixteenth annual report of the board of directors of the Wabash Railroad Company, covering the operations of the road during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, was made public tonight. The report states that, while showing a large increase in gross earnings ($1,672,973,) it also shows an increase in operating expenses of $2,819,935, or a decrease in net earnings of $1,146,962, but an analysis of the extraordinary expenditures charged direct to operating expenses will fully explain the decrease.

Burlington Is Enjoined.

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 26.—Judge Munger in the United States District Court, this afternoon, granted an application of the Union Pacific Railway Company for an injunction restraining the Chicago Burlington and Quincy Railroad from interfering with the construction of a line being built by the Union Pacific up the North Platte Valley.

Little Kanawha Suit Dismissed.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—The suit for the appointment of a receiver for the Little Kanawha Syndicate has been dismissed by Judge Richards on the ground of lack of jurisdiction.

SAN PEDRO HARBOR LINES.

APPEAL TO WAR DEPARTMENT.

The effort of the several prominent railway officials of this city who have gone to Washington to secure, if possible, a change in the proposed plans of the War Department with reference to the harbor lines at San Pedro is likely to fail. A special to The Times from the national capital last night states that William Banning, Hancock Banning, A. S. Halstead, George E. Ellis and R. H. Ingram, representing interests concerned in the proposed changes at San Pedro, called on Gen. MacKenzie, Chief of Engineers, U.S.A., yesterday and argued for certain modifications in the Engineer Board's plan.

They pointed out that if the plans are approved and the changes ordered the companies which they represent will have to shoulder a great monetary loss. The modifications which they proposed were clearly pointed out and fully explained.

Gen. MacKenzie gave the delegation no satisfaction. The report of the Board of Engineers is now in his hands for such action as he may see fit to take before it is sent by him to Secretary Taft. It is believed that he will approve the plan, and if he does it is almost certain that the Secretary of War will approve it.

TREMENDOUS TRAVEL.

COMING OF THE COLONISTS.

The closing days of sale of the cheap colonist rates from eastern points to the Pacific Coast is developing a volume of travel which threatens to tax the equipment of the transcontinental lines to the utmost to accommodate.

Next Monday will be the last day of sale, and while the traffic induced by these rates thus far has been flatteringly heavy, between now and November 4, when the last of the low-rate excursions will have been delivered on the coast, it promises to be tremendous.

At the general headquarters of the Santa Fé it was reported yesterday that to accommodate this travel, more than thirty extra tourist cars had been ordered placed in service, in addition to the already heavy equipment in commission.

The Southern Pacific, Salt Lake, Union Pacific and Gould lines report a like remarkable increase in the travel to California.

RAILROAD LOCALS.

E. W. Gillett, general traffic manager of the Salt Lake, returned yesterday from a trip to Chicago and other eastern points.

J. L. Moore, district freight and passenger agent of the San Pedro line at Salt Lake, is in the city, bringing with him his family, who will pass the winter at Long Beach.

The management of the Pacific Electric is finishing the schedules for the Santa Ana cars, which will be placed in service about November 1. The time for the flyers between Santa Ana and Los Angeles will be about fifty minutes, while the local trains will come the thirty-three miles with all stops in a little over an hour.

H. E. Huntington was back at his desk for a time yesterday morning after his flying trip to San Francisco, but denied himself to all callers, save those who came by appointment.

COLE YOUNGER'S RAILROAD.

Los Angeles Contractor Will Build an Electric Line for the Former Missouri Bandit.

[Kansas City Journal, Oct. 21:] Denying a report that there had been any defection in his project to build an electric railroad from Kansas City to Lone Jack and ultimately to Warrensburg, Cole Younger last night announced that the building of the line had been let to H. B. Harding, of Los Angeles, Cal. No figures were announced by Mr. Younger, but it is computed that the cost for fully equipping the road will be $30,000 a mile. Younger said that it would be impossible to say just when the work of construction would be opened. Engineers now are making their maps, he said, and that after these have been completed and other necessary details arranged, the building of the road will be commenced.

A story lately had gained currency that the Chicago financial promoter of the road had been unable to handle the proposition, but without discussing this, Younger declared last night that the financial conditions for the building of the line were good.

Younger declines to affirm or deny the report that Stephen B. Elkins, United States Senator from Virginia, is his financial backer in the undertaking, but from other sources it has been denied positively.

Contractor Harding was in Kansas City last night and probably will confer with Younger regarding the work before leaving this part of the country. He has some other enterprises which he also is watching. He indicated that it would not be long before the plans of Younger would be fully realized.

Harding is a veteran railroad man in this part of the United States. He was engaged in the construction of lines about Leavenworth, Kas., assisted in the building of the Lexington and Southern branch of the Missouri Pacific from Pleasant Hill south to Butler, Bates county, and formerly resided in Pleasant Hill.

The City Engineer is to present a statement of the prospect for the contemplated Central-avenue paving at the meeting of the Central Avenue Improvement Association tonight at the South Side Bank on Central avenue between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth streets.

South Park Improvement.

The South Park "Committee of Twenty" met last night and formed a temporary organization of the South Park Improvement Association, which will be permanently organized next Tuesday evening. T. W. Williams is temporary president and J. W. Lee secretary. The association expects to do a good work along the lines followed by other similar organizations of the city.

Grocer Assigns.

Charles Luedke, a grocer at No. 805 Figueroa street, has made an assignment to the Los Angeles Wholesalers' Board of Trade for the benefit of his creditors. His stock was attached by an employé for $500 borrowed money and $478 wages. The liabilities amount to $3500, and there are assets amounting to $2500. The stock will be disposed of under the direction of the Board of Trade.

E. C. Hiner Dead.

E. C. Hiner, who is one of the proprietors of the Elysian Water Company, and a young man well known in the business world, died last evening at the California Hospital as the result of an operation for appendicitis, his illness dating from last Monday evening. Mr. Hiner had resided in this city about two years, and came from the northern part of the State, his parents residing in Santa Rosa. He was 29 years of age and a member of the Fraternal Brotherhood, and was to have been married on November 6 to Miss Mary McNulty of this city. The funeral will take place Sunday and the interment will probably be in Rosedale.

For Rush of Tourists.

Having been informed by the railroad companies that there will probably be an unprecedented rush of tourists to this city and section during the coming winter, Postmaster Flint has made early preparations to give them prompt and efficient mail service. On his recommendation the Postoffice Department yesterday authorized the appointment of eight temporary clerks at a salary of $600 a year each, to take care of the increased business. Two clerks hove been detailed from the Los Angeles postoffice for service at Tonopah, Nev., because of the tremendous increase in business at that mining camp.

BREVITIES.

Times' "Liner" Advertisers—Important change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, and thereafter, the rate for Sunday "Liners" will be 1½ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 60,000 copies. (When the 1-cent per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

The San Francisco office of the Los Angeles Times is in room 41, Chronicle building. Telephone Main 1472. Subscriptions and advertisements taken. Visitors will find copies of The Times on files, and are welcome to call and read them.

SEVERAL SUCCESSFUL RAIDS ON PAYING "BLIND PIGS."

The Notorious "Four-Mile" House Found to Contain Sufficient Contraband Liquor to Stock a Saloon. Sawtelle the Scene of Two Raids in Which Prisoners are Taken.

Constable De La Monte late yesterday afternoon raided the notorious "Four Mile" house on the San Fernando road, and placed the proprietor, Charles Melerio, under arrest. Enough contraband liquor was found in the joint to stock a Main-street saloon.

Melerio's grief over the confiscation of his stock in trade was almost pathetic. Only two months ago he was arrested and fined $300 for conducting a "blind pig." He protested to Assistant District Attorney Flemming, who accompanied Constable De La Monte on the raid, that he is going to get a license from the Supervisors next week. He said that he had just stocked his place ready to begin operations as soon as the license is granted.

But a colored bricklayer proved his undoing. Just as Melerio was putting the finishing touches to his defense, the knight of the trowel elbowed his way to the bar.

"Jes' chase out that black bottle boss. I've got a coat of martar in my whistle an inch thick."

"You can't get anything to drink here. This is no saloon," faltered Melerio striving vainly to give the son of Ham the high sign.

"How come I can't get my drink. You all know I'm all right. I've been here every night this week."

"All right just give me your name and address." This from the Assistant District Attorney.

"What's dat for boss? I ain't chargin' nobody with nothin.' Reckon I ain't got no business here. I'll be goin' long ef it's all the same to you."

Constable De La Monte brought Melerio to the city along with the captured booze, and the dive-keeper spent the night in the County Jail.

ANOTHER AT SAWTELLE.

A flurry of excitement stirred the quiet of Sawtelle today when a trio of detectives from the District Attorney's office descended upon a "blind pig." With no further introduction than a display of their badges of authority, the deputies swooped upon the poolroom of Clint Mallory and without any ceremony, threw open the ice box and took possession of its entire contents, supposed by the officers to consist of alcoholic, spirituous or vinous liquors, but alleged by the proprietors of the place to be nothing more harmful than a non-intoxicating soft drink known as "temperance beer." The officers also took in custody Clint Mallory and Frank Brown, the proprietors of the place, and took them to Los Angeles, where in the Township Court they will answer to the charge of selling intoxicating liquors within the prohibited zone surrounding the Soldiers' Home. H. Bolster, a barber, was arrested at the same time on a like charge, it being alleged that he was selling strong drink in a rear room adjoining his shop.

Mallory and Brown were arrested two weeks ago for the same offense, and their hearings are still pending, one before a Santa Monica justice of the peace and the other in Los Angeles, where it was taken on a change of venue.

A "Taking" Thing

The Brauer-Krohn Cutaway Frock Suit is certainly "taking" with tall men. There is an air of something about the coat of a Cutaway Frock Suit that makes the "boss" look more like the boss and less like the clerk. It supplies a distinguished note to the harmony of attire that always accompanies the Brauer-Krohn label. The suit itself is supplied—made up from fine quality Worsted-Cheviots—for $40.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

MEXICAN OIL BEING BURNED.

President Doheny Reports to the Stockholders.

Central Railroad Preparing for Liquid Fuel.

Half a Million Barrels in Storage at Ebano.

E. L. Doheny, president and general manager of the Mexican Petroleum Company, by direction of the Board of Directors, has issued a special report to the stockholders, in which he reviews the recent contract with the Mexican Central Railroad for fuel, and says that company is proceeding to equip its locomotives and other steam plants for using oil and providing storage tanks and cars. Up to August 1, about 130,000 barrels had been delivered, most of which has been paid for.

The production now averages 1600 barrels a day. All the oil required by the railroad has been delivered and 435,000 barrels are in storage, with 1000 a day being added. New steel tankage has been added until the whole amounts to 330,000 barrels a day, with reservoirs for about 200,000. Unless the railroad largely increases its consumption in a very short time, this will all be filled. In anticipation of a big increase in demand, however, preparations have been made for extensive drilling and for additional storage.

Mr. Doheny says: "The energetic preparation on the part of the railway company to take and consume our fuel production has necessitated corresponding effort on our part to supply their requirements, thus making this summer and fall the beginning of an auspicious era in the affairs of the company, which it is confidently believed by the maangement will result in substantial concrete returns during the coming fiscal year."

AUDITORS' REPORTS.

In accordance with a resolution of the stockholders, at their annual meeting in February last, a firm of chartered accountants, Price-Waterhouse & Company, was employed to audit the company's books at Ebano and Los Angeles. The report was very satisfactory to the directors. A new system was recommended and is being put into effect, which provides for monthly balance sheets for the general office and the usual balance sheet for stockholders.

A balance sheet to May 31 is attached to the report, showing fixed assets to the amount of $6,084,672.48, of which lands amount to $5,065,244.74; wells, $78,-960.65; buildings, $98,577.91; plant and machinery, $55,278.69; tanks, reservoirs and oil lines, $105,201.40; water line to Tamesi, $50,696.39; railroad, $65,227.26; rolling stock, $34,798.26; development and preliminary expenses, $272,375.25; ranch improvements and implements, $17,144.14; furniture and fixtures in house and offices, $2,810.49; discount on capital stock sold, $145,317.60; Mexican government bonds ($13,000 Mexican 3 per cent.) at cost, $3592.29.

Accounts receivable amount to $25,-128.23, and other current assets are as follows: Ranch live stock, $45,907.83; materials and supplies in warehouse, etc., $49,720.88; crude oil on hand at 25 cents a barrel, $69,840; asphalt on hand at $6 per ton, $570; distillate on hand at 45 cents a barrel, $3375, making total inventories $169,423.71; cash, in Citizens and First National Banks of Los Angeles, $7304.40, less overdraft with Banco Central Mexicano, $6273.75, $1030.65; cash on hand at Ebano, $1249.24, making total of cash assets $2279.89, and of all current assets $196,-831.96. The grand total of all assets, fixed and current, is $6,281,505.41.

As to liabilities, the company has 10,-000,000 shares of $1 each, of which 4,563,-625 are in the treasury, leaving $5,436,375 outstanding, value figured at par. Assessments levied amount to $758,622.50, less $56,512.40 applied on stock discount, $702,110.10; bonds authorized 6 per cent. gold, $250,000, less $245,600 in treasury, $4400; total capital liabilities, $6,142,-885.10. The current liabilities consist of bills payable, $92,500, and accounts payable, $46,120.31, making $138,620.31, and a grand total of $6,281,505.41.

MINES AND MINING.

TRINITY MINE YIELDS WELL.

WELL-KNOWN LOCAL MEN'S RICH BULLION RETURNS.

Bonnie Claire Mine Developed to a Depth of Six Hundred Feet—Visiting Scientist's Opinion—Electric Power Drives Standard Gasoline from Use.

The owners of the Dorieska mine, situated in Trinity county, have lately been receiving good news from their property, and in the most substantial way. The ten-stamp mill has been working on a recently-developed body of ore, and a clean-up in the latter part of September yielded a bar weighing over eight pounds avoirdupois, worth $1975.50. A second clean-up, on the 14th of October, resulted in a bar of sixteen and a half pounds avoirdupois, worth about $4000. The Dorieska has been worked with a small force the past year; but the favorable results of the milling will be followed by the sinking of the vertical shaft 200 feet 400 and 500 feet. The deepest level is 400 and 500 feet. The deepest levl is now 300 feet, with a winze 50 feet deep in good ore. The Dorieska is owned entirely in Los Angeles, the principal stockholders including Wm. Van Dyke, Judge Olin Wellborn, Senator Frank P. Flint, Dr. E. C. Keller, Roland P. Bishop, Carl Leonardt, T. F. Hayes, W. E. Keller and H. Z. Osborne and sons. Mr. Osborne is president of the company. The Dorieska has produced sixty-one bars of bullion to its present owners, averaging over $2000 each.

INSPECTED BONNIE CLAIRE.

A. W. Forrester has just returned from the Nevada gold districts where he inspected the entire property of the Bonnie Claire Bullfrog Mining Company, forty-two miles south of Goldfield. The property, he says, is in no sense a claim or prospect but a mine in the full sense, worked to a depth of 600 feet with levels, drifts and crosscuts from which Louis A. Chiovich, the original owner, now president of the company, has taken out ore for years, with the most primitive means, running it through an ancient five-stamp mill at Thorpe's Well, nine miles distant, to which place it was hauled by mules, or shipped to the Salt Lake smelters from Candelaria Station, 160 miles away on the Carson City and Colorado Railroad at enormous cost. There are miles of underground workings and fourteen claims in the the group, the principal work being on the Cowbet No. 1 and the Rattlesnake. The owners started development with $600 and paid for everything out of the ore mined.

Frederick I. Munson, a scientist long in government service, has just visited the property in the course of a trip gathering data on the country, and went through the entire workings, taking pictures and samples. Both Mr. Munson and George D. Johnstone, a Colorado mining man who accompanied him, say it was the best developed property they saw south of Tonopah.

"The Bonnie Claire Company," said Mr. Forrester yesterday, "has arranged for electric power to operate the twenty-stamp mill that is to be installed at once and to light the camp. Three companies are bringing power into the districts. At Goldfield electric power has been installed to take the place of gasoline engines in the mills. It results in a saving of about $600 a month. Gasoline costs 50 cents a gallon and is shipped by the Standard from San Francisco. Crude oil is not being used because of prohibitive freight rates.

"There are three railroads headed for that region and will pass near the Bonnie Claire and two of these will come to Los Angeles, so that this city will get the benefit of the development of Nevada, and what the Comstock was to San Francisco this will be to Los Angeles. It is a pity that the city has already lost the benefit of much of the trade on account of lack of railroad communication. When it is remembered that the money from the Comstock built great buildings, the Northern and Southern Pacific railroads and laid the cables across the Atlantic and Pacific, a few of the many things it did—one may begin to realize what good mines mean for a community.

"While I was there the Nevada-Goldfield, a property that adjoins the Bonnie Claire, was sold for $250,000. The purchasers are Philadelphia people, and the original owners were Goldfield men. The development work is down about 100 feet only."

DEVELOP "CURTIS" MINE

The Black Diamond Mining Company with offices in the Lankershim building has taken a lease and bond on the Curtis mine, thirty-six miles north of Mojave and has just shipped a Yarnell roller quartz mill. Several mill runs have been already made on the property, the lowest result being $15 free on the plates. The ground is easy to operate, the ore breaking up so fine that no crusher is needed.

ARIZONA.

YIELD POINT ON STATEHOOD.

BILL NOT TO BE IN CONGRESS THIS SEASON.

Territory's Delegate Has Accepted the Judgment of Visitors—Says It Is Better to be Governed from Washington for a While Than from Santa Fe for Half a Century.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 25.—There will be no separate Arizona Statehood bill in Congress this session, a condition most unusual, brought about through the advice of the members of the Congressional party that lately toured the Southwest.

Congressman Tawpey voiced the sentiment of the entire delegation when he said, "I believe the wisest move for the two Territories would be to cease agitation on the Statehood question. They are not ready for it and there is no use talking about it. There will be no move toward Statehood for Arizona in any form in the approaching Congress. That has been decided upon."

Arizona's Delegate in Congress, Marcus A. Smith, has accepted the judgment of the visitors and thusly has expressed himself: "Mr. Tawney, in my opinion, has expressed the feeling of the members of Congress who accompanied him on his trip through the Territories. I myself believe there is danger still of a joint Statehood bill being passed and almost certainly so if a caucus is held by the Republicans of the House. I long ago concluded in the face of the danger of being tied up to New Mexico not to introduce any Statehood bill for Arizona at the coming session of Congress and I so informed Mr. Tawney and other members of his party and this doubtless is his authority for the last statement in the dispatch. I do not agree that conditions are not ripe for separate Statehood for Arizona or that as a separate State she will long remain out of the Union. We are, however, facing a condition which requires the exercise of high patriotism and wise judgment. The Federal government is not giving us justice in every particular, but bad as it is, it is yet better to be governed from Washington for awhile, than from Santa Fé for half a century. Feeling assured that the best interests of Arizona will be best served by fighting joint Statehood, I shall stand on the strong ground of defense, against the measure and ask only to be let alone for this Congress at least. For yet a little while 'letpatience have her perfect work,' and the ambition of Arizona for single Statehood will be realized earlier than most people will now concede."

TERRITORIAL BRIEFS.

By the creation of the Tonto forest reserve, it is believed the Interior Department has fully protected the headwaters of the streams that must be depended upon to fill the great Tonto Basin water-storage reservoir. The headwaters of the Verde, the other stream drawn upon for the irrigation of the Salt River Valley, already are protected by the scope of the Grand Cañon, Black Mesa and Prescott reserves.

The body of Juan Acedo has been brought to Tempe from Globe for interment. Though only 5 years of age, Juan died from whisky drinking. It should be explained hastily that he had not been a continued devotee to the seductive though fatal liquor. He had happened upon a pint flask of liquor left in the house by his father and had drunk off the contents. He lived only over night.

Clement C. Leigh has been convicted in Mohave county of murder in the first degree, with death penalty annexed. Leigh was a parasite living on the earnings of Jennie Bauters, a Gold Roads prostitute. When the woman refused to give him more money, he shot her. Then he turned his pistol against himself, unhappily without serious result. The woman left valuable property holdings in Jerome.

In the Congress mine, a few days ago, two miners, Carlos Rameris and Crescencio Miranda, were badly injured by the premature explosion of a blast on the 2000-foot level. One will probably be blinded for life and the other lose an eye. Both men were badly torn and burned.

The outer guard of a Phoenix lodge of workmen happens to be a county constable. The other night he was sent after a candidate for initiation. He thought it would be an excellent joke to arrest the initiate, whom he found on the street and promptly handcuffed. Then he led his struggling victim upstairs and into the hall lined with expectant brothers. When all this had been done, the constable was enlightened to the awful fact that he had brought in a total stranger to all present and that he had arrested the wrong man.

Despite the fact that a bounty of $30 a scalp is now paid for the destruction of timber wolves, the animals are reported to be killing off the young deer of the plateaus of Arizona. The counties pay $20 for scalps, the cattle and sheep associations adding $5 each.

South of Mesa, 1700 acres of alfalfa and 1800 acres in other crops are being watered from one system of wells, under the control of Dr. A. J. Chandler, representative of Bowen & Ferry of Detroit. The wells supply about 10,000,-000 gallons a day and the supply seems inexhaustible. There are four pumping stations, each above four wells several hundred feet in depth.

Gov. J. H. Kibbey, Secretary W. F. Nichols and Congressman Frank Dickson, with their wives, have returned from a brief visit to the Tonto Basin damsite.

William Kemp, aged 82, died Friday in Phoenix. Among his children were H. E. Kemp of Inglewood and Mrs. W. D. Hamman of Los Angeles.

LADY MAITLAND AS PAINTER.

She Has Several Handsome Commissions to Execute During Her Stay in America.

(STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Lady Maitland, who, before these lines appear in print, will be again in America, accompanied this time by her husband, Viscount Maitland, has received several handsome commissions for miniature paintings to be executed during her stay on the other side of the Atlantic. I have it on the best authority that among them are orders from President Roosevelt for pictures of his wife, his eldest daughter, Miss Alice Roosevelt, and other members of his family—in all six portraits. Lady Maitland is an accomplished miniature painter whose success can in no wise be attributed to her rank. Her portraits of pretty women especially have been greatly admired and have been exhibited in the Royal Academy. She is also proficient in several of the lesser arts, trims hats, designs gowns and excels in the tasteful arrangement of interiors.

It is necessity that impels her to make money by painting miniatures. Viscount Maitland is one of the comparatively hard-up members of the British peerage, but for all that he and his charming wife have always managed to keep in the front rank of London society. She is a tall, slender, graceful woman, with that much admired shade of reddish hair which not a few less fortunate members of the fair sex seek to acquire by artificial means. Lord Maitland is big and burly, and is regarded as a thoroughly good fellow by his friends. He ranked at one time as the best amateur photographer in England, but since he has opened a studio in Sloane street, he is now classed as a professional. He never made any secret of his desire to make money out of his camera, and as the aristocracy take sensible views of such matters nowadays he can do it without losing caste. My latest memory of Lord Maitland is seeing him in an art gallery, the day before a private view, working hard in his shirt sleeves, arranging his own photographic exhibit on the walls. He and Lady Maitland are both greatly interested in Christian Science. One of the merits claimed for that form of faith is that it is peculiarly efficacious in making its devotees contented with small incomes.

SUPPOSED JAIL BIRD CAUGHT.

The City Jail holds a man named Harry Wilson, supposed to be one of the birds that flew from the San Bernardino County Jail Monday night when four prisoners sawed their way out. Wilson is thought to be none other than Harry Ward, larcenist. To Ward is attributed the instigation of the plot that resulted in the jail delivery. Wilson or Ward was boasting of his San Berdoo exploits in a First-street saloon last night. Patrolman Randolph overheard and sent him to jail.

MOTHERHOOD

MRS. MAE P. WHARRY
MRS. L. C. GLOVER

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs they are barren.
Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacements, ulceration and inflammation.
A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?
If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in suffering, and in disappointments at birth.
The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.
Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Woman's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I was married for several years and no children blessed our home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. For months I took his medicines, trying in vain for a cure, but at last my husband became disgusted and suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; this I did, and I improved steadily in health, and in less than two years a beautiful child came to bless our home. Now we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."
Mrs. Mae P. Wharry, Secretary of the North Shore Oratorical Society, The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me, and I am so glad I took it, for it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy one within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, which is the pride and joy of our household. Every day I bless Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the light, health and happiness it brought to our home."
If any woman thinks she is sterile, or has doubts about her ability to carry a child to a mature birth let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is free to all expectant or would-be mothers. She has helped thousands of women through this anxious period.
Women suffering with irregular or painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, displacement, ulceration or inflammation of the womb, that bearing down feeling of ovarian trouble, backache, bloating or nervous prostration, should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of woman's ills, and accept no substitute.
Many Women Have Been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine.

Men, I Will Cure You with Electricity

Electricity is animal vitality. It is the foundation of all strength. It is the fuel to the engine which runs the human machine. Electricity, as I apply it, is a source of new life to all parts of the body.
No man should be weak; no man should suffer the loss of that vital element which renders life worth living. No man should allow himself to become less a man than nature intended him; no man should suffer for the sins of his youth, when there is here at hand a certain check for his weakness, a check to his waste of power.
Most of the pains, most of the weakness of stomach, heart, brain and nerves, from which you men suffer, are due to an early loss of nature's reserve power through mistakes of youth. You need not suffer for this. You can be restored. The very element which you have lost you can get back, and you may be as happy as any man that lives.
Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt
Restores the snap, the vim and vigor of youth. Any man who wears it can be a giant in mental and physical development. Men, are you weak, have you pains in the back, varicocele, weak stomach, constipation, lumbago, rheumatism, enlarged prostate gland, or any of the results of early mistakes, excesses or overwork? My method of applying Electricity while you sleep at night will cure you. It fills the nerves with the fire of life.

Free Book
Every man who admires the perfection of physical strength should read my beautifully illustrated book. It tells how strength is lost and how I restore it with my Electric Belt. I will send this book, closely sealed, free, upon receipt of this coupon. If you are not the man you should be, write today. If you can, call and see me, and I will show you how you can be cured and give you a free test of my Belt.

How Do I Cure Chronic and Acute Diseases?

It's by personal attention and skill
Hours—9 to 4; 7 to 8 evenings; Sundays 9 to 12 only.
Weakness
Decline of functional activity, strength and vitality is nearly always traceable to a disturbance in the functions of the reproductive system. Under my treatment functional equilibrium is restored, the nerve irritation reduced, the circulation increased and strength renewed.
Contracted Diseases
Become chronic through improper treatment; painful, caustic remedies are the direct cause of stricture, ulceration and deep seated inflammation of the urinary tract. Chances are that every case now chronic could have been cured in one week to ten days with the right treatment, scientifically applied. I am confident I cure these ailments more quickly than anyone, with less pain or inconvenience to patients.
Varicocele
My treatment effects a cure in four to six days, and the cure will be PERMANENT. Normal circulation is quickly restored, the pains cease, the swelling subsides, the patient's strength and vitality improve immediately.

WESTERN AVENUE

IS BUILDING.

COME OUT AND SEE FOR YOURSELF. This is the last call on present prices in this locality; the tide of higher values is rising and now is the time to act. Acreage is selling at prices that makes our lots cheaper proportionately than acreage. For instance, we can sell you lots in our Melrose Avenue tract, with street improvements, for only $400. The adjoining acreage has sold for $1300 per acre. We could only get 6½ lots to the acre, which at $1300 per acre is a ground cost of $200 per lot. The street improvements will increase the wholesale cost to $250 per lot at least. Do you think the owners of that acreage will ever sell a lot for $400 on easy terms? NOT MUCH. But we will right now, if you hurry. Remember our war cry, "Buy in the Western-ave. section between Hollywood and Wilshire blvd." Take the Colegrove car to Western ave., where our branch office is located and we will show you the place where your dollars will be safer and more active than in any other section of Los Angeles; and it only requires a few of them to make a deal.

PALATIAL HOLLYWOOD HOME AT A SACRIFICE.

Hollywood is one of the most picturesque residential sections of Southern California. It is a most desirable living place because of its proximity to Los Angeles. This beautiful mansion commands a glorious view of the valley and mountains. The living room has windows on three sides, affording a beautiful outlook; this fine apartment is 18x23 feet. A handsomely tiled mantel, trimmed in oak, adds greatly to the appearance of the room; open fireplace; walls paneled in quarter-sawed oak; heavy beamed ceilings, attractive built-in book-cases; elegant lighting fixtures; special designed side lights with artistic art glass globes. This palatial residence is solidly built of wood and stone; 13 extra large rooms; downstairs entirely finished in quarter-sawed oak; several handsome mantels; rooms paneled and have beamed ceilings; oak floors, spacious sleeping-rooms, cedar linen closet, 3 toilets, billiard-rooms, bedrooms, servants' quarters on 3d floor; cement basement, furnace; laundry-room, porches, front and rear; beautiful highly improved grounds—160x295; fine 2-story barn with servants' quarters; this magnificent dwelling place is offered today for $22,500—a price considerably under actual value. To see this fine home, take Hollywood car to Crown ave.—two blocks north and one-half block west. For further information, call at the office of DEADLY HOOFS, AUTO FRIGHT.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT IN SAN DIEGO CITY.

Horses, Startled by Sudden Turn of Fast Touring Car, Dash Madly Through Street Full of Children and Two Lads are Knocked Down by Animals.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just after the Lowell school was dismissed for the noon intermission today a big touring car, occupied by two men and two women, dashed round the corner next the school at terrific speed and frightened a delivery team standing at the curb.

The horses dashed straight up the street, which was full of children, striking ten-year-old Joe Stansell.

The animal stumbled and fell upon the helpless child. Scrambling to its feet, and trampling the little fellow in doing so, the horse tore loose, knocking down and running over George Boyd, also ten years old.

Several other children just escaped injury beneath the hoofs of the animal. Joe is seriously injured and delirious, but the doctors hope he will recover. George is badly hurt, but will be all right in time. The speed maniacs never looked around, but dashed merrily on.

Freedom of World's Metropolis Conferred Upon Venerable Head of Salvation Army.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Oct. 26.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The freedom of the city of London, a distinction by which many statesmen and warriors have set great store, was today bestowed on Gen. Booth of the Salvation Army. The address referred in glowing terms to the work of Gen. Booth and his organization, not only in London, but throughout the world. The general, in reply, referred to the difficulties which beset him in his early days and which are only now becoming officially recognized.

Instead of the usual gold casket, the address was enclosed in an oaken casket, the balance of the money voted by the Municipal Council being, at the request of Gen. Booth, given in the shape of a check toward the funds of the organization.

Side Talks by The Office Boy

There's an awful lot of sadness
In this gay old world of ours,
There's loads of tribulation, care and woe,
But our little spells of gladness
Interspersed with childish badness,
Strikes a balance the farther on we go.

The old man says: "Joy is gladness with the lid off." Don't you think it's good business to be good natured during business hours and do business pleasantly. Lots and lots of people tell the old man that my "Office Boy Talks" don't bring business; that people don't care to read that kind of advertisements. Gee, but there's lots of knockers knocking "Side Talks," and knockers never have weak lungs; but they don't faze him—he's an old-time advertiser himself, has all kinds of medals for writing advertisements, he's responsible for me and my kind of stuff. When I grow up I may be able to do better, but I'm doing the best I can considering my age and salary. Supposing I told you the store news and the story of our wonderful hats, shirts, clothing, etc., in a long-winded, prosy sort, they couldn't possibly wear any better or be better values. A 12-year-old boy isn't supposed to know the meaning of all those big words I often see in "ads," like "Colossal collections," etc.

THIEF "SHOWS" MISSOURI MAN.

ATHFINDER FOR COLONISTS LOSES HIS VALUABLES.

Rescues Woman and Breaks Wrist in Arizona Train Wreck, Only to Run up Against Robber Who Took His Belongings from Railroad Station Here.

D. R. Dodson, advance representative for thirty-eight Missouri families intending to settle in Southern California, was robbed of nearly all his goods and chattels at the Huntington Station last night.

Dodson had a thrilling experience on his outward journey from his Missouri home, but the climax was reached last night.

He fought his way out of an overturned coach in a train wreck near Tucson Tuesday; rescued a woman who was pinned down by wreckage; sustained a broken wrist, and then hurriedly resumed his journey hither to blaze the trail for a colony from Kirksville.

He arrived in Santa Ana yesterday morning; deposited his money in a local bank and came on to Los Angeles after he had made a number of purchases in the Orange-county city.

Last night Dodson came to Los Angeles and rented a room on Fifth street. He had purchased a ranch near Vineland prior to his coming, and the more he thought of that ranch the greater his longing to see it. About 10:30 o'clock Dodson decided to board a Monrovia car and take his belongings to his new home. He engaged the services of a boy in the lodging-house to help him convey his belongings to the depot, but when he got there he decided to wander about the station while waiting for a car.

Meantime he left a chance acquaintance, S. G. Esselstein, in charge of his traps. When Dodson returned Esselstein was still there, but he reported that another man had come up and claimed a portion of the goods, including a gun, overcoat, suit case and various other articles.

Dodson delayed his trip to his new ranch home and told his troubles to the police. The pathfinder says he will stay in Los Angeles to meet his thirty-eight families and try to steer them clear of the pitfalls of a great city.

DECLARES VENDETTA IN COURT.

DETROIT GETS TASTE OF ITALY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—At declaring a vendetta in open court at the trial of Fortunato Falconi on the charge of killing Louis Calcatera, judge, jurors, attorneys and spectators yesterday caught their breath in frightened amazement. Emil Brogi was an unwilling witness for the prosecution.

"I do not want to testify against Fortunato Falconi because it might send him to prison for life," he raged, and before the import of his words was clearly grasped he rattled on, trembling with rage and with his fingers digging into his palms.

"I want him to go free that I may kill him, that I may be revenged for the murder of my dearest friend. When I found Falconi with a smoking revolver in his hand and poor Louis lying dead at his feet, I fell on my knees and kissed my dear friend's lips. I struck the floor with my clenched fists and vowed a vendetta—swore that I would kill the murderer of my friend."

Brogi was finally pacified and obeyed the court's instructions to tell what he knew of the night of July 15, when Calcatera was shot and killed while a crowd of Italian men were indulging in a noisy "stag" dance at a Watson-street resort.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Cunliffe's Plea Causes Surprise.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—Edward G. Cunliffe, the Adams express robber, went into court today and pleaded guilty to two charges of larceny, representing a total of $101,000. Sentence was suspended until Saturday. Cunliffe's action caused much surprise, as neither the Adams Express Company nor the Pinkerton Detective Agency was represented in court. He has no counsel. The belief is growing that Cunliffe is mentaly unbalanced.

Showed Check to "Friend."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Early this mornin, James McCarthy, mariner at the Mare Island yard, carelessly exhibited a certified check for $440 drawn on Wells-Fargo-Nevada National Bank, to a young man with whom he had been visiting various resorts. His companion grabbed the check and quickly disappeared. A few hours later McCarthy pointed out the thief to three policemen. The thief took to his heels and though three shots were fired, he succeeded in making his escape.

LONG BEACH.

BIG BALL FOR PIER DAY.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 26.—The committee having in charge the celebration of Pier Day on November 15 has the plans well in hand and promises that in some particulars it will rival the opening day of the new pier a year ago. There will be no attempts at great dispay. Invitations have been sent to Gov. Pardee, Senator Flint, Congressman McLachlan, Oscar Lawler and others to deliver addresses. Donatelli's band will give a special concert.

At night, the 1700 electric lights will be turned on by some prominent lady, preliminary to the ball and banquet, which is to be a brilliant event. While the tickets and invitations are not yet ready, applications are pouring in from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Pomona and other cities. The new hall contains 40,000 feet of floor space, but the ball tickets will be limited to 500. Donatelli's band will furnish music. The banquet will be served in the sun pavilion.

PHYSICIANS ORGANIZE.

The medical fraternity of Long Beach was well represented at Hotel Julian today when physicians gathered informally to meet Dr. J. N. McCormick of Bowling Green, Ky., Dr. Phil Jones of San Francisco and Dr. J. M. King of Los Angeles. The object was to effect a local organization of the regular old school physicians. Dr. McCormick is chairman of the organization and legislative committees of the American Medical Association and has been touring the United States the past six years in the interests of medical organizations. Dr. Phil Jones is secretary of the State society and Dr. King president of the county society. As a result of talks by the three visitors a local organization was formed with Dr. H. O. Bates, president, and Dr. J. M. Holden, secretary. The members are Drs. Brown, Donnell, Shelton, Anderson, Dodsworth, Holden, Newman, Jones, J. W. Wood, F. L. Wood, Bates and Hammon.

MORRISON-HUBSTETH.

At noon yesterday at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. G. Hunt, No. 344 Linden avenue, Rev. Swingle of the First Christian Church, Los Angeles, united in marriage Miss Grace Hubsteth of this city and John Morrison of Los Angeles. Only the relatives and immediate friends were present. The house was prettily decorated in white and red carnations and smilax. The attendants were Miss Crissy White and Walter Cobb. The bride was gowned in champagne crepe de chine and her traveling suit was of gray with hat and gloves to match. After the ceremony and wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left for San Diego. After November 15, they will be at home at No. 326 South State Street, Los Angeles.

SEASHORE NEWS NOTES.

Another chapter of the row between the city and the Nelson-Napier Navigation Company, regarding the payment of wharfage, developed today when Col. William Nelson, president of the company was arrested on a charge of malicious trespass, Wharfinger Charles Beattge, alleging that Nelson destroyed city property by tearing down banners erected by the city closing the public landings. Col. Nelson entered a plea of not guilty and his trial was set for November.

Residents of the territory in Alamitos, recently annexed have petitioned the postoffice authorities for free delivery.

Dr. M. A. Schutz, propriet.. of Hotel Rivera has had plans drawn for a row of storerooms and offices on the Second-street side of the hotel. The new addition will be of one story and the veranda of the hotel will extend over the roofs.

Windows and doors in the new convention hall are nearly all in place. The upper flooring was completed this afternoon. Painters are at work inside and out and the magnificent pavilion is showing its grandeur.

Twenty-one ten-foot iron car seats have been placed along the pier for the accommodation of the public. They are a free gift from the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

George H. Walker, who stopped payment of a check issued to cancel a note, which he tore up, says that he only did so after additional liabilities of $300 of the old firm had turned up and he did not propose to throw good money after bad. His attached property was released on his putting up a cash bond.

While inspecting the wing of the new convention hall yesterday, City Electrician Clough and an assistant fell from the ceiling to the balcony, a distance of twenty feet, but escaped with slight bruises.

Runaway Street Car on Williamsburg Bridge, New York, Crashes Into Another Car, Stalled.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A runaway street car on the new Williamsburg suspension bridge across East River today caused the injury of twenty-five persons, two of them probably being fatally hurt. For a thousand feet down the incline on the Manhattan approach of the bridge a Christopher street car ran with its brakes out of order, until it hit and demolished a standing Fourteenth street car in which were seventy-five passengers. In this latter car most of the injuries occurred. It was ten minutes before the broken roof, sides and floor of this car could be taken off from the last passenger who was buried under the wreckage.

The Fourteenth street car, blocked by a truck, was standing near the end of the bridge. The men on the rear platform jumped off in safety. The three score passengers inside fought wildly with one another to escape, but only blocked the doorways. As the runaway car approached the rear platform, those near the doorway pulled back the passengers who were stepping out on the platform. The platform was split into pieces a few seconds later. Men broke out the windows and, crawling out, drew the women after them. The Christopher street car was not so badly damaged, although flying glass cut some of its occupants badly.

The Delancey street police station was converted into a temporary hospital, fourteen injured persons being cared for there by surgeons summoned with all possible speed.

IS GOMEZ ORGANIZING REVOLT?

HAVANA, Oct. 26.—An unaccredited rumor is in circulation that Gen. Gomez, until recently a candidate for the Presidency of Cuba, and who is now in the United States, is buying 6000 rifles for the purpose of organizing a revolt in Cuba. Senator Seyas, for the Liberal party, says Gomez has not the money to buy guns. He is going to rent a plantation and become a sugar planter.

President Wheeler of State University Tells What Grammar Schools Should Teach.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PACIFIC GROVE, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] His patriotism stung by the widespread prevalence of "graft" in State and municipal affairs, President Wheeler made a remarkable speech before today's session of the Monterey County Teachers' Institute.

Under the caption "What should be taught in the grammar school?" Wheeler decried methods and studies. The most essential of all to be taught is religion, morals and manners, [illegible] training, he

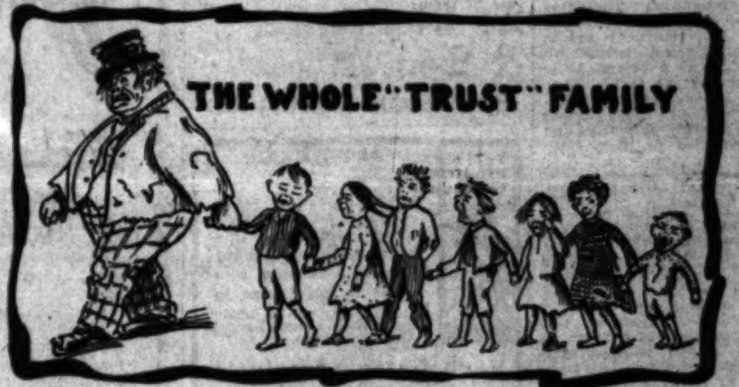
To prove that we don't give a fig for the silly words of threat which the Trust has uttered, we will open up the private life of Mr. Trust. Here's a fairly good snap shot of the Trust family.



One Trust Store Recently Said:

"There Ain't No Trust"

Yes, there's the Trust family.

The big fellow is the papa Trust representing the "big interests," including some bankers and promoters. The little tots (and we're sorry for them) represent independent dealers who were promised big salaries when they sold out to the Trust, and since then have been eating promissory notes with an occasional real meal as a side dish.

One Furniture Store, a member of the Trust, whose business has been almost wiped away by the fierce cut prices at Brent's, recently came out in an advertisement with this choice bit of "illogic." "A Trust is formed to control all the trade. We wish we were a trust, but we are not."

How's that?

The Trust isn't a Trust because it doesn't control all the trade.

In other words, it WOULD be a Trust if it wasn't for Brent's.

And, of course, the Trust wishes it did control the trade.

You see the Trust begins to cry and deny its existence.

No wonder, for many hundreds of men have their wives to "keep away" from the Trust.

The Trust may squirm all it can, but these satisfy any man of intelligence.

All trust stores use the same warehouses.

All Trust stores use the same delivery system discretion compels them to have different names on their wagons.)

All Trust stores employ the same buyers.

All Trust stores borrow money jointly (and pretty important item for this particular trust.)

And it may be added that all Trust Brent's with blind fury.

All Trust stores do not quote the same price try to get you a BIG price in one store price if you happen to visit another store first.

Universal Approbation is the surest proof of supreme merit. Amateurs and professionals alike pronounce the Steinway the best piano produced; it is acknowledged the "Standard Piano of the World." Facts are stranger than fiction, and the mere fact that over $100,000,000 worth of Steinway Pianos are in constant use is proof positive that it is the most popular and esteemed piano in the world. In over 300 principal cities of the globe the Steinway Piano is sold as their leader by the very best piano houses, and it is appreciated alike in palaces and cottage.

Owing to the fact that it is constructed on perfect principles, and that only the choicest material and the most skilled labor are employed, the tone of the

FOURTEEN AT THE MEETING.

Irvine's "Voter's League" is Graft for Irvine.

Runs Whole Thing and Pockets Fifty Per Month.

Twenty-seven Speeches by Irvine Last Night.

Just fourteen members of the so-called "Voters' League" turned out last night for the long-advertised semi-annual meeting, held in Brent's Hall, on South Spring street.

Not a single business man of prominence was there. J. B. Irvine, professional secretary to "reform" movements, and the time of his life. He actually made twenty-seven speeches, separate and distinct, and finally, when his wind gave out, someone had the presence of mind to move to adjourn.

This wasn't exactly fair to Irvine—he wanted to make a show of earning his $50 a month salary.

Assistant Secretary Joseph Phillis took his cue from his chief, and the two had a battledore and shuttlecock game, tossing from one end of the hall to the other the right to gain the floor and make a speech.

Phillis, too, wanted to make good. He is drawing $30 a month salary, and as this beats even typographical-union grafts, he has great enthusiasm for the "Voters' League."

But Phillis wasn't as wise as Irvine; he didn't like the looks of the gathering for which he and Irvine have been tooting so loudly.

"Why, this meeting is very much smaller than the one we held six months ago," cried out the assistant secretary.

Irvine jumped to the rescue with an elaborate speech—No. 13, this was—in which he tried to show that "the people" took such keen pleasure in voting by postal card system that they didn't feel justified in attending meetings.

But Irvine got from this another inspiration for a speech. "We are convinced," said he, as he strutted to the front, "that more money is needed." There loomed up in the background the possibility that the coin for the $50 salary of the preacher without a pulpit (Irvine) and for the $30 hire of the assistant secretary might not be forthcoming.

To avoid this horrible contingency, a change in the bylaws was suggested by Irvine—raising the fees of membership to $1 for initiation and 25 cents a month thereafter. It was added that it would be a fine thing if the present members would double their contributions, as dues, "while the league is in its formative period." Good scheme for the salary list!

There was a depressing dullness in the meeting, which even the twenty-seven speeches of the secretary couldn't relieve. Irvine read the semi-annual report, which told of things which the Voters' League had attempted, but which, in some unfortunate manner, had petered out; and then dwelt on the league's present work of circulating petitions requesting the City Council to pass an ordinance requiring the street-car companies to place certain kinds of fenders on their cars.

The report showed that the league has expended $740.35, and that there now remains a balance in the treasury of only $16.50. No wonder the secretary felt uneasy about those salaries.

Then these fourteen voters, out of the city's population of probably 250,000 people, tackled the City Hall removal question. It was like the old tale of the Three Tailors of Tooley Street resolving that, "We, the people of England," etc.

Irvine wanted to commit the league to the policy of having the question of a city hall site submitted to a vote of the people.

R. W. Reynolds and others declared that the league should keep hands off, and no action was taken. It furnished excuse, however, for eight or nine more speeches from Irvine and Phillis.

The $50-a-month secretary finally made a declaration of principles which he hoped would clear up the feeling that he wasn't worth the money.

"I'm very progressive and aggressive, myself," Irvine declared plaintively, "but we've got a lot of members in this league who are very hard to stir up.

"Now there's a lot of things which we are aiming to do that we don't propose to make public. Why, we don't even talk of them in the Executive Committee meetings. You can't always depend on these fellows understanding the motives. But a few of us—ahem, we understand it all right, and we'll shape things for the Voters' League. We propose to have several other things in this city's charter besides the referendum and the recall."

One by one the "Voters' League" slipped away from the Irvine flow of oratory, until there was a lonesome handful at the adjournment. Before this took place, however, R. W. Reynolds gained the floor, in an unguarded moment on the part of Irvine, and declared that any action taken at this meeting was illegal, as there was no quorum present.

Then the janitor turned off the lights and the great meeting of the Voters' League (14 people, mostly Irvine) of Los Angeles was a matter of history. Huh!

REALTY DINNER.

Los Angeles Board Holds First of Series of Monthly Evening Business Meetings.

The Los Angeles Realty Board held the first of a series of monthly business meetings and dinners last night. "Municipal Civics" was the topic discussed. Herbert Burdett, secretary, gave an address on "The Evils in Politics and Corporation Business." The speaker related experiences in the organization of precinct clubs by independent citizens and urged upon the realty board, that its members take more active interest in politics. He advised the election and appointment of thoroughly good business men, and declared that such action would result in the reduction of taxation and would make the city more attractive to investors.

Fielding J. Stilson, lately appointed Southern California representative on the National Municipal League, spoke on the general subject.

Horace G. Hamilton and the firm of Chamberlin & Johnson were elected active members. T. B. Townsend of Long Beach, and the Huntington Park Realty Company, were elected county members.

YIP-KUCYMRSZEWICZ.

Chinese on Wagon and Russian on Bicycle Come Together With Disastrous Results.

"No see him till too late," said He Yip, a Chinese vegetable vender, while trying to explain a collision at First and Alameda streets, between his wagon and a Russian on a wheel.

The Russian was knocked out and the bicycle was wrecked. Yip's wagon suffered to the extent of a broken wheel, and Yip was cut and bruised.

Nobody at the Receiving Hospital could understand Russian, but finally a "trusty" in the City Jail, who said he had studied Sanskrit in a theological seminary managed to secure the name of the injured Russian, and this is what the ex-theological student wrote on the hospital record: Vladislov Kucymrszewicz.

The Russian said the name was spelled correctly and nobody disputed the statement. K—— (see spelling above,) was riding a wheel on First street when he collided with Yip. The Czar's subject was knocked unconscious and sustained a wrenched ankle. Surgeon Freedman patched him up, handed back his name and sent him away rejoicing.

HOT SHOT AT OIL DERRICKS.

SECOND WARD WOULD RAZE ALL IN EIGHT MONTHS.

Mass Meeting Names Committee to Work on Owners—Vigorous Petition to Go to Council for Removal of Every Rig by Next July—Inspector on Carpet.

"What we need in this Second Ward is a Carrie Nation with an ax to chop down those ugly derricks."

With this statement, E. Todd prefaced vigorous remarks last night at a mass-meeting at Park Congregational Church to protest against the oil nuisance. A committee that will confer with the oil men this afternoon was given full powers.

There was a big turnout at the little church, which is in the midst of a cluster of high derricks, and there is joy among the church members at the prospect that an agreement will be clinched today whereby the oil men will remove the overshadowing derricks.

Another of the sensational features of the stirring meeting was the haling of Oil Inspector Blackmar before the assemblage to answer certain charges.

Dramatically, W. H. Dickinson accused the inspector of neglect of duty in allowing cables to be stretched contrary to the city ordinance.

"I would like the inspector to tell us why he has permitted the oil men to break the law," said Dickinson.

Inspector Blackmar was excited as he arose to address the citizens. He declared that he had done all in his power to enforce the law. He expressed the belief that every cable now operated in the oil district is running contrary to city ordinance. He promised to be good in the future, and said he was earning for the city, in revenues from the oil industry, more than the amount of his salary. This to answer the charge that his salary exceeded any revenue received by the city from his office.

Hot shot was poured into the meeting by Thomas T. Knight, a gray-haired veteran, who said he wanted the oil men to know he was in the fight to win.

"If the fifty-seven wells in this district were pumped steadily every day, they would not average three barrels a day," he said. "At 30 cents a barrel, at the tank, and taking out the cost of pumping, we have a profit of about $4000 a year. This gives us a profit of only $75 a year on each well. This is the price paid for the ruin of our homes and property.

"This money goes into the pockets of a dozen men. The oil wells are situated on about thirty-five lots. There are 266 lots in these ten blocks and there are more than a thousand a short distance beyond. All these lots are being ruined by this oil nuisance, to put a paltry sum into the pockets of these men. The oil wells are unprofitable nuisances."

Rev. John H. Cooper, pastor of the Park Church, spoke of the depreciation of the church property in consequence of the operation of oil wells on the church lots. He thought the harm done to the property far exceeded any revenue received as royalty from the oil men.

Marshall Stimson added spice to the meeting by declaring the committee to be in favor of indorsing the action of the Council in accepting the free site for the City Hall. He quoted many reasons for accepting the site and spoke of the benefits to be derived by the Second Ward. His remarks were received with great enthusiasm.

On Monday a stiff petition will be presented to the Council asking that all derricks now abandoned be removed by the first of the year. The petition gives the oil men until April 1 to operate live wells and extends the time to July 1 for the removal of all derricks.

The territory affected by the petition is bounded on the north by Bellevue avenue, on the south by Colton street, on the east by Beaudry avenue and on the west by Douglass street.

FOR ALEXANDRIA.

Furnishings of Bilicke-Rowan Hotel Purchased at Cost of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars.

A. C. Bilicke has returned from a trip to Chicago, where he went to purchase furniture and fittings for the handsome Alexandria Hotel, the fire-proof structure just being completed at the southwest corner of Fifth and Spring streets.

The Bilicke-Rowan Company have invested $300,000 in these furnishings, and have selected the very best goods on the market. It is said the new hotel will be one of the most handsomely furnished in the entire West.

While in Chicago, Mr. Bilicke also awarded the contract for the decoration of the entire first floor of the Alexandria. The contract price is $22,700.

The hotel is to be opened January 15, and from the outlook for tourist trade, the proprietors believe that every room will be taken within a few days after its formal opening.

The exterior of the handsome building is now practically completed, and a large force of men is rushing the interior work. Good progress is being made on the annex, which is building on the Fifth-street frontage.

PYTHIANS PAY HIGH TRIBUTE.

Spread Rare Banquet in Honor of Judge Trask.

Three Hundred Friends and Brothers at Table.

Patriotism Permeates the Brilliant Speeches.

High honor was paid last night to Judge D. K. Trask, Past Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of California, by his friends and by his fellows of the Knights of Pythias at a banquet at Hotel Angelus.

While the banquet was complimentary by the members of Samson Lodge to Judge Trask, who is so popular with his brethren that there are no words to describe the degree, it was far from being confined to members of the order. It was broadened until it included a vast array of business and professional men, plates being laid for more than three hundred guests.

JUDGE D. K. TRASK.
Past Grand Chancellor Domain of California, K. of P.

The banquet room was elaborately decorated in smilax, white chrysanthemums and Old Glory, and the plate-favors were red carnations. The menu was a large libretto affair with a calla lily and leaf hand-painted on the outside, while the inside was printed in three colors and the whole tied with ribons of red, white and gold. The feast itself was one of the most elaborate ever offered in the city, the cost per plate for the caterer alone having been $7.50, and the outlay for the banquet exceeded $4000. The guests were all in full dress.

At the head table sat the guest of honor and the toastmaster, Edmund Burke. To the right were the following gentlemen, who were among the speakers of the evening: United States Senator Flint, Rev. Robert J. Burdette, George L. Keefer, chairman; Byron Oliver, and Judge Bledsoe of San Bernardino. To the left were Hon. George A. Knight of San Francisco, Gen. H. G. Otis, Thomas Fitch, Frank Dominguez, Mayor Owen McAleer, Frank Jones and Gen. Shaffner of San Francisco.

At the tables were to be seen many congenial groups. Gen. M. H. Sherman, Henry E. Huntington and Walter Trask, were one of the jolliest; another was E. P. Clarke, J. Ross Clark, William Mead and R. N. Bulla; City Councilman Smith, Fire Commissioner Wren and ex-Chief Hammel enjoyed it together; Messrs. Davis, Washburn and Wilson of the Board of Education forgot about the schools, but flocked together. There were dozens of such groups.

PATRIOTIC THEMES.

The theme of the post-prandial feast was enthusiastically and gloriously patriotic. "Our Country," was appropriately the subject of the well-rounded and earnest sentences of Hon. F. P. Flint, Jr., United States Senator from California; "The President of the United States," was judicially treated by the analytical mind of Hon. George A. Knight of San Francisco; and who could make the eagle scream louder than the silver-tongued Thomas Fitch, on "American Citizenship," or who could surpass the inimical Robert J. Burdette, when he undertakes to "do up" "The Press." The orchestra played patriotic airs; the audience stood and sang "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner," and the latter was everywhere in evidence.

Chairman Keefer spoke the welcome of his lodge to the assembled guests in a neat speech, and midway in the dinner Toastmaster Burke introduced Mr. Knight to respond to "The President." In doing so he named Mr. Knight as the next Governor of California.

The speaker took exception to the words of Mr. Burke, saying at the outset:

"It has been my purpose in life to try to put myself right on all occasions. I am here tonight feeling highly honored as your guest and to do honor to an able jurist, an honored citizen and a good fellow. I am not here in the capacity of an embryonic candidate for anything, and I do not wish to be so considered."

"THE PRESIDENT."

On the subject of his toast, Mr. Knight spoke in part as follows: "The President of the United States represents something; some thought, some idea, and he has a place in the history of this nation and in the history of the nations of the earth."

He referred to George Washington as the culmination of the idea of liberty, in a man as broad, and grand as the principles he represented.

"The kind of men sent to the executive chair," he said, "gave character to the events of their time."

He reviewed briefly the career of Grant and Lincoln, awakening great applause and enthusiasm at the mention of their names.

"Never a man sat in the executive chair," he declared, "who had any peculiarities to excuse or offenses to condone. The White House has been the symbol of the purity of his own life.

"We have now a young man who stands today one of the greatest, most aggressive, competent, fearless and brave Presidents this country has ever had.—Theodore Roosevelt."

The name awoke a great shout and the audience stood and cheered, while immediately afterward the orchestra struck up the tune of "Dixie," suggesting the President's splendid reception in the South just now, and this brought new shouts of laughter and applause.

Senator Flint referred in patriotic terms to our duty as citizens of the republic and took no stock in the pessimist that predicted the destruction of the government, though he sounded a warning and called for honesty and integrity in public, official and private citizens.

Gen. Shaffner of San Francisco spoke of "Pythianism" from the standpoint of his position as Grand Keeper of Records and Seals.

The subject of Byron Oliver was "Liberty Under Law Is the Law of Liberty."

Frank James responded to "Our Guest," his theme being: "Taffy is better than epitaphy."

"AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP."

Thomas Fitch, the eloquent, responding to the toast, "American Citizenship," said in part:

"The difference between an American citizen and a European subject is that the latter looks upon government as a probate court, whose duty it is to look out for him, while the former, if he is a life-insurance company director or a trust magnate, also makes it necessary for the government to 'look out for him.'

"The American citizenship makes another man of the foreigner who secures it. Across the Atlantic he takes off his hat when he meets a lord—here he keeps it on when he meets a millionaire, unless the millionaire salutes him first. There the driver of a loaded wagon turns out for the vehicle with a coronet upon its panels; here the carriage of a financial autocrat who attempts to usurp the teamster's right of way, will be apt to lose a wheel. If Rockefeller goes to the polls to vote, or Morgan goes to the postoffice for a letter, or Armour goes to the barber's shop for a shave, each must take his turn. The capitalist with a hundred millions cannot jostle out of his place the day laborer who has but 30 cents, and the man who earns a dollar a day can command luxuries that were not within the reach of Bourbon Kings.

"United States! Do we ever pause to consider how much of greatness, how much of power, how much of freedom, how much of prosperity is comprised within these simple words? A link of human brotherhood eighty million times multiplied. A splinter from an old-world yoke grown and fashioned into navies and cities. A wilderness of fishing pools and forests, changed by the wand of free labor into a country of factories and farms. States whose authors and artists, whose soldiers and statesmen, whose inventors and mechanicians, whose discoverers and philanthropists have made a century blaze with the splendor of the achievements which they have set like stars in the diadem of the republic. A land where no man doffs his hat to another, except through the courtesy of equals; where no slave's presence dishonors labor, and where no freeman's utterances are choked by the hand of power. A country where education is free, where manhood is respected and where labor is protected! A country whose map of knitted empires stretches over two hemispheres, whose shores listen to the wash of four oceans, and whose fields, and orchards, and forests yield the products of every clime. A land whose credit reigns at the head of the world's

The defense is being conducted by the counties and cities of the State jointly, with the City of Redlands, and Dist.-Atty. Fredericks is looking after their interests with the special attorneys employed. Every municipal corporation is interested, and millions of dollars will turn on the decision, as if the patent is held to be valid and applicable to roadmaking by methods in vogue, it means the cessation of much of the work that has been going on roads, the enormous enhancement of cost for any that may be done in the future, the probable recovery of great sums claimed as royalties for what has already been completed and a backset for the oil industry of California, and that, too, just at a time when the road oil business is looming up best.

The plaintiff's testimony has lasted two full days. It covered the issuance of the patent, an explanation of the process, and testimony as to the use of oil by the defendant municipal corporation in alleged infringement of its provisions and the refusal to pay the royalties demanded. One of the points made was that when the patent was first sprung in California, the defendant was one of those who at first submitted and paid tribute until otherwise advised. Prof. G. E. Bailey was called to testify as expert upon oils, asphalt, soils and the various elements entering into the matter of road-oiling.

METHODS OF OILING.

Fred C. Finckle, chief engineer of the Edison Electric Company, was the first witness called by the defendant. He was on the stand until adjournment yesterday. His testimony was of a technical nature, and most important, as it was sought to show thereby the relations between the oiling of highways, for the purpose of laying dust, as practiced by railroads for years in Pennsylvania and other parts of the East, and the process of making permanent roads by the use of oil.

Mr. Finckle testified to the composition of different oils, with paraffin and asphaltum bases, and explained the methods employed in making a roadway by mixing California oil with the soil after plowing up the surface. He testified to having had experience in road-building in this State and to having seen oiled roads in Texas and oiled railroad beds in the East. A number of specimens of asphalt and soils treated with oil were introduced as exhibits.

BEFORE THE PATENT.

The defense will put on many witnesses to testify to the use of oil on roads prior to the date of the patent's issuance. At the present rate of progress the case can hardly be finished before the middle of next week, especially if the plaintiff calls many witnesses in rebuttal. There will be a number of affidavits besides the witnesses who may testify in person. Efforts will be made to show that oil was applied to roads years ago, and that therefore the patent is necessarily void.

FIVE GOOD SALES.

They Amount to a Total of Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars. Lots and Acreage.

Charles Gollmer has sold to W. R. Jones, through the agency of W. R. Merwin & Co., a lot on the north side of East Fifth street, between Los Angeles street and Maple avenue, 50x16 feet, improved with a two-story frame rooming-house. Consideration named, $37,000.

A. L. Cheney has sold to H. I. Millard, through the same agency, the southeast corner of Adams street and Normandie avenue, 80x165 feet; consideration named, $5000.

Eugene Germain sells to Frank K. Eckley, through the agency of the C. J. Heyler Company, 50x165 feet, improved with a story-and-half dwelling, on the east side of Hope street about seventy feet north of Eighth street; consideration, $20,000.

Dr. C. M. O'Leary sells to Gilbert S. Wright, through the agencies of C. F. W. Palmer and C. J. Heyler Company, eight and one-half acres about a quarter of a mile west of Western avenue, and being the southwest corner of Second and Eugene streets; consideration, $10,000.

Two hours after he put it on the market yesterday, R. G. Doyle reports he sold a piece of property 60x500 feet on Macy street to Charles Canfield, Jr., for $30,000. The former owner was the Union Hardware and Metal Company. The property has on it a brick warehouse 225 feet long, which will be used by Canfield, with its trackage facilities already in, for a warehouse.

B'NAI B'RITH SMOKER.

Los Angeles Lodge, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, will give a smoker on Tuesday evening in its hall, on West Pico street. Several visitors from outside cities will be guests of honor. A vaudeville programme, with numbers furnished by managers of various theaters, will be a feature of the evening. The lodge now has 250 members.

ARIZONA FIRM FAILS.

A voluntary assignment was made, yesterday, to the Los Angeles Wholesalers' Board of Trade by the firm of Miller Bros., liquor dealers of Tucson, Ariz., for the benefit of creditors. The firm is composed of J. J. and A. Miller. The liabilities will amount to $19,000, of which over $8000 is due Los Angeles firms. The assets include $5000 in merchandise, $2000 worth of fixtures, and $2300 book accounts.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

"Imperative mandate" was trotted out by freak agitators for incorporation in new city charter, the work of framing which is urged at early date by City Attorney Mathews.

The Library Board brought a hornet's nest about its ears by asking the Council to rent rooms for the library department outside the City Hall; may be asked to vacate present quarters and pay its own rent.

Judge James decided that the mother of Seth Preston, who died at Whittier, is entitled to his estate, willed by him to a woman who is alleged to have unduly influenced him in his last days, his parent being ignored.

There were two auction sales in Judge Conrey's court yesterday, and prices of real estate in both scaled high above what was brought at private sale.

John Reeder was released from the City Jail yesterday on the promise to work for the support of his family.

Antonio Barajas was sentenced to severe punishment for striking a fellow-workman with a pick.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FREAK SCHEMES TROTTED OUT.

WILL BE ENTERED FOR PLACE IN NEW CHARTER.

"Imperative Mandate," the Latest Spasm of Socialists and Labor Union Agitators, Who May See "Recall" Smashed—Early Start on the Work is Urged.

Eleven wards, eighteen Councilmen, a bicameral legislative department and freak legislation almost without limit—these are included in the suggestions for the new city charter which probably will be presented for ratification at the next municipal election.

While this election will not be held before December of next year, City Attorney Mathews has sounded a note of warning that a charter revision committee should be appointed within the next few weeks. This is necessary that the new charter may be ready for presentation to the voters just as soon as the people of the State give us permission to discard our present patched and defaced municipal garment and order a brand new suit of the best material and latest municipal pattern. For sixteen years Los Angeles has been patching the present freeholders' charter with repeals and amendments to numerous sections, until even the legal department admits that the coat of many colors is sadly deficient. This patching has been necessary for the reason that under the State Constitution we have not the power to discard the present charter in its entirety, but must go on with the patching process.

City Atty. Mathews

At the last meeting of the State Legislature, however, City Attorney Mathews sent to Sacramento a proposed amendment to the State Constitution, enabling municipalities operating under a freeholders' charter to abandon an old charter, with the consent of the Legislature, and adopt a new one. The Legislature reluctantly gave its consent that this amendment should be presented to a vote of the people of the State at the next general election. As there is no opposition to the amendment, City Attorney Mathews favors anticipating its passage by the appointment of a charter revision committee at an early date to gather material for the new instrument.

Time is an important item in preparing this material; if the new charter is not ready for presentation to the Legislature at its next meeting, Los Angeles must wait five years for its new charter. This extra long delay is occasioned by a recent amendment to the charter, changing the date of municipal elections from the even to the odd years. There will be a municipal election in December of next year, but there will not be another until three years from that date. The odd year carries past the next session of the Legislature and the charter could not be adopted until the spring of 1910.

NEED NEW CHARTER.

"Los Angeles is badly in need of a new charter," said the City Attorney last night, "in order that the defects in the present instrument occasioned by frequent amendments may be remedied.

"The new document should be a continuous, harmonious instrument, and in order that it may be ready for presentation at the next session of the Legislature, the preliminary committees should be appointed as soon as possible."

An instance of the discrepancies of the different sections of the present charter came to light a few weeks ago when two members resigned from the Board of Education. In one section the charter provides that the Board of Education is empowered to fill vacancies in that body occasioned by resignation, death or removal; in another section the Council is empowered to fill a vacancy in any elective office except that of Councilman.

It has been proposed that the Council appoint nine citizens as a temporary charter revision committee, and that this committee set to work at once collecting data for the new charter. The people of the State will vote on the amendment permitting the adoption of a new charter in November of next year. As the city election will be held within thirty days of that time and it will be necessary to advertise the charter before it can be voted on, it will be necessary to have the new charter practically framed by the time the State election is held. This will enable the voters to ratify it at the December election and the instrument could go to the Legislature in January of the following year. Any delay in this programme will necessitate a five years' wait.

Numerous suggestions already have been made for the new charter. It is pretty generally understood that the document will provide for two additional wards, making the entire number eleven in place of nine. The new Tenth Ward probably will comprise the Vernon section of the Fifth and Sixth Wards. Ward Eleven may embrace the extreme western extensions of Wards Four and Five.

MORE COUNCILMEN.

Concurrent with the addition of two wards may come an increase in the number of Councilmen to eighteen—some favor twenty-two. It is proposed to bring this increase about by electing one Councilman from each ward and seven at large, or by electing two Councilmen from each ward. The proposal of electing at least seven Councilmen at large meets with favor among those who believe that at the present time there is too much trading among wards.

Some self-appointed municipal mentors propose that the legislative department should be bicameral and that the lower house should be chosen by wards and the upper house composed of legislators at large. This does not find favor in municipal circles; there is a feeling that it would complicate rather than simplify the already too intricate municipal machinery.

An effort may be made by the conservative element of the community, comprising a great majority of the property owners, to have the "recall," the "initiative" and the "referendum" eliminated from the new charter. These imported appendages have cost probably $200,000 and have been productive of nothing but agitation.

Their repeal will be opposed by the Socialists and the labor union jawsmiths who love them on account of their infinite capacity for disturbing existing conditions and making trouble generally.

The agitators have a new scheme to present in the form of the "imperative mandate." This is the latest abortion of freak legislation. It is a device which provides that when a petition signed by a certain number of voters is presented to the Council, the act specified in the petition must be passed by the legislative body. The petition is to have all the force of a mandamus from the Supreme Court.

This is only one of the many freak schemes that the agitators will try to foist on the city while the new charter is being drawn.

MAY OUST LIBRARY.

HOT WATER FOR BOARD.

The Library Board brought a hornet's nest about its ears Wednesday night when it voted to ask the Council to lease rooms for library use outside the City Hall.

In the Council committee-room yesterday afternoon, several legislators expressed the opinion that the Library Board should leave its own rooms and that it is the duty of the Council to inform it that the present space on the third and fourth floors of the municipal building is needed for the use of other departments.

For several weeks the Council has looked with the eye of envy on the apparent prosperity of the library department. The charter provides that the library appropriation each year shall be not less than four mills on each $100 of property valuation.

The assessed valuation of the city has about doubled since that clause was inserted in the charter, and the result is that while the other departments are reduced to the most strict economy the library is comparatively on velvet.

During the present fiscal year the Library Board has been able to raise about all the salaries in that department, but the Council has been compelled to turn down all applications for increase.

Wednesday night the Library Board estimated that the quarters the library now occupies in the municipal building could be utilized by other departments, effecting a saving in rental to the city of at least $500 a month. The Library Board has asked the Council to pay for rental of rooms for the library in some new business block. Councilmen yesterday said that they will respond by requesting the Library Board to vacate its present quarters in the City Hall and go elsewhere—at the Board's expense.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

MOTHER WINS SON'S ESTATE.

JUDGE JAMES DECIDES PRESTON INSURANCE CASE.

Holds That Youth Who Died Recently at Whittier Was Unduly Influenced and That Mrs. Eva Clifford, to Whom Policy Was Willed, Cannot Have It.

Judge James has determined that when Seth Preston added the all-important codicil to his will he was under the undue influence of Mrs. Eva Clifford, and that, consequently, the mother of the dead youth must receive the insurance policy for $1000—all that will be left of the estate.

The town of Whittier has for months been agitated over the death of Seth Preston, and people divided into two factions. So keen was the interest that prominent persons of the town contributed money to advance what they thought the true facts, and now the court in deciding in favor of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Preston, mother of the deceased, in her petition to refuse probate of her son's will to Mrs. Clifford, gives fresh stimulus to the neighborhood differences.

Judge W. P. James.

Judge James, in a lengthy opinion, reviews the facts from the time Seth boarded with Mrs. Clifford back in Vermont until he again was under her care at Whittier, in a dying condition. But the court draws attention to the fact that, though Seth visited the homes of the neighbors, and received material assistance from them, only Mrs. Clifford required remuneration from him for accommodations thus extended. It is true that Mrs. Clifford advanced him money and gave him more substantial support than anyone else, but the transactions between Mrs. Clifford and Seth appeared to have been principally of a business nature; that is, she had a quid pro quo for whatever she did for the sick youth.

"The entire course of conduct of Mrs. Clifford," says the court, "as illustrated by the evidence, goes to show that the attention which she had shown the testator was not prompted by such philanthropic or unselfish motives as would preclude her from an expectation of complete payment as a reward therefor. This feature of the case is important in considering the merits of the charge of undue influence made by the contestant."

When Seth took a piece of ground and erected a tent house to see what an open-air life would do for him, he tried to raise money on two policies of insurance, for $1000 and $500, respectively. Indeed, he did think about going to the County Hospital, but received word from Mrs. Clifford not to do so until she could see him. He heeded the injunction and just after that his equity in certain real property was transferred to Mrs. Clifford, and the $500 policy was also handed over to her as trustee for the benefit of his estate. Later, when Seth was nearing death, he gave her the $1000 policy, and had the name of the beneficiary changed from that of his mother to that of Mrs. Clifford.

The whole fight in court concentrated on that insurance policy, and the circumstances under which it was given, for the simple reason that all the other property held by Mrs. Clifford as trustee will be eaten up in paying expenses.

Judge James quotes Mrs. Clifford's own statement of the transaction and takes the view that the handing over of the $1000 policy to her simply was done that it might be held as other property of the boy was held.

After Mrs. Preston had come from the East and sought to be appointed guardian of her then living son and his estate, the youth added a codicil to his will, previously made, giving the $1000 insurance policy absolutely to Mrs. Clifford.

"Mrs. Clifford did have control of him," says Judge James, "and insisted upon retaining control against the desires of a number of friends and neighbors of the sick man and against the pressure of proceedings looking toward the appointment of a guardian. To my mind it is clear that the contestant made out a sufficient case to create a presumption against the codicil being the voluntary and spontaneous act of the testator, which presumption has not been removed by the evidence of the proponent, Mrs. Clifford."

COURT SELLS REALTY.

ESTATES GREATLY BENEFITTED.

Judge Conrey proved himself adept in the matter of selling real property yesterday. He did not profit by the sales which were made in the settlement of two estates, but he saw to it that as a result of his actions the appraised value of the estates was largely increased. A portion of the estate of the late Ascension Serrano de Valenzuela had been ordered sold, and the highest private bid for it was $49,500, which was offered by William Garland. Yesterday the matter was up before Judge Conrey for ratification of the terms of sale, and when the court asked if there was any advance, one of the spectators started to whoop up the property. Finally Garland again was declared the purchaser, but he had to pay. It was knocked down to him for $57,500. The property is at the southeast corner of Gladys avenue and Seventh street, and has a Seventh street frontage of 152 feet and 137 feet on Gladys avenue. Originally the whole estate of Ascension Serrano de Valenzuela was valued at only $55,000, but the advance in the value of the real property will cause the estate to realize much above the appraised valuation.

There was another sale of real estate by Judge Conrey that also provoked a spirited contest. In the estate of the two minors, Marguerite and Herbert Brown, the court made an order that the interest of Herbert be sold. The property is at the corner of Vernon avenue and Figueroa street, and at private sale the Henry Lee Martin Company offered $26,500. After some sharp bidding in open court yesterday, the property was knocked down to Emil Firth for $33,100.

DIVIDED HIS WEALTH.

MILLIONAIRE BAKER'S BEQUESTS.

The last will of Frederick W. Henze, a wealthy resident of St. Louis, was admitted to probate by Judge Conrey yesterday, after having been probated in the city of the testator's residence. Mr. Henze possessed varied interests in this country and also in Germany, and owned a large bakery known as the Old Rock Bakery Company. Without wife or children, he left bequests to over sixty individuals, and a number of charitable institutions. To all the old employés of the Bakery Company he left bequests ranging from $200 to $500, while he specified that all the employés that had been with the company for six months prior to his death should get $25. All the nephews and nieces benefit liberally but to one is left the expense merely—not to exceed $250—of a Keeley cure.

Special provision is made for the preservation of the entail of the parental homestead at Nienburg, on the Weser, Germany. It is left to a nephew, and the brothers and sisters are enjoined from interfering in any way, or if they do and seek to have the property subdivided then the contestants surrender all their rights under the will.

About $5000 is distributed among St. Louis charitable organizations, and altogether the bequests total up to very many thousands of dollars. The will is probated in this county for the reason that Mr. Henze, who had frequently visited Southern California, owned property at Long Beach, valued at about $3000.

NO AGREEMENT.

PASADENA CASE FAILS.

G. K. Legekis was tried in Department One of the Superior Court yesterday on a charge of having resisted an officer in the discharge of his duty. Deputy Sheriff Samuel Wallis was the complaining witness. The case went to the jury at 5 o'clock and two hours later it was reported to the court that they stood six to six and that there was not a possibility of a change. The jury was discharged. It is not probable that the case will be retried because of the admitted weakness of Wallis's case.

The defendant is a Greek candy maker who owns a shop in Pasadena. On August 9 he went hunting and upon his return, accompanied by his brother, he was stopped by Wallis, who demanded the right to search him to ascertain if he had any dead quail upon his person. In that Wallis exceeded his legal authority, but a fight followed, in which Wallis's arm was broken. In the scuffle a quail was found on the Greek's person and he was subsequently fined for having killed it out of season.

WHEELMAN WINS.

AUTO COMPANY MULCTED.

After nearly five hours' deliberation, a jury in Judge James's department of the Superior Court returned a verdict awarding T. H. Walsh $500 damages against the Auto Livery Company. Walsh was riding home on his bicycle at about 1 o'clock in the morning of December 4 of last year, and at the corner of Third and Spring streets was run over by an automobile owned by the defendant corporation. The defense set up was that though the Auto Livery Company owned the machine, it was in possession and under the control of the Merchants' Fire Patrol, and was dashing to a fire when the accident happened.

COLOR IS BARRED.

SO A JURY DETERMINES.

An effort was made in Justice Young's court yesterday to have a jury award a negro barber damages against a restaurant-keeper, for refusing to serve food to him. The jury balked, and returned a verdict for the defendant.

Thornton Thomas is the aggrieved individual. On Labor Day he went into the restaurant of Charles Palmer on East Seventh street, near Main, in company with a colored tailor of Main street. A number of patrons of the place raised a howl at any attention being given to the negroes. It was not shown that Palmer absolutely refused to serve them, but he did point out to them that if he did so it would drive away his patrons. Thomas thought it amounted to the same thing in the long run, and that he and his friend not only failed to get service, but were humiliated in a public place. As a salve to his wounded feelings, Thomas asked for $50 as damages. The suit was largely in the nature of a test case to see if a jury would stand for damages in such cases, which are by no means infrequent.

SORRY HE SPOKE.

FOUR WORDS PROVE COSTLY.

It is not always safe to attack the integrity of a witness in open court, save by the introduction of evidence, and this Oscar Leuschner found out to his cost yesterday. Bernard Fanta and Oscar Leuschner have been in real estate deals together, but finally they had a falling out and Fanta brought suit against his erstwhile partner. Yesterday the suit went to trial before Judge Wilbur.

Fanta had concluded his testimony and stepped down from the witness stand. As he passed Leuschner the latter hissed out under his breath: "You are a liar."

Fanta appealed to the court for protection. Leuschner denied having used the opprobrious epithet. "I said that he had lied," he said.

The court didn't attempt to draw any fine distinctions, but told Leuschner that he would have to pay a fine of $25 or go to jail. When the court adjourned he elected to pay the fine.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

BESSIE DISCHARGED. Bessie Thomas, the modest-appearing young girl charged with having stolen $55 belonging to Dr. Blanche Bolton at San Pedro, was discharged by Judge Smith yesterday, on motion of the District Attorney. There was not enough evidence. Miss Thomas was lying on the operation table in the doctor's office, and it was claimed that she took advantage of the woman physician's absence for a moment to hop to the floor and search a bureau until she found the money, and then appropriated it.

STOLE WHEEL. Glenn Russell, a colored youth, was convicted by a jury in Judge Smith's court, of having stolen a bicycle on July 20, belonging to Vicente Botillo. He will be sentenced Saturday.

HOWARD DIVORCE. J. W. Howard was granted a divorce from Minda J. Howard by Judge Gibbs yesterday, on the ground of desertion.

REALTY COMPANY. The Schumacher Realty Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $600,000, fully subscribed. The directors are: Frank G. and P. F. Schumacher and Philip L. Wilson, all of this city.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

MUST SUPPORT HIS FAMILY.

COURT TAKES A HAND TO HELP DESERTED WIFE.

Heartless Husband Given a Last Opportunity to Reform—Refusal Means Six Months in Jail for Him. Swearing Over Telephone Brings Enraged Man to Grief and Prison.

John Reeder, his face as red as his head, stood in Justice Austin's court yesterday and saw a charitable woman dill with silver the purse of the wife he had heartlessly deserted at a time when she most needed his care and support.

The poor woman had appeared in court in her pitiable plight, to demand that her husband be not permitted to cast her and her two children upon the charity of the city.

Reeder is a lather by trade and earns an average of $15 a week. Within the past week he disposed of most of the goods about his house and deserted his family. Wednesday night he was arrested on complaint of his wife for non-support. The police found him in the company of some women of questionable character.

He was unable to secure bond, but his employer appeared and under instructions of the court, will pay to Mrs. Reeder half the earnings of her husband.

Under these conditions the case was continued for two weeks and Reeder was released on his own recognizance. If he obeys the order of the court a further continuance will be made, and by this means Reeder will be compelled to support his family.

HELLO TOLLS COME HIGH.

TO OTHER MAN'S WIFE.

Telephone tolls come high with one C. Barnhart.

Justice Austin assessed the last one yesterday, and as Barnhart hadn't the cash to meet it, he began liquidation on the chain gang today. It will take him an even 100 days to pay out.

Barnhart, after having been in favor with another man's wife, the story goes, was ordered to come no more, and then he started in at the telephone. He worked it overtime and had everybody along that line using cuss words because they were always told, "Line busy."

Patrolman Pat Horris heard part of the conversation, and testified that it wasn't the kind of talk a man should use over a telephone, or elsewhere.

It was hard to fix the offense in law, but Barnhart was prosecuted for disturbance of the peace and sentenced to pay $100 fine or serve an equal number of days on the chain gang.

PICKED HIS NOSE.

NOW PICKS DIRT FOR CITY.

Antonio Barajas, a member of a gang of railroad workmen, got the limit of the law—six months—on the chain gang yesterday. He had borrowed a dollar from a fellow-workman named Sergio Bega, and when the latter asked for its return Barajas got angry. Bega returned to his work, thinking the matter was ended for the time being, but he was suddenly made aware that Barajas was approaching him with a pick, and just as he looked up, the latter struck him an awful blow in the face with the pick, the wonder being that he was not killed. It inflicted an ugly wound and will cause Bega's nose to resemble a horned toad for the remainder of his days. Justice Rose sentenced the would-be murderer to 180 days on the chain gang.

Chink Musical Comedy.

Ah Sam, You Loy, See Lee, Ah Sing, Ah Wing, a musical combination of Chinese names, was read in Justice Austin's court yesterday, and the Celestials lined up to plead to the charge of conducting a fan-tan game on Apablasa street. They pleaded guilty and were fined $50 each.

GRETNA GREEN MARRIAGES.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

EDINBURGH, Oct. 11.—Gretna Green, the little Scotch village just across the border from Cumberland, is witnessing a revival of the weddings which made it famous in the romantic days of yore. One Peter Dixon, a carpenter, is playing the role of the blacksmith of tradition, and so well does it pay him that he has abandoned his trade to devote himself exclusively to the tying of nuptial knots for couples who are in a hurry to get "spliced."

I found Dixon in a public house, the center of an admiring throng of villagers. He is a good type of the canny Scot of middle age, with shrewd eyes, iron-gray hair and a mouth screened by a full beard that can well keep its owner's own counsel. He was not at all adverse to drinking at a stranger's expense, but not even Scotch whisky, that most potent encourager of loquacity, could induce him to be communicative about his singular occupation.

Under Scotch law a marriage can be celebrated anywhere and at any hour of the day or night, for the ceremony it its simplest form consists in merely a couple agreeing before witnesses to take each other for husband and wife. One of the contracting parties is required to have resided in Scotland for twenty-one days before the marriage, but it is doubtful if steps are taken to compel proof of that, though the enactment was specially aimed at the runaway Gretna Green matches. I judged from Dixon's offer to marry me offhand that he does noth other himself about the matter.

I ascertained by inquiry in the village that in the course of the preceding week he had married half a dozen couples, but it is probable that most of the loving swains were attracted more by the romantic associations of the place and the unconventional form of marriage than by any necessity for defeating the machinations of hostile relatives. Most of these modern Gretna Green weddings take place at Dixon's own house, a small tenement in the main street of the village, but those who want a little more style have the ceremony performed at the Queen's Head Hotel. Dixon keeps a marriage register which he declines to show to anyone. Nor will he tell what his fees are. He is not giving away any one of the secrets of his "business." It is just about half a century since the little Dumfries village of Gretna Green fell back into the native obscurity out of which a most singular fortune had temporarily dropped it, and from which it is now emerging. Up to the year 1754, there was no need for a couple of English lovers to be scampering off to Scotland to get married. Ever since the Reformation had repudiated the Council of Trent, and most of its doings, English practices in the matter of marriages had been growing more and more lax and irregular. To put an end to the scandal the Marriage Act of 1754 was passed. It required all persons except Jews and Quakers to get married—if at all—in a Church of England, and according to Church of England ritual. A great many people resented the new law, and as it did not apply to Scotland, the most obvious way to escape it was to flit across the border. But flight was not always easy. Numerous stories were told of sensational chases, of broken-down vehicles, of barricaded roads, and of the horses of pursuing carriages being shot to give gay Lotharios in front just time to get over the bridge into the land of liberty. When the names of great lords and ladies began to be mixed up with such romances, weddings at Gretna Green began to be almost as fashionable as are now those at St. George's, Hanover Square.

Fifty such marriages in the course of a month were by no means unusual at one time.

The little Dumfries village to which these infatuated folk made a dash, some of them with indignant parents and guardians at their heels, is a dull little place at the head of the Solway Firth, about ten miles northwest of Carlisle. The railway drops its passengers there now, but in its palmy days of romance panting young couples sped furiously along the road through the fir plantations and over the dreary "debatable land" of bog and peat, in earlier days the scene of so many desperate encounters between Picts and Northumbrians. The beginning of the end of the journey was the bridge over the broad English Esk, then came two level miles over the debatable land, and finally the actual Scotch and English boundary, the little stone bridge over the Sark, beyond which lay the happy hereafter.

On occasions of great emergency it was necessary only to flog the laboring horses over this bridge and to make a dash for the little toll-house on the other side, and if papa could be barricaded out while somebody—no matter who—hurried through some form of ceremony—no matter what, so long as it was an agreement to marriage in the presence of witnesses—all was well, and the marriage held good in spite of the worst that papa could do.

Is necessary in every home. It makes clear, sweet music that is appreciated by both young and old.
For a children's party it is the ideal music, it doesn't need to be played, it plays for you—simply wind it up—touch the button—and there is your music.
It is ideal for the nursery—it's the new cradle song—baby sleeps soundly when put to the land of nod by the Regina. Physicians advise it—the sick person can listen to a Regina when they can not bear to hear any other music.

SPORTING PAGE.

STANFORD DUE THIS MORNING.

Two Full Elevens Practice in the Afternoon.

Keen Rivalry for Places on the 'Varsity Team.

California's Star Ascends at Palo Alto.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow morning twenty-two stalwart Stanford students will arrive in Los Angeles, eleven of whom on the following day will line up in football armor to try their strength against the Sherman Indians.

The northern lads will stay at the Angelus Hotel, where arrangements for them have been made by Barrett, the Stanford student-body manager. Friday afternoon will be spent in practicing at Fiesta Park, where there will be several brisk scrimmages between the two elevens that the cardinal college is sending south.

The football players at Stanford have been doing rather discouraging work during the past week, apparently having fallen into a lethargy that the two coaches have not been able to drag them out of. There has not been the same speed and energy which characterized the team work during the first part of the season, and the students do not speak of the coming Stanford-California game with their accustomed confidence. The Indian game, however, will give a good comparison between the two elevens and so has been looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

What the line-up will be for Saturday is not exactly known as yet, Coach Lanagan, as is his habit, refusing to publish the names. Those who will appear in Los Angeles, from whom the final eleven will be picked, are: Malfino and Coax, centers; Brennan and Frezel; Thompson and Lain, guards; Crawford and Gay; Pemberton and Horton, tackles; Stanford and Curner; Ryne and Lyons, ends; Casy and Chalmers; Vandepoort and Dole, halves; Crow and Slucher, fullbacks; Fenton and Stott, quarterbacks.

PROBABLE LINE-UP.

THE BATTLE TOMORROW.

The big Stanford-Indian football game tomorrow, which is attracting as much attention among the local enthusiasts as the Berkeley-Indian game did last week, will be made a reality by the arrival of the Stanford team this morning. Somehow lovers of football are really not enthused up to the proper point when a team from a distance is to play, until it gets on the ground and can be sized up. Those who think Stanford will have an easy time are met just as strong by the friends of the Indians who believe that the Sherman boys have just as good a chance for victory as the northerners.

The teams will line up tomorrow, about as follows:

Indians		Stanford
C. Coleman	center	Molfino
Kennedy	left end	Stott
Lugo	left tackle	Stanford
Morales	left guard	Thompson
Blacktooth	right guard	Brennan
Lubo	right tackle	Crawford
Scholder	right end	Pemberton
Neafus	quarter	Fenton
Magee	right half	Dole
Galt	fullback	Crowe

SIWASHES TO THE FRONT.

WIN EASY GAME FROM LOCALS BY SLUGGING.

Baum Light Picking for Visitors From the Start, While Ventura Busher Charley Hall Allows Only Seven Hits—Eager is Knocked out at the Plate.

Seattle, 7; Los Angeles, 1.

Baum was pretty near as good yesterday as the average telephone system, and it doesn't require many guesses to get that.

He had about as much as the policy holders get when the life insurance presidents are through paying off the salaries of the family, and what he did have, the Siwashes tried to knock the fence down with. This is the whole game in a few hurried words. Sixteen swats are enough to win several games with, and that number is what the visitors grabbed off Baum in eight innings. When he was hit to a frazzle, Bunny Goodwin was put in and kept the Siwashes from making any more runs they didn't need. Busher Charley Hall, the pride of the Ventura bean belt, pitched against us and did good work, keeping the hits down to seven and scattering these over the entire game. He was backed up by perfect fielding, while Baum got poor support from Brashear and was far from being in shape to win. Our only run came on Brashear's pass, Dillon's double and Cravath's single. The Siwash runs need little description.

The features of the day were the number of double plays; a fine foul catch by Eager and a knockout that he got in the first inning. Bennett was on second base from his single and a sacrifice and Walters hit a hot one through the pitcher's box, which Flood blocked at second by a hard run. He saw he could not catch Walters at first so he grabbed the ball and threw to Eager at the plate. Bobby got the ball at the left of the plate and as he caught it he touched Bennett, but the runner collided with Eager at full speed and knocked Bobby out. He rolled over on his back, dead to the world, and Bennett, seeing his chance, started to steal second base. Baum rushed up to the prostrate Eager, and grabbing the ball from his hand as he lay dazed on the ground, threw Bennett out at second base. Water was brought and Eager soon revived and kept in the game, apparently uninjured.

In the eighth, Blankenship was hit on the knee with a pitched ball and retired in favor of Frary. Dolly Gray batted for Baum in the eighth and Bunny Goodwin pitched in place of Baum in the ninth. Middleton replaced Flood in the fourth and did good work.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Sweeney, the Portland shortstop, made San Francisco a present of today's game. His wild throws to first in the fourth and fifth innings let in four runs. After the game, Manager McCreedie suspended Sweeney, declaring that the shortstop's condition was such that he should not have entered the game today. Score:

BOWLING.

MEETING WEDNESDAY.

Owing to several unforseen happenings, there was but a small attendance at the meeting of bowlers last night in the Brunswick-Balke office, and it was decided to have a special meeting next Wednesday night in the same office at 8 o'clock. All the bowlers are invited to attend this meeting.

Hueston Challenges de Oro.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—Thomas Hueston, who made a good showing in the last tournament for the world's championship continuous pool title, last night posted his forfeit and formally challenged Alfred O. de Oro, the present champion, to a 600-ball match for a side bet and the title. According to the conditions under which de Oro holds the diamond championship emblem he has forty days to play the challenger or surrender the title and emblem. De Oro is at present in Cleveland.

Quail Hunt.

Ex-Champion Jim Jeffries and Henry Berry, who declare they are two of the greatest hunters that ever lived in the State, will leave this morning for a two days' quail hunt in the mountains near Saticoy in Ventura county. They expect to return Saturday evening.

BIG PURSES FOR TERRENCE.

McGovern Has a Tempter Waiting at Baltimore.

Herford Suggests Lipman or "Young Corbett."

Sullivan Refuses Side Bet. Stanley is Lost.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Manager Al Herford is out with offers of two big purses to induce "Terrible Terry" McGovern to fight before the Eureka Club here. Herford will hang up $5000 for a bout between Terry and "Young Corbett," provided Corbett wins the fifteen-round match with Joe Lipman Friday night, or he will give a larger purse for a fight between Terry and Lipman.

FIGHTERS BUSY.

BOTH WORKING HARD.

Interest in the Herrera-Hanlon fight Friday night before the Pacific Athletic Club has taken a sudden jump this week, owing to reports that both men are in fine condition and ready to fight at any time. Each is working hard and from the glowing reports from the respective training quarters, it is hard to see how either can lose.

Herrera attracts a good-sized crowd to the pavilion every day and spends an hour boxing with four or five different men, including Kid Solomon, Jacobs and Mauro Herrera. The Mexican, by the way, took on big Rube Jeffries Wednesday, with instructions to the Rube to tear in and just about the time he did, his head hit the floor and he yelled for help. The local sports don't hear so much about Eddie Hanlon down at Santa Monica, for while he is doing strenuous work, he can't be seen so often, but he will be "there" when the time comes. Eddie likes the beach as a training ground and stays there closely. He will come up to the city next Monday at least to captain the ball team that is to play against the actors at Chutes Park on that day.

SPORTS AT LAW ABOUT A BET.

SAM SCHENCK ASKS CORBETT TO "COME ACROSS."

Says He Put up Five Hundred Dollars, Game Was Called Off, and Now the Other Fellow is Trying to Keep the Local Man's Money. Charley Mitchell Involved.

Sam Schenck, promoter of a prize fight pavilion in this city, will "have the law" on Harry Corbett, the San Francisco hot sport and pool seller.

Schenck sued Corbett yesterday in the Superior Court for $500 which he alleges was put up as stake money on the fight between Jabez White, champion of England, and Jimmy Britt; the bet was called off, but Schenck alleges Corbett refused to return the money.

Wherefor he is hunting the scalp of Corbett.

"I'll tell you how it was," said Schenck last night, in explanation of the intricacies of his suit against celebrities.

"Just before that Jabez White fight I was in a 'Frisco poolroom and I met Charley Mitchell, the fellow who fought Sullivan; he was the manager for White.

"I told him that I thought he ought to be ashamed to bring this English champion over here because Britt would most likely kill him.

"He began blowing about what White would do, so I just offered to bet him that Britt would win. He wouldn't bet even, so I offered to bet him $1000 to $500. He wouldn't do that so I raised it to $1000 to $400. Then to $1000 to $300. At last I got it up to $1000 to $200.

"He didn't have any money, but he borrowed $200; I guess he got it from Harry Corbett.

"I also bet him $500 that the fight wouldn't last ten rounds. I wrote a check to Corbett, but Mitchell couldn't get anybody to lend the money to make this bet. So we decided to make it a bet of honor, the bet to be covered the day of the fight or declared off.

"I went out to the mines and didn't get back in time to have the bet covered, so I wired to Corbett, before the fight, that the bet was off.

"I couldn't get him to give back the money. Corbett said it was a debt of honor and that Mitchell wouldn't call it off. I wrote a letter to Mitchell myself roasting the stuffing out of him. I told him from his reputation in the sporting world, I wouldn't have trusted him for $5, let alone $500.

"I understand that Mitchell owes some money to Corbett for that $200 and other things and Corbett is trying to hold onto this money as security.

"I offered to leave it to any two well-known sporting men in the United States, but Corbett wanted to leave it to some fellow on the Bulletin.

"I sent my attorney up there and Harry promised to come across with the money; but never did; I knew he wouldn't, so I brought suit. It's a cinch I'll get judgment, but I don't know whether he is good for the money. I understand he has been losing heavily."

O'BRIEN MONEY SHY.

KAUFMANN A LONG SHOT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Betting on the Kaufmann-O'Brien fight is practically at a standstill, for everybody who wants to bet is desirous of getting down on the same end. This was Kaufmann's end, with him favorite at 10 to 7. Either the O'Brien money is holding back, or there is none. Some must show up soon, or Kaufmann will enter the ring a 20-to-1 favorite.

"Spider" Kelly will second O'Brien, and Delaney will be back of Kaufmann.

SULLIVAN SAVES MONEY.

NO SIDE BET FROM TWIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There will be no side bet to the Jimmy Gardner-Mike ("Twin") Sullivan match, November 24. When the articles were signed last Monday, it was agreed that both should post $2500 as a side bet.

Gardner put up his money and Sullivan put $1000. Now Sullivan demands that there be no side bet, and Gardner has consented, to save the fight.

"DIGGER" STANLEY LOST.

BOSTON IS MISSING HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Digger" Stanley, the English champion bantamweight, has disappeared from his lodgings, and is believed to be drugged or to have slipped back to England.

HORSES ARRIVE.

CLARK'S STRING HERE.

The harness-horse population of Agricultural Park was augmented yesterday by the arrival of seven good ones belonging to Will Clark, Jr., the bunch coming in a special horse car direct from the track at Lexington, Ky. The star of the lot is the trotter, Bon Voyage, 2:12¾, for which Clark paid $10,000 and which later rewarded him by winning his purchase price back in one race when he captured the Hartford Futurity. The others in the car were Electric Maid, 2:13¾; Miss Georgia, a pacer with a mark of 2:10¾; Sallie Lund, a three-year-old who has a mark of 2:28; Morone, a 2:13¾ trotter, and two young colts.

Another carload belonging to J. C. Fitzpatrick of the Palace Hotel of San Francisco, left Lexington last Friday and is due any day. The best of this load is John Caldwell, a 2:09 trotter. Two others are the pacer Abula and The Judge, and there will be enough to fill the car.

FOOTBALL NOVELTY, POLITE AND LOVELY!

Two football teams in a love feast, each trying to excel in politeness toward the other, was the novel scene presented yesterday afternoon at Fiesta Park.

Haggerty's "Saints" and the local High School lads bucked each other up and down the field. Apologies were profuse when a runner was too roughly tackled, and the begrimed pigskin heroes were assisted to their feet by the other heroes who a moment before had bounced them down on the sawdust.

By a unique arrangement the two teams have agreed to practice together during the time that will intervene between the next match games scheduled by both schools.

St. Vincent's will pay Pomona College a week from Saturday, and on the afternoon of the same day, the High School boys will play the Belmont footballers for the interscholastic championship of the State.

To be in the finest fettle for these games the two coaches, Roesch and Haggerty, journeyed with their men to Fiesta yesterday afternoon. No invitations to the game were issued, and there were no spectators on the sidelines. Never before have two opposing teams entered into such friendly arrangement, and the result, it is expected, will greatly strengthen both aggregations.

Whenever a goal was in danger, the ball was brought back to the center of the field. If the High boys circled the orange ends, the ball changed hands and the St. Vincent's tried their bucking ability. The game was a football love feast.

There is known to be a desire on the part of the High School to again meet St. Vincent's on the gridiron. The fans are wondering whether the two teams will get together for another game this season. There is small likelihood of such a match, as the teams have now learned each other's style of play.

Another game with Occidental is the slogan of the St. Vincent's and Haggerty will ask Merrill to enter the lists once again. The Presbyterians may refuse to give the Catholics another contest, as they have already decisively defeated Haggerty's men.

"My team was all shot to pieces," said Haggerty yesterday. "My captain was out of the game and some of my best men were disabled when we played Occidental. I don't want to beef about the drubbing we received, but I believe the public would get a fine exhibition of football in another meet between my team and Merrill's men."

The question is will Witte be able to dodge the bombs?

Love may laugh at locksmiths, but it becomes scared when it travels on a fast train.

Two Chicago magazines have combined. Heaven spare us, are we now to have a magazine trust?

Shakespeare said "there are sermons in stones." And there isn't a policeman in St. Petersburg who will doubt it.

After the students get through belting it with rocks, the Russian crown will not be what it is cracked up to be.

Doubtless God could make finer days than these October days in Southern California, but doubtless He never did.

The faith that France displays in this nation is so childlike as to be almost pathetic. She asks us to adjust Gen. Castro. Huh!

As a fire eater, Gov. Jeff Davis was a good deal more of a success before he ran up against Theodore Roosevelt than he is now.

Between football and riots, it is difficult to see how a boy who goes to college, these days, can find any time to devote to his books.

If it be true that Italy has become prosperous, as reported, then there can be no good reason to further delay the announcement that prosperity has become universal.

Because the price of meat went up in Chile, the people started a revolution. If we did that in this country, our regular army would have to be increased about 700 per cent.

"The poor are suffering terribly," say the dispatches from St. Petersburg. Ah, yes, and that's the pity of it all. Were it not for that, the rest would not matter so much.

It may be just as well that those Igorrotes are not coming to Los Angeles. They might embarrass us by wanting to know why we prefer to have ours done up in sausage.

Actuary McClintock of the Mutual Life says the life-insurance business "involves a large element of prophecy." And the prophets were not without honor, as the salary list amply proves.

Now that Congressman Nick Longworth has been able to dissuade Miss Alice from having her photograph taken, those other fellows might just as well consider themselves out of the race.

The task that confronted Witte at Portsmouth was child's play to the fearful ordeal that confronts him in Russia now. The hour has come when the strong man shall be put to the bitter test.

What is there about student life that it should turn young men into such hell-raisers? In St. Petersburg, Chicago or wherever else you look, it is the students who are making most of the trouble.

Mr. Harriman doubtless felt that a few minutes more or less one way or the other wouldn't make very much difference, after all. Besides, when a man dies he stays that way an awfully long time.

From a baggage smasher on a jerkwater railroad to dictator of the Russian empire is indeed a long jump. Truth is still stranger than fiction, and today's wonder is the half-breed Hollander whose name is Witte.

Modern education at the present writing consists of an effort on the part of students to break one another's necks on the gridiron, stone policemen in the streets, and to overthrow governments by the force of mob strength.

There is no "royal" blood in M. Witte's veins, and they will not receive his wife at the imperial court because she is a Jew. But today a cowering King looks to this strong man of the common people to save the empire from destruction and wrath.

Not content with stoning and scalding policemen, and endeavoring to overthrow governments, college students have now also broken out into a row over some horrible things called "Greek frats." The populace must lose no time in preparing to protect itself.

In Iowa the penalty imposed on a man who murders his third wife is imprisonment for life. The crime is not thought to be of sufficient enormity to deserve hanging, but it is deemed unwise, under the circumstances, to let the man go scot free for the reason that he might make a fool of himself by continuing to get married indefinitely.

We are not in favor of czars or autocrats or kings or emperors of any kind or description, but if we were one of them and did not see our way clear to quitting the business entirely, we wouldn't run away. We'd hold our ground and celebrate Christmas, Fourth of July and every other old holiday right in our own bailiwick, or die on the steps of the throne with the crown jammed down on our ears, and the imperial purple floating defiantly from the flagpole.

BUSINESS.

Excitement ruled in the Chicago wheat market caused by the conditions in Russia affecting European markets, and there was heavy selling of December option, causing some reaction, though May held to its opening level, and closed higher at 91½@91⅝; December at 89½. Heavy tone prevailed in stocks at New York. Money is still easy.

A CONSTITUTION FOR RUSSIA.

It is reported that the Czar of all the Russias has at last consented to grant to his people a constitution.

This is by far the most important news that has come out of Russia since the beginning of the Russo-Japanese war.

If fully authenticated, it means the downfall of autocratic power in the great Empire of the North. It means the establishment of representative government, with delegates chosen by the people, empowered to make and unmake laws. It means that the ruler who hereafter may reign over Russia shall be held in check by a constitution and by the people, instead of exercising powers for which he is answerable to no one.

This liberation, if this morning's glad news be fully confirmed by future events, will mean more to Russia than all this. It will mean education for the great mass of the people; and education is the greatest of all emancipators. It will mean a new and progressive and puissant Russia, built upon the crumbled fragments of despotism. Russia's autocracy was an anachronism in twentieth century civilization. It simply had to go. There was no help for it. It contained within itself the seeds of its own disintegration and dissolution.

And now the end is apparently at hand. Autocracy is tottering rapidly, inevitably to its fall, never to rise again in the land of the "White Czar."

The Czar has delegated M. Witte power to draft a constitution providing for an elective government. Weary and disgusted with the farce and the shame of it all, Nicholas has laid the scepter of absolutism at the feet of the man who is today the figure towering above all others—the rock of Russia's strength, the hope and promise of her future—Count Sergius Julievitch Witte. M. Witte is today the most powerful man in Russia. He has virtually superseded the Czar, for the Czar has stepped aside to give play to the constructive genius and the clean foresight of his Prime Minister.

The Czar has chosen well. M. Witte knows the people, for he sprang from the people. He knows their wants, their ambitions, their weaknesses, their limitations. He is a progressist, not a reactionary. He is in touch with modern civilization, with modern modes of thought, with modern progress.

That M. Witte will bring order out of chaos in Russia is not to be doubted, though the task is a colossal one. So heavy a responsibility and so magnificent an opportunity have seldom been presented to any man in the world's checkered history.

Witte holds the future of Russia in his hand. He will not be unfaithful to the trust.

If this auspicious outcome be, as it seems, the dawning of constitutional liberty in unhappy Russia, the American people will rejoice in her regeneration, as they have sympathized with her in her manifold sorrows. May the new dawn be but as the prelude to a brighter day!

KNOCKERS' LAST HOPE.

The newspaper knockers who are attempting, for selfish purposes, to deprive the city of the large benefits which will accrue to it by the location of the City Hall on the free site on North Main street, have reached their last ditch. The chief knocker admits as much when it declares in effect that its only hope for thus defrauding the city out of at least $200,000 lies in the possible vetoing of the ordinance by the Mayor.

As The Times has made clear, the vetoing of this ordinance would put the Mayor in the light of estopping the city from accepting a munificent gift from public-spirited citizens, in order to gratify the senseless spite and selfish motives of a few persons. To suppose Mr. McAleer capable of such a thing is to reflect upon his common sense. The idea of vetoing a gift to the Mayor's city is preposterous.

By accepting the new site, selling the old city property on Broadway and devoting the proceeds to the construction of a new City Hall, the city can secure a beautiful and commodious public building, in a central locality, next to the new Federal building and the Courthouse, absolutely free of cost. By throwing overboard this magnificent gift, the city would be, at the lowest calculation, $200,000 poorer than it is today, with the gift accepted.

It will become absolutely necessary in the immediate future to build a new City Hall. This is generally admitted. If the present site be retained it will doubtless increase in value, but so will property in all parts of the city. If a new City Hall should be erected upon the present site, it would cost, let us say, between $400,000 and $500,000. For this amount the city would be compelled to issue bonds, thus greatly increasing our already large debt. The people would hardly consent to this in the prevailing condition of the municipal finances, when so many improvements are pressing for consideration. Among these is the need for a public library building, and the ever-pressing need for increasing the school accommodations, for building sewers and for improving streets, to say nothing of the colossal water project to which the city is already committed.

If the present City Hall site should be sold and the proceeds should be used for purchasing a new site and erecting a new City Hall farther south, the money realized on the old site would scarcely more than suffice for the purchase of a new site, and the new building could not be erected without a bond-issue.

An utterly and maliciously untrue statement is the assertion that land in the vicinity of the free site is "constantly decreasing in value." Not a foot of land within the city's boundaries is decreasing in value as everybody knows who knows anything about the matter. Some sections, for local reasons, may increase faster in value than others, but there is a steady and marked increase in all realty values within the city and contiguous or adjacent to its boundaries. If values are increasing faster to the south than to the north, that is a good reason why the city should not go farther south for a City Hall site, as it would have to pay more for a suitable site, later on, than the same would cost now.

There is no better site in the city today, for a City Hall, than that which has been presented to the city free of cost. Even if "retail business is constantly moving southward" it is no reason why the City Hall should also move southward. The ideal site for a City Hall is not in the midst of the retail district. It should be in the vicinity of other public buildings, and it will be so located on North Main street. This is the logical site, and it is inconceivable that the Mayor should lend the aid of his veto to an attempt to defraud the city out of a magnificent gift which it can have for the taking.

THE PRESIDENT IN ARKANSAS.

After visiting the Tuskegee Institute, in Alabama, and giving the colored people there some excellent advice, the President passed through portions of Mississippi and into Arkansas, receiving the most cordial of greetings all along the route. Wednesday was spent at Little Rock, the Arkansas capital. The rumors that Jeff Davis, Governor of Arkansas, would refuse to meet the President of the United States proved to be unfounded. Indeed, the President has received no more cordial greeting anywhere in the United States than he received at the Arkansas capital. He was greeted at the train by a delegation composed of thirteen Union and thirteen Confederate veterans, who acted as a guard of honor throughout his stay in the city. Two Southern Rough Riders were his companions in his ride through the streets, and the enthusiasm of the people was unbounded. The President's declaration that "if a President is worth his salt he is the President of the whole country," won instant and vociferous approval, showing that Roosevelt is precisely that kind of a President.

It was characteristic of Theodore Roosevelt that he should touch squarely upon the race problem and the evil of lynching, in his address at Little Rock. It was also characteristic of his methods and of his straightforward honesty that he was able to discuss this delicate question without creating the least bitterness. His remarks, indeed, tended rather to allay bitterness than to stir it up.

His words were so manifestly sincere, and his conclusions so obviously true, that his hearers indorsed what he said with frequent and hearty applause.

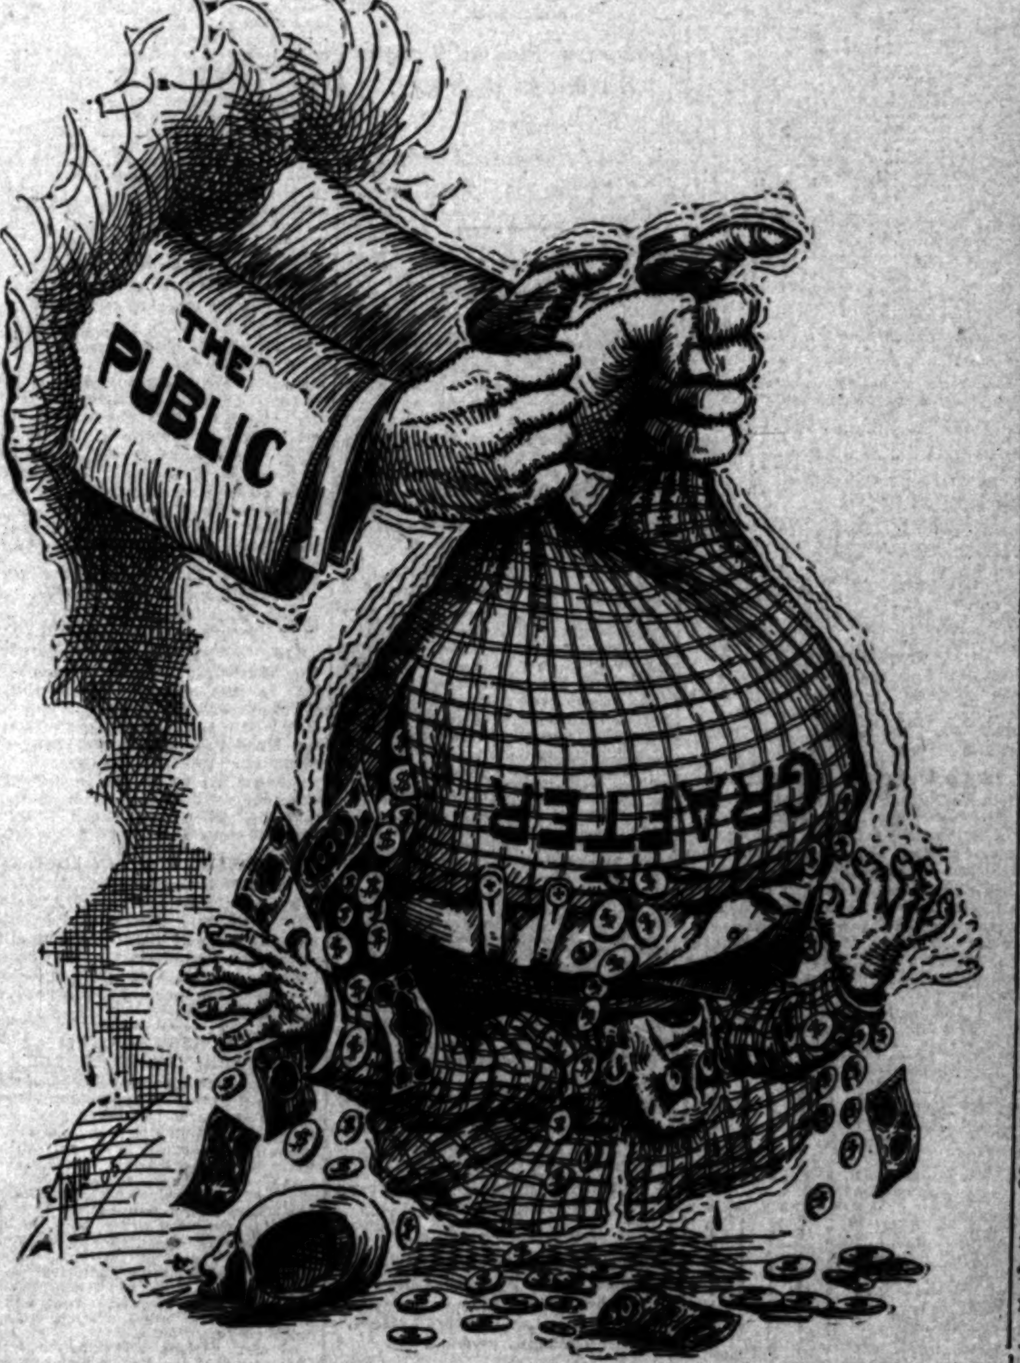
Two leading points on the lynching question were brought out into bold relief. "The worst enemy of the negro race," said the President, "is the negro criminal, and above all the criminal of the hideous type so often hideously avenged. Every colored man owes the duty to himself and to his race to hunt down that criminal." There is no ground for disputing these propositions, for they are self-evident to the intelligent mind. The North and the South are at one on this sentiment.

Referring to "the white man's side" of the problem, the President declared that "to avenge one hideous crime by another is to reduce the avenger to the bestial level. Another thing which makes this lynch law abhorrent," he continued, "is that three-fourths of the crimes for which it is invoked are for others than that against the women of the country. Governor," he added, addressing Mr. Davis, "you and I and all others in authority owe it to our people to drive out the reproach and menace of lynch law in the United States."

The truth of all this is too apparent to admit of serious disputation. Undoubtedly the lynchers often have hideous provocation. But one crime cannot justify another. The plain lesson of the President's remarks is a lesson that cries aloud for the better enforcement of the laws, and for the better observance of plain American common sense.

It is not the intention here to provoke any further controversy on the subject of lynching. This subject has been discussed so extensively that there is little more to say. It is to be hoped, however, that the President's sane and sensible words will have some effect in doing away with a practice which is not only seriously criminal in itself, but a stigma upon the name of this nation.

A "SHAKE-UP."



The proper climax of the agitation against boodlers.

A CHICAGO CLASS RUSH.

It is a well-known fact that Chicago never does anything by halves. So to speak, she "goes the whole hog." Whether it be a strike of teamsters, a world's fair, or a college rush, Chicago generally makes herself worthy of the terse epitaph accorded to an Arizona cowboy—"he did his d—dest."

One of the down-to-date exploits of Chicago is a class rush at the Chicago College of Dental Surgery. Two hundred students from that institution of learning precipitated the trouble, which was trouble sure enough before the affair was ended. They brought about a great riot, and fought the citizens and three wagonloads of police (it seems that they count the police by wagonloads in Chicago) to a finish. Of course the finish could have but one ending, and that was not altogether favorable to the two hundred students. But the noble two hundred put up a great fight while it lasted, and presumably covered themselves with glory (from the modern college student's point of view.)

The weapons used were principally stones, decayed vegetables, clubs, and hot water, and finally the police were obliged to fire at the mob with their revolvers. We are told that "while the officers were battling with the students, others of the classmen climbed to the upper stories of the colleges and poured scalding water upon the police." The fight waged for nearly an hour. Windows were smashed in residences near the scene of battle, citizens of the neighborhood took part in the fight, and as a net result of the scrimmage, "fifteen students were arrested, badly battered and almost denuded of their clothing."

All of this is of course extremely interesting. The brave two hundred must have fought with great tenacity, else how would the three wagonloads of policemen have been able to get away with so small a proportion of their number? Very likely, however, the fifteen students arrested do not represent all the losses of the valiant fighters. There are doubtless a goodly number of torn-off ears, gouged-out eyes, broken-off fingers, and other paraphernalia more or less useful to the human animal, scattered about the battlefield; together with disabled collars, cuffs, finger rings, breastpins, hats, torn clothing, and other articles of personal use and adornment too numerous for specific cataloguing.

However these things may be, the great battle for a principle has been fought—and, as it seems, lost. Victory, always so capricious, has perched on the banners of the minions of the law, while fifteen of the vanquished, reduced to dilapidation and premature old age, are held prisoners of war. For the present, at least, there is a cessation of hostilities. The dove of peace has found a resting place for her feet, that so seldom touch solid ground.

Our institutions of learning are teaching a great deal more than is set down in their curricula.

The Times has received from Rabbi S. Hecht a letter replying to that of William Winter, brought out by Mr. Hecht's criticism of Mr. Winter's lecture. The rabbi makes the point that the term "Jew" or "Hebrew" properly classifies a person as a member of a religious sect, and does not refer to his nationality; that a man may be an American or a Pole or a German, and still be a Jew; and that therefore Mr. Winter erred in using the word "Hebrew" to characterize the members of the theatrical trust. As the Rabbi had considerable space in The Times to once state his position fully, and it was he who opened the fire that brought out Mr. Winter's rejoinder, The Times does not deem it wise to prolong the controversy by printing Mr. Hecht's second letter. The incident should be considered closed.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ILL PAID.

Highest Average Salaries Are in California and Lowest in the South.

[Duluth evening Herald:] The average pay of teachers in this country, according to government figures, is $250 a year, or less than $30 a month. This is a wage that might be suitable to some occupations, but is certainly not suitable to a calling so noble as that of teaching. What brings the average down, of course, is the low pay in some parts of the country. There are teachers in the South that receive but $39 a year, colored teachers in two counties of South Carolina.

The requirements for teachers are becoming more and more exacting, and this is proper, though the compensation should be increased accordingly. The National Educational Association has issued a report in which it furnishes some of the figures it has gathered in prosecuting its campaign for higher pay. In elementary schools, women constitute 74 per cent. of the teaching force. In most of the cities it is found that day laborers on public works are better paid than the teachers. A teacher at $120 a year in Alabama, one in Missouri at $100, one in Illinois at $[illegible], and one in Maine at $118 are striking examples of the lowest depths. It is positively shocking to think of trusting the training of future citizens to people not capable of earning higher pay than this.

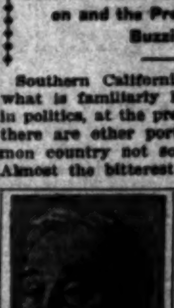
On the other hand, in California, where the highest average salaries are paid, high school principals get $2384, high school teachers $1254, elementary school principals $1431 and elementary teachers $814.

Andrew Carnegie's $10,000,000 pension fund for college teachers was a great lift to the cause of education. The cause of the common school teachers still awaits its Carnegie.

POLITICS IN MANY STATES.

Several Warm Campaigns Going on and the Presidential Bee Buzzing.

Southern California is blessed with what is familiarly known as a "lull" in politics, at the present writing. But there are other portions of our common country not so favored by fate. Almost the bitterest fight ever waged in the political history of San Francisco is now on over the election of a Mayor and other municipal officers. Similar contests are also at white heat in New York, Philadelphia and several cities of lesser importance. There are State campaigns being conducted with more or less spirit in at least a dozen commonwealths, Ohio leading in the general public interest. Outside of the places thus particularly mentioned, however, the roar of battle is not so great that it should necessarily keep awake those people who, happily, live at a distance from the scenes of strife. But, as far as the struggles referred to are concerned, the results in New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Ohio, especially, will be watched with eagerness on the night of November 7, next, by the country at large.



Bourke Cockran

Readers of The Times are kept posted on the contest in San Francisco with all its sickening details. The battle is for decency and good government on the one side, and for the continuance of graft and rottenness on the other. Hearst's Examiner is again backing Schmitz, as it has done in all the freak Mayor's previous campaigns. It is not that Hearst loves Schmitz so much that he is supporting him, but he is doing it more to spite the decent men of the town, nearly all of whom have earned the yellow editor's undying hatred, simply because they persist in being decent and will not descend to Hearst's dirty level. As a proof of the extent to which this journalistic jackal will go to injure or misrepresent men who decline, from their sense of decency and dignity, to wallow with Hearst in the slime of his own making, attention has been called to the Examiner's treatment of the Hon. Bourke Cockran, who recently lectured in San Francisco for the benefit of certain Catholic charities. Cockran's lectures were of that high order for which, as one of the greatest of living orators, he is famous. The Catholic population eagerly desired to preserve the published reports of his utterances, and, in response to the demand, all the San Francisco papers printed full reports—all except Hearst's Examiner, which ignored Cockran and his lectures wholly. "Bourke Cockran also spoke," was all the space the yellow sheet would give the matter. And it was done because Bourke Cockran despises Hearst and treats him with the same contempt that other respectable persons are compelled to treat him. But, just the same, the Catholic population of San Francisco is furious over the incident.

The Quaker City Aroused.

Beyond any manner of doubt the most vitally important political movement of the present year is that which is being carried on in the city of Philadelphia. In that splendid metropolis there exists what is probably the most corrupt political machine that ever cursed a community. Built up by Quay it has continued since his death in even more unscrupulous hands. It has made the name of Republicanism a stench in the nostrils of Republicans themselves, and conditions have become so intolerable that the decent Republicans of the city have taken matters in hand and are waging a relentless war upon the machine to the end that it may be utterly routed and forever destroyed. No greater battle for the preservation of civic honor was ever fought, and the necessity for victory is so great that no less eminent Republicans than Elihu Root and the President, himself, have come out openly in denunciation of the machine ticket, notwithstanding the claim made for it that it represents the regular Republican organization.

"Little Old New York."

The indications from the metropolis of the nation strongly point to the reelection of George B. McClellan. There are two reasons for this, the first and more important one being that the son of "Little Mac" has proved himself to be about the kind of a Mayor that suits New Yorkers, and which is not by any means to say that he has not been a fairly good Mayor, at that. The second reason is that the Republican State machine, under the boss-ship of Ex-Governor Odell, has attempted to run the politics of the city, and this seems to be a poor year for machines everywhere. Mr. McClellan, while he is the nominee of Tammany Hall, is not just to Tammany's liking, but the tiger had to swallow him and is doing it, although with but a poor effort at hiding its disgust. The probabilities are that William Travers Jerome will also be elected to succeed himself as District Attorney, though running practically as an independent candidate, having failed to receive the Democratic nomination. But the Republican candidate has withdrawn in Jerome's favor, which fact greatly enhances his chances for success.

Ohio's Big Mix-up.

Ordinarily a Democratic ticket in the State of Ohio has no more hopes to win than a snowball has to remain a snowball in Hades. But there are strange and almost unheard of conditions in Ohio this year. The Republican party is to a great extent divided against itself. Senator Foraker has come out openly in opposition to the railway rate policy of the President, and Gov. Herrick, who is standing for reëlection, is opposed by the temperance people of the State and by a very large number of the prominent and influential members of the Methodist Church. The Democratic candidate, Mr. Pattison, is himself a leading Methodist. Despite all these unfavorable circumstances, however, there is every reason to expect that the Republican ticket will win. Ohio gave Roosevelt, last year, a plurality of 255,421 votes, and our friends the enemy will have to go home to wipe those figures out. In addition to that, Gov. Herrick has proved himself a good officer, and his standing as a man is excellent in every respect.

THE OLD LOVE.

I.

If I could speak thy gentle grace,
  Which far surpasses word,
This song were sweetest now I trace,
  That ever yet was heard;
For here would blend the morning's glee
  And peace of evening's close
With music of the summer sea
  And fragrance of the rose.

II.

But since affection's tender strain
  And passion's fervid line
Would seem but idle, weak and vain,
  To goodness such as thine,
Let all my life avouch thy worth
  And all my love thy praise;
For never woman walked the earth
  In more angelic ways.

III.

I've seen life's golden prime depart
  And evening, cold and gray,
With moaning winds that chill the heart,
  Fall darkly round my way;
But, in thy pure devotion blest,
  My soul doth still descry
One rift of sunshine in the West,
  One hope that cannot die.

Progress of Photography.

Miss Anna Catherine Draper was the first person in America to have her picture taken. The feat was performed sixty-six years ago. Miss Anna's brother, Dr. John W. Draper, of the faculty of the University of New York took it on the roof of the old university building. Theodore Winthrop's Chrysalis college, and Miss Draper was forced to sit absolutely still for six minutes in the glaring sun with her face covered with a thick coating of white metallic powder in order to bring out the features.

Yesterday at the kodak exhibition being held this week at the Grand armory a number of photographs were shown on which the exposure was from 1-1700th of a second to 1-2000th of a second, 1-720,000th of the time taken in Miss Draper's picture. A humming bird's wing, the spokes of the wheels of an auto going at the rate of a mile in fifty seconds, a rifle ball and a flying squirrel, all are shown with as much distinctness as if they had been perfectly still when the camera was snapped.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WILL ASK AID OF PRESIDENT.

Women Want Temperance Help in His Message.

To Plead With Congress to Banish Gambling.

Great Night Reception to the National Officers.

President Roosevelt is to be requested by the national organization of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, in convention here, to incorporate in his next annual message to Congress some recommendation looking to the abolition of the liquor traffic throughout the nation.

Mrs. Harriet Wright Brand, treasurer
Mrs. Clare C. Hoffman, recording secretary
Mrs. Susanna M. D. Fry, corresponding secretary

Trio of the convention leaders.

At a closed session at the First Congregational Church yesterday, the official board gave its approval to a resolution introduced by Mrs. Platt, president of the union at Washington, D. C., which, if adopted by the convention which begins its sessions today, will be telegraphed to the President. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, the liquor traffic is the greatest enemy to the child, the home, and the nation, a most prolific cause of race suicide, and is the greatest economic problem confronting the American people; therefore we appeal to you as a citizen and the nation's Chief to give this great question due consideration in your annual message to Congress."

No doubt is expressed as to the action that will be taken by the convention on this resolution. It is predicted that it will be carried unanimously.

In addition to this, Congress is to be memorialized to prohibit all games of chance of whatsoever kind, and all gambling, not only in New Mexico, but in Arizona as well. This on motion to the board at the same meeting by Rev. Mrs. G. F. Borden, Territorial president for New Mexico.

RECEPTION REAL OPENING.

Although the formal opening of the convention is set for today, the real opening was held last night, when an immense throng gathered at Temperance Temple to attend a reception to the national officers. These officers, arriving an hour late, were given a veritable ovation, the solidly-massed audience giving them a most hearty greeting, while the air was white with the Chautauqua salute.

The belated programme was a most happy one in spite of the hour. Mrs. Emma Cash made an address of welcome and presented to the beloved president of the W.C.T.U., Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, a great Indian basket filled with glowing carnations.

"Hidden in the flowers," said Mrs Cash, "are 3000 kisses from your loyal daughters of California."

Mrs. Hand presided, and Mrs. Hester Griffith made many clever and effective hits in her welcoming talk, presenting a glorious satin banner with poinsettias painted thereon to Mrs. Stevens, a token from the twenty-two unions of the City Federation of Los Angeles, one union of which is the largest in the world.

Mrs. Stevens was fairly overcome by the warmth of her welcome, but it was with characteristic dignity and womanly grace that she expressed her appreciation.

Miss Anna Gordon, national vice-president, came in for a share of the flowers. She talked of Miss Willard, who had formed the first W.C.T.U. in this city just twenty-two years ago. Miss Gordon said the Los Angeles convention will be the largest and greatest ever held by the organization.

"Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Hoffman," came the cry, but the brilliant Missourian said she wished to be short and sweet, which was all she did say.

BIG DAY FOR Y'S.

NO TOBACCO BAN YET.

The Y's had things all their own way yesterday, the Y conference continuing all day at the Temperance Temple. Mrs. Cora Seberry, national secretary, conducted the sessions, assisted by Miss A. E. Thomas, the next officer, whose young face contrasts pleasantly with her snowy hair.

There were Y's from many States, Illinois sending the largest number of representatives, but the majority of this organization consists of young school girls who cannot conveniently tour from home at this time of year.

Miss Mary Emma Yeo of Pasadena, State secretary for Southern California, made the welcoming address, the prettily decked auditorium of the Temple being a welcome in itself.

Miss Katherine Sawyer, State Y secretary for Illinois, precipitated the most animated discussion of the day in connection with "Shall the Y Include Tobacco in its Pledge?"

The Y's really did not settle the matter, and though the convention was unanimous in deciding that tobacco was objectionable, the members were not quite ready to incorporate it in their pledge.

Wise in their day and generation they arranged to submit the question of a triple pledge of alcohol, narcotics and tobacco to the Y's over the country and reach a decision in that way.

Young men are allowed as honorary members of the Y's, and a pretty girl from Colorado, Miss Rose Davidson, State secretary, brought out the opinion from the convention that men should share in all duties and priviledges except the presidency.

Miss Elizabeth Goodwin of New Jersey, and Miss Florence Hammond of Maryland, sent their papers to be read. The afternoon prayer was made by the motherly Mrs. Mary B. Farwell, who is known as a lover of girls. Miss A. E. Thomas of Pennsylvania, conducted a discussion on the future of the Y's.

There will be a Y conference morning and afternoon during the convention.

MEET IN PRAYER.

LEADING OFFICERS GATHER.

Every prominent officer of the national body of the W.C.T.U. was present yesterday morning at the evangelistic prayer-meeting held at Unity Methodist Church by the national evangelist, Miss Elizabeth Greenwood, the keynote of the whole day of prayer being consecration.

Miss Greenwood is a convincing speaker of rare earnestness and power. She will preach the convention sermon next Sunday afternoon. All officers took part from the floor in the meeting this morning, Mrs. Stephens speaking of the blessing they hoped for the national meeting about to begin its sessions, and Miss Gordan referring most touchingly to the late Miss Willard. The members then sang the favorite hymn of that great woman, whose influence lives today in the work of the W.C.T.U.—"A Charge to Keep I Have."

Nearly all the national evangelists were present, and Mrs. Mary E. Teats of California, Miss Cassie Smith of New Jersey, Mrs. Abbie L. Church of Minnesota and Miss Jenny Smith of Washington, D.C., were among the evangelists who spoke.

AWAIT GAVEL'S FALL.

The First Congregational Church has been decked for the first day of the convention. Thousands of great dewy roses are nodding their regal heads to do honor to the temperance visitors, for this is rose day, and the school children of Pasadena plucked those blossoms yesterday and brought them to school so that there might be masses of them, fifteen thousand at least, mingled with the other decorations. The flowers form a solid dado about the pulpit space.

Miss Willard's picture is wreathed with white roses and ferns. Dusty Miller waves its feathery white beneath the roses, and pampas plumes are mingled with the State banners that are effectively disposed, one of the chief works of the Decoration Committee being a great ball of green suspended high and having the white temperance ribbon encircling it, showing, "All around the world the ribbon white is twined."

The decorations which will be a feature of the convention have been planned by Miss Mary A. Stuart of Pasadena, chairman of the committee. The flowers will be changed from day to day, and are furnished by the various unions in Los Angeles and near-by towns, and from the city parks.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME.

FOR VISITORS' PLEASURE.

EXCURSIONS ARE PLANNED

Next week the visitors will be given an opportunity of visiting the numerous beach resorts and other places of interest in this section. On Thursday, November 2, there will be an excursion to Catalina Island; Friday, November 3, will be "Pasadena Day," the most complete of all in the efforts that have been put forth to make it entertaining; Saturday, November 4, a trip to San Diego will be made, where the W.C.T.U. of that city will entertain the travelers; Saturday evening, November 4, the national body will be entertained at Casa de la Madre, Santa Monica, with a luncheon given by Helen L. Eaton and Dr. Sarah Howe Morris.

On Monday of the following week there will be an excursion to Long Beach, and on Tuesday a jaunt will be made to Whittier.

LOSES TREASURE.

WOMAN'S PATHETIC PLIGHT.

Poor little woman, she had saved her money for many months back to have enough to come to this golden land with the W.C.T.U. delegations. Indeed, she is a delegate herself from New Jersey, and had lived all her life with that great hunger for the sight of California, and its flowers. She came into Los Angeles yesterday with empty pockets. All her spare money that was to have purchased so many little souvenirs was stolen the last night out.

But the kind-hearted women who wear the white ribbon are going to start a subscription right away to replace her precious $20.

Y'S HAVE RALLY.

NATIONAL SONG CHOSEN.

A grand Y rally and reception in honor of Mrs. Cora Seberry was held last evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Edwards on Beacon street, and at Unity Church, at the same time the musical contest to select a national L.T.L. song was held. The judges were Miss Luella Burt and Messrs. Close and Gray, the song winning the contest being written by Thomas B. Roberts, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles.

THE W. C. T. U.

[On the laying of a corner-stone in Los Angeles, in 1885. Reprinted.]

God built the world for Time's long ages for
The centuries of years which Change has ruled
And giant Progress nurtured. Not alone
For man in Eden, or for the hoary
Patriarchs whose feet verged on the threshhold
Of a thousand years, but for us as well
Who walk the pathway of the present, and for Those who in Time's twilight hour shall come and See Time's ending, were these blue skies spread and
The earth set fast upon its firm foundations.
No Today bounds God's great purposes—
Measure of earth's untold eons can hedge
Them in or compass their infinity.
And like Him who first reared this grand temple,
And spread above its mountain walls the dome
Of its blue sky, and upreared the columed
Trees, and, in the beginning, upon their
Granite base set all earth's rock foundations,
Humbly and reverently, with our eyes
Upon the pregnant future, upon the Needs of coming generations, on those
Among their children who shall be drink-scourged
And demon-haunted, we lay, not for to-
Day alone, but for the long tomorrows
Of old Time, this corner-stone, above which
We hope to rear the roof and architrave
O'er spacious halls forever consecrate
To human needs; to temper here the shields
Against temptations; to help unto their Feet those who have fallen.
This corner-stone
Means more than simple building with brick and Mortar. Each hammer-stroke, each steady
Trowel-sweep smites at gigantic wrong, and Rings with pity for the tempted; each chisel's
Touch carves out fresh hopes for them, as beautiful
As is the carven statue which takes shape
Beneath the sculptor's hand, and no less pure
Than is his stainless marble.
These walls will
Also be emblems of courage and of
Patience—of the noble deeds of the large-
Hearted woman-workers by whom, as borne
Down along God's ways into their ears, the Cry for soul-help was heard and heeded.
As the dew falls down upon the night, so
Fell on them the grace of earnest purpose,
And in the warm summer of their hearts is Ripening now the sure harvest of tireless Endeavor. The corner-stone is laid. The Walls shall rise, each brick a pledge of safety
To the poor captive souls bound by the strong
Cords of an unsatiate appetite,
Upon the awful nightmare of the drunkard's
Sleep, swept by the bitter winds of Misery.
From out these doors the words of pity shall Drop down like rain into seared hearts which have Burned dry with sinning. Here shall be built strong
Dykes of moral purpose, which shall help to Stay the fiery tide that burns out love
And common decency, and honest pride,
And noble manhood. Lay firm the corner-stone!

The elder Harrison was twice elected Mayor of Chicago, I think, against the combined opposition of every English-printed paper in that city. But all that time the press continued to exert this unconscious influence which every paper exercises with.

"The newspaper has an influence greater than its arguments. That is why so few men stop their favorite paper when they get mad at it. The Springfield Republican, in Samuel Bowles's day, had a character like a man. Not a reputation, but a character. When it mugwumped, it carried only a few of its subscribers with it into that strange freak-land of mugwumpery. But it lost very few subscribers. When Horace Greeley accepted the nomination of the enemy for President, the subscribers of the New York Tribune went back on the paper's new and misfit principles, utterly and unanimously. But they kept on taking the Tribune.

"You can boycott anything on earth more easily than a newspaper. Because the people who do boycott it never did take it and never would take it anyhow. And the people who have got into the habit of taking it may get mad at it, but they won't quit reading it. There is one paper in Los Angeles—The Times—that has been under a boycott for nearly fifteen years. And if the boycott should only keep up fifteen years longer, the paper would own the town.

"The superior wisdom of the press has never been more strongly set forth and emphasized than by the united wisdom and highest sagacity of its critics. Not very long ago the Legislatures of two great States conceived the idea—which thing had wrecked many a simple-minded man before them—that it was a very easy and simple thing to edit a country paper. They tried it. The Legislature of Pennsylvania took charge of the art department of all the journals of that State. It forbade the publication of a cartoon or caricature without the consent of the caricatured. And the press of Pennsylvania pilloried Governor and Legislature as never were they pictured forth before.

"The Legislature of California assumed charge of the editorial page of the press of this State and ordered that every editorial should be signed. I think the law still stands on the statute books—unrepealed, uninforced; despised; treated with contempt—a monument of legislative imbecility. One of the monuments. There are others."

There is one remedy that will cure rheumatism in any of its forms and so thoroughly eradicate the disease from the system that the cure is permanent. This remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and the proof of the statement is found in the experience of Mr. T. S. Wagar, of No. 73 Academy street, Watertown, N.Y. He says:

"The pain was in my joints and my sufferings for over two years was beyond description. There was an intense pain in my shoulders that prevented me from sleeping and I would get up and walk the floor at night. When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the improvement was gradual, but by the time I had taken four boxes I was entirely cured and I have not had the slightest touch of rheumatism since that time."

Mr. Wagar's wife is also enthusiastic in her endorsement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I have tried the pills myself for stomach trouble and have experienced great relief from their use. My daughter, Mrs. Atwood, of Gill street, Watertown, has used them for female weakness and was much benefited by them. I regard Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People as an extremely valuable family medicine."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the worst cases of bloodlessness, indigestion, influenza, headaches, backaches, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, nervousness, spinal weakness, and the special ailments of girls and women whose blood supply becomes weak, scanty or irregular. The genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drugs and cannot injure the most delicate system. At all druggists or from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

The Perfect Shoulder

DRAWN FROM LIFE FOR WOOD BROS.

Whether in a suit or an overcoat, one conspicuous feature of our special hand-tailored garments is the perfect shoulder. It is sufficient to attract attention and evoke an expression of genuine admiration anywhere. Some high-class custom tailors in large cities may duplicate it; the ordinary clothing store does not attempt it.

All our garments are hand-tailored to our own special order. They are different from the common class of ready made clothing. They give the grace and comfort, the fashion and the fit of the most carefully-made custom garments. They cost little more than half. The growth of our business tells the story of satisfaction.

"Hercules-Kantwearout" Suits are shower-proof—it's not an advertising claim without foundation—they prove it.

Of course if your boy stands under an eaves spout in a tremendous rain he will get soaked—the force of the water will drive it right through the fabric because the rain-proofing process doesn't close up the pores in the cloth—it just coats each and every thread with a chemical that makes each particular thread water-tight—and the threads are interwoven so closely together in "Hercules" fabrics that they form almost a solid mass—in an ordinary shower, water will roll right off just like mercury off a piece of glass.

We test "Hercules" cloth by taking a piece of the fabric—make a bag affair of it—and pouring in about a pint of water. If the cloth holds water a certain number of hours we make it up in "Hercules" suits—if it doesn't we proof it over. This is a severe test—much more severe than if tested in the rain—because the water is held stationary for hours.

The rain-proofing process will not rot the cloth, nor make it air-proof, nor injure the colors—just makes it Shower-proof, Moth-proof, Perspiration-proof, Hygienic and Sanitary.

We will give you a "Hercules" without cost if you find a thread of cotton in the fabric—colors absolutely fast.

Pants full lined with cold shrunk Irish linen. Pant seams silk sewed twice. Seat and inside leg seams covered with tape—seams will never break.

Two sleeve linings in coat where wear is greatest (patent applied for). Coat full lined with extra heavy double warped Italian cloth.

Every suit labeled "Hercules" right below the coat hanger and on coat sleeve.

For boys 6 to 16—double breasted two-piece knee pants suits only. Five Dollars everywhere.

OVERCOATS FREE

FIRST SPECIAL—To the first five purchasers of suits on our opening day we will give an overcoat absolutely free, provided the suit purchased costs $15 or over. Come in early Saturday. It's the early buyer who gets an overcoat.

SECOND SPECIAL—All through the day and evening on the Saturday of our opening, we're going to give away overcoats. With every twentieth suit sold, at $15 or over, an overcoat will be given free. So no matter what time you come, you have an equal chance.

THIRD SPECIAL—All suits will be sold from $10 to $25, regardless of their value. At $10 we'll make you a suit better than those you pay $15 for at other tailors—and so right through the line—values are fully $5 to $10 better than those offered by tailors who claim to do so much for so little. We want the business and are willing to sacrifice to get it. Best linings and trimmings used in all suits sold Saturday, whether at $10 or $30.

OVERCOATS FREE

FIRST SPECIAL—To the first five purchasers of suits on our opening day we will give an overcoat absolutely free, provided the suit purchased costs $15 or over. Come in early Saturday. It's the early buyer who gets an overcoat.

SECOND SPECIAL—All through the day and evening on the Saturday of our opening, we're going to give away overcoats. With every twentieth suit sold, at $15 or over, an overcoat will be given free. So no matter what time you come, you have an equal chance.

THIRD SPECIAL—All suits will be sold from $10 to $25, regardless of their value. At $10 we'll make you a suit better than those you pay $15 for at other tailors—and so right through the line—values are fully $5 to $10 better than those offered by tailors who claim to do so much for so little. We want the business and are willing to sacrifice to get it. Best linings and trimmings used in all suits sold Saturday, whether at $10 or $30.

TORTURED BY ECZEMA

Body Mass of Sores. Could not Sleep Spent Hundreds of Dollars on Doctors, but Grew Worse.

CURED BY CUTICURA FOR $8

"Cuticura saved the life of my mother, Mrs. Wm. F. Davis, of Stony Creek, Conn. Here was the worst eczema I ever saw. She was hardly able to eat or sleep. Her head and body was a mass of sores, and she despaired of recovery. Finally, after spending hundreds of dollars on doctors, growing worse all the time, living in misery for years, with hair whitened from suffering and body terribly disfigured, she was completely cured by two cakes of Cuticura Soap, five boxes of Cuticura, and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent.—Geo. C. Davis, 161 W. 36th St. N. Y."

POLITICAL.

WEAK KNEES OF RUEFDOM.

San Francisco Voters Lack Courage, Says Knight.

He's Out of Politics, But They Disgust Him.

Picturesque Orator Tells of His First Speech.

Burning words about weak knees were ripped off in the Hotel Angelus lobby yesterday by Hon. George A. Knight, one of the most picturesque orators of the West, who came down from Ruefville (formerly San Francisco) yesterday to speak at the Trask banquet.

Those who do not already know Mr. Knight as one of the interesting characters of the State will remember him as the man who sprang into national fame at a single bound by his great speech in seconding the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt.

GEORGE ALEXANDER KNIGHT.

He carries the flavor of the Far West about him; there's dash and a vim to his compelling personality that makes him a Roosevelt kind of man.

"I don't believe they are sincere," he said, pounding the words out as though he had to pull the trigger for every syllable.

He was talking about the merchants of San Francisco in their alleged stand against Ruef and Ruef's corruption in the great election fight.

"If the merchants and the reputable people of San Francisco would only stand together and put on a bold front, there is no reason why Ruef should win. They could easily outvote him.

"But they can't do it standing around shouting in hushed whispers.

"They claim to be [illegible] him; but I don't believe they are sincere.

"John S. Partridge, the candidate for Mayor against Ruef, is a fine, square man. If they elect him, they may not get just what some of them may want on all occasions, but they will get an honest, manly, square deal. But I don't know. Will they have the courage to stand together and elect him?"

With a final snort of disdain, Mr. Knight went on pacing up and down the corridor, making up the speech on "The President" which made so great a hit at the banquet last night.

NO SHIVERS A BAD SIGN.

Knight never writes out a speech beforehand; he never knows exactly what he has to say until he rises and says "Mr. President."

"I can always tell whether it is going to be a 'go' or not," he says. "If I am nervous and uneasy and frightened about ten minutes before, it is a good sign. But if I come to the bat calmly and without shivering, and without stage fright, it is a very bad sign."

Even the wording of his famous speech at Chicago seconding the nomination of Roosevelt was extemporaneous.

"I had a lot of trouble over that," he said yesterday, smiling at the recollection. "The day before the nomination, a telegram came over the private wire from Roosevelt; he wanted to know what I was going to say.

"I said I couldn't tell him what I was going to say because I didn't know.

"The answer came back that the President must know what Mr. Knight intended to say. I suppose he thought I might shoot off some rum, Romanism and religion.

"I insisted that it wasn't because I was a shy maiden that I didn't want anybody to see my manuscript; I didn't have any manuscript. Finally I had to get two newspaper men and Mr. Lee, who was managing things, into a private room and while I paced up and down the room, had to make a 'piece' for them to show them I intended to behave."

Mr. Knight grinned with sparkling eyes at a question that was asked of him.

COWPUNCHER TO ORATOR.

"How did I get to making speeches? Well, I'll tell you.

"I was a cowpuncher in Humbolt county. One day they sent for me to come down to a place called Petrolia in that county and make a Fourth of July speech. The promoter of that Fourth of July was the man who kept the hotel, a man named Anderson.

"Anderson's hotel lay on a long, grassy slope, and he planned to have the oration delivered from under an oak tree half-way up the slope.

"The audience was composed almost entirely of cowboys, who rode in from the ranches; they all thought it necessary to ride young, fiery horses, and to ride them with hackamores instead of bridles. The whole audience sat in their saddles while I orated.

"At the last minute Anderson thought he would have a band. He raked up a man named Andy with a fiddle and gave me a horn. So, on this occasion, the orator of the day made his triumphant entry tooting a horn.

"Unfortunately, as Andy and I marched out, playing, I was on the uphill side from him. The grass was slippery and as we were marching out, feeling very chesty, one of my feet slipped and I kicked Andy's feet out from under him. We went down in a kicking heap and Andy rammed his elbow clean through his fiddle, which made him boiling mad. So the Fourth of July oration did not begin under the most fortunate circumstances.

AUDIENCE WHOOPS OFF.

"But I was not discouraged. I got the eagle soaring in great style; say, I was just handing it out in flowery sky rockets when one of the vaqueros rose in his stirrups and yelled, 'Godalmighty, look at that son of a gun buck.'

"My audience gave one wild whoop and, digging in its spurs, disappeared with a clatter of hoofs and a roar of yells. At the edge of the herd, one of the young bronchos was tying himself into hard knots and undoing himself again with a jerk.

"They sat around and watched until his rider got the best of him; then the audience rode back and I went on with the Fourth of July oration."

Knight says he is now out of politics and is not a candidate for anything—most certainly not for Governor.

He says that, even if Schmitz is elected again as Mayor of San Francisco, it will have no influence on State politics.

ANGEL OF WAR HERE TO STAY.

MISS BOUTON'S LOYAL SERVICES IN THE REBELLION.

Valiantly Served Her Country as Special Agent in the Field, Establishing Diet Kitchens and Ministering to Sick and Wounded—To Live With Brother.

There has come to Los Angeles to reside a gentle old lady who earned national fame as a secret service agent of the Union during the Civil War.

Miss Elizabeth Bouton served through the last year of the war as a special agent of the Federal government. She visited the hospitals and through her efforts diet kitchens were established and methods applied which resulted in the saving of many lives.

During the earlier years of the war Miss Bouton was a newspaper correspondent and contributed several interesting articles to magazines. She wrote a number of poems of note, but her chief work was among the sick and wounded soldiers who regarded her as an angel of mercy.

While connected with the Department of the Mississippi, Miss Bouton went on many missions of peril. She was always at her post and rendered valiant service for the government. She was later transferred to the Department of the Ohio and afterward served in the Department of the Cumberland, doing most important work.

For President Lincoln, the grave woman visited all the army hospitals and presented a report on the conditions found. This resulted in many changes of benefit. So important did her work become that she was officially recognized by the Government and was commissioned to present reports on the care and condition of the wounded at the front.

The noble woman was privileged to serve under her brother Gen. Edward Bouton, who was in command of a brigade during the last year of the war.

The eyes of Miss Bouton shine with a pleasant light as she relates some of the stirring scenes of those terrible days. She is modest and with difficulty is persuaded to tell of her part in the great drama of the nation.

Her experience is one few women ever knew. She spent hours on the firing line administering to the needs of the war-broken soldiers, and later, in the hospital, inaugurated reforms that brought great relief.

Miss Bouton and her brother are the survivors of a once numerous family, the history of which dates back to the beginnings of American history.

Gen. Bouton has built a beautiful home at No. 1315 Bond street and Miss Bouton will [illegible] the remainder of her life.

Born at Avoca, Steuben county, New York, Miss Bouton has come to the Land of Sunshine to escape the rigorous winters of her native State. She is charmed with Southern California.

JOHN HAY'S BALLADS.

Mark Twain Throws Light on the Pike County Pieces and Discusses Bret Harte's Poems.

[Mark Twain in Harper's Weekly:] In his article in the North American Review, Mr. Howells expresses uncertainty in a matter concerning the Ballads, in the following remark:

"It was contemporaneously supposed that the Pike County Ballads were inspired or provoked by the Pike County balladry of Bret Harte, and they were first accepted as imitations or parodies. I believe they were actually written earlier, but if they were written later," etc.

They were not written later, they were written (and printed in newspapers) earlier. Mr. Hay told me this himself—in 1870 or '71, I should say. I believe—indeed I am quite sure—that he added that the newspapers referred to were obscure Western backwoods journals, and that the Ballads were not widely copied. Also he said this: That by and by, when Harte's ballads began to sweep the country the noise woke his (Hay's) buried waifs, and they rose and walked. I think that the detail is interesting, now. It compels one to realize to oneself the difficult fact that there was a time when another person could advertise John Hay into notice better than he could do it himself. Hay made mention of the current notion that he was an imitator; he did not enlarge upon it, but he was not better pleased by it than you or I would be.

He was aware that I had been a Mississippi pilot, and he asked me if he had made any technical errors in the "Prairie Belle" ballad, and said he wanted to correct them if any existed. There was one very slight one, but it could not have been corrected without dividing the heroism between two persons, and that would have spoiled the poem; so Hay left it as it was.

It is true that "in later life he wished people would forget the Ballads," for he said the equivalent of that to a friend of mine before 1880; but at the time of which I have been speaking they had not yet become an inconvenience to him by obstructing his road to a graver fame. It was another case of "Heathen Chinee." When Harte was editing the Overland, and moving gradually and confidently along toward a coveted place in high-grade literature, an accident happened, one day, which blocked his progress for a time: the office boy brought in an urgent call for "copy" to fill a vacancy on the eve of going to press, and Harte, for lack of anything more to his taste, fished his H. C. ballad out of the waste-basket where he had thrown it, and gave it to the boy. Harte's reputation had been local, before; in a single day the "Heathen Chinee" made it universal. Then the Eastern world called for more Chinee, and was frantic to get it. Harte tried to appease it with higher literature, and got only censure in return, and reminders that he was wasting his time upon a sort of work which was out of his line and above his ability. He told me these things long afterward, and still showed a bitter and hostile feeling against that ballad, because it had stopped his lofty march when he was making such good progress, and had remained stubbornly in his road so long that he had begun to fear that he would never get a start again. Then relief and rescue came at last, and the "Luck of Roaring Camp" blasted the "Heathen Chinee" out of the way and opened the road.

ISAURO DE LA PENA has written an entertaining short story in Spanish for The Times Magazine of the coming Sunday.

ARE you looking for a family tree, or a Revolutionary ancestor? Would you like to be a "Selected Salic Scion," a chosen vessel, a royal seed, one in the most exalted circle of men and women upon our coasts? Then remember what Owen Wister says in Lady Baltimore:

"Whenever a few people gather together and style themselves something, and choose a president, and eight or nine vice-presidents, and a secretary and a treasurer, and a committee on elections, and then let it be known that almost nobody else is qualified to belong to it, there springs up immediately in hundreds and thousands of breasts a fiery craving to get into that body."

Mr. Wister's new love story of Southern Society—his first novel since The Virginian—begins in this week's issue of

LONG DISTANCE MARRIAGE IN SAN BERNARDINO.

Illinois Man Crosses the Continent to Take as His Bride the Widow of a Former Riverside Man—Contracting Parties Were Schoolmates Together Long Ago.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Boyd, a wealthy resident of Modesto, Ill., crossed the continent to wed Mrs. Alice Followell, a widow of the late Prof. George Followell, who died at Riverside five years ago. Judge Oster performed the marriage ceremony this afternoon.

Thirty years ago Boyd and his bride were schoolmates. She learned that his wife died last December, and opened a correspondence which resulted in the union today.

FUGITIVE ESCAPES AGAIN.

Sheriff J. C. Ralphs this morning received a telegram from Constable Jake Westerfield at Indio stating that he had captured the negro, Edward Walker, one of the four prisoners to break jail here Monday night, but that the fugitive made his escape while being taken to jail. The Sheriff has detailed two officers to hasten to Indio and assist Westerfield, and the stations east of there have been warned of the negro's presence in that section. The whereabouts of the other three men is not known, though there are a multitude of rumors afloat.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS.

M. Hildebrandt was found guilty yesterday of assault with a deadly weapon upon Richard Lehn, chef of the Harvey House at Barstow, and he will be sentenced Saturday morning. Hildebrant is an irresponsible.

District Attorney L. M. Sprecher received a telegram from Needles this morning summoning him there to hold the preliminary hearing of two men charged with assault with deadly weapons with intent to murder. It is understood that they figured in gun play in the tenderloin.

E. H. Wambold has sold to W. G. Cline the "Carulina" mining claim, which adjoins the Greenlead mining property in Holcomb Valley, the stated consideration being $3000. The location was originally made by Joseph Glavor, who sold his interest to Wambold. Development of the property will be commenced at once.

A. A. Cox has sold his ten-acre orange grove at Rialto to J. F. McQuiston, the consideration named being $5000. The property lies just north of San Bernardino avenue. The purchaser has plans for a residence to be erected in the grove.

W. J. Reed, for more than twenty-five years one of the leading grocers of Oakland, died yesterday afternoon at the Mentone Sanatorium, after a lingering illness. Thirty years ago he was a resident of this city. The remains will be shipped to Oakland for interment, and will be accompanied north by Attorney F. B. Daley, an old-time to a friend and have it deeded back to him as "Brown," in order to remove any possible tangle in title which his unusual change of name has occasioned. The wealth of his newly-found father is placed at $80,000.

GREET FIRST TROLLEY CAR.

ENTRY OF ELECTRIC COACH INTO SANTA ANA CITY.

Mr. Huntington and Officials of the Road are Warmly Welcomed by Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Government.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 26.—The first electrically propelled car over the new line just being completed from here to Los Angeles arrived here at 3 o'clock this afternoon, bearing on board a company of Pacific Electric officials, including H. E. Huntington. The car used was the private special "El Peregrino," which made the run from Los Angeles in something more than an hour. The last half mile of the trip, the car was shoved in by the steam work engine, the poles and wires extending only to the West Fifth street crossing at the present time.

With Mr. Huntington on the trip were A. D. Schindler, general manager; George E. Pillsbury, chief engineer; Melville E. Dozier, engineer of right of way; F. Van Vranken, superintendent of the southern division; R. S. Masson, consulting engineer; W. T. Maddox, trainmaster of southern division; J. McMillan, traffic manager; S. H. Anderson, chief electrician.

Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and City Trustees were in waiting to receive the trolley chiefs and bid them welcome to the city. For half an hour Mr. Huntington and others of the party inspected the work now being brought to a conclusion on East Fourth street, and examined the ground on the corner of Fourth and French streets to be used for a power-house and the Neill place to the east of the power-house site, where the car barns will be located.

The entire party then took the motor for Orange, where Messrs. S. Armor, G. D. Toothaker and J. C. Williams of the Board of City Trustees held a conference with them in regard to the possible route which the trolley will take in making its entrance to Orange. It is the expressed wish of the residents of that town, through the board, that Orange be included on the main line which is proposed to be run north from this place to Anaheim and Fullerton. Matters of right of way were talked of and, in the event the electric company decides to make its entrance to Orange direct, the committee of the trustees promised the community's hearty support in making the coming as easy as possible.

Mr. Huntington expressed his entire satisfaction with the progress thus far made on the Santa Ana line, as also with the terminal facilities secured here. A permanent ticket office is to be opened in the Rowley drug store on the northeast corner of Fourth and Main streets.

NEW FOOTBALL TEAM.

Members of Co. L, N.G.C., have organized a snappy football team, which will make its début in the amateur athletic world in a game with Co. F of Los Angeles in this city on the date of the formal opening of the Pacific Electric line. The team lines up as follows: Slocum, left end; Gowdy, left tackle; Skiles, left guard; Huntley, center; G. Wilson, right guard; Zerman, right tackle; F. Ellson, right end; Yates, quarter; Collins, right half; Beeson, left half; W. Wilson, fullback. The line-up is subject to changes as new men may develop for the positions. Practices are being held each evening.

Santa Ana High School footballists will meet San Diego High School on the San Diego gridiron next Saturday. A return game will be played here, November 11, the date of the interscholastic debate between the two high schools.

SANTA ANA BRIEFS.

Simeon Cook, aged 85, until one year ago a resident of Redlands, died today at Newport Beach. Two sons survive him.

On Saturday afternoon the Ebell Society will listen to a lecture by President Edwards of Throop Polytechnic Institute on the query "What Went Ye Out for to See?"

M. J. Smith, aged 48, and Adah Higgins, aged 44, both residents of Barstow, were married here today.

COLTON LAD ADMITS HE IS A FIREBUG.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

COLTON, Oct. 26.—A little 7-year-old boy, Dewey Pritchett, has confessed that he is the firebug that has kept Colton in terror for two months.

The lad is a son of R. E. Pritchett, an employé of the Globe Mills and a man highly respected in this community.

In the presence of Constable Bagley, Marshal Adkins and Royal Mack, official stenographer for Dist.-Atty. L. M. Sprecker, the boy, called from his school room to the office at the Lincoln school, calmly answered all questions asked him and stated that he has set every fire which has aroused the city in the past two months, with the exception of two small ones which occurred at the barn of J. Osborn. In other words he confesses to the following fires:

W. W. Wilcox's barn, Tuesday, July 18, 2 p.m.

Mrs. K. Tredinneck's barn, Monday, August 21, 10:15 a.m.

J. Malone's barn, Saturday, September 2, 7:15 p.m.

I. W. Brink, Saturday, September 9, 7:20 p.m.

E. D. Robert's barn, Monday, October 9, 7 p.m.

S. D. Bailey's barn, Saturday, October 21, 2:15 p.m.

The fires in some instances amounted to a loss of $1000. The first four occurred on one alley, very near each other, and in one of the handsomest residence sections of the city. Had it not been for the exceptionally good work of the fire department the loss of property would have been very great.

The child gave no reason for his extraordinary conduct, but it is believed it was prompted solely by a love for excitement. That one so young could repeatedly set fires in various parts of the city without being detected, seems remarkable, but that he could do all this and keep his own counsel is declared indeed extraordinary.

The little fellow is very firm in his statement that he is a firebug and says that no other children are implicated.

Circumstantial evidence has centered about this boy for several weeks, Constable Bagley and City Marshal Adkins have been shadowing him during this time with the expectation of getting more direct evidence. Had not circumstances intervened to prevent, Constable Bagley would without doubt have had the youngster apprehended before this time. A detective named Freeman from Pasadena is in the city working on the case. The question of the child's future is now in the hands of Dist.-Atty. Sprecker.

No complaint has been filed against him, and he is attending school as usual. There is manifold relief in Colton at the prospect of preventing further incendiarism.

RIVERSIDE.

DAUGHTERS CHOOSE OFFICERS.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Daughters of the Confederacy concluded their convention here tonight. The following officers were elected today: President, Mrs. Albert M. Stephens of Los Angeles chapter; first vice-president, Mrs. C. P. Wimberley of J. H. Morgan Chapter, Redlands; second vice-president, Mrs. M. B. Harris of Gen. Bell Chapter, Fresno; recording secretary, Mrs. Alex R. Jones of Jeffreson Davis Chapter, San Francisco; Mrs. Gayden Cage of J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, Riverside; registrar, Mrs. Samuel J. Churchman of Albert Sidney Johnson Chapter, San José.

The society accepted the invitation of General Bell Chapter to meet next year at Fresno. The early hours of the morning were spent in automobile rides around the scenic parts of Riverside and its environs.

USURY ALLEGED.

Acting Chief of Police Auble is investigating a charge of usury which has been made against C. C. Colyear, a furniture dealer of No. 322 South Main street. The information came from the City Tax Collector's office, where it is alleged a deputy seeking evidence against money lenders operating without license unearthed several chattel mortgages on the county records wherein rates of interest varying from 3 per cent. to 5 per cent. monthly were charged. The law allows only 1 per cent. per month on chattels. A warrant for Colyear's arrest will be issued if the charges can be substantiated.

OCEANO'S LOT OWNER?

FOR A STATE THEATER.

Berkeley Graduate Will Ask California to Endow a Playhouse at San Francisco.

[San Francisco Call:] Elmer Harris, a graduate of the university, who has just returned from a tour abroad, where he studied with such notable actors as Coquelin, Ellen Terry and others of like rank, and made a special investigation of the endowed theaters of Europe, has put forward a plan for the establishing of a State theater in California, to be operated under university auspices, with money appropriated by the Legislature.

Harris has won his spurs as a dramatist by playing his drama, "The Resurrection," chosen from 1200 others for production at the German National Theater in Hamburg this winter. The play will be put on at the Hamburg Schauspielhaus. It was to have been staged in London, but the London censor of plays refused his permission, objecting, it is said, to the title, and to parts of the play.

Harris's suggestion that a State theater be endowed in California is the result of a careful study, both of the conditions under which national theaters are conducted in Europe and of the situation in California, so far as the drama is concerned. He has been promised the coöperation of the university authorities, he says, including President Wheeler, and is confident that the plan, ambitious though it is, will eventually be crowned with success.

The sum of $50,000 may be asked for from the State Legislature at its next session, this money to be spent in leasing a building in San Francisco for dramatic productions, engaging instructors, hiring actors, and in other ways insuring the production of dramas on a first-class scale for the benefit of the public. Both education and entertainment would be the aim.

Prof. William Dallam Armes, through whose efforts the University Dramatic Association was formed last year, unifying the dramatic activities at the university, believes Mr. Harris's plan to be practicable, and worthy of support from every section of the State University.

Harris graduated from the university in 1901. He was prominent in dramatic activities in college, and after graduating spent three years in America and Europe, devoting his time to dramatic affairs, with unusual opportunities for gaining inspiration from great players and great dramatic directors. Harris said today:

"I believe that the ultimate regeneration of the drama is to occur through the medium of theaters controlled by the people, or the people's representatives. I have been discussing this matter with the university authorities during the last two weeks and believe I have a right to be enthusiastic over the support they are inclined to give the idea. The prospect for the estab-

the drama in America is through the medium of national or State theaters. In Europe the national theater is a great success in helping to maintain the high standard of the drama.

"Sir Henry Irving almost in his last words spoke for a nationally endowed theater, and now Englishmen are contemplating endowing such a theater as a memorial to the grand old actor."

"Doped" Walnuts for Convicts.

"English walnuts once threatened to become the staple diet of quite a large number of persons in the county jail and State prison," said Andrew J. Wilcox, warden of the Rhode Island penitentiary, at the Midland Hotel yesterday afternoon.

"For quite a time they seemed to enjoy no other food at all. We began thinking that the peanut, through some freak of taste, had gone out of fashion. The delicacy was harmless enough, and little or no restriction was placed upon it as a gift to prisoners. After a time we began to think that the men were getting dyspepsia from overeating the nuts. They seemed drowsy and careless about their work. One day the instinct told me something was wrong, and I discovered that morphine and gum opium was being concealed very ingeniously in those harmless looking nuts. I stopped the gifts at once, and we prohibited nuts altogether after that, but the incident shows the endless resourcefulness of dope fiends in evading detection. And as dope victims provide a very large percentage of our criminals a penitentiary officer has to be constantly on the watch for new devices to provide them with drugs."—[Kansas City Star.

Notice and Petition.

Gentlemen: Now comes the undersigned, your petitioners, and respectfully represent that they, and each of them, are bona fide residents within the TERRITORY hereinafter described and proposed, and that they, and each of them, are qualified electors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

And further, your petitioners represent, allege and set forth as follows, to wit:

First—That within the boundaries of the proposed municipal corporation, hereinafter set forth and more particularly described, there is now living and residing five hundred inhabitants and that the said proposed municipal corporation is not now incorporated as a municipal corporation.

Second—That the undersigned petitioners are at least fifty (50) of the qualified electors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and are each and all of them bona fide residents within the limits and boundaries of the proposed municipal corporation.

Third—That the following is a particular description of the boundaries of the said proposed municipal corporation:

Beginning at the intersection of the center line of the right of way of the San Pedro branch of the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad Company with the center line of the Wilmington and San Pedro road; a map of said road being filed in the office of the County Surveyor, and numbered 1024, said intersection now referred to being the most northern of the two or more intersections of the said roads which occur in this vicinity, and being a point in or near the curve shown on said map No. 1024, between stations [illegible] and 90x29; thence easterly in a straight line to a point on the center line of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad from San Pedro to Wilmington, said point being 1925 feet northerly, measured along the center line of the said Southern Pacific Railroad from its intersection with the present northerly boundary line of the City of San Pedro; thence continuing easterly in a straight line upon a prolongation of the line from said point of beginning 2100 feet to a point; said last described line passing 300 feet southerly from the southerly end of Mormon Island; thence northeasterly in a straight line to a point in the westerly line of lot two (2) of Terminal Island, as said lot is shown on a map of Terminal Island, filed in the office of the County Recorder, and numbered 122, which is distant southwesterly 175 feet from the northwest corner of said lot two (2;) thence northeasterly, in a straight line to a point in the westerly line of lot three (3) as the same is shown on said map of Terminal Island, which is distant northwesterly, measured along the westerly line of said lot three (3,) 300 feet from the northeast corner of said lot two (2;) thence northeasterly in a straight line to a point in the southerly line of the Wilmington and Anaheim road, said point being distant 1000 feet easterly of the northeast corner of block 26, of New San Pedro or Wilmington, as the same is shown in a map recorded in Book 6, pages 66 and 67 of Deeds, in the office of the County Recorder; thence along the southerly line of the said Wilmington and Anaheim road to the westerly line of the City of Long Beach; thence northwesterly in a straight line to a point in the east line of the right of way of the San Pedro branch of the Southern Pacific Railroad, said point being the intersection point of the east line of the said railroad right of way with the production easterly of the northerly line of New San Pedro or Wilmington, as the same is shown on map before mentioned.

Thence westerly along the production easterly of and the northerly line of New San Pedro or Wilmington and along the northerly line of Wilmington and the production westerly of the said northerly line to the easterly line of the Rancho Los Palos Verdes; thence southerly along the easterly line of said rancho to the southerly line of the Wilmington and Salt Works road, as the same is shown on a map of "Peck's" subdivision of lot "J" and a portion of "H," of the partition of Rancho Los Palos Verdes, filed in the office of the County Recorder, and numbered 141; thence westerly along the southerly line of the said Wilmington and Salt Works road to the intersection of the said southerly line with the westerly line of the right of way of the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad; thence southerly along the said westerly line of the said right of way of the Los Angeles Interurban Railroad, following its various courses and curves to a point, said point being due west of the place of Fourth—That your petitioners believe that the interests of the inhabitants residing within the boundaries of the proposed municipal corporation, above described, and the interests of all owners of property within said boundaries above mentioned, will be subserved and promoted by its incorporation as a city of the sixth (6th) class.

Fifth—That there is attached to said petition an affidavit of three (3) qualified electors verifying that the said petition was, and bears the required number of signatures of qualified electors.

Sixth—That notice is hereby given that said petition will be presented to, and filed with the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County, State of California, on Monday, November 6, 1905.

Wherefore, your petitioners pray this Honorable Board that that portion of Los Angeles County, State of California, lying within the boundaries heretofore described, may be incorporated as a municipal corporation of the sixth (6th) class under the name and style of the City of Wilmington, under and by virtue of the provisions of an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of Municipal Corporations." Approved March 13, 1883, and the acts amendatory and supplemental thereto.

In witness whereof, the undersigned qualified electors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, have affixed their names and signatures hereto.

Pain in the Head

Is a danger signal, warning you that the brain nerves are exhausted—irritated, and are undergoing an unnatural strain.

Frequent and prolonged attacks of pain weaken the generative power of the nerve cells of the brain, and lead to loss of memory, melancholy, spasms, epilepsy, and frequently insanity.

When the brain nerves are weakened they are unable to supply sufficient nerve force to the nerves that control the lungs, heart, stomach and other organs, and these organs are thus robbed of energy, and unable to meet the demands upon them, and they get sick.

Stop the head pains with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the influence upon your general health will be greater than you can realize.

"I want to tell you how thankful I am for Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. SOLDIERS' HOME.

NEW CHAPLAIN IS NAMED.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Oct. 26.—Rev. George W. Wilson of Chicago, is appointed chaplain of this branch. He is the first to fill that position as a commissioned officer.

Since the death of the late chaplain, Rev. Dr. Beck, many applicants, recommended by coast and local prelates and the various conferences have applied for the place. In a large number of instances these were veterans of the war, who because of failing health or age had been superannuated. Because of their past efficiency in Christian work, as well as the eminence of their sponsors, in religious affairs, the applications were given every consideration. The growth and needs of the home, however, seemed to the board of managers to require the services of one more active, by reason of comparative youth and health, than those who saw service during the Civil War could guarantee, and from a number of the younger class the board has chosen Rev. Wilson.

REV. G. W. WILSON,
new chaplain, Soldier's Home.

The new appointee acquired his earlier education in New York, and afterward moved West. Later he pursued his theological studies, and while a member of the Illinois Methodist Episcopal Conference for the past thirty-five years has devoted most of his labors in Christian work to the evangelical cause. He is now 52 years of age, but looks younger. He has found time in his busy life to publish a number of works along theological lines. Among them are: "Get Right With God," "Evangelism," "Truths as I Have Seen Them," with introduction by Dr. Daniel Steele, S. T. D.; "Methodist Theology versus Methodist Theologians," with introduction by Bishop Mallalieu; "The Sign of Thy Coming," introduction by Bishop Ninde—the latter on its fourth thousand.

Dr. Wilson, who has already occupied the home pulpit on several occasions, is an engaging speaker. He is temporarily located, pending the erection of a chaplain's quarters, the construction of which is now under consideration. On the completion of the latter, Dr. Wilson will be joined by his wife and four children, who for the present will remain East. Dr. Wilson will preach his initial sermon as chaplain at the morning service next Sunday.

HOLLYWOOD.

GRADING CONTRACT IS LET.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.—The contract for the grading of Prospect boulevard has been let to C. L. McCombs of Los Angeles for $27,536.

Rev. Franklin Baker, from Eureka, has been engaged to fill the pulpit of the Mt. Olive Congregational Church, Vermont and Prospect.

Graders are at work on Cahuenga avenue and it will probably be ready to oil before another rain.

The survey has been made for the new Hoegee business block, at Vermont and Prospect.

Mrs. Arthur Water entertained at luncheon at Hotel Hollywood, Wednesday, in compliment to Miss Maud Newhall of Los Angeles, whose engagement to Joseph Wilson of Los Angeles has been announced. The decorations were all in yellow. The guests were Misses Maybelle Randall, May Newton, Bird Chanslor, Goodrich, Llewellyn, Howes, Florence Canfield and Poehler.

Mrs. A. E. Rishel of Wilcox avenue entertained this afternoon for Mrs. P. C. Pursel of Schoolcraft, Mich. Luncheon was followed by a tallyho ride.

The Hollywood W.C.T.U. met four cars of national officers and delegates at the De Longpré place yesterday and presented the visitors with Hollywood souvenirs. The cars came on the usual balloon route excursion.

T. H. Klages has sold to Grant D. Carver, through J. C. W. Wright, 90x220 feet on Palm avenue and Prospect for a stated price of $5000.

The Kings' Daughters met Wednesday with Mrs. C. D. Miller. Mrs. Louis Ferry will entertain next.

Rev. B. F. Lancaster of Phoenix, Ariz., will occupy the pulpit at the Methodist Church, South, Sunday.

OCEAN PARK.

POSTOFFICE REMONSTRANCE.

OCEAN PARK, Oct. 26.—Almost every business house in South Santa Monica has signed the remonstrance addressed to the Postmaster-General. It urges that the postoffice be not removed from Pier avenue to the Masonic building now in course of construction on Marine street. Fearful lest the removal might be ordered, upon the recommendation already said to have been made, before the remonstrance could be received at Washington by mail, a telegram embodying the substance of the protest has been forwarded to Washington City. This message begs that the department take no action until the remonstrants are given an opportunity to state their case.

PILING FOR HORSESHOE PIER.

The piling to be used in the building of the horseshoe pier and the amphitheater and pavilion have arrived at Redondo and will be brought up the beach at once. The pile driver is being put in position and work may be said to have commenced on the new pier. C. S. Hall and A. F. Selleck were here from Chicago today investigating the proposition with a view to entering into a contract for several of the pier and pavilion amusement, recreation and refreshment concessions.

Homer Whitic came near losing himself in the ocean yesterday. He is an employé at the roller coaster and is a poor swimmer at best. He jumped off the Marine street pier near its ocean end and was in deep water. He no doubt presumed he could swim ashore, but the breakers were rolling high and he was about to give up the struggle when his predicament was observed by strollers on the pier. George Watson felt that the time had arrived for him to play the part of a hero and, tossing his coat off, he leaped into the sea and towed the half drowned bather into shallow water and assisted in rolling him back to life.

LORDSBURG.

LAST HONORS TO TEACHER.

LORDSBURG, Oct. 26.—The funeral of Miss Nellie McVey, a teacher, took place today, the services being held in the Lordsburg College Chapel. President W. C. Hanawalt officiated, being assisted by Rev. Simon Yundt and Rev. H. S. Taylor. The interment was in Evergreen Cemetery, Lordsburg. Miss McVey had only resided here one year, but was so highly esteemed that the chapel was not large enough to hold the many friends who came to the obsequies.

POMONA.

HOTEL THIEF CAUGHT.

POMONA, Oct. 26.—Leo Howell, son of A. J. Howell, who once had a grocery store here, was arrested by Constable Slanker last night on complaint of O. D. Williams of the Pacific Hotel, charged with burglary. Howell was a dishwasher at the hotel and undertook to get rich quicker by breaking into the sample room of the hotel and stealing from drummer's display samples, silk waists, skirts, underwear, hosiery, etc., which he was stowing away for future sale. The thefts have continued for some weeks, but the thief was not discovered until Howell left the hotel yesterday, saying he was going away. As he came there with no luggage and was leaving with two big extension valises his actions excited suspicion and the officers were notified.

Later a wagon was found on a back street loaded with stolen plunder which Howell had hired a boy to take up into a cañon above here and when Howell was arrested, after some questioning, he broke down and confessed all. He spent last night in jail and this afternoon was taken before Justice Barnes for preliminary hearing, Deputy District Attorney Donnell coming out from Los Angeles to conduct the case.

Young Howell was bound over to appear before the Superior Court, bail being fixed at $1000, in default of which he was taken to the County Jail.

Howell is 17 years old, and a brother, Percy Howell, has served time in jail. The father is now in Imperial.

POMONA PICKINGS.

The funeral of the late Frank Du Shane was held this forenoon from the Catholic Church, Rev. Joseph Munan officiating. The Knights of Columbus attended in a body.

Rev. C. O. Steele, pastor of the local Methodist Church, South, is attending the conference at Redlands.

The curbing to be built on North Garey avenue from the Southern Pacific tracks to Alvarado street will be constructed so as to preserve the beautiful shade trees from Pasadena street south.

S. M. Cheek, formerly a teacher in the Pomona schools, was here from his home, Prescott, Ariz., yesterday.

WHITTIER.

QUAKER CITY BRIEFS.

WHITTIER, Oct. 26.—Former Gov. St. John of Kansas, is the guest of his old friend, Simeon Brownell, at Hotel Greenleaf. Mr. Brownell was a delegate to the National Convention which met in Pittsburgh and made the speech which placed St. John in nomination.

The public schools are so full that it will be necessary to employ another teacher. Notwithstanding this fact, the compulsory education law is to be strictly enforced and no children who are physically able to attend school will be permitted to absent themselves.

The Christian Church Endeavor Society is to give a "corn carnival" next week.

The local W. C. T. U. will furnish the flora decorations for the big event at Simpson Auditorium Saturday evening.

SANTA MONICA.

FREEHOLDERS BEGIN.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—The commission of fifteen freeholders recently elected to frame a new charter for the city held their first meeting last night, when the members were given the oath of office and commenced their labors by electing C. A. Stilson to preside as chairman. D. G. Holt was made secretary. Meetings will be held each Thursday evening. Members of the board are practically agreed that the city elections should be held in December, instead of in the spring, as at present. This change would also prevent residents, whose interests and homes are divided between Los Angeles and Santa Monica from shifting registration so as to vote at municipal elections in both cities.

BEACH NOTES.

The local W.C.T.U. entertained 250 eastern delegates at luncheon yesterday. Addresses were made by Mrs. G. T. Stickney, Mrs. Carlson and Mrs. Hughes Lodge. The visitors will be entertained on this beach again on Saturday afternoon of next week.

Six new passenger coaches for the Los Angeles-Pacific electric line arrived from the East today and will be added to the seaside division's equipment.

The Santa Monica Riding Club will make an excursion on Sunday to Los Tunus Cañon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Burns, New York; Miss Florence Martin, New York; T. J. Lendrum, British Columbia; Mrs. W. E. Schweppe and daughter, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. R. Emsweller, Indianapolis, are at the Arcadia.

SAN PEDRO.

YOUNG BRIDE DIES.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 26.—The death this morning of Mrs. Samuel Reveal, a bride of but two months, came as a sad shock to a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was the wife of Samuel Reveal, a popular young employé of the Southern Pacific here.

TO CLOSE HARBOR CEMETERY.

The Board of Trustees is having an ordinance prepared prohibiting the burial of any more bodies in the Harbor Cemetery. This is the initial step in a movement for a new cemetery for San Pedro, located much further from the residence districts. The present cemetery will probably be converted into a park.

PORT TOWN NOTES.

Excellent progress is being made on the construction of the new Carnegie library on the plaza. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by December 1.

The report of the local customhouse for August, issued today, shows the arrival during the month of eighty steamers, twenty-two schooners and seven barkentines—a total of 109 vessels having a net tonnage of 49,822 tons and carrying in crews 2095 men. These vessels brought 34,343,000 feet of lumber, 17,367,000 shingles, 391,000 shakes, 2225 poles, 8425 posts, 2,298,000 laths, 22,222 railroad ties, 225 tons of shooks, 371 bales of excelsior, 722 doors, 14,453 tons of wheat, 1579 tons of merchandise and 11,923 passengers.

During the month, 200 tons of asphaltum and 1187 tons of merchandise were exported and 10,884 passengers departed.

VENICE.

SEWER COMPLAINT RANKLES.

VENICE, Oct. 26.—Unless the heavy property owners of South Ocean Park should undergo a change of mind before tomorrow morning, the courts will be called upon to at least temporarily settle the vexatious sewer problem.

South Ocean Parkers have decided that their only road for sure and speedy relief lies in enjoining Santa Monica from depositing her sewerage into the Ocean Park septic tank at Venice. It was decided tonight that such an injunction should be applied for tomorrow.

The Short Line Beach people believe that the present tank is of ample capacity to consume the sewerage of Ocean Park. They further believe that the offense of the afflux is due to the overloading, and for this they hold Santa Monica responsible.

The people who are now preparing papers in an injunction suit, were represented Monday night before the Ocean Park City Trustees and demanded immediate relief. This was promised them. Santa Monica was to be ordered off the premises and an outfall was to be built at once to carry the offensive septic overflow into the ocean.

This action was satisfactory. But when the same Trustees met in special session on the following day and rescinded the actions of Monday night, South Ocean Parkers ceased to longer look upon forbearance as a virtue.

The president of the South Ocean Park Improvement League is Dr. M. N. Avery, and the secretary is R. Shurtliff. Carroll J. Daly, who is also a member of the league, was among the number to appear before the Trustees Monday night and ask for justice and relief.

Santa Monica is using the septic tank on invitation of the Ocean Park City Trustees. If debarred from its use, the only alternative for Santa Monica is apparently to turn its sewerage through the ocean outfall.

PERSONAL.

E. D. Roberts, a prominent banker of San Bernardino, and L. A. Pfeiffer, county clerk, are registered at the Hollenbeck.

Peter Harvey of San Francisco, Pacific Coast agent of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, is at the Hollenbeck for a few days.

Mrs. A. M. Rogers of Watertown, N. Y., is an interesting figure about the Westminster. She is a delegate to the W.C.T.U. convention, and despite her 81 years is as active as many a younger visitor. She travels alone and is finding her full share of enjoyment in attending the meeting.

John E. Hardy, a wealthy tourist of London, England, is staying at the Angelus, and visiting points of interest in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Driscoll of Lead, S. D., are registered at the Van Nuys Broadway. Mr. Driscoll is a prominent banker and capitalist.

H. F. Mayo, United States Navy, and C. A. Rose, an official of the Navy Department, are Los Angeles visitors, guests at the Lankershim.

Bidding was active on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday and 11,000 shares of Associated Oil were brought out at prices ranging from 56¾ to 57¾, the market showing a decided improvement over that of the day before.

Central went off fractionally. Home Whittier gained 5 points; Mexican Petroleum, 3½; but Union and United Petroleum, which have become strong favorites, went to 1.35 and 2.20 respectively, advances of from 4½ to 5 points.

Hecla Mining attracted a good deal of attention, 1000 shares being sold at 27; but Johnnie Consolidated lost a point.

The bond list was notably active and several of the issues improved their position.

Time money, 60 to 90 days, 6 per cent.; from 4 to 6 months, 6 per cent.

Commercial paper, 60 to 90 days, indorsed bills, 7 per cent.

GREENE COPPER. A good deal has been said about the Phelps-Dodge ownership in the Greene Consolidated Copper Company. The Phelps-Dodge holdings in Greene amount to but 17,500 shares, and these shares are held in the name of George Notman.

The 864,000 shares of Greene Company stock are so scattered among 5230 stockholders that the Phelps-Dodge holdings of 17,500 shares are the second largest individual holdings in the Greene Company. Col. Greene is the largest stockholder, having many times 17,500 shares. There is but one other stockholder registered on the books with 10,000 shares or over, and that is Jacob Wildeman, a prominent New Jersey silk manufacturer, who has an even 10,000 shares.

Col. William C. Greene is now in complete control of the company through his stockholders, and all interests are working in harmony for the first time in several years. There are now no Amalgamated, Harriman, Gates or Hawley stockholdings in the company.—[Wall Street Journal.

DEMAND FOR CAPITAL. Henry C. Clews in his weekly financial review says: "Cautionary signals are up in Wall street, and this in spite of exceptionally brilliant business prospects. Both money and foreign exchange have advanced, and firm rates are likely to continue. The significant feature of the situation is that this tension in the money market is not confined to New York. In all of the world's principal money markets rates have advanced, and those who hold the reins of finance are manifesting an increasingly prudent spirit. Interest rates at New York, London, Paris and Berlin have practically doubled since the opening of September, and various international money markets are showing a disposition to increase their supplies of gold at the expense of each other. Bank reserves at New York are at the lowest point within a dozen years, save in one or two momentary periods; while reserves of the great foreign banks are also lower than usual and their managers openly recognize the necessity for caution.

What is the reason for this world-wide policy of prudence at a time when the business horizon seems cloudless and all other signs point to continued fair weather? Simply this, that the demand for capital has outrun the supply; reserves are depleted, and it is at last evident that new important requirements can only be met at the expense of those less urgent. The world has been turning floating capital into fixed form too rapidly, and the only course open is to wait for suitable readjustment, either until it flows back into its actual reservoirs—the banks—or else through the unwelcome process of liquidation. Of course, the chief reason for this state of stringency is the unparalleled and universal business activity, which, while most conspicuous in the United States, extends also to Great Britain, France, Germany and other great commercial nations. Added to these demands for money, which have been materially augmented by the high level of values, the effects of the Boer and Russo-Japanese wars. These conflicts have wasted hundreds of millions of capital, which can be fairly measured by the enormous national bond issues of the last few years. Very likely these drains upon the floating supply of capital would have been met without difficulty had it not been for the extraordinary activity of business; but the sensitiveness of the various money markets to current operations connected with the Japanese loan and the preparations for another large Russian loan demonstrates that the world's money markets are at present unable to respond to any further large demands of this sort. In all such periods as the present, legitimate business demands insist upon the first consideration, and speculative commitments have to be set aside or postponed. This is as it should be, although the consequences are apt to be uncomfortable wherever overspeculation exists. Fortunately, the general financial situation is sound. Weak spots could no doubt be exposed here and there in course of liquidation, but no great overdoing is likely to be discovered so far as can be ascertained through current developments. It is extremely fortunate that no hints of unsoundness in our great life insurance companies have come to the surface during the recent melancholy disturbances, which revealed extravagance and gross impropriety in management, but no impairment of financial strength.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The produce market was quiet in nearly all lines yesterday; receipts were ample and few changes were made in prices.

Fresh ranch eggs were steady at 38 cents, with receipts extremely light.

Butter was moving well at 6 5to 67½ cents for creamery; stocks of fresh arrivals were about equal to meet the demand, and storage goods were freely drawn upon to meet the demand for cheaper grades.

Grapes were abundant with only a quiet demand, but Muscats were fairly firm at 90 to 1.00; other varieties unchanged.

There was only a moderate quantity of strawberries in the market, and the demand was good, Gardenas jobbing at 8 to 10 cents, and Tropicos 10 to 12.

Pomegranates were in plenty, and about steady at 65 to 75 cents.

Apples and pears were steady and featureless.

Indio cantaloupes were in light supply and moving at 1.25 for ponies; 1.50 for standard; other varieties selling at 2.00 to 2.25 a crate. Casaba melons met a fairly good buying interest at 2.00 to 2.25.

Guavas were in good demand at 4 cents.

Bananas were steady at 5 cents; another car is expected today, but this is not likely to affect the market.

Potatoes were steady, but onions were stronger; fancy silverskins jobbing at 1.00.

Cucumbers were a little scarce and firm at 60 to 65 cents; tomatoes continued firm at 40 to 50 cents. Cabbage was in good request at 50 cents; peas were about steady at 3½; beans, 3 to 3½, and celery 25 to 30.

Fish and lobsters were plenty, but wild ducks and jackrabbits were scarce.

Poultry was firm at quoted prices.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The stock market today showed the chilling effect in sentiment of the sharp break in prices which developed late yesterday. There were occasional isolated points of strength, but they were not effective at any time as an offset to the generally heavy tone. Weakness in the general list was not acute, but there were some conspicuous declines, as well as advances. The coalers made a further demonstration of strength, but the movement showed signs of over extension, and lost its force in the absence of any development to explain. Rumors continued prevalent of further consolidation of the anthracite interests, but no authority was found for any of the reports in circulation. The growing disposition to exercise more discrimination in the operations to advance industrial stocks was encouraged by the incident of the passing of the dividend of American Hide and Leather preferred, as well as by the poor showing of earnings reported yesterday by the Corn Products Company. The lesson was thus enforced that, even in times of great prosperity, all industrial enterprises are not bound to secure the same advantages. A spirit of great conservatism was manifested towards the iron and steel and railroad equipment industrials. An incitement to the spirit was the admonitory tone of the Cleveland Iron Trade Review of "a real peril in the present tendency to advance prices." The president of one of the principal car construction companies also came forward with a flat assertion for publication that the demand for car equipment was being "exaggerated and was calculated to do damage by stimulating a rise in the price of materials." London was a seller to a notable extent in this market, principally on account of the uneasiness exerted by the upheaval in Russia. The same influence was a factor in the wheat market, owing to the obstruction promised to the movement of the Russian cereal crops. The progress of the settlement of the Stock Exchange in London held up the rate for call money there. The easy tone of money was maintained in this market, but sterling exchange made a further advance, and expectation grew of an early announcement of gold exports. With the subsidence of the mid-monthly tide of pension payment, the sub-treasury has also commenced again to withdraw cash from the New York money market. These developments caused some apprehension of a renewal of money stringency at the period of the monthly settlement. The pressure on the stock market gathered force, and the closing week at the lowest. Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, $2,435,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—With the markets of Europe all agitated over the critical situation in Russia, the market for wheat here opened and marked excitement. Clamorous coverings by shorts were simultaneous with a big investment demand. The result was unusual buying demonstration. An advance of 1 and 1½ in the price of wheat at Liverpool formed the immediate cause for opening furore. Offerings at first were meager, and consequently initial quotations showed radical gains, the May option being up ¾ to 1¼ to 1½, at 89½@90¼. December was up ½ to 88½@88¾. For a time, trading was almost white heat. Under cover of the excitement there was heavy selling of the December option by a leading long. There was also liberal selling by commission houses. This arrested temporarily the bullish trend of the market, and caused some reaction in prices, December declining to 88. The price of the May delivery, however, did not recede below the lowest price recorded at the opening. Cable advices from Europe regarding the situation in Russia were extremely pessimistic. A dispatch from Odessa stated that loading of grain at that port had become exceedingly difficult, owing to labor disturbances, and the market was greatly excited. This information started fresh buying, many of the early sellers being anxious to reinstate lines. Much of the later demand was for the May delivery. As a result, the premium for May over December advanced to over 2 cents, as against 1¾ yesterday. In addition to the foreign situation, the domestic news was also quite favorable to the bulls. Minneapolis reported receipts from the country very light. Demand for flour in the Northwest was excellent. The close was strong, with final quotations on May up 2¾, at 91½@91¾. December closed 1¾ higher, at 89½. The corn market was active and strong. December closed ¾ up at 46½. Sentiment in the oats market was bullish, and the volume of trading was large. December closed ¾ up at 30¾. Provisions were a trifle easier earlier, but a steadier tone developed later. At the close January pork was up 2½@5. Lard showed a gain of 2½@5. Ribs were a shade higher.

The leading futures closed as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

FRUIT, GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Trading in deciduous fruits today was largely of tame jobbing character, and the market was barren of new features. Table grapes were in over-supply, aside from heavy fresh receipts, the market being burdened with a liberal carry-over. Prices were irregular. Figs held at better rates, some fancy river stock commanding outside quotation. Fancy nutmeg melons sold at improved rates, but common lines and cantaloupes dragged at old figures. Fluctuation in citrus fruits was narrow and unimportant, the general market continuing in good shape for the holdup of fancy offerings. Several consignments of new-crop navels arrived from Tulare county, but were too green to invite immediate custom. Intermediate crop stock was in demand, and sold well at maintained rates. Lemons were without change, the best finding steady outlet at top quotation. Limes were easy and the bulk of the day's business was transacted at inside rates. Grapefruit was in limited supply and steady. A carload of Oregon potatoes, the second thus far this season, arrived, and being of good quality, met with a snappy sale at 1.10 a cental in first hands. Sweet potatoes were in increased supply, three carloads of Merceds arriving, and values were lower. Onions were firm at quotations. Supplies of miscellaneous vegetables were moderate, and the advances of the preceding day were well sustained. A fine quality of tomatoes, summer squash and cucumbers sold briskly at maximum rates.

The Rich Man and the Masses.

The problem arising from the aggrandizement of wealth may be briefly stated thus: To find and mark the place in the accumulation of wealth where a man ceases to collect money fairly earned by service to society, and keeps on collecting morally unearned money to use in giving him improper power over society. But to find and to mark that place requires a moral and spiritual growth among the people. Perhaps a thousand or ten thousand men in America might find and mark the dead line now; but until the great mass of the population learn "Thou shalt not steal" in some other manner than by rote, until they make the commandment as much a part of their lives as they make the commandment against murder, they will not have the moral sense to find the place where a man's accumulation of wealth must stop, nor the moral fervor to stop it. The pyramid of government may not stand upon its apex now any better than it could ten thousand years ago. Until men cease to wrong one another in small private transactions, they cannot in justice demand as rights the suppression of similar public transactions by the government. The public rights of the masses are circumscribed by the private wrong upheld by the masses.—[William Allen White, in the Atlantic.

TIMES' "LINER" ADVERTISERS—IMPORTANT.

Note Change in Rate for Sunday Classified Advertisements.

Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, and thereafter, the rate for Sunday "Liners" will be 1½ cents per word for each insertion, minimum charge 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 60,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1892, the Sunday Times circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Only a Cent.

For this small sum per word, you can have your every reasonable wish and want filled through a "Liner" in The Daily Times; 1½c per word in the Sunday edition. A trial will convince you.
